MEMORIES OF LAFAYETTE NURSERY

Memories of LaFayette Home Nursery

By JOHN A. BALLENTINE
 For The Prairie News

TOLON – A once-thriving business in LaFayette was the focus of a historical presentation at the Stark County Genealogical Society’s last meeting at the Toulon United Methodist Church

Kay Ingels gave a historical presentation on the former LaFayette Greenhouse and Home Nursery.

The founder of the LaFayette Nursery was Irvin Ingels, who started the business in 1887. He graduated from Eureka College in 1881 and married Eliza Ryder, of Toulon, in 1882. They moved to northwestern Iowa to farm land Irvin’s father had purchased and developed for him.

Irvin’s father died from a hunting accident in 1883, and one year later, Irvin returned to LaFayette to run the family farm located just north of town. Farm prices were low, so Irvin made extra income by selling trees for an eastern nursery, and eventually began the LaFayette Nursery a few years later.

In the 1890s, Irvin sold fruit to neighboring communities, which required laborers, or “pickers” to be employed to harvest the fruit. During harvest the nursery employed 20-40 people. That included Irvin’s son, Gaar, who put in long hours at the nursery and started the two greenhouses at the location.

Nursery staff landscaped the then-new Toulon library in the early 1900s at the southwest corner of West Jefferson and South Henderson Streets. In addition, the Nursery planted the sunken garden on the west end of Toulon City Park. That has since been filled in with dirt.

In the 1920s, Irvin’s five sons began to run the nursery and Irvin began traveling the country. Irvin was killed at the age of 72 in an automobile crash in Ohio in 1932.

Irvin’s oldest son, James, became owner in 1932 and ran the business until 1956. John Matson was the acting manager from 1946-1955 because James had suffered a serious heart attack. Corliss Ingels became owner of the Nursery from 1956-74 with Jock Ingels acting as manager.

Brothers Jock and Roger Ingels bought the business in 1974 and were owners until 1998, when Jock died. Roger was sole owner until his retirement, in 2004.

Company discussing building in Wyoming

By JOHN A. BALLENTINE

For The Prairie News

WYOMING – An investment company is interested in purchasing one acre of land from the City of Wyoming for a possible business expansion.

The Wyoming City council discussed the possible sale at Monday’s council meeting. Economic Development Advisor Denny Rewerts said the company wants to purchase a portion of the former Fehrenbacher property, located at the southeast corner of East South Street and Route 91.

Rewerts said the city wants to retain the other three acres for a possible future Senior Living facility. The price tag for one acre is $45,000. The council approved proceeding with negotiations with the company, which would build a building to house two new businesses.

Wyoming resident Tammy Wilkinson updated the council on a nuisance property at 408 N. Main St. She said that she and her husband, Wade, bought the property and should receive the property deed in approximately 60 days. After that, she said they plan to have the existing house demolished and to clean up debris at the site to make it compliant with the city’s ordinance. Wilkinson also thanked the council for a new sidewalk in front of her residence.

City attorney Michael Evans reported that letters are being sent to residents to take down signs that have profanity displayed. Wyoming has an ordinance in place that says offenders

FALL FARM SAFETY WEEK IS SEPT. 19th - 25th

WE ENCOURAGE BOTH FARMERS AND DRIVERS TO BE CAREFUL THIS HARVEST SEASON.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS TO KEEP IN MIND TO KEEP EVERYONE SAFE:

-  Farm equipment typically drives around 25 mph or less, so be prepared to take your time. Being in a rush creates unnecessary risk for your yourself and other drivers.
-  Keep a safe distance from other drivers. Not everyone realizes how difficult it is to maneuver, slow down, or stop in a large piece of farming equipment.
-  Before you travel, make sure all lights and flashers are properly working and use them at all times while driving on any roadway.
-  Use SMV's or slow-moving vehicles emblems if farm equipment is travelling less than 30 mph.

Dave Lahr and Bill Andrew bought the nursery from Roger and they discontinued the landscaping and tree portions of the business in 2008. They continued doing prairie restorations and installations until 2010 when they sold the equipment and then sold the land, in 2011.

No trees or buildings remain on the site of the old nursery, which has been turned into farm fields. The only memory of the nursery are white pine still standing at the site.

WYOMING: Water project discussed will be fined up to $500 per day for noncompliance. The council suggested a fine of $250 per day be imposed.

