JUBILEE COLLEGE SITE REOPENS

Shuttered historic site reopens

The chapel is beautiful. Not fancy, but the walnut pews and pulpit are gleaming and well-preserved. The condition of things is even more impressive when you realize that for the past decade, the Jubilee College State Historic Site has been basically shuttered. If not for the assistance of volunteers over that time, I shudder to think what it might look like inside. Thankfully, that's not an issue, for now.

Since Sept. 3, a paid staff member has been on site to offer tours of the historic site from 9 a.m. to 5

Despite a lack of publicity, response has been good according to Annie Vitti, the Department of Natural Resources staffer who conducts tours of the site founded in 1839 by Philander Chase, the first Episcopal Bishop of Illinois.

"We've actually been pretty busy," said Vitti, 24, a Downers Grove native. "It's been a nice steady flow of people."

During tours you can walk through the college building and see the chapel, school room, dormitory, school offices and library. There are also exhibits about the history of Jubilee College – one of Illinois' earliest education institutions - and a seven-minute intro-

Enrollment increase

97 students at Williamsfield H.S. largest total in at least 21 years

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post WILLIAMSFIELD -Against a backdrop of the best enrollment numbers in decades, the Williamsfield School Board on Monday passed a 2023 budget that features a 4.16 percent levy increase and is expected to produce a surplus of around $120,000.

The anticipated 2022 tax rate is $4.66, which remains one of the three or four lowest out of 12 local schools. That rate is expected to increase again for 2023 as part of a five-year capital improvement program before dropping significantly in 2024 once school improvements are completed.

The budget shows $6.6 million in revenues and $6.48 million in expenses, leaving an expected surplus of $120,458 that will bring the district's cash-onhand balance to $2.498 million.

Williamsfield's enrollment is 296 students, a 3 percent increase from last year. The district also has 97 high schoolers and 36 students in pre-Kindergarten classes. Both totals are the highest in at least 21 years based on a review of ISBE online records by Superintendent Tim Farquer. Farquer said the high school enrollment is 18 percent above the school's 21-year average.

"For Pre-K, I think word is out that our program is strong, and, people are getting more comfortable with the concept of full-day Pre-K,"

Historical society to get Princeville TIF money

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE - After some closer looks and some awkward silences, it appears the Historical Association of Princeville will receive some village money.

During its meeting Sept. 6, the Village Board voted to approve reimbursing the association $2,000 for $8,000 it spent on recent blacktop work at the Princeville Heritage Museum. The project is eligible for municipal tax-increment-financing

The board first considered reimbursement last month, but concerns about who owns the land upon which the museum sits prompted a deferral. Some municipal officials believed the village owned it, which would make reimbursing itself prob-

Village Treasurer Julie Delbridge said the land is not municipal owned, according to her research. The village does own a plot of land near the museum. The restored Akron Townhouse School building sits atop that village land. The historical association rents the land for a nominal fee.

Delbridge suggested the ownership question, and recollections about it, became murky over time.

"It was like, 'Let's just go back before you take a vote on anything," she said about the delay. "It doesn't

The eventual vote wasn't cut and dried, either.

According to Village President Jeff Troutman, there was no set amount the village can reimburse. During the meeting, he said 15 percent of the $8,000 might be appropriate. Trustee Ron Pope suggested $1,500.

JUBILEE: Site of Olde English Faire until 2009

Chase's complex consisted of a college with a theological department, a preparatory school for boys and a seminary for girls. Students had access to more than 2,000 books and studied Latin and Greek, as well as reading, writing and arithmetic. In 1840, fees for a 44-week school term were $100 for tuition, books, room and board, fuel for heat and laundry.

The school fared well until Chase died in 1852, and even flourished for several years after his death. But decline started in 1859 and was hastened by the Civil War in 1861, leading to closure of the college in 1862.

From that point on, the Episcopal Church gradually sold off the original 4,000 acres Chase accumulated and periodically leased the buildings to other schools, which enjoyed little success. In 1931, the final plot of land was sold at auction and then donated to the state in 1934 by Dr. George A. Zeller.

A local Citizens Committee to Preserve Jubilee College raised money to fund a restoration of the site, which was added to the National Historic Registry in 1972 and reopened to visitors in 1986.

In 2009, tours were halted when state funding dried up. Since then, volunteers have provided occasional tours and weekend events. Until 2009, the site was also home to an Olde English Faire, which was the last time I visited.

Based on a visit this week, the site is worth a return trip, if only to learn more about its history and to admire the surrounding grounds, which feature mature trees and some cool prairie plantings. Grounds are open daily from 8:30 a.m. to dusk. To learn more, call (309) 243-9489.

Brimfield board OKs 4-year electric rate contract

By LORI HEROLD

For The Weekly Post
BRIMFIELD – With its current contract expiring
this month, the Brimfield Village Board deliberated

over an electric-supply

quote from The Stone River Group, LLC during its monthly meeting on Monday.

Board members discussed the best contractlength option for the village's utilities and an email from The Stone River Group that suggested they consider at least a 24-month contract. The email said, "pricing is very good right now" for a 36-month contract. "We are being told that prices will be going up next year and all of the trends show that is the case," read the email.

The lowest-quoted price is still more than double the current rate of $0.46160 per kilowatt hour. The board voted for a 48-month contract at $0.98980 per kilowatt hour supplied by Homefield Energy. The new contract starts Oct. 1.

