Campaign season opens with filings

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – The 2022 campaign season got underway in earnest Monday as candidates lined up in front of election offices to turn in petitions to get their names on the June 28 primary election ballot.

Hundreds of candidates and their aides braved cold wind and snow early Monday to line up outside the Illinois State Board of Elections office in Springfield to ensure their placement on the ballot.

Monday was the first day established party candidates could file their petitions. The deadline for turning in petitions is next Monday, March 14.

Illinois voters will cast ballots this year for governor and lieutenant governor as well as statewide constitutional officers, all 118 seats in the Illinois House and 59 seats in the state Senate, circuit, appellate court and state Supreme Court judges, congressional seats, and a U.S. Senate seat currently held by Democrat Tammy Duckworth.

Voters in parts of Illinois will also cast ballots for county board members and various other local government offices.

This year's primary was pushed back from its normal time in early March

Elmwood native Shoop promoted to colonel

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Weekly Post

As if the honor wasn't enough, being promoted to colonel earlier this year comes with an added bonus for Elmwood native Kyle Shoop.

After spending the past few years working a desk job in the Pentagon and handling money matters, Colonel Shoop will soon be doing what attracted him to the military in the first place: flying.

"I work on budgetary things here, and it's been interesting to see how the sausage gets ground," Shoop said Monday from his Pentagon office. "But I'm glad my permanent assignment is not in this field. I'd rather be back leading Marines and flying planes."

Shoop, 43, is slated to take command of Marine Aircraft Group 12 in mainland Japan in the summer of 2023. He will be in charge of three attack air squadrons, a C-130 squadron, a Marine Wing Support Squadron, a logistic squadron and more than 1,000 personnel.

"And I will get to fly," Shoop said. "These command positions are the reason you stay in."

They are hard to come by, though. There are currently 649 colonels in the 180,000-person Marine Corps. And former Lt. Colonel Shoop was one of 102 selected for promotion out of 718 who were screened this year.

That's a long way from the young boy who loved to attend air shows with his dad, Bob Shoop of Elmwood, and his grandfather, the late Robert Webster, father of his late mother, Kathy Shoop. “I ended up where I am now because of going to air shows with my grandad back when I was a kid,” Kyle Shoop said. “The biggest was in Osh Kosh, Wisconsin. That got me interested in aviation.”

SHOOP: Has fond memories of Elmwood

It’s an interest he has never lost. Once Kyle graduated from Elmwood High School in 1996, he went to the U.S. Naval Academy, where in 2000 he earned a Bachelor of Science in Control Systems Engineering.

After graduation, he selected Marine Corps aviation and went to basic school and flight school, earning status as a Naval Aviator in the fall of 2003. He was deployed to Iraq in 2006 and came back to take part in the Navy’s TOPGUN training in 2007. From there, Kyle has steadily moved up the military ladder while earning numerous decorations and deployments, flying missions around the world and accumulating more than 2,900 mishap-free flight hours.

That is a source of pride for his father, Bob. The elder Shoop recalled a conversation with a general who had flown with Kyle in Iraq. Said the general, “He’s the best pilot I’ve ever flown with.”

Kyle Shoop’s deployments include Operation Freedom’s Sentinel in Afghanistan in 2018 and Operation Inherent Resolve, as well as many that sound much less glamorous.

“These jobs are career-broadening on purpose to groom you for following assignments if you chose to take one,” Kyle said.

Through all his travels and time abroad, Kyle has not lost track of central Illinois. He and his family still return at least once a year. And he was well aware that the Brimfield girls basketball team had won a state tournament over the weekend – no surprise since his wife, the former Sara Callison, is from Brimfield. They have two children, Elizabeth and Bradley.

“That’s a big deal to win state,” he said. “I loved the small-town basketball.”

Kyle, who is a life-time member of the Elmwood VFW, said he has many other fond memories of his time in Elmwood.

“I had a great experience in high school playing sports ... all the festivals and town activities ... just the sense of community and knowing everyone,” he said, rattling off a few. “We have grown to appreciate that more as we have grown older.”

Global food chains face more uncertainty

For the second time in two years, a history-making calamity has shown just how fragile the world’s efficiency-driven, deeply interdependent food system is.

Two years ago, a rampaging pandemic threatened America’s pantries. Today, Russia’s invasion of Ukraine threatens supplies of key ag inputs like fuel and fertilizer while causing deep disruptions to global wheat, corn, and vegetable oil markets. Just how badly, though, remains unknown.

