Legislative panel suspends COVID mitigations in schools

By PETER HANCOCK

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – A legislative panel on Tuesday voted to suspend the latest version of COVID-19 mitigations for public schools, saying in part that those rules are still being litigated in a state appellate court.

The Joint Committee on Administrative rules voted 9-0, with two members voting "present," to object to the rules and suspend them from going into effect.

The Illinois Department of Public Health filed the emergency rules late Monday, renewing emergency rules it had filed in September. The September rules officially expired on Sunday, Feb. 13, because emergency rules cannot stay in place more than 150 days.

However, a Sangamon County judge last week issued a temporary restraining order halting enforcement of the September rules in the 170 school districts that were parties in the lawsuit.

Those rules included requirements that all students, employees and visitors wear face WILLIAMSFIELD – The Williamsfield School Board voted unanimously to make mask wearing optional at the school effective immediately. At its Tuesday meeting, the board also voted to eliminate the exclusion of close contacts from school and activities.

coverings while indoors on school property, that employees either be vaccinated or submit to regular testing, and that schools exclude any student or employee from school property or events if they have tested positive or were in close contact with someone else who had either a confirmed or probable case of COVID-19 for a certain period.

Among other things, Judge Raylene Grischow said in her opinion that there was no need for emergency rulemaking because COVID-19 had at that time been around for more than a year and a half and that the agency should have gone through the regular rulemaking process, which allows for public comment.

She also said the rule on excluding students and employees from schools amounted to a kind of "quarantine" and that school districts were prohibited under state law from issuing such a quarantine without an order by a court or local health department.

That case is now on appeal in the 4th District Court of Appeals. JCAR is a 12-member committee divided evenly between the

CHURCHES STILL DEALING WITH PANDEMIC

New landscape for local churches

In-person attendance lagging

By LORI HEROLD

For The Weekly Post

Now in the second year of COVID-19, area pastors are navigating what it means to continue shepherding their churches in a pandemic they never imagined was going to last this long. As David Pyell, pastor of United Methodist Church of Elmwood put it, "Everything has shifted. The landscape has changed."

Pastor Michael Liese of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Brimfield, who says he's been talking to other pastors, agrees. "I do not think there is a single parish that did not feel the effects of COVID."

That's true across the country, as the Pew Research Center in August of 2020 reported that 72 percent of Americans who regularly attended church services before the start of the pandemic began had shifted to watching online. And a study by the Institute for Family Studies shows that the percentage of regular churchgoers is down from 34 percent in 2019 to 28 percent in 2021.

Farmington votes to add greenhouse

Football conferences to merge in 2023

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – The Farmington School Board on Monday approved a new greenhouse to be built this summer.

George H. Rump Construction Company of Peoria submitted the lowest of four bids. Cost will be $167,750 for site work, while materials will cost $139,122.14 from Greenhouse Megastore for a total cost of $306,872.14.

The polycarbonate greenhouse will allow a horticulture class to be offered.

Principal Dennis McMillin reported that there are $22,784 in outstanding bills in the district. He said two larger bills will be sent to a collection agency.

The board also:

- Approved a $1,000 donation to the Farmington Academic Foundation.

- Gave permission to Superintendent Zac Chatterton to start on the Fiscal Year 2023 budget.

- Heard the Lincoln Trail and Prairieland conferences will merge for football only starting in 2023. The league will split into two size-based divisions.

Large schools are Elmwood-Brimfield, Farmington, Mercer County, West Hancock, Macomb, Lewis-town-North Fulton, Illini West and Knoxville. Small schools are Princeville, ROWVA-Williamsfield, Stark County, Annawan-Wethersfield, Rushville, Havana, Abingdon-Avon, South Fulton and Monmouth United.

In this bleak month, even meetings are welcome

Rambling through central Illinois, eager to see the end of February.