In othe business, the board OK'd an amendment to the Good Energy Professional Services Agreement, stating the fee to be amended to $.001 per kilowatt hour. Good Energy provides electricity to village residences.

The board also approved the 2022-23 Tax Levy Ordinance.

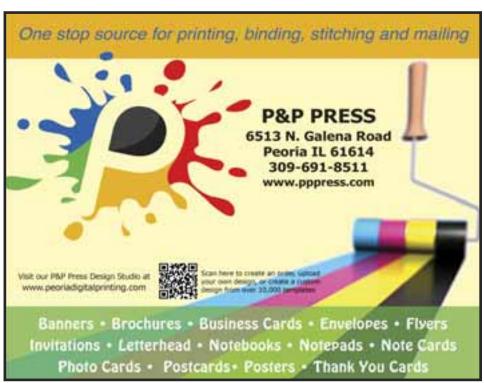

Brandee Dibbler, who joined the board in June 2021 has resigned. Rod Gilles, who served on the board prior to Dibbler, has stepped forward to serve again until the 2023 election. The board approved Dibbler's resignation and Gilles' reassignment.

President Dan Fishel said it is time to be on the lookout for ordinance violations and get letters out to the violators.

No-ethanol day easier said than done

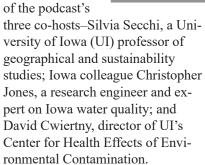

It's rare to find one Midwestern academic publicly questioning the economic and environmental impacts of ethanol.

It's even rarer to find four academics - one from a corn state land grant university, three from a leading university in the leading cornproducing state - raising objections to the biofuel and its byproducts that will use one out of every three bushels of corn grown in the U.S. this year.

But that's exactly what the cohosts of the Iowa-based podcast, We All Want Clean Water, offered in the first episode of their second season. It was a 47-minute seminar on how best to put the most sacred of American ag policy cows out to pasture.

And it featured several "cropaganda" moments, a clever invention

Alan

According to the three, cropaganda marries old fashioned farm mythmaking to modern farm advocacy in Big Ag's effort to maintain the status quo. Its chief goal is to beat down any fact or idea that threatens today's dominant ag pol-

Most of the podcast's myth-made moments were provided by Jason

Hill, a professor of bioproducts and biosystems engineering at the University of Minnesota, who has examined ethanol since 2005. His "systems" assessment of ethanol – a "big picture" of how science now views it – is that "ethanol is not the direction we should be going."

In fact, Hill notes, a "more sustainable transportation future" would feature "better options that give us greater benefits at less cost... (and) get us closer to a more sustainable transportation future."

For example, Hill told the three UI professors, if Congress raised the required fuel standard nationwide by a miniscule one-half mile per gallon, the environmental benefit delivered by the tiny boost would offset any environmental benefit from ethanol from "all the corn we produce in Iowa today."

That "just blows my mind," remarked podcast co-host Cwiertny, "because that's an achievable standard in terms of fuel efficiency. Instead we've chosen to completely re-engineer our landscape here" for corn and ethanol.

And even more ethanol-driven landscape reengineering is now in the works across the Midwest. Highly controversial carbon pipelines, backed by biofuel oligarchs like Archer Daniels Midland and Iowa political kingmaker Bruce Rastetter, will re-energize two "very much aligned" industries, ethanol and petroleum, says Hill.

The global fuel market, however, is rushing away from "liquid fuels" like gasoline and ethanol and toward either less liquid fuel or non-liquid fuels like electricity. By itself, that realignment will change today's transportation system dramatically and quickly, suggests Hill.

The question then won't be what fuel will we use, he reckons; instead it will be "How are we going to get people from Point A to Point B safely because there will be many more ways to accomplish that" other than with today's fuels.

That will have severe consequences for ethanol, he continues. "Today, we use all the land dedicated to corn production in both Minnesota and Iowa combined for ethanol... and it gets us enough fuel to offset 6 to 7 percent of our gasoline... That's not a lot."

In fact, if federally mandated miles-per-gallon standards are raised just two more miles per gallon, Hill calculates, all the ethanol-making corn land in production today would be redundant. It simply wouldn't be needed.

That stark reality should push policymakers to begin to move toward the inevitable no-ethanol day.

But that's far easier said than done, noted podcast co-host Jones. Iowa's corn acres devoted to ethanol alone are equal to 20 of the state's 99 counties, he said. What are farmers going to do in those counties if ethanol goes away?

They will be paid an estimated $600 to $700 an acre in federal subsidies – today's "societal cost to grow corn used for ethanol" - to grow other "proven" carbonfriendly crops that "give us the benefit of a renewed ecosystem," explained Hill.

That's one renewable everyone

Labor seeks to tighten control over Illinois

An amendment to the Illinois Constitution sponsored by organized labor is quietly, as if on cat's paws, marching toward enactment at the November election. The amendment would prohibit "right to work" legislation, and also give unprecedented power to unions where the authority of the National Labor Relations Act is uncertain, such as with charter

Enactment by three-fifths of those voting on the amendment would send a chilling message to American CEOs, who in CEO Magazine regularly rank Illinois as having among the worst business climates in the nation.

With the recent fall from grace of Democratic powerhouses Illinois House speaker

Sparked by Operating Engineers 150 and its savvy, longtime powerbroker Jim Sweeney, labor gets what which at present has the supermajorput constitutional amendments on the Illinois already has strong collective bargaining powers. For example, the state employees' unions sit, in effect, on both sides of the bargaining table in negotiations with Democratic governors like J. B. Pritzker.