What we do know is that on the export side, Russia and the independent nation it invaded, Ukraine, account for 29 percent of global wheat exports, 19 percent of the world’s corn exports, and 75 percent of the world’s sunflower oil exports.

On the input side, every American farmer knows Russia’s big role in global fertilizer markets. It controls 21 percent of the world’s potash and, equally bad, its only ally in the Ukrainian invasion, Belarus, holds another 21 percent.

And that’s not all. Russia has a strong hand on both sides of the today/tomorrow energy divide: Its natural gas reserves drive the European heating market (at five times the cost of American natural gas) and the global anhydrous ammonia markets. Also, its large supply of copper, palladium, and nickel—all key ingredients in the world’s push to electrify itself—is rattling today’s green energy markets.

“Russia isn’t a gas station,” one global markets expert said last week, “it’s a commodity superstore.”

And that’s a huge problem when you live in a politically-unstable, commodity-hungry world.

Russia is also an economic basket case. Its GDP, according to the World Bank, is $1.5 trillion, or only about 7 percent the size of the U.S.’s GDP of $21 trillion. France’s GDP, in fact, is nearly twice Russia’s.

Moreover, it is deeply dependent on international trade for food, technology, and—most importantly—finance. The world’s unified and suffocating restrictions on Russian finance following the Feb. 23 invasion threaten deprivation to every Russian and Ukrainian household within weeks, if not days.

In the meantime, some U.S. commodity markets – wheat and oil, in particular – are on a rocket ride. Port shutdowns on Ukraine’s Black Sea are driving its customers to other exporters. For example, a March 1 Twitter post noted “Black Sea wheat unavailable to Chinese for feed so they pivot to US corn, book 10 cargoes...”

Another post earlier that morning urged followers to “Look at soy oil, and then palm oil! It’s going bananas!”

Not every ag commodity market is so fruity. New crop corn and soybeans, the bulk of which isn’t even in the ground yet, have kept their bearings. December corn futures were up a scant 17 cents per bu. during the invasion’s first week while new crop soybean futures rose a skinny 3 cents. Still, prices are poised to take off if the war es-calates.

Futures prices for wheat, a food – not feed – grain, were up almost 20 percent during the same period, from $7.82 per bushel to nearly $9.20 per bu. Drought also stalks the U.S. wheat region so today’s wheat market has both foreign and domestic fuel to go higher if both war and drought persist.

It’s not all tall clover for farmers, however. Rising fuel and fertilizer prices threaten to add as much as $100 per acre to corn planting costs this year, according to some market analysts.

Looking around, though, the nonwarring nation in the tightest geopolitical spot isn’t Germany or the U.S. The nation most threatened by Russia’s unprovoked invasion of Ukraine might be its key ally, China, which is deeply dependent on corn and wheat imports from both Russia and Ukraine. Russia has jeopardized both supplies.

Additionally, China’s only political soulmate of consequence, Russia, has now been tossed out of everything from global banking systems to regional sports leagues. That decoupling, and its attendant instability, is not what Xi Jinping, China’s autocratic leader, promised his nation.

Unlike his Russian counterpart, Xi knows his people want food and peace and few, if any, care if they get it from the United States or Ukraine or Mars.

CAMPAIGN: 5 Republicans challenging Pritzker

due to delays in the redistricting process brought about by delays in the release of 2020 census data due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

That revised schedule could have an impact on who turns out to vote in the primary. The late June date means many college students who would normally vote on campus will be home for summer break while many other voters who would normally turn out in March may be away on vacation.

Gov. JB Pritzker and Lt. Gov. Juliana Stratton are waging their first reelection bid this year. They won the 2018 election with 54.5 percent of the vote over former Republican Gov. Bruce Rauner and Lt. Gov. Evelyn Sanguinetti.

It is not believed they will face any primary opposition this year but a full slate of Republican candidates are lining up to challenge them. Among the challengers for governor are Aurora Mayor Richard Irvin; state Sen. Darren Bailey, of Xenia; former state Sen. Paul Schimpf, of Waterloo; Chicago-area businessman Gary Rabine; and venture capitalist Jesse Sullivan, of Petersburg, among others.

Republicans have so far been attacking Pritzker for the state's rising rate of violent crime and the impact that his response to the COVID-19 pandemic had on the state's economy.