• • •

In the bleak midwinter that is February, anything that helps make a day pass is good. Even another meeting. The Elmwood Development Association had its annual affair last week and big news at the gathering was that luxury one-bedroom apartments in Elm Haven Place downtown show 75 percent occupancy. First designed as a hotel in 1912 and later a senior living facility, the Elm Haven building has been slow to fill since co-owner Mike Gudat and One Five Ventures did a lavish remodel of the structure in 2020. But momentum is building, according to on-site director Pam Atkinson, who said a two-bedroom apartment is soon to be ready for rent. ... Elmwood Economic Development Amy Davis said at the meeting that she received a "cold call" at City Hall from someone wanting to see the now-closed Cerno's restaurant. "People are looking. Nobody has pulled the trigger," Davis said. "But we are still cold-calling restaurants" seeking a tenant. ... Also attending the EDA meeting was

LAMPE

Travis Weaver of Peoria, a Republican who is running against Pekin Mayor and current State Rep. Mark Luft for a seat in the Illinois House of Representatives. They will compete in the new 93rd District, which now includes much of The Weekly Post circulation area. Also a Republican, Luft won his 91st District race in 2020 but had his district redrawn. Later this spring we'll chat with Weaver – the son of former State Sen. Chuck Weaver – to discuss redistricting and what would make him give up Caterpillar job for politics.

What makes February even worse is the end of welcome distractions like football and hunting seasons. To me, the Super Bowl seldom lives up to the hype, and this year that was definitely true. ... As for the annual end-of-hunting season cleanup, it can be alternately depressing and wildly exciting. Clothes, coats, coveralls and vests for are placed in scent-free tubs for my army of hunters, but only after emptying pockets, pouches and packs. During a recent cleanup, I found many sources of recent consternation. There were my two pairs of prescription sunglasses! There was the missing set of truck keys! Look, the binoculars and range-finder are not lost after all! There were two of my best Browning knives. There too were at least a dozen good handkerchiefs, and just in time what with all the non-COVID nose-blowing going on. Sweetest of all were Snickers bars, tucked away here and there. One way I lure my boys to hunt is by promising at least one Snickers for every sit in a deer stand. Most often, the chocolate is devoured moments into the hunt. Or so I thought. But the presence of uneaten candy makes me wonder. Perhaps the boys are maturing and don't need chocolate to keep them out there. That was the sweetest discovery of all on the first of many days spent pining for next hunting season. ... More welcome news? Season 6 of Peaky Blinders should be on Netflix by mid-April.

• • •

Parting shot: Football has always been the bane of conferences, what with enrollment differences more meaningful on the gridiron than anywhere else. But word of a merger between the Prairieland and Lincoln Trail conferences for 2023 makes sense – at least to the extent that it divides those 17 schools into big and small divisions. This should head off some of the exodus to 8-man football and provide a few more years of stability. Now what will they call it? The Prairie Trail? The Lincoln Land?

GUEST VOICES

Know your rights regarding CO2 pipeline

To the Editor:

Having received a landowner packet in December 2021 from an agent acting on behalf of the Navigator Heartland Greenway Pipeline project, I read with interest your recent article about the so-called “Green Gold Rush,” and Alan Guebert’s “Guest Voices” piece discussing the proposed pipeline.

I am the fourth generation to live on a farm that has been in my family for over 105 years. The farm grows corn and soybeans. My wife has horses in the pasture. We’re located three miles northwest of Williamsfield, on the northern edge of the Spoon River Valley. Our ground, which the Heartland Greenway Pipeline wants to use as part of its right of way, is classified as highly erodible.

The company proposes to dig a trench seven feet deep and 15 feet wide, down a slope that drops 100 feet in less than 300 yards, through multiple terraces, drain tile, a grass waterway containing two parallel tiles, and, finally, a riser and tile at the edge of one of our fields. Ironically, because it’s highly erodible, we’re restricted by regulation from using certain types of tillage equipment on the same ground the pipeline company wants to dig up.

By way of background, I am a retired U.S. Marine Corps judge advocate, a member of the State Bar of Texas and a member of the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States of America. Caveat: I am not licensed in Illinois.

What follows is my advice to landowners potentially impacted by the proposed pipeline.

1. Unless the pipeline company gets eminent domain authority from the Illinois Commerce Commission, you do not have to let it or its employees on your property. If you see unauthorized persons on your land, I recommend calling your local police or sheriff and reporting the unauthorized persons as trespassers. Consider taking photos, getting license numbers, times, dates, etc.

2. I recommend not making any verbal or written agreements with the Heartland Greenway Pipeline company or its agents without first talking to an Illinois lawyer experienced in dealing with pipeline and utility easements. Even signing what you think is a harmless survey permission form can have lasting adverse consequences. Information you give the CO2 pipeline company now may be used against you later. Consider a CO2 pipeline easement on your property as permanent. Consider the adverse impact on your land permanent, as well.