As a result, say my former stateagency director acquaintances, the unions largely run state government day to day, through grievance procedures and hiring restrictions. For example, it is almost impossible for a state agency to hire anyone from the outside, say, a hotshot techie, because the opportunity must first go to a state employee. If no state employee is qualified for the job, no problem, the state will train you. Good luck.

An economist friend of mine who has studied Illinois for decades says the amendment is "a real mess." He worries that almost any labor dispute could become embroiled in litigation, which would often end up before a partisan state high court dominated by Democrats continuously since 1962.

"Right to work" means that workers cannot be forced to join the union that bargains for them. You would think that a strong, benevolent union would have the support of most workers, though maybe not so for corrupt or ineffective unions. Willingness to pay union dues voluntarily should discipline elected union leadership to be good stewards for their workers.

Like all institutions, labor unions can change over time. Labor unions in America have gone through both their idealistic as well as corrupt phases. What if 20 years from now, organized labor in Illinois became thoroughly corrupt, and used state constitutional protections to run amok? Public policies should be hammered out among the legislators and governor on the basis of current conditions, not enshrined among fundamental constitutional principles.

In their own propaganda, the unions admit that Illinois job growth has been slower than the national average. Indeed, since 1990, according to a University of Illinois tracking report, the rate of job growth has also been slower than for the rest of the Midwestern states, most of which are right to work states.

Illinois should be an economic powerhouse. Entrepreneur and former state economic development director Jim Schultz observes that in each of what he calls the six Rs critical to economic development – roads, rails, runways, rivers, routers and research – Illinois is arguably among the top three states. And located smack dab in the middle of the world's largest market. Yet, the state limps along.

Labor has thus far raised $11 million and counting to promote their amendment, while barely a peep has been heard from the business community; funds raised by business to oppose the measure haven't been enough to register on state election reporting forms.

Governors in other midwestern states are surely fine-tuning their pitches to CEOs around the world, waiting for the likely enactment of this benign-sounding labor effort -"Avoid Illinois, and come to my state." Alas.

Nowlan is a retired professor who has worked for three unindicted Illinois governors. He lives in Princeton, Illinois. This op-ed appeared originally in Crain's Chicago Business.

URGENT LETTER TO RESIDENTS

OF THE VILLAGE OF YATES CITY!

Dear Yates City Resident:

The Village of Yates City has requested the Western Illinois Regional Council to conduct an income survey in preparation to submit an application to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Economic Opportunity (DCEO). The Village is requesting grant funds to construct a new deep well for your community through the Community Development Block Grant Program

One of the main components of the application will be the income survey which is used to determine grant eligibility for the target area.

It is necessary that income information be collected on all households in order for Yates City to qualify for assistance. The village must be able to demonstrate that this deep well will benefit households of incomequalified families. All information will be kept strictly confidential in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-579) and will not be shared with any members of the public. We ask that you please take a few minutes and fill out the survey and return by September 21.

Surveys will be collected and tabulated by the Western Illinois Regional Council (not the Village of Yates City) and it is critically important for you to respond for the village to be successful with this grant application and for you to benefit from the new deep well.

The Western Illinois Regional Council or village will need to conduct a door-to-door survey for residents who choose not to mail in the survey.

If you have any questions, please contact Jarred Dexter at (309) 837-3941 or leave a message at Yates City Village Hall, (309) 358-1694 and someone will get back to you.

Thank you, your cooperation and assistance are greatly appreciated.

To the Editor:

I had just left the coffee shop in

Hanna City when the plane crashed on Route 116, ending up at Gil's.

The Peoria County coroner described the pilot as a hero for his handling of the plane. I disagree. The pilot left Santa Fe, N.M., and flew non-stop to Peoria. FAA regulations require 45 minutes of flying time left after landing as a reserve fuel. He should have re-fueled hundreds of miles from Peoria.

When the tower advised him to look for 116 as a place to land, I can't imagine they meant landing in downtown Hanna City with 10 gallons of fuel aboard. In fact, he had no fuel. What arrogance for the pilot to deny he had made mistakes by lying to the tower. He had thousands of acres of corn and soybean fields one block

In The Weekly Post over the past several weeks we have had the privilege of reading of individuals and groups in our communities who have, shall we say, "taken the bull by the horns" and have gotten projects underway for the betterment of the community. These were no small projects and it has taken courage and much time and effort. A big thank you should be extended to these individuals and groups.

When congratulating Chad Jordan upon celebrating his family's 50 years of business and telling him they have been an asset to the community, his reply was, "The community has been an asset to me."

Wouldn't it be great if politicians could learn a lesson from people who work together and get a job done?

The accident happened about 2:30 p.m. Sept. 4 at Higgs and Stone School roads, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office. Beau A. Shymansky was driving a 1998 Ram 3500 and towing a used trailer he just purchased and was transporting

As Shymansky was driving west on Higgs Road, he attempted to brake at the T intersection with Stone School Road, but the vehicle failed to stop and ran through it. The trailer then detached from the truck, and both came to rest in the field.

PRINCEVILLE: $2,000 payment

Continued from Page 1 Trustee Ron Delbridge made a motion to approve a $2,000 payment. But colleague Teresa Gilroy amended that, to $4,000. The amended motion failed, for lack of a sec-Gilroy then moved to change the reimbursement amount to $3,750. Ron Delbridge, Pope and Troutman voted no, and the motion was rejected.