"We're killing small business in the state like no other state and we've got to stop that," Rabine said during an interview outside the ISBE office. "We've got to bring businesses and jobs and people back to Illinois instead of chasing them away."

Outside of the governor's race, the most high-profile race in state government this year may be the contest for secretary of state, where incumbent Jesse White is retiring after six terms in office.

On the Democratic side, former State Treasurer Alexi Giannoulis has the support of some of the state's largest labor unions and the Cook County Democratic Party, while other high-profile Democrats, including Pritzker and White, have thrown support behind Chicago City Clerk Anna Valencia. Also in the race is Chicago Ald. David Moore.

On the Republican side, the race appears to be between John Milhiser, a former U.S. Attorney for the central district of Illinois, and state Rep. Dan Brady, of Bloomington.

Irvin tops a list of Republican candidates running as a slate for statewide office. The slate includes attorney general candidate Steve Kim, of Deerfield; treasurer candidate Rep. Tom Demmer, of Dixon; and comptroller candidate Shannon Teresi, of Crystal Lake. Milhiser is the secretary of state candidate on the slate.

According to this year's election calendar, voters can request mail-in ballots starting March 30 by contacting their local election authority. Applications must be in by June 23.

Mail-in ballots must be postmarked or returned in-person by Election Day, June 28.

Future upkeep an issue for Hanna City trail

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Weekly Post
FARMINGTON – Mayor Kent Kowal had news for the Farmington City Council on Monday regarding a proposed Hanna City Trail, and not all of it was good.

Kowal said Peoria County Administrator Scott Sorrel recently sent a letter reaffirming Peoria County’s commitment to help purchase 24.7 miles of railroad right-of-way stretching from Bellevue to Middlegrove.

But Sorrel also said Peoria County would not commit to ongoing maintenance or liability for the trail. For that reason, Sorrel said Peoria County could not be part of a draft intergovernmental agreement. Farmington had approved the agreement at its Feb. 21 meeting.

“Peoria County will find money for the acquisition, but that’s as far as it will go,” Kowal said.

Kowal said a weighted average of annual trail maintenance costs, gleaned from 90 trail managers by the Illinois Department of Transportation, is $2,000 per mile.

Kowal estimated Farmington’s share of trail maintenance at about 4 miles, though it could also include 6 miles of trail from Farmington to Middlegrove, since the Fulton County Board opted to forgo participation.

“I’ve always felt it would be $10,000 to $15,000 per year for maintenance,” Kowal said.

That is in addition to $105,000 to help purchase the trail.

Kowal said he is unsure what Hanna City officials will decide in the wake of Peoria County’s decision.

The council did vote unanimously to retain William Street as legal counsel for trail-related matters at a cost of $150 per hour.

The council discussed the 2021-22 budget and noted that a budget hearing will be held prior to the next meeting on March 21.

“It’s not going to be a perfect budget, but it’s a budget that shows we will be in the black,” Kowal said.

The council also heard that Randy Welch was resigning from the Zoning Board of Appeals after 14 years and approved a donation of $350 to an Easter egg hunt being organized by police officer Andy Steck and the local McDonald’s for April 16 in Jacobs Park. Steck said he has already obtained 8 of 11 bicycles to be given away at the event and hopes to purchase fishing poles and other prizes.

Elmwood council OKs sealcoating

By JOHN A. BALLENTINE
For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – The Elmwood City Council approved having sealcoating and fog coating done on numerous city streets at its March 3 meeting.

The board approved the work for $120,691, which is broken down in parts of $109,719 for the contractors and $10,972 for engineering costs.

Fog coating is, according to an online description, “an application of a specially formulated asphalt emulsion (a thin liquid oil) to an existing asphalt pavement surface. A fog coat seal gets its name from its spray application sometimes referred to as ‘fogging’.”

“I explain it as an oil applied on top of the sealcoat to minimize the loose rock,” Engineer Patrick Meyer said.

The fog coating also seals holes and cracks, which helps preserve and extend the life of a pavement surface.

Streets designated for this project are: Dearborn, Park, Butternut, Pleasant View, Evergreen, Ash, Rose, Rural, Hawthorne, Holly and Ivy.

The council also learned that the new police vehicle was destined to arrive later that night and was to be put into service immediately the following day.

Police Chief Aaron Bean report for February showed the following: 0 arrests, 3 stops, 2 citations, 2 warnings, 23 reports taken, 0 notices to appear [in court], 1 ordinance violation and no open doors.