3. Do not be intimidated by the Heartland Greenway Pipeline company, its employees, or agents. It is your land, not theirs. If you feel pressured, I recommend refusing to talk to them and calling your lawyer – immediately.

4. Do not be fooled by talk about large payments for CO2 pipeline easements, crop loss, or construction damage. Compensation to a landowner is only for the rights acquired by the pipeline company and is not equal to the full value of the land. Because crops can still be grown over a pipeline easement, the value of a permanent CO2 pipeline easement on farm ground may be as low as 25 percent of the land’s per acre value. And remember: you won’t be paid for the whole field – just the total acreage encompassed by the easement.

Keep in mind: payment for a few years of crop loss may not offset the permanent damage to your land. Bottom line: payment for a CO2 pipeline easement will likely not make you rich; other compensation from the pipeline company may not fully restore your land to its pre-pipeline condition.

5. You are not alone. Landowners throughout the 13 counties targeted by the proposed Heartland Greenway Pipeline are mobilizing to fight it. I recently met with a group of concerned citizens and landowners that is getting ready to send information to some 600 landowners who received information from the pipeline company. Consider joining the resistance effort.

While I’m licensed to practice law in Texas, I am not representing myself in this matter. I’m consulting with an Illinois lawyer with extensive experience dealing with pipeline and utility easements. If you’re an impacted landowner, I strongly advise you to do the same.

Don’t let the word “Greenway” in the pipeline company’s name fool you. It’s not planning to build a 1,300-mile linear park with bike trails and picnic tables. The company is engaged in a for-profit venture. It has lawyers. You should as well.

Political cartoon was blatantly racist and false

To the Editor:

I was shocked and dismayed by the blatantly racist and false statement in the political cartoon on Page 4 of the Feb. 10, 2022, edition of the Weekly Post. The cartoon stated, “White people in 14 states limit the teaching of the history of racism & its impact on Black Americans.” This is 100 percent false.

Several states are implementing or attempting to implement legislation preventing the use of the Marxist ideology contained in Critical Race Theory (CRT). Classical Marxism pits the owners of the means of production (capitalists or bourgeoisie) against the workers (the proletariat). This class warfare was used in Russia, China and Cuba to replace capitalism with communism with disastrous results for the people of those nations.

Marxist Socialists in America found that class warfare wasn’t working here. So they used race to divide people into groups of oppressors (white people) and oppressed (people of color). This adaptation of Marxism gave birth to CRT and the BLM movements. This is being taught to young people in our schools and universities. To hate each other because of the color of our skin. White children are being taught that they are awful people because they were born white and black children are taught that they are born oppressed and must be rescued by a benevolent government from their oppression. This is what is being rejected in those states and not just by whites but by people of all racial groups.

As far as teaching history, what is being rejected are the lies of the 1619 Project and CRT and the rewriting of American History by the Marxist Socialists in academia. I know that the history of racism has been taught in our schools since the 1960s when I attended.

Please do not print these lies in your paper. It only harms our society and our nation.

PRINCEVILLE – In a meeting dominated by the decision to make mask-wearing optional, the Princeville School Board also handled several other items of business at its regular gathering on Feb. 8.

The main decision was to modify the school’s Return to Learn Plan to move to a “masks recommended strategy” for Mitigation Levels 1 and 2. The change was based on the temporary restraining order issued on Feb. 4 by Circuit Court Judge Raylene Grischow.

Several audience members spoke in favor of moving from mandatory mask wearing to masks being recommended.

Masks will not be required unless the district moves into Level 3, which is triggered by substantial positive cases, or until another court ruling requires a change.

In other business, the board approved extending the lease with the former grocery store through June 30. The space is used for storage.

After reviewing several options for a new storage building, the board determined the best location would be behind the high school gym, where the old batting cages were once located.

The district is working with an architect and engineer for the grant-funded storage building.

The board also:

- Approved Family and Medical Leave Act leave for Devin Nordstrom, Shmouni Sudrzynski and

- Whitney Bliss.
- Approved transferring Amy Dial from high school special education to grade school special education.
- Heard that new stage curtains have been ordered.
- Tabled action on a new tractor to handle snow removal, unload pallets and keep a drainage ditch clear. The district has a quote from German-Bliss Equipment Inc. but will seek additional quotes.
- Heard a summary of discipline so far this year that showed 30 total cases for grades 6-8 (including 5 for student language, 4 for bullying, 1 for fighting and 1 for stealing) and 53 cases for grades 9-12 (including 19 cell phone violations, 17 cases of truancy and 6 cases of gross disrespect, insubordination or verbal abuse).