Evans also said a nuisance property at 119 E. Williams St. has been sold. The new owner will receive a letter stating that the property must be cleaned up and be in compliance with the city's nuisance ordinance.

Farnsworth Group City engineer Josh Brown presented an update on Wyoming's waste water treatment plant improvement project. Brown said he has been talking with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency about the $6 million project. Brown said construction is tentatively scheduled to begin in May of 2022. It would include updating control panels, new aerators and new electrical systems. A grant has been applied for.

Wyoming Police Chief Mark James reported the police department had no arrests for August, 3 assists, 16 calls and 4 traffic stops. He said that he and Mayor Pat Maher are set to buy a new Dodge Charger squad car that will cost $29,700, fully equipped.

Maher said the city received $86,528 from the Illinois Non-Entitlement Unit for COVID-19 relief. The second half will be received a year from now.

Finally, the council approved an insurance renewal for $70,283, a 5.26 percent increase, from Hediger & Meyers for Blue Cross Blue Shield Medical coverage for the city.

GUEST VOICES

Explaining the continuing Trump fervor

We live in Trump country. Seven of 10 voters in our respective central Illinois counties voted for Donald Trump in the 2020 presidential election. We are not Trump fans, yet many of our friends are. Trump will go away; his base won't, so what gives with our friends?

Jim NOWLAN

Based on chats and overheard conversations over the past year at our Legion post, country club, pubs, coffee shops and outdoor cook-outs, we sum up here the continuing Trump loyalties, as we have heard them, but in our words. Our Trump friends range from working stiffs to successful entrepreneurs living in once-proud, now hollowed out cities like Peoria and Decatur. As both of us are retired, our sample is skewed toward the mature set, yet not wholly so.

Our overall "finding" is that of a profound disenchantment with America's political, business, academic and social policy leadership, across both political parties – our elites, you might say. The roots of disenchantment go back as far as the Vietnam War, which coincides roughly with the beginnings of American Decline, certainly as perceived by older Trump fans.

For example, our political leaders have taken us into long, drawn-out wars, of immeasurable cost in men and treasure – only to keep losing them, pulling out, our tails between our legs. Not the stuff of The Greatest Generation.

About the same time as Vietnam, business leaders began sending our jobs to China, enfeebling the American manufacturing base, and without so much as a "Thank you very much" to American workers.

More recently, we have been educating China's future tech wizards on our best engineering and science campuses, shoveling invaluable technological know-how into the laps of our primary competitor.

In addition to saving our allies' bacon in the Big War, we continue to spend jillions protecting Europeans from harm. In return, Europeans look down their noses at us with barely concealed contempt.

At home, Trump fans yearn for the good old days of two-parent families, with some respect and discipline in the home. Yet, our social policy experts push Congress to adopt scores of costly social programs that appear to diss traditional family life, instead encouraging dependence on government handouts, rather than building the resilience needed in the home.

All the while, the political and economic classes reap the benefits. Washington is seen as a widening cesspool of big-paying jobs for politicians, lawyers, lobbyists and staffers. Some of the staffers go on to Wall Street, to assist in knowingly pushing such things as toxic mortgages onto unsuspecting investors and ill-suited homeowners – never to pay a price for their criminality or for almost leading the world into global economic collapse.

Worse, the nouveaux elites, from the Clintons to the Obamas, appear to feel good about the jobs they think they have done, seemingly oblivious to the national decline that angers the Trump base.

To add insult to injury, a clueless Hillary Clinton describes the Trumpers as "deplorables," which is like arousing caged lions with red meat.

So, "Make America Great Again" continues as the perfect rallying cry against the failures of the American power structure, say Trump fans.

The Trump base, at least those around us here in struggling central Illinois, can overlook the personality flaws of Trump because he talks a blunt, unvarnished, bar-room language, in stark contrast to the hyper-political correctness that smothers direct conversations about America's problems.

We think his fans cling to Trump because they fear when he goes, our elite will again go unchallenged, and American decline will continue.

We are not Trump fans, yet in reflecting on what we hear, we think the Trump base makes an arguable case that we deserve better than we've been getting.

Jim Nowlan is a retired professor of American politics who has taught in China on several occasions. Allen Andersen is a retired businessman and economic development consultant. They reside in central Illinois.

Stark Co. will join Peoria Co. for 911 services

By JOHN A. BALLENTINE

For The Prairie News

TOULON – The Stark County Board heard reports and passed three measures Tuesday evening.