After that, Ron Delbridge offered his initial motion again. This time it passed. Pope and Troutman joined Delbridge in the majority, and Gilroy voted no.

On both votes, Trustees Donald Peterson Jr. and Nathan Wineinger abstained. That's because they reside in the same TIF district as the museum, according to Julie Delbridge. Trustee Lisa Hughes was absent.

None of these actions generated much debate. Protracted silences preceded and followed the various motions.

Ron Delbridge said the lack of discussion surprised him. He said his lower-reimbursement advocacy had nothing to do with the work the museum does, which he lauded.

"We had to think about it as different," Delbridge said. "Other business actually bring tax revenue in to us. They're a tax-free entity. There's no hard feelings against them."

Following the meeting, Gilroy declined comment about her rationale for requesting a higher reimbursement.

In other action, the board approved two requests for $2,500 reimbursements as part of the village Residential Rehabilitation Program. The money is to help pay for new windows at a residence at 614 W. Main St. and for a new roof at 209 E. North St.

The village also approved building permits for new 6-foot wooden privacy fences for residences at 622 Princeville Ave. and 630 Princeville Ave.

Farmington board passes 2023 budget, levy

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post FARMINGTON - The Farmington School Board on Monday passed a $17.6 million budget for 2023 that includes a $1.278 million deficit.

The deficit is from federal ESSER funds being counted as revenue last budget year, while expenses for projects using those funds counted toward this budget year.

Also approved was an intergovernmental agreement with Bartonville Elementary School, allowing a Farmington bus to pick up a Bartonville special education student to transport to the Easter Seals facility in Germantown Hills. The Farmington bus already passes through Bartonville to transport a student.

The board also approved use of a therapy dog for students and OK'd a contract with Professional Therapy Services, Inc. for wrestling with Cuba High school and hired Scott Showalter as a junior high wrestling coach. The board also approved a memorandum of understanding with the teachers union that Showalter will be compensated consistent with contractual pay for a junior high head coach.

In other personnel matters, the board hired: Bree Zeltner, cafe worker; Mike Bower, second-shift custodian; Jay Ulm, groundskeeper; Avery Efnor, elementary school student facilitator; Ashley McCabe, junior high literary sponsor; Haley Hursey, 7th grade girls basketball coach; Melissa Peterman and Ciara Ulm, JH cheerleading coaches; Kerry Beoletto, JH assistant literary sponsor; Cassie Gauf, 8th grade girls basketball coach.

The board approved Ann Riccioni as a cheerleading volunteer, Laurel Keyt as an FFA volunteer, FMLA leave for Amy Oldfield and the resignation of Christina Pyatt.

Discussion included an evacuation and reunification drill on Sept. 23. Students will be transported to two locations: junior high and high schoolers to the YMCA and city building and elementary students to the Farmington Moose Lodge. Parents will pick up their children at those locations. Parents can opt their children out of the

BILL-TOWN: Dual-credit

Continued from Page 1 Farquer said to explain the enrollment increase. "For high school, I think there are three reasons. One, I think people see the opportunities kids have here are better or at least equal to neighboring districts. Two, I think people know we have visibly modern facilities and our teachers/students utilize modern learning technologies and tools. Three, students can earn college credit up to their associates degree for free."

Farquer noted that 39 high school students are enrolled in 99 dual-credit courses, which earn them college credits.

Williamsfield is applying for a $2.25 million Illinois early childhood grant for two new Pre-K classrooms. The grant would cover 90 percent of the costs and the district share would be $250,000.

The board also approved Nicole Foster as a full-time

Billtown's Ag Day event a success despite rain

WILLIAMSFIELD – Families sported jackets and boots, determined to experience the signature homemade fun of the Ag Day Festival despite soggy weather on Sunday.

Organized by Williamsfield's FFA and 4-H families, Ag Day is a free event for all ages to learn about and engage in agriculture in fun and unique ways. The event enlisted the help of more than 125 volunteers to deliver agriculture-influenced entertainment at no cost, including a farm chore course, ag olympics challenge, bale climb, duck races, backhoe rodeo, photo contest, farm animal exhibits and more.

The Ag Day Festival this year shared its date with 9/11. In remembrance, round bales wrapped in patriotic colors and flags marked the entrances to Ag Day. Flags flew on farm equipment, ranging from antiques to new high-tech tractors, symbolic of our community's heritage and future in agriculture.

"Volunteer support grew this year and the crowd again exceeded the town's population, which is exceptional given the cool, damp weather," said Joanie Stiers, president of the Williamsfield FFA Alumni & Friends. "The unfavorable weather proved how much people love this unique event. You could feel the joy across the festival grounds, and we heard many attendees say this was the best Ag Day yet."

Rain or shine, Ag Day will return next year on the Sunday after Labor Day.

Yates City board votes to make chickens legal

YATES CITY – The Yates City Village Board on Sept. 7 passed an ordinance making raising backyard chickens legal.

Households will be limited to keeping six hens as part of the new law, more details of which will be provided in next week's edition.

During its Aug. 10 meeting, the village board heard from Salem Township Supervisor Chris Bewley that the township was no longer interested in paying a portion of the cost for spring cleanup days. President Ken Vallas told Bewley if that is the case, Salem Township residents outside of the village limits will no longer be able to participate.