MASKS: Vote vs. IDPH unanimous

House and Senate, and between Democrats and Republicans. It is authorized to review agency rulemakings to determine whether they are consistent with state law and legislative intent. Eight votes are required to block a rule.

Sen. Sue Rezin (R-Morris) offered the motion to block the latest rules, which stated that IDPH “has not taken steps to make this rule known to the parties directly affected by it,” and that it was unclear whether the rules would apply statewide or only to those districts that are not parties in the lawsuit.

“We’re currently in a situation where the TRO says this rule is not enforceable,” Rep. Michael Halpin (D-Rock Island) said in voting for the motion. “It’s possible, if not probable, that this might change on appeal, but as we now sit here, for that reason, I’ll vote yes.”

During discussion on the rules, Rep. Keith Wheeler (R-Oswego), a co-chair of the committee, asked IDPH whether it would have been better, given the pending court case, for the agency to have issued “guidance” rather than formal rules.

“I’ve appeared before this body numerous times and heard a lot of lectures about departments issuing guidance that looks like rulemaking,” IDPH chief of staff Justin DeWitt said. “That’s really the effort here, is to not be creating rules by issuing guidance or something else.”

The vote by JCAR means that, for the time being, there is no state mandate on mitigation measures for public or private K-12 schools.

Gov. JB Pritzker’s administration, however, continues to encourage masking.

“The administration understands that members of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules are awaiting a ruling from the appellate court on this issue,” Pritzker’s press secretary Jordan Abudayeh said in an email statement.

Republicans said the agency’s action showed a lack of respect for the judicial branch, and they criticized Pritzker for not working with lawmakers.

“In his quest for power at all costs, the governor attempted to go above the judicial system to continue to require masks in schools, a move that even his Democrat allies in the legislature wouldn’t support,” Senate Republican Leader Dan McConchie, of Hawthorn Woods, said in a statement. “Even they agree he has gone too far.”

Bailey C. Spencer

ELMWOOD – Bailey Christian Spencer, 20, of Okinawa, Japan, formerly of Elmwood, passed away at 8:06 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 5, 2022, in Okinawa, Japan. Bailey was born on June 14, 2001, the son of Debra M. Spencer.

Surviving are his mother, Deb of Elmwood; brother, Maxwell Spencer of Peoria; his grandfather, Rob-ert F. Spencer of Peoria Heights; grandmother, Fern L. Spencer (Mark-ley Madden) of Freeport, Fla.; aunt, Juli D. (Mark) Crider and cousin, Isabella Crider all of Rydal, Ga.; great-aunt, Christina Wagner of Madison, Wis.; god-mother, Colleen Tammeus of Peoria; and godbrother, Joshua Tammeus (Melissa Marnell) of Oceanside, Calif. Bailey was preceded in death by his great-grandfather, Claude F. Spencer; great-grandmother, Lucille A. Spencer; and great-grandparents, Roma and Fred Wagner.

Max and Bailey shared a very close relationship with their great Grandma Roma and great Aunt Chris, spend-ing every Christmas holiday with them for Bailey's entire life. Their presence in the boy's lives left an in-delible impression. Bailey will be laid to rest with his Great Grandpa and Grandma Wagner.

Bailey attended schools in Peoria, Chicago and Elmwood, and had friends in each of these places. Bai-ley genuinely believed that you do not have to have a traditional educa-tion to be successful and reach your goals and insisted on trying a non-traditional way of receiving his di-ploma. After much convincing, Bailey enrolled in Penn Foster On-line High School. His family often refers to Bailey as "not a butt in a seat." He graduated from Penn Foster while also participating in PERFECT (Peoria Educational Region For Em-ployment and Career Training), which is an amazing career and tech-nical education program that includes Agriculture, Business, Family and Consumer Science, Health Science and the Industrial/ Technical trades. OBITUARIES

Gil’s and The Warehouse in Hanna City during these years and showed that he had an amazing work ethic.