City Treasurer Bonnie Beal reported “everything looks good” with the city’s budget. There were no major purchases or expenditures.

Economic Director Amy Davis reported on upcoming community events and highlighted the following:

- Party at The Palace Theatre on April 2;
- Kiwanis Easter Egg Hunt on April 16;
- Community-wide garage sales on April 29-30;
- VFW Ruck 22, John Pettit Memorial Walk to bring awareness to PTSD and veteran suicide on May 28;
- Memorial Day celebration May 30;
- Strawberry Festival on June 4;
- Summer band concerts starting at Central Park on Sunday June 5;
- Farmers’ markets starting around Central Park on Friday June 10.

Services Offered:

- Drainage Tiling
- Excavation
- Trucking and Gravel Delivery
- Central Boiler Repairs and Parts

According to Superintendent Chad Wagner, Day 0 is the first day of symptoms, or the date of the specimen collection for the positive viral test for asymptomatic persons. The school district is also discontinuing the administration of Binax NOW tests. Wagner said the motion was made in response to Gov JB Pritzker’s Executive Order 2022-7 which was issued on March 4. Cullerton guilty of embezzlement

By PETER HANCOCK
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – Former state Sen. Tom Cullerton pleaded guilty Tuesday to one count of embezzlement and could face more than a year in federal prison.

During a plea hearing in federal court in Chicago, Cullerton admitted that he received pay and benefits from the Teamsters Joint Council 25 during 2015 while doing little or no work for the union. In addition to his salary, prosecutors alleged, Cullerton also received bonuses and health care benefits.

Cullerton, a Villa Park Democrat, was indicted in 2019 on 40 counts of embezzlement – one for each biweekly paycheck he received from January 2015 through January 2016, a period of time when he also served in the Illinois Senate.

The indictment was one element of a sprawling federal investigation into public corruption led by the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Northern District of Illinois. Other lawmakers indicted in the sweep included former Sen. Martin Sandoval, who is now deceased, former Rep. Luis Arroyo and, most recently, former House Speaker Michael Madigan. All three are Chicago Democrats.

According to a plea agreement, prosecutors said sentencing guidelines would call for 12-18 months imprisonment, in addition to any supervised release, fine and restitution the court might impose.

As part of the plea agreement, Cullerton agreed to pay restitution of $248,828. That includes $247,179.37 to the Teamsters.

Indictment gives look at Madigan’s machine

By BETH HUNDSORFER
and JERRY NOWICKI

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — In a 106-page, 22-count indictment, federal prosecutors painted a picture of former House Speaker Michael Madigan as the leader, along with a longtime confidante, of a sweeping criminal enterprise that influenced legislation for personal power and financial gain.

“The Madigan Enterprise,” as prosecutors called it in the document filed Wednesday, benefitted from Madigan’s position as a Democratic ward committeeman, speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives, chairman of the Democratic Party of Illinois and law partner at Madigan & Getzendanner.

In those capacities, Madigan, either personally or through confidante Michael McClain, is accused of guiding the enterprise’s illegal activities to punish opponents and reward loyalists, all while generating money for him and other members of the criminal enterprise, according to the indictment and comments from U.S. Attorney John Lausch Jr. of the Northern District of Illinois.

The feds accused Madigan of using intermediaries, falsifying documents, meeting in person and using third-party phones to avoid detection by federal agents, as well as speaking in coded language to protect the conspiracy.

But the former speaker still vehemently denied wrongdoing in a statement distributed by his lawyers.

“I was never involved in any criminal activity,” Madigan said in a statement.

Madigan and the enterprise are accused of receiving bribes and “unlawful personal financial advantage(s)” from parties that had business with the state and city of Chicago. Madigan’s power to pass or kill legislation in the General Assembly, along with his control over resources through his various positions of power, were used to entice financial rewards from third parties, according to the allegations.

In that effort, the enterprise used “threats, intimidation, and extortion to solicit benefits from private parties,” and used facilities of interstate commerce to further the goals of the enterprise, another federal crime, according to the indictment.

Madigan, 79, and

McClain, 74, both face charges of racketeering, conspiracy, bribery and wire fraud. Madigan faces additional charges for attempted extortion.

While the sprawling indictment outlines wire taps and email conversations and even directly quotes the former speaker, Madigan’s lawyers said in a statement, “neither the law nor the facts support these baseless charges, and the evidence will prove it.”

