Top state positions, sheriff races headline Nov. 8 election

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

Most attention will be on major statewide races in Illinois for the upcoming Nov. 8 general election. Illinois leadership roles of governor, attorney general, secretary of state, comptroller and treasurer will all be decided in less than two weeks, though more and more votes are being cast already in early opportunities.

Voters will also voice their opinion on a Workers' Right Amendment that would "add a new section to the Bill of Rights Article of the Illinois Constitution that would guarantee workers the fundamental right to organize and to bargain collectively."

Democrat Tammy Duckworth seeks re-election to the U.S. Senate against Republican challenger Kathi Salvi and Libertarian Bill Redpath.

And in Congressional races, Democrat Eric Sorensen and Republican Esther Joy King are both spending plenty in an effort to fill the 17th Congressional District that Cheri Bustos vacated. Meanwhile, Republican Darin LaHood faces a token challenge from Democrat Elizabeth "Lisa" Haderlein in the 16th Congressional District, which includes votes from Brimfield, Kickapoo and Princeville.

Beyond those high-profile races are several contested local elections that impact The Weekly Post circulation area. Two of the most heated involve candidates vying to replace a retiring sheriff.

In Fulton County, Democrat Ryan Maricle faces off again fellow deputy Jon Webb, a Republican, in the race to replace Sheriff Jeff Standard.

In Knox County, Republican Jack Harlan and Democrat James Robertson will square off to fill the position being vacated by David Clague, sheriff for the past 15 years. Harlan is a Knox County detective since 2016 and Robertson has been chief of police in Williamsfield since 2014 and was a Knox County deputy from 2011-20. Look for a story on this race in the Nov. 3 issue of The Weekly Post.

Contested races are few and far between in Peoria County, though Democratic State Sen. Dave Koehler is running against Republican Desi Anderson in the 45th District, which includes parts of Farmington and Trivoli.

A unique issue to Peoria County is whether or not to eliminate the county auditor position currently filled by Jessica Thomas. This is the county's second attempt to eliminate an office some say could be handled by computers and outside auditors at a savings of about $150,000 per year.

Thomas says her position assures residents an independent

Princeville policing price to increase

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Police protection in Princeville is poised to become more pricey.

Peoria County has proposed an increase of about $35,000 over a five-year period for sheriff's-office patrols in Princeville, according to Village President Jeff Troutman. He said the county's goal is for the village to fund the entire patrol expense, as opposed to about 60 percent currently.

If that scenario holds, village officials aren't sure how they're going to pay for it.

"At this time, we don't feel it's anything from the sheriff's department's aspect," Troutman said last week. "I know they've tried to keep our costs down, but the County Board is stepping in. We feel that the WILLIAMSFIELD – Electric buses are coming to the Williamsfield School District next year.

The school district was picked for a $2.6 million grant from the EPA Clean School Bus Rebates program that will fully fund buying seven 71-passenger electric-powered school buses for next year and also includes $140,000 for chargers and infrastructure.

"It's nice to know I can still hit .250," Superintendent Tim Farquer said, referencing the 1-in-4 chance of receiving one of the federal grants, and his own baseball background.

Williamsfield will keep one diesel bus in its fleet for longer road trips.

The announcement also marks the culmination of Williamsfield's 8.5-year Mini-Microgrid Project that will allow the district to run on its own power grid with power from its solar array and uses bus batteries as an energy storage source.

"We will benefit from the addition of these capital assets for years to come," said Farquer, noting the new buses will eliminate student exposure to diesel fumes and lowers the district's carbon footprint.

Graduation gown change stirs emotions

Brimfield switching from red and white to black

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

BRIMFIELD – Black graduation gowns colored a Brimfield School Board meeting last week.

The public-comment period during the meeting Oct. 19 resulted in borderline shouting between Board President Steve Updyke and audience members. They were upset about a change in the color of gowns for graduation next spring.

Some parents accused the board and administration of harboring an agenda

PRINCEVILLE: Deputy can be called out of town

County Board is working against our local municipalities.

"We're going to have to discuss it and see if it's feasible. ... We don't want to get into a situation where we're working in (budget) deficits every year."

During its meeting Oct. 18, the Village Board discussed the proposal but took no action. The current contract expires at the end of this year.

Troutman said it's possible Peoria County Sheriff Chris Watkins will attend the board meeting Nov. 7 for additional discussion.

County Board Member Brian Elsasser, who represents Princeville, said the proposed increase has not been a topic of official deliberation.

"Do we want to recuperate all the costs? My answer is I don't think it's feasible," Elsasser said. "Our small communities can't afford it."