Bailey grew up being mentored by his older brother and many close friends, three of whom enlisted in the Marine Corps. While at Richwoods High School, Bailey participated in JROTC, which also impressed upon him the importance of the military. At the age of 14, Bailey made the decision that he wanted to enlist in the United States Marine Corps and was proud to do so at the age of 17. He went to boot camp in July of 2019, one month after turning 18 years old, ended up breaking one foot during the Crucible, yet finishing it, and subsequently healing just to end up breaking his other foot in combat training.

After healing, he attended his training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and was finally stationed in Okinawa, Japan, in July of 2020 working as a Motor Transport Operator, where he resided until this time.

Bailey, or Bay, as his family nicknamed him, was always following in the footsteps of his big brother and godbrother, tagging along with them in any way he could. Max was Bailey’s biggest role model and influence, often referred to him as his “mini me.” Max inspired his main passion for cars and working on them. From hours of working with his dear friend, Ethan, on his Toyota 4Runner, which was gifted to him from his godbrother Josh, to purchasing one of his dream cars in Japan, a Nissan 180sx, Bailey labored over his cars in every spare minute. Bailey’s dream was to go to Japan in the military and purchase his dream car. He certainly accomplished this dream. He built lifelong friendships while in Japan and loved the country, its culture, and its many attributes.

While Bailey was serving overseas it was common for him and his “Ma,” as Bailey lovingly referred to his Mom, to FaceTime or exchange pictures with his many pets back home, which included his nephew dog, Tucker, Roma, his many cats, goats and chickens. Bailey adored his pets and missed them immensely. His beloved Lab, Riley, held a special place in his heart and will be interred with him.

His funeral services are pending scheduling. He will be laid to rest with military honors and with his great-grandparents in Smithville Cemetery, off Hanna City-Glasford Road in rural Hanna City. Please visit the “Bailey C. Spencer Funeral Service” group on Facebook for service updates and to view his funeral service live. Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services in Princeville is in charge of arrangements.

The Bailey Spencer Memorial Fund has been created to support and encourage others to follow in his path and take the non-traditional route of education and career in the trades, technical, or mechanical programs and the military. Memorial contributions may be made payable to the Bailey Spencer Memorial Fund, in care of Bank of Farmington, P.O. Box 320 Farmington, IL 61531 or via the following link <https://bit.ly/BaileySpencer> to help financially support those working to achieve their goals (a 501c3 will be set up at a later date).

Condolences may be left for Bailey’s family on his tribute wall at www.haskellfuneral.com.

Princeville topped Mercer County in its regular season finale on Feb. 10, 59-32, to finish 8-3 in the Lincoln Trail Conference.

In Class 2A regional action, Farmington (12-16) lost to Canton, 44-40, on Saturday on its home floor. Farmington had a last-second 3-point attempt to win that did not go down.

“That’s a good ballclub that has competed against good teams all season,” Farmington Coach Brad Whitcomb said. “I’m really proud of our girls. It’s been a tough season with injuries and ups and downs and quarantines, but the girls never quit.”

Reece Putrich led Farmington with 17 points in the loss.

Brimfield won its final two regular season games in impressive fashion, on Feb. 10 topping Rockridge (50-19) and on Feb. 9 beating Quincy Notre Dame, 73-49. QND (24-3) was the No. 1-ranked team in Class 2A in the Feb. 9 AP poll.

Brimfield was red-hot against QND, shooting 62 percent overall and 57 percent on 3-pointers. After a tight first quarter, the Lady Indians went on a 20-4 run in the second quarter and then coasted to the easy win.

Peterson led with 26 points and had 10 steals while Lune scored 25, grabbed 8 rebounds and passed for 6 assists. Bedell scored 10.

Lune led with 24 points, 16 rebounds and 6 assists against Rockridge. Peterson scored 10.

Elmwood, which moved up to the 11th spot in the Feb. 9 poll as top team also receiving votes, ended its regular season by beating Peoria Heights on Feb. 8 (53-38) and Knoxville on Feb. 10 (56-35).

Liv Meyers scored 20 points against Knoxville and led with 9 rebounds. Herman had 19 points, 9 steals and 7 assists and Glenn added 12 points.

Meyers scored 24 in the win over Peoria Heights, while Glenn tallied 12 and Herman scored 10. Elmwood led just 36-35 after three quarters, but outscored Heights 17-3 in the final quarter for the victory.