County engineer Judd Giffin reported that MFT sealcoating was completed on township roads. The county highway department did not perform a sealcoating program this year and an attempt to bid out for rock did not receive a single bid, Giffin said. Rock bidding will be scheduled for next year.

Sheriff Steven Sloan said he wants to get the courthouse parking lot seal-coated and striped next year, plus make additional parking spaces available. He also said Stark County representatives met Monday with the emergency telephone system board [ETSB] and Stark County will be going with Peoria County.

"We'll be on their board," Sloan said, "with dispatching coming from the Sheriff's Office [for Stark County only]." Sloan added that it will take a year and a half before "we're up and running."

The board approved a resolution to maintain confidentiality of the minutes of closed meetings. Also approved was an intergovernmental agreement between the Henry County Health Department and the Stark County board for medical care of "retainees of the Stark County Jail." Third, the board approved the appointment of board supervisor Tim McMillen to the Central Illinois Agency on Aging, Inc. for a three-year term beginning Oct. 1.

FAMILY OF "LOUIE" NELSON

A mixture of tears and laughter made our day for Louie's Celebration of Life so wonderful. Friends, family and neighbors paid tribute to a well deserved. fun loving, husband, dad and papa Louie who didn't know a stranger and always had a smile. I could not have done it without my daughter, son-in-law and grandkids who were the backbone of it all. God bless you. When through one person a little more love and goodness came into the world, that person's life had a meaning

Galva, Stark Co. football lose

By JEFF LAMPE and PHIL JOHNSON

For The Prairie News

KNOXVILLE – Stark County football ran into the new bully in the Lincoln Trail Conference last Friday.

The Rebels hit the road to face a big, strong Knoxville team that racked up 540 yards in offense and scored on its first eight possessions in a 55-14 win.

Knoxville (3-0, 3-0 Lincoln Trail) led 41-7 at halftime and wound up averaging 16.2 yards per carry for the game.

“They are big and fast and hit us in the mouth,” Stark County Coach Jade Noard said. “You’ve got to play pretty flawless to be in a game with a team like that and we didn’t, obviously.”

The Rebels (1-2, 1-2 LTC) did battle to tie in the first quarter on a nifty trick play that saw Daniel Kieser take a pitch and then pass to Connor Wagenbach for a 68-yard touchdown.

But Stark County did not score again until near the end of the fourth quarter, when Jack Meinders went in from 10 yards out. Meinders led SC with 80 yards on 17 carries. The Rebels finished with 246 total yards and averaged 3.1 per run.

Next up for Stark County is a trip to face Elmwood-Brimfield (1-2), which has lost to Rushville-Industry and South Fulton since winning its opener.

“It’s going to be a little bit of a test for which team can come out and put [the last two games] behind them,” Noard said.

South Fork 38, Galva 6

GALVA – Miscues and missed opportunities hurt the Wildcats, who played what coach Tyler Nichols called “the best all-around game we’ve played.”

Galva (0-3) got a score from Talan Hull on the first drive of the game but then errors got the best of the team.

“We had four drops in the end zone and threw one interception in the end zone,” Nichols said. “I’ve got to give credit to our line. They played their best game.”

“Overall we’re pleased with our improvements and look forward to seeing what they can do this week.”

Galva travels to face a fast, athletic St. Thomas More team in Champaign today (Sept. 17) at 7 p.m.

Princeville 9, Annawan-Wethersfield 8

PRINCEVILLE – The Princes won on a 37-yard, last-second field goal by R.J. Ahten.

Stark County Cross Country

PEORIA – Ashley Orrick placed 52nd in 20:27.6 last Saturday to lead Stark County runners in the First to the Finish Invitational at Detweiller Park.

Stark County was 30th out of 50 teams. Other scoring runners were Paige Rewerts (127th, 22:06.1), Kokone Kasava (223rd, 23:50.2), Keagan Hamilton (238th, 24:07.7) and Nina Longabaugh (276th, 24:57.1)

Stark County Golf

Stark County topped Princeville on Monday, 190-199, at Lake Calhoun Country Club. James Groter fired a 41 and was medalist, while Colin Streitmatter carded a 47 and was followed by Jimmy Langdon (48) and Keagan Newton (54).

The Rebels had struggled to find their stride Saturday in the 19-team Boiler Invite at Baker Park, placing 13th.

On Sept. 9, Langdon shot 45 at Oak Run