The board also voted to take the bulk water sales system out of commission; to purchase shirts for the public works department; and to hire a street sweeper to prepare for the Harvest Home Parade.

The board also heard that the police department is attempting to cut back on fuel use to save money.

Elmwood City Hall to get new windows

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD - City Hall is to receive new windows this fall.

Renewal by Andersen Corp. is to install 16 windows in the 133-yearold building at 210 W. Main St. Of those windows, nine are fixed and seven are casement, according to Elmwood City Councilman Adam Duvall, who helps oversee public buildings.

Some of the current windows are leaking around their frames, Elmwood Mayor JD Hulslander said. It wasn't clear how old those windows are.

Installation is expected to begin in early November and take no more than two or three days to complete, according to Duvall. During its meeting Sept. 8, the City Council approved spending $31,705 for the work.

The council also voted to pay Iowa-based Altorfer Inc. $92,317 to lease for five years a Caterpillar 299D3 XPS skid-steer loader. According to Hulslander, the new lease amends an existing deal by updating the skid-steer model the city will acquire.

The new model can accommodate a brush cutter that will help the city better maintain a waterway that runs from south of Elmwood's Central Park to Sweetwater Park, Hulslander said.

"It gets grown over and we rent a machine a couple of times a year to knock everything down," he said. "With this, we'll be able to do it more frequently."

The new machine also is expected to help improve snow removal in public areas, the mayor said.

In decisions that didn't involve expenditures, the council authorized the start of a process that would extend by 10 years the term of the Central Business District tax-increment-financing area. The extension allows for a TIF-fund revenue-sharing agreement with four local taxing bodies.

Public hearings and a joint review board are to be convened as part of the renewal process. The current TIF term expires in April.

The council decided to allow automatic renewal of its deal with Xtream Communications for a $300-a-month land lease on Poplar Street in Sweetwater Park. The company bases some equipment there.

Hulslander said the city is continuing to investigate whether the deal is comparable to similar ones in similar communities. It didn't receive that information by the renewal deadline.

The council also accepted the resignation of part-time Police Officer Nick Robbins. He is taking a police job in Manito, according to Elmwood Chief Aaron Bean. Robbins is moving to the Manito area and might be receiving more hours with that department than he had in Elmwood, Bean suggested.

We Cover The News of West-Central Illinois With A Passion

To the Electors of the State of Illinois:

The Illinois Constitution establishes a structure of government and laws for the State of Illinois. There are three ways to initiate change to the Illinois Constitution: (1) a constitutional convention may propose changes to any part; (2) the General Assembly may propose changes to any part; or (3) a petition initiative may propose amendments limited to structural and procedural subjects contained in the Legislative Article. The people of Illinois must approve any changes to the Illinois Constitution before they become effective. The purpose of this document is to inform you of proposed changes to the Illinois Constitution and to provide you with a brief explanation and a summary of the arguments in favor of and in opposition to the proposed amendment.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO ADD SECTION 25 TO ARTICLE I OF THE ILLINOIS CONSTITUTION ARTICLE I — BILL OF RIGHTS

SECTION 25. WORKERS' RIGHTS

(a) Employees shall have the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and working conditions, and to protect their economic welfare and safety at work. No law shall be passed that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and work place safety, including any law or ordinance that prohibits the execution or application of agreements between employers and labor organizations that represent employees requiring membership in an organization as a condition of employment.

(b) The provisions of this Section are controlling over those of Section 6 of Article VII.

EXPLANATION

The proposed amendment, which takes effect upon approval by the voters, adds Section 25 to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution. The new section will guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate safety conditions, wages, hours, working conditions, and economic welfare. The amendment prohibits the passage of any new law within the State that restricts or prohibits workers from engaging in collective bargaining with their employer over wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, like safety protocols or training.

Arguments In Favor of the Proposed Amendment

This amendment will protect workers' and others' safety. That includes guaranteeing nurses' right to put patient care ahead of profit and making sure construction workers can speak up when there's a safety issue. It will protect workers from being silenced when they call attention to food safety threats, shoddy construction, and other problems that could harm Illinoisans. This amendment protects firefighters and EMTs who put their lives on the line to protect Illinoisans. It means they get the training and safety equipment they need to do their jobs, and can speak out when they see a problem without fear of retaliation. This amendment will help our economy by putting more money in workers' pockets who join together and get raises. That will mean more money going into our communities and small businesses as people join the middle class with good-paying jobs.

Arguments Against the Proposed Amendment

A fundamental right provided to all citizens under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution is the right to free speech and freedom of association. This amendment prohibits any law or ordinance that allows union workers to choose whether they wish to be a member of the union or not. Under the 2018 United States Supreme Court decision Janus v. Illinois AFSCME, non-union government workers cannot be required to pay union dues as a condition of working in the public sector. Approval of this constitutional amendment will deny that protection to private sector workers. The amendment also states that lawmakers could never "interfere with, negate, or diminish" certain rights. These terms are broad and undefined and leave lawmakers without the ability to clarify through legislation. Our Illinois Constitution provides such protection to public employees. The result of that protection has been to squash efforts by state lawmakers and voters to address Illinois' pension fund deficits.