Farmington boys aim to end regional drought

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Weekly Post

Four-class basketball hasn’t agreed with the Farmington boys program. Since racking up 12 regional titles in 18 seasons under Tom Wierzba during two-class tournaments from 1989-2007, the Farmers have run short of postseason glory under the expanded class system.

Wierzba’s 31-3 squad that was fourth in 2006-07 is the last Farmington team to win a regional title. Most of the years since coincide with the shift to four-class basketball in 2008. The closest Farmington came were two recent title games decided on last-second shots (66-65 vs. Stanford Olympia in 2017 and 45-44 vs. Deer Creek-Mackinaw in 2018).

That could change next week, at least if area coaches are correct in their seedings. Farmington (21-7) was voted No. 1 seed in Sub-Sectional A of the Mendota Sectional. No. 2 went to Port Byron Riverdale, No. 3 to Rockridge and No. 4 to Knoxville.

“It’s hard work and the kids have put it in,” said Marty Lozier, the Farmers first-year coach. “Win or lose, we get ready for regional. That’s where we want to be.”

Farmington starts at the Class 2A Knoxville Regional on Wednesday, Feb. 23, vs. the winner of Canton (5-21) and Mercer County (14-12).

On the other side of the regional bracket is home team Knoxville (24-5) and Monmouth-Roseville (17-10).

“I think there’s five teams that could win it. Compared to the other Sub-Sectional, I think ours is loaded,” Lozier said.

Farmington went 1-1 last week, winning at Illini Bluffs (53-40) on Feb. 8 and falling to Peoria Christian (54-44) last Friday. Ranked No. 7 in Class 1A, Peoria Christian outshot Farmington 85 to 27 percent in grabbing an 11-point first-quarter lead.

“That first quarter beat us,” Lozier said, noting the loss may have been timely. “We’ve been kind of clicking along and it opens your eyes to the fact it could be over right now. We need to know there is no tomorrow.”

Logan Morse had 15 points to lead the way against Peoria Christian, while Corbin Rutledge scored 12 and Keauntrey Barnes tallied 9.

Rutledge scored 18 against IB, Barnes had 11 and Morse added 10.

Farmington was home vs. Brimfield on Tuesday in the regular sea-

Two area boys junior high basketball teams fell one game short of state last week.

Brimfield lost its 8-2A home sectional to Peoria St. Vincent de Paul on Feb. 9, 47-19.

The remaining area boys teams play in two regionals under Sub-Sectional A, which has the following seeds: 1. Peoria Christian, 2. Monmouth United, 3. Peoria Quest, 4. Brimfield, 5. Ridgewood, 6. A-Town, 7. ROWVA-Williamsfield, 8. Elmwood, 9. Stark County, 10. Princeville, 11. Peoria Heights, 12. West Central, 13. Annawan, 14. Kewanee Wethersfield, 15. Galva.

Brimfield (16-7) went 2-1 last week, topping Peoria Heights (58-46) on Friday and Havana (61-47) to bounce back from a Feb. 9 loss at Delavan (42-25).

Brimfield was to close at local rivals Farmington on Tuesday and Elmwood on Wednesday.

Elmwood (14-11) topped North Fulton on Friday, 46-43. Andrew Marincic was limited to 6 points – after scoring 34 in a win over Bushnell-Prairie City on Feb. 8 – but was picked up by teammates Victor Lenzi (15 points), Zach Howerton (14) and Brendan Williams (8). North Fulton (3-22) hit nine treys.

The Trojans were at Peoria Heights on Tuesday and then return home Wednesday to face Brimfield.

Elmwood will face a Princeville (10-14) team it beat early in the regular season, 40-35. The Princes followed a major upset of A-Town (44-42) Feb. 8 with a 59-37 loss at Mercer County on Feb. 11 and a 49-

40 win over Henry-Senachwine on Monday.

Tayshaun Kieser scored 24 points against Henry, as Princeville took control down the stretch with a 17-10 run in the fourth quarter. Zach Stalter led the Princes with eight points in the loss to Mercer County.

After a 61-50 loss to Knoxville on Feb. 8, ROWVA-Williamsfield (15-14) put together back-to-back wins last weekend, topping Galva on Friday, 65-30, and following that with a 59-53 win at Illini Bluffs.

R-W made its last six free throws and was 7-for-8 in the fourth quarter. Dylan Tucker (15 points) hit a key 3-pointer down the stretch the gave R-W the lead for good and Carson Malek scored 19 points.