Currently, the village pays the county about $130,000 annually for police protection. The deal gives Princeville the same deputy eight hours daily Monday to Friday, primarily at night. Other deputies work eight-hour weekend shifts and fill in when the dedicated deputy is on vacation.

The sheriff's office also responds to calls in Princeville when the daily deputy is off duty.

According to Troutman, the county proposal increases the village cost to $143,580 next year; $150,780 in 2024; $158,280 in 2025; $163,020 in 2026; and $167,940 in 2027.

"With the price of fuel going up as much as it has, there has to be some kind of an increase," Elsasser said. "But ... that's pretty big."

The total annual cost for Princeville police coverage is $177,399, according to the sheriff's office.

During the academic year, the village also pays for a sheriff-provided school resource officer. That officer can patrol the village during the day and can respond to emergencies, Troutman said. That contract is separate from the dedicated-deputy deal.

Troutman believes the village shouldn't have to pay full freight for a dedicated deputy, because he or she can be called away in an emergency.

"We felt there should be sharing by the county because they're getting benefits from that officer, too," Troutman said.

The village could consider reducing daily hours, but that hasn't been practical in the past, Troutman said. Also impractical is Princeville creating its own police force. That might cost $300,000-$400,000 per year.

In recent years, expense and personnel issues prompted some nearby communities to disband police departments, including East Galesburg, Minonk, Washburn and Wenona.

Troutman indicated Watkins and his predecessor, Brimfield-area resident Brian Asbell, don't support the county proposal.

Quotable: "And so, Thanksgiving. It's the most amazing holiday. Just think about it - it's a miracle that once a year so many millions of Americans sit down to exactly the same meal as one another, exactly the same meal they grew up eating and exactly the same meal they ate a year earlier. The turkey. The sweet potatoes. The stuffing. The pumpkin pie. Is there anything else we all can agree so vehemently about? I don't think so." - Nora Ephron

GUEST VOICES

Of alien taters, Papa Ghost & trivial matters

Rambling through central Illinois, warmed inside by the more and more common look of puzzlement on the face of Bill Belichick.

The moment Ron Ekena pulled up, I knew he had something good. He was wearing that grin of a man with something worth seeing. Sleight bells? A new strain of hybrid day-lilies? Nope. What the rural Elmwood man had been hauling around in the back of his pickup truck was an odd-shaped brown object that looked like an ugly sleeping animal. Or maybe an alien, as some staffers suggested. "I couldn't believe it when I went out to dig this sucker," Ekena said, marveling at his unique lump. What it turned out to be was the biggest sweet potato I've ever seen. Though it had dried up since Ekena (pictured above right) first weighed it on a bathroom scale at 25 pounds, the sweet potato still looked big. Not world-record big, but very impressive. Big enough that Ekena joked, "I'm going to put it in the oven now so it's ready for Thanksgiving." As an aside, if you ever want to see some scary, alien-looking things, Google up "biggest sweet potato." And no, we are not going to start a Biggest Sweet Potato contest.

Did anybody out there expect the Chicago Bears to rattle off 23 unanswered points Monday night after falling behind 14-10 at New England when Zappe Hour started? Well I didn't. But it was sure fun watching the ghost of Papa Bear Halas make play after play to ensure the surly Patriot grump didn't pass him on the all-time coaching win list. Seriously. How else do you explain this win? Justin Fields fumbles four times and recovers them all? A ghost had to be helping him. The Bears ran for 243 yards against a good defense? Ghost blocking. I just hope Papa Bear helps all the Patriots opponents for the rest of Belichick's career. ... Speaking of Fields, even in his best game of the year he didn't look like an NFL quarterback. Something tells me he is not the long-term answer

Does anybody who reads this paper do the CryptoQuote? And which comics do you like vs. which ones could you care less about? We are considering changing up the weekly comics page, but want to make sure we don't upset too many readers in the process. My thought is we could add a few different comics ("Laff a Day" being one) and maybe a new puzzle. Let me know. ... Also, because trivia-hounds like Mike "Sully" Sullivan can't get enough, we have added a new feature to the paper. Each week we plan to include trivia questions in the Area Churches section. ... Parting shot: And hey, if you haven't been in a sanctuary since the whole COVID thing, consider a return trip. There are plenty of welcoming church families to choose from in our area. Rumor is the Catholics in Elmwood even serve coffee and doughnuts on the first and third Sunday each month.

BRIMFIELD: Waiting to hear if change possible

regarding the switch to black gowns. Previously, boys wore red and girls wore white. Both hues, like black, are part of the Brimfield color scheme.

"I know this is a small thing to some people, but it can lead to other decisions made quickly and quietly," said Alicia Sparks, mother of a high school senior. "To me, that shows a lack of transparency."