FORM OF BALLOT

Proposed Amendment to the 1970 Illinois Constitution

Explanation of Amendment

The proposed amendment would add a new section to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution that would guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively and to negotiate wages, hours, and working conditions, and to promote their economic welfare and safety at work. The new amendment would also prohibit from being passed any new law that interferes with, negates, or diminishes the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively over their wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment and workplace safety. At the general election to be held on November 8, 2022, you will be called upon to decide whether the proposed amendment should become part of the Illinois Constitution.

OBITUARIES

Julie K. Bibo

SPOKANE, Wash. - Julie Kay "Poodie" "Jules" "Mom" "Magaw" Bibo, 62, formerly of Peoria, sister of an Elmwood woman, died Aug. 30 at Hospice House of Spokane.

She was born Oct. 12, 1959, in

Peoria, Ill., the fourth daughter of Gerald and Lois (Sering) Bibo. She married James "Jim" Mullen on June 2, 1979, in Rawlins, Wyo. They divorced in 1988, but remained good co-parents and friends. She later married the love of her life, Michele "Midge" Cook, on Aug. 12, 2013, in Spokane.

Julie was a stellar student and athlete. Thanks to her father's penchant for changing jobs, she had plenty of experience with the educational system, attending 13 different schools before college. She graduated as salutatorian of Rawlins High School in 1977. (She would have been valedictorian, but they cheated by letting the male candidate retake a test, the first major indignity from the patriarchy. Others followed.)

She was awarded a full scholarship to the University of Wyoming, where she once spilled Coke on Dick Cheney during a football game. She ultimately earned her degree in physical therapy from the University of Nebraska Medical Center, no mean feat while raising three toddlers.

Surviving are her wife of Spokane; five children, Daniel (Emma) Mullen of Lehi, Utah, Christopher (Jessica) Mullen of Elk, Wash., Corey Mullen of Great Falls, Mont., Chelsea Shanda and Michal Sage (Maria) Shanda, both of Spokane; five siblings, Terry (Bill) Knight of Elmwood, Ill., Brenda Bibo of Aloha, Ore., Laura (Joe Rogers) Bibo of Tualatin, Ore., Mark (Amelia) Bibo of Gresham, Ore., and Matt Bibo (Felice Leonhardt) of Beaverton, Ore; 12 grandchildren; eight nieces and nephews and three great-nieces who loved to play games at Aunt Julie's house. Also, Rizzo the loudmouth cat, who will be living with Uncle Matt.

She was preceded in death by her parents, a dog and five cats.

Julie could have done anything and briefly considered accounting or economics. After watching her brother Matt repeatedly hurt his head, and a career day observing hospital procedures while in high school, she decided to be a physical therapist. (It was either that or teach P.E.) She was proud to be a professional PT, gathering many well-loved friends along the way, even as the various medical centers were sold/merged/transitioned over the years.

Eventually, Julie was asked to pass along her healing skills by teaching at Eastern Washington University and Spokane Falls Community College. She served on advisory committees at both institutions and in the American Physical Therapists Association.

She didn't get to live as long as she might have liked – and the pandemic didn't help anybody fulfill their bucket list – but Julie had a full life. Beyond work, there were always cats and kids and food and family and games. Often there was so much activity at their house that Midge had to go out and buy ice just to get a little

Before they met, Midge had founded an annual camping trip to Cape Lookout for her stepsons. Over their 20 years together, Julie expanded that little gathering to include her family ... and maybe some friends ... and maybe the boys' significant others ... and eventually the kids' kids. From "First Night Out" to packing up the camper, Cape Lookout evolved into a weeklong bash with upwards of 40 people.

And Midge went out for more ice. They had a lot of fun together. They traveled with friends, made the most of first-rate season tickets to the Lady Zags, attended NCAA final games and WNBA All-Star games and Mariners' games. Massachusettsborn Midge persuaded Julie to visit Fenway Park. After a Pacific Coast to Chicago road trip with her sisters to visit the many, many houses they'd lived in, Illinois-born Julie inveigled Midge to check out Wrigley Field. They were both happy.

And Midge didn't even need to get ice.

Julie didn't want a funeral – "although I have a great recipe for Funeral Potatoes" – so there will be no public service or visitation. But she did want to share her story and a public service announcement: Have your home checked for radon. Julie was pretty sure that's what sparked her cancer.

Cremation rites have been accorded. Memorials can be made to Planned Parenthood, APTA or your local ARC

Continued from Page 20 plays," he said about SF. "Defensively, they were getting after it. Those were hard-fought yards. Our linemen were having to work. It wasn't a walk in the park or anything."

Aiden Frail carried for a teamhigh 100 yards. His only touchdown was not included in that total – a 70-yard kickoff return with 9 seconds remaining in the game. Gavin Buhl scored twice.

The only E-B non-conference game this season is Friday, at Stark County. Another set of Rebels (2-1) offers a mix of running and passing and a mobile quarterback in junior Luke Rewerts, according to Hollis.

"Basically, after two weeks against teams that kind of like to run the ball, we're back to a spread-oriented team," he said. "Now you've got to change your thought process defensively."

bined 115-14 total.

"It's good to go on the road prepared to play," Farmington Coach Toby Vallas said. "I think we're starting to get it going again. Every game you win you get a little more confidence."

Farmington opened the scoring on a 7-yard run by Rese Shymansky, tacked on a safety - the team's third in as many games and then let senior Logan Morse blow the game wide open.

First, Morse sprinted into the clear for a 65-yard scoring touchdown from Gage Renken.

Then Morse nabbed an interception and took it 65 yards to make the score 30-0 before the first quarter was over.