The indictment includes forfeiture actions against McClain and Madigan for $2.8 million for proceeds they allegedly obtained, directly or indirectly, from racketeering activity.

A central player in another scheme is identified as Alderman A, who “cooperated in an undercover capacity” with the FBI.

Illinois House votes to make masks optional

By GRACE KINNICUTT
Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – The Illinois House amended COVID-19 protocols Tuesday, lifting face covering requirements following weeks of pushback from Republican members who sometimes refused to wear masks and delayed the start of session on several occasions.

In a 104-1 vote, the House passed House Resolution 717 that lifted the face mask requirement. Temperature checks when members walk into the chamber will no longer be implemented and social distancing will not be required.

“Let’s remove these masks together, and respect those who don’t want to remove them,” House Speaker Emanuel ‘Chris’ Welch said. “Let’s be considerate of one another, and let’s go to work.”

The sole dissenter was Rep. Lakesia Collins, D-Chicago, who motioned to remove GOP members from the floor on several occasions in recent weeks when they refused to comply with face covering requirements.

Rep. Blaine Wilhour, R-Beecher City, one of the GOP members removed from the chamber on multiple occasions recently, said the chamber has gotten “real good at taking meaningless votes on masks” the past few weeks instead of “doing the work of the people.”

The Senate will no longer mandate masks either, although they are “strongly encouraged.”

On Friday, the most recent COVID-19 executive order filed by Gov. JB Pritzker ended mask requirements in schools, “shifting schools back to the ordinary processes for handling infectious diseases.”

FARMINGTON: Ready to ‘reload’ next season more Carson Klemme scored 12, freshman Landon Bull tallied 10 and senior Nate Henry had 7.

Farmington got 10 points from senior Ethan Evans, 9 from Riley Embry and 6 from Barnes.

Rockridge beat Rockford Lutheran Monday in the Sterling Supersectional, 57-52, and plays Monticello today at 2:30 p.m. in the State Farm Center as the boys tournament returns to Champaign for the first time since 1995. DePaul College Prep plays Nashville at 4 in the other Class 2A semifinal.

As hard as it was to miss a chance at all of that, Lozier said he was very proud of this team. Farmington won its first regional since 2007 and all five starters averaged between 10 to 11.5 points per game, led by Corbin Rutledge.

Against Princeton, sophomore Barnes scored Farmington’s first 11 points while junior Logan Morse had 16 of his 18 points in the second half as Princeton changed defensive assignments.

Those two are part of the reason Lozier is already excited for next season.

“I think our culture is there now and we’re just going to reload,” Lozier said. “We’ve got several juniors that, if they were playing anywhere else, they would be starting.”

BRIMFIELD GIRLS – STATE CHAMPIONS

SCHEDULE: Bedell’s black band honored brother

Continued from Page 20 games,” Dura said. “I thought it taught us to be more comfortable in our game. More confident in our game. When you play the best teams in 3A and 2A, you’re probably going to tell yourself, ‘We played the best, so let’s just continue to play our game and it will all work out.’ Which it did.”

• Heavy hearts – Thoughts of three deceased classmates were never far from the minds of Brimfield players, even though they were told they could not wear commemorative black wristbands last Thursday.

Bands were marked with #20 and #30, the jersey numbers of Aaron Miller and Jacob Look, Brimfield basketball players who died in tragic accidents in the past two years. The IHSA ruled the wristbands illegal because they had numbers on them.

But senior Sophie Bedell was able to wear black tape adorned with “B.P.B.” across the left strap of her jersey. The letters are the initials of her brother, Benjamin P. Bedell, who died in a car accident in September of 2020.

“I think about him every day,” Bedell said. “When I put this on, I know he’s with me on the court and in my heart and I know he’s cheering me on. So it helps me a lot.”

• Celebration – Fireworks and sirens of all sorts greeted the Brimfield girls team upon their return home, with a parade route that stretched from Kickapoo, through Brimfield and wound up at the high school.

Unfortunately, during the escort, the Brimfield Fire Department received three calls and had to cut short the team’s ride.

Once inside the gym, several speakers praised past Brimfield girls teams, including squads that reached the supersectional in 1980 and 1981 under Coach Terry Hart and in 2008, 2009 and 2016.

“This is for all the past girls basketball players of Brimfield,” Dura said of the championship.