Brimfield Superintendent Tony Shinall said some students expressed concern about having to select a gown color based on gender. Shinall also said some female students didn't care for white gowns because they are too transparent.

Those considerations and a looming deadline with Jostens, the company that provides gowns, led to the all-black administrative decision.

Updyke said he happened to be in the school offices when the issue was being discussed. He suggested black gowns, which he described as being inclusive.

"Boys aren't going to wear white," he said. "I thought if we're going to make the girls change to a different color, they might be upset that the boys aren't changing color."

"I'm the last one to go away from tradition. I thought if we're going to do this, let's do it for both sides and make it a new color."

Updyke's rationale appeared to rankle the mother of a Brimfield eighth-grade student. Following the meeting, the parent gave The Weekly Post her name but later asked not to divulge it.

"That's not inclusive at all," the woman told Updyke. "I think it's a bunch of copouts to get some things done in a certain way that our administration wants it done. I think it's really unfair to kids and really unfair to parents."

"They almost feel like they're being punished because only a handful of kids feel a certain way about what color gown they want to wear. (They're) basically dictating what the decisions are."

A distressed-sounding Updyke suggested this decision was final.

"If the next administration wants to go back to all red or all white, whatever," he said. "I didn't make the decision. If you would have picked red, people would be upset, too."

Grade School Principal Julie Albritton and Board Member Patrick Meyer suggested opinions be solicited from the Brimfield community. That might take the form of a poll on the district website. Appealing to Jostens for a possible delay or a return to the red and white also was a Meyer suggestion.

"It's a hot topic," he said. "It's easier to go with tradition than to change something."

Early this week, Shinall was waiting to hear from Jostens about whether a change to black was possible and how much it might cost.

"They said they don't advise changing it this late in the game, but they understand the situation the district is in right now," Shinall said. "If it's possible to talk to our kids and see what their preferences are, we will."

Aside from gowns, the board meeting was relatively routine.

The board approved a three-year lease with Heinz Brothers Trucking Inc. of Brimfield for a facility at 326 N. Jefferson St. The district plans to use it for school-bus storage.

Rent is to be $3,000 monthly through August 2024. From September 2024 through August 2025, rent each month is to be $3,300.

Shinall said the district still hasn't received buses it's leased from Midwest Transit Equipment of Kankakee. The company has cited supply-chain issues. To help fill the gap, the district is continuing to rent buses from other school districts.

The board approved the hiring of two additional bus drivers, David Lesones and Julie Schmidgall.

Also authorized was an addendum to Shinall's contract. The addendum listed four goals. Among them were evaluating student performance and recommending subsequent possible curriculum changes, and updating and monitoring long-term district financial projections.

Updyke indicated the addendum was standard each October. Meyer voted no, but the other board members in attendance voted yes. Board Member Katie Kappes was absent. In August, Kappes and Meyer voted against granting Shinall a three-year contract extension, which was approved.

PUBLIC RECORD

NOTE: Charges are merely an accusation. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Police reports

• FARMINGTON – A 7-year-old girl's left toes were severed in a riding-lawnmower accident at a Farmington-area residence, according to authorities.

The accident happened around 5 p.m. on Oct. 21 in the 1200 block of N. Cramer Rd. The girl's legal guardian said he was backing a Cub Cadet GT1554 mower when he felt a bump. When he looked down, he saw the girl on the ground, a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report stated.

Severe, visible trauma was visible on the girl's left upper thigh and kneecap, according to a deputy. The girl said she was attempting to ask her guardian to unlock a tablet for her when the accident occurred.

A helicopter transported the victim to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria. The girl was in fair condition Monday, OSF spokeswoman Jaymee Barra said.

• TRIVOLI – A two-vehicle accident west of Trivoli resulted in four people being transported to a Peoria hospital.

About 3:15 p.m. Oct. 8 in the 20900 block of W. Farmington Rd., Clay A. Brown of Canton drove a 1999 Dodge 1500 pickup truck into the rear of a slow-moving eastbound 2014 Kia Sedona sport-utility vehicle driven by Brian K. Skiles of Canton. A witness confirmed it, per a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report.

Skiles said he slowed behind three other vehicles because a car was turning at a driveway. Brown said he did not notice the slowing vehicles in front of him.

The SUV had four passengers. Meghan Skiles was entrapped in the rear-right seat. Logan-Trivoli firefighters had to cut off a door to remove her. Her jaw was lacerated, and she complained of back, head and neck pain. She was helicoptered to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center.

Ambulances transported to St. Francis three other passengers – Agnes Skiles (facial pain), Brent Skiles (head and neck pain, possible concussion) and Marleyn Skiles (back and neck pain). Brown was cited for failure to reduce speed.