"He caught it in the palm of his left hand and took it back," Vallas said. "On his other interception, he jumped up over two kids" to make the catch.

The Farmers tacked on two more scoring runs by Shymansky and runs by Lane Wheelwright and Logan Utt to put the game out of reach for winless West Hancock (0-3, 0-2), which has been outscored 155-18.

"Gage was out with eight minutes left to go in the second quarter and we got everybody out and the subs got plenty of playing time," Vallas said.

Things figure to be a little tougher for Farmington this Friday in a home game against Illini West (2-1, 2-1). The Chargers have won two straight since opening with a 48-14 loss to Elmwood-Brimfield.

"They are a solid-looking team," Vallas said. "I'm happy with how our team has responded. We're definitely getting better."

Elmwood-Brim-

of the game set an unfortunate tone for the Princes (1-2, 1-2 LTC) in a Lincoln Trail loss. Princeville fumbled that first snap and, despite holding Annawan-Wethersfield scoreless in the first quarter, wound up trailing 27-7 by halftime.

"There are a group of teams (in the LTC) that can beat each other. If you don't play well, you're going to get beat by 20 or 30," Princeville Coach Jon Carruthers said. "Or if you do play well, it's a tight ballgame and it can go either way."

After a 70-yard run by Zeb Rashid, Princeville countered with an 81-yard kick return by Tayshaun Kieser.

From there, A-W (3-0, 2-0) rattled off three more scores by quarterback Dillon Horrie, who ran for one and passed for two.

"It was an odd game. There were a ton of penalties ... more than 40 flags were thrown," Carruthers said. "You couldn't get into any kind of rhythm and, honestly, we didn't play well enough to win."

Princeville managed to pass for 136 yards and got two second-half scoring tosses from junior Logan Carruthers to Jordan Johnson.

And Carruthers praised his team for never giving up, citing a third-quarter drive by A-W that featured a first-and-goal from the Princeville 3-yard-line and took four plays to turn into a touchdown.

"We've improved on some things, but overall we just need to be more consistent," Coach Carruthers said.

That includes this Friday for a home showdown against ROWVA-Williamsfield.

"They have some nice players, but I think it's a game we should be in come the fourth quarter," Coach Carruthers said. Jeff Lampe

ONEIDA - The non-conference visitors broke from a 14-14 second-quarter tie to hand

R-W its first defeat in three games this season.

Bryan Bertlshofer's 5-yard scoring run midway through the second quarter at Bill Adams Field gave R-W its only tie. But about 2:30 later, a 3-yard run by Max Ryner put Macomb (3-0) ahead for keeps.

A touchdown in the final minute of the half – a 9-yard pass from Jack Duncan to Jayden Jones – gave the Bombers a 28-

R-W made it a two-touchdown game again, 34-21, when Lewis Sams caught a 6-yard TD pass from Riley Danner about midway through the third quarter. But that was as close as the Cougars came in the second half.

Duncan was 15-for-17 for 230 yards passing. According to Bomber Sports Net, Duncan completed his last 15 attempts. He surpassed former Major League Baseball player Phil Bradley as the Macomb all-time passing-yards leader; yardage was unavailable.

R-W returns to Lincoln Trail Conference play Friday night at game this season for the Cougars.

ALL-SPORTS ROUNDUP

E-B boys 9th, girls 10th at First to Finish

By The Weekly Post

PEORIA – The first big test of the year for high school cross country runners was held last weekend at the annual First to the Finish Invitational at Detweiller Park.

The chance to run the state course gave a glimpse into what could be come November and what teams need to work on to improve their finish. Count local teams in the latter category, for the most part.

Top local finisher was the 14th-ranked Elmwood-Brimfield boys team, which placed ninth overall with 327 points in the Class 1A race and was led by junior Isaiah Hill's 33rd-place finish in 16:29.3. Normal University won with 90 points.

Princeville was 23rd and led by junior Joey Bosch (91st, 17:31.4), who was followed closely by sophomore teammate Tucker Sennett (109th, 17:40.5). Farmington's top runner was freshman Dax Ulm (128th, 17:52.9).

"We had about half of our guys run really well, a couple of guys just run OK, and a couple of guys not perform up to their ability," E-B Coach Gregg Meyers said. "Our guys did a good job getting out and getting into good positions, but we weren't as tight as I hoped we would be. Still Mika Nelson, Reed Florey and LJ Higgs were able to run really strong races and post times that we were really happy with. Hopefully we all learned a little more about race strategy and preparation and we can use that knowledge for the rest of the races this season."

Other scoring runners for E-B were sophomore Nelson (71st, 17:11.3), sophomore Florey (77th, 17:19.5), freshman Aiden Faulkner (85th, 17:27.7) and junior Higgs (104th, 17:38.3). The 1-5 spread was 1:09, which was an improvement for the Trojans.

The 12th-ranked Elmwood-Brimfield girls placed 10th at First to the Finish with 359 points. Top-ranked Tolono Unity won easily with 94 points. Four teams that will be at the Elmwood Sectional placed ahead of the Lady Trojans (Eureka, Olympia, Pleasant Plains and El Paso-Gridley). "Chloe Kelly had a strong race in comparison to her others so far this season. We were hoping to do a little better overall," E-B Coach Kyle Anderson said. "We talked after about some things we can do better and we look forward to some important practices in the middle of the season."