After the celebration, players and coaches were treated to a free meal at Rookies in Brimfield.

• Lawyer by day – While most coaches work at their school in some capacity, Dura is an attorney who owns her Dura

Law Office. She specializes in family law, criminal defense, juvenile law, personal injury and worker’s compensation. In order to take the week off, she got continuances for several scheduled court appearances.

“The judge was really nice about it,” said Dura, who finds similarities between coaching and practicing law.

“I do a lot of trial work, so I’m kind of competing against other people,” she said. “So I’m doing that during the day and then it’s a good balance to hang out in a gym afterwards. And, of course, there’s competition in basketball, too. So it’s very similar.”

• All-staters – Ella Lune was named to the Associated Press’ Class 1A first team all-state squad.

Three local girls made the honorable mention team: Elynn Peterson of Brimfield, Caitlyn Thole of Princeville and Olivia Meyers of Elmwood.

Schedule assisted assisted Brimfield

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

NORMAL – Moments after Brimfield walked off the Redbird Arena floor with its Class 1A trophy, Winnebago and Quincy Notre Dame battled for a Class 2A title.

Brimfield had already played both title contenders this season, routing eventual champion Notre Dame (73-49) and losing to Winnebago in the State Farm Classic title game (57-42).

No question, the Lady Indians were a battle-tested group. After going unbeaten in last year's COVID-shortened season, Brimfield opted to take on larger schools this season, many of them ranked.

Coach Maribeth Dura said the experience helped her team prepare for state.

"It was everything actually. We might have showed some nerves [in the title game], but overall I thought we played without nerves through most of those big

Press, free throw lift Indians to 32-31 win over Galena

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

NORMAL – Facing the biggest shot of her life, Elynn Peterson needed help. After missing the first of two free throws with 2.1 seconds left in the Class 1A girls basketball title game, Peterson turned her thoughts to the heavens.

"I got up there and I didn't realize there were only two seconds left," Peterson said. "And I'm like, 'OK, I have to at least put one of these in.' I miss the first one, so I was like, 'Great. That's not good.' It felt right, it looked right, it just didn't fall.

"So I was like, 'OK, one more. I don't want to go into overtime, so I've really got to put this basket in.' So I said, 'God please help me.' I shot the ball and it went in."

With that free throw, top-ranked Brimfield (32-4) capped an inspiring comeback to defeat No. 4 Galena, 32-31, at Redbird Arena.

Nine minutes prior to Peterson's shot, Brimfield's odds at victory looked very slim. Normally a high-scoring, fast-paced team, the Lady Indians trailed 22-12 with one minute left in the third quarter and looked very frustrated against Galena's 1-3-1 zone defense.

A media timeout gave Brimfield Coach Maribeth Dura the break she needed to start pressing full court. Results were immediate. Galena suffered 10 turnovers and scored just 9 points in the final 9 minutes while Brimfield shot 58 percent

Farmington boys fall in sectional final

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

MENDOTA – You can forgive Farmington if they headed into Friday's Class 2A boys basketball sectional final with some confidence.

For one thing, the Farmers (25-8) had been playing their best basketball of the year over the past few weeks in winning 10 of their last 11 games. That included a comeback from 10 points down to beat Princeton in the sectional semifinal.

For another, the last time Farmington faced Taylor Ridge Rockridge (23-6) at the Western Holiday Tournament, the Farmers never trailed in a 44-31 victory and held their foes to 24.3 percent shooting.

That all changed Friday in Mendota, though, as Rockridge shot extremely well and Farmington was the team that struggled to score in a 47-30 loss.

"The last time we played, we couldn't miss and they couldn't hit. This time the shooting was a 180 mirror difference," Farmington Coach Marty Lozier said. "They probably had a chip on their shoulder a little bit to play us."

Lozier said while Farmington shot close to 30 percent for the game, Rockridge was "well over 50 percent."

Even so, the Farmers were down just 24-22 late in the third quarter after a pair of free throws by sophomore Keauntrey Barnes.

But that's when Rockridge started to pull away, hitting three 3-pointers in a row to go up 33-22 early in the fourth quarter.

"They shot lights out in the second half," Lozier said. "They were taking 3s on fast breaks without rebounders."

Things only got worse down the stretch as the Farmers had to take chances on defense, missed shots and suffered uncharacteristic turnovers.

Junior Jase Whiteman led Rockridge with 17 points while sophomore