“That’s as good of a win as we’ve had in a long time,” Coach Bob Anderson said. “They’ve got a 6-foot-9 kid that can play and a 6-3 that can play and we got them down by 10-12 early and then held on.”

R-W was to face West Central on Tuesday and travels to Monmouth United today, weather permitting.

POMS: ‘Beautiful’ response to season’s challenges

Grand Champion competition behind Marquette’s 538.8.

Roberts said the finish exceeded expectations.

“None of these girls had ever danced in front of a live audience [before this season],” Roberts said. “So honestly, no, I didn’t think this was the year.”

She said her mind began to change when Elmwood took third at an IHSA sectional a few weeks ago.

“It’s a good group of kids who work really hard,” Roberts said. “This year they’ve really had to take ownership of a lot of things.”

In addition to dealing with COVID issues, Roberts had the added responsibility this year of caring for her husband, Troy, who only recently returned home after an extended hospitalization. To help Roberts, Vicky Warner volunteered to start practices while Roberts was at the hospital.

“Without Vicky stepping up and saying, ‘I would love to help,’ they would have been very far behind in the beginning,” Roberts said. “We could not have done it without her, for sure.”

The team was made up of seniors Presley Carver and Madison Herman; juniors Abby Sheridan and Taylor Glover; sophomores Abby Colgan, Kennedy Gillum and Lauren Feller; and freshmen Isabelle Davis, Claire Colgan, Maci Marincic, Kaylee LaFollett and Kaylin Williams.

“They have responded to the challenge of the year beautifully and you couldn’t ask for more than these ladies did,” Roberts said.

SPRINGFIELD – After years of coming close, the Elmwood pom pon team won its first state championship Saturday at the Bank of Springfield Center.

Elmwood placed first in pom dance among A Division teams at the Illinois Drill Team Association state finals for its performance of a self-choreographed routine called “Space.”

“We have always been the bridesmaid and never been the bride up until Saturday,” said Coach Emily Roberts, whose team had finished second at IDTA previously.

Elmwood was also third in pom with its “Candyland” routine to earn 517 points, good for second place in the

Brimfield, Elmwood girls win

For The Weekly Post

The Brimfield and Elmwood girls basketball teams advanced to regional title games today after winning their postseason openers.

Brimfield (26-4) defeated ROWVA-Williamsfield on Monday at the Class 1A Woodhull Regional, 60-37. Bumped up one spot to No. 1 in the Feb. 9 Associated Press poll, Brimfield got 13 points apiece from Sophie Bedell and Elynn Peterson, 11 from Ella Lune and 10 from Maddie Hensing.

The Lady Indians will face Annawan (21-10) today at 7 p.m. in the title game. On Monday in the other semifinal, Annawan topped Princeville (19-10), 60-58.

Elmwood (24-5) routed Flanagan-Cornell Tuesday night at home, 68-12, and advances to face Illini Bluffs today at 7 p.m. in Elmwood, weather permitting.

“The biggest worry was making sure we came out with good intensity, good focus and a lot of energy and I thought we did that,” Elmwood Coach Gregg Meyers said. “The next one is going to be a dogfight. But I like our chances if we come with the energy and intensity we had to-night.”

Melody Glenn led eight Elmwood scorers with 20 points and had 6 steals in the first half, Liv Meyers tallied 16, Mae Herman had 12 points and 8 assists and Lauren Rushing scored 8 off the bench.

Last Saturday, Princeville won its first regional game over Kewanee Wethersfield, 62-27. Just three days earlier on Feb. 9, the Lady Princes had topped We-STANFORD – Farmington sophomore Keygan Jennings added a sectional title to his growing individual wrestling trophy case.

A regional champion last week, Jennings won three matches at the sectional at Olympia High School to claim his latest title. He beat Chase Stedman of Tremont 10-0 in a major decision in the first round, then topped Danny Tay of Ridgeview in the semifinals in a 5-3 decision.

Jennings took the title match over Emmitt Holt of St. Joseph-Ogden in a 7-2 decision.

Jennings (42-1) moves on to the 113-pound state finals Thursday at the State Farm Center in Champaign, where he will wrestle freshman Sophie Bowers (40-11) of Vandalia.

Farmington had four other sectional participants who did not advance, Austin Utt (170 pounds), Reese Shymansky (182), Connor Huber (132) and Chris Haggard (220).