Addie Symonds led E-B by placing 39th in 19:51.3. Symonds is recovering from an illness. Other scoring runners for E-B were senior Kelly (79th, 21:00.6), sophomore Olivia Stage (88th, 21;16.6), freshman Natalie Babcock (107th, 21:45.7) and freshman Addy Turner (111th, 21:49.9).

Princeville placed 34th overall and was led by sophomore Alyvia Cowser (70th, 20:45.2).

"We had 14 kids take to the course and 13 of them ran season-best times or better, so it was a real positive day all in all," Princeville Coach Jeremy Melick said. "Jack (Lied, 180th, 18:31.5) might have turned in the most outstanding race for us today. His time was a lifetime best, bettering his best from by nearly 30 seconds."

Farmington's top finisher was junior Trena Austin (266th, 25:05.0).

E-B and Princeville are at the Dale Donner Invitational in Walnut on Saturday.

• Golf – Avery Rigg shot a seasonbest round of 41 on Sept. 8 to lead the ROWVA-Williamsfield girls golf team to a 217-230 win over Stark County at the par-36 Oak Run Golf

Other scoring golfers for R-W were Clara Kuelper (56), Emily Little (57) and Casey Powell (63).

The boys team was second by one stroke on Sept. 8 to Stark County, as Jake McGarry led with a round of 41 and was followed by Preston Lafary (46), Cade Farquer (48) and Sterling Cramer (49).

The R-W boys were second Monday to Roanoke-Benson at Oak Run, 171-181. McGarry shot 42 to lead the way and was followed by Farquer (46), Lance Trotter (46) and Landon Hannam (47).

On Sept. 7, R-W's 173 strokes at Oak Run topped Bushnell-Prairie City (179) and Ridgewood (185). McGarry shot a 40 with one birdie, Farquer and Trotter (two birdies) both carded rounds of 43 and Cramer was at 47.

On Sept. 7 at Oak Run, the Prince-ville girls topped Farmington, 223-230, and Paisley Schock of Princeville was medalist with a round of 49. Ella Smith led Farmington with a 51 and was followed by Anna Webel (52), Jenny Noggle (57) and Alli Gorsuch (70).

For Elmwood, Tanner Wake shot an 84 to place 17th out of 106 participants and earn a medal Saturday at the Boiler Invite at Kewanee Dunes.

VOLLEYBALL: R-W avenges loss, wins 6th straight

FHS next travels to Prairieland rival Bushnell-Prairie City today (Thursday).

ROWVA-Williamsfield

ROWVA-Williamsfield (6-3) made it six wins in a row on Monday, topping ICAC foe North Fulton 25-9 and 26-24 on the road.

"This was a rematch from a game we gave away in three sets during the first week of the season," R-W assistant coach Jaime Trotter said. "To come back with the sweep tonight felt good for us."

Lizzie Johnston had six kills. Natalie Gonzalez had 16 assists and three digs. Chloee Secrist recorded six ace serves.

The Lady Cougars had a good past week with road wins at Illini Bluffs on Sept. 7 and Galva on Sept. 6.

"This was a good win, but we have some skills to improve on before upcoming matchups," Trotter said. We missed on 16 serves, which can't happen at the varsity level."

The 25-16, 25-17 scores over Galva looked to be less stressful but were still a challenge.

"Galva was scrappy against us. They weren't easy," Trotter said. "Maddie Gonzalez got 11 clutch service points for us."

Johnston had five kills and eight digs in the win.

The Lady Cougars are at Lincoln Trail foe Stark County today.

Trojans top South Fulton By JEFF LAMPE and NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post
ELMWOOD – South
Fulton had more rushing yards Sept. 9 against Elmwood-Brimfield than the hosts have football victories this season. But not by much.

The Trojans allowed a net total of only 5 yards on the ground as they became 3-0 overall and in the Prairieland Conference by beating South Fulton, 36-14. South Fulton (1-2, 1-2) passed for 115 yards, but most of those came late in the game, including two touchdowns in the final 3:14.

E-B Coach Todd Hollis estimated South Fulton gained only about 27 yards of total offense against his team's primary defense. That was a primary factor in ending a two-game losing streak against the Rebels.

The streak wasn't a primary topic of conversa-

"We were focused on very specific technique issues and didn't focus on the previous two years at all," Hollis said about the earlier futility against South Fulton.

Despite the statistical mismatch in the Trojans' favor, including 308 rushing yards on 64 carries, Hollis sounded as if his team was fortunate the losing streak wasn't extended.

Brimfield wins Midland tourney

By PHIL JOHNSON

For The Weekly Post

Brimfield (9-3) has been playing good volleyball of late, highlighted by a win over a local rival and a first-place finish at the Midland Tournament.

The Lady Indians swept non-conference rival Peoria Christian 25-19, 25-13 at home on Monday. Kennedy Teubel had six kills and three ace serves, Elly Doe recorded seven assists. Hannah Burkitt contributed six assists. Ava Heinz defended with five blocks.

Prior to that, BHS won Saturday's Midland Tournament in resounding fashion by sweeping Henry, Stark County and Peoria Heights. The only blemish on the day was going three sets, but still winning over Spring Valley Hall 22-25, 25-20 and 15-5.

For the day, Teubel had 22 kills and four aces. Doe got 35 assists. Bailey Grunow and Brittlyn Lazzell each scored on four aces. Ava Simpson collected six blocks in the tournament win.