• FARMINGTON – A Pekin man was arrested after he threatened an ex-girlfriend with texts and phone calls, then arrived outside her Farmington residence. Travis L. Ralph, 34, also was wanted on outstanding warrants in Tazewell County (aggravated battery) and Knox County (criminal damage to property).

Farmington and Canton police detained Ralph about 2:15 a.m. Oct. 14 in the 100 block of S. Heaton St. after he drove a 2001 Ford F-150 pickup truck there. A knife and rope were found in a backpack in the truck, according to a Farmington police report.

Ralph also was cited for driving on a suspended, revoked or canceled license. He was transported to the Fulton County Jail in Lewistown, where he was released on bond.

• EDWARDS – Authorities were searching for someone who might have fired at least 20 rounds from an automatic rifle east of Edwards.

The gunfire at Illinois Route 8 and Koerner Road was reported about 10:45 p.m. Oct. 13, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office.

Deputies found 25 shell casings – 13 Blazer 9-millimeter ones and 12 Winchester .40-caliber ones. They were scattered along Koerner Road just north of the intersection.

• FARMINGTON – Two men stole four bottles of liquor from a Farmington convenience store, according to police. The thefts took place about 9:45 p.m. Monday at the Marathon gas station, 600 E. Fort St.

An employee there told Farmington police one of the men walked to the liquor aisle, picked up two bottles of Hennessy cognac and left eventually. The other man grabbed a bottle of Hennessy and a bottle of Don Julio Blanco tequila, hid them in his hooded sweatshirt and left.

Police have not located the suspects. Value of the stolen booze was about $200.

• OAK HILL – Someone stole catalytic converters from underneath a vehicle parked south of Oak Hill, a police report stated. The theft from a 2001 Ford F-150 XL pickup was reported about noon on Oct. 14 by an Edwards resident. The vehicle was parked near Texas and Wolford roads.

Also damaged were the truck radio and interior driver's-side door. The catalytic converters were valued at $600. The alleged thief or thieves left behind a headlight, a crowbar and pliers, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office.

• HANNA CITY – Neither driver reported injuries in a two-vehicle crash at the west edge of Hanna City.

About 5 p.m. Oct. 2, Vivian M. Doubet of Hanna City was driving a 2009 Ford Escape west on Farmington Road when she turned left onto southbound Hanna City-Glasford Road. In mid-turn, Doubet's vehicle collided with a northbound 2020 Chevrolet Impala that was stopped at the intersection.

The Impala driver, Douglas E. Miner of Roseville, said Doubet turned too sharply, according to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report. Doubet said she was shielding her eyes from the sun and did not see the Impala.

Doubet's vehicle sustained moderate driver's-side damage, the report stated. Miner's vehicle sustained moderate damage to the front bumper, driver's-side front fender and hood. It had to be towed.

• KICKAPOO – No injuries were reported in a two-vehicle accident south of Kickapoo. A northbound 2008 Pontiac Grand Prix driven by Corrie B. Hunter of Princeton rear-ended a 2020 Jeep Renegade driven by Audrey R. Richardson of Glasford about 2:30 p.m. Oct. 11 in the 7000 block of N. Kickapoo-Edwards Rd., according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office.

• ELMWOOD – Jesse J. Eldridge, 38, of Elmwood was arrested about 3:15 p.m. Oct. 18 and accused of deceptive practices, unlawful use of a credit or debit card and theft control intent of less than $500, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office. Eldridge also was being held for another law-enforcement agency.

Elmwood school board hears solar pitch

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – The Elmwood School Board heard a pitch for construction of a solar array at Monday’s meeting.

Hal Young, CEO of Econergy, made a proposal for a ground-mounted solar array that would be constructed northeast of Elmwood’s football field.

Young said the deal would require no up-front costs, meaning Elmwood would not have to wait on funding from a government program. His conservative estimate is that the alternative power source would save the school district as much as $967,749 over the life of a 25-year contract. Those savings are based on steady increases in non-solar energy costs throughout the 25-year contract.

Board member Tom Conklin noted savings are only realized if energy prices continue to increase as estimated.

“What if they don’t go up that much?” Conklin asked. “Maybe I’m naive, but I can’t see prices per kilowatt getting that high.”

That was one of several questions raised by board members, who heard the presentation via a Google meetings conference call.

“There’s a lot of questions I have on this,” Board President Val Ramirez said. “I’m always leery of something that seems too good to be true. I think we still have a lot of discussion to have on this.”

Superintendent Chad Wagner said he has reached out to three different solar providers and Econergy was the only one to reply.

Ramirez also reported on progress on the Claude W. Keefer Industrial Arts Building. Ramirez said the board’s building committee has met twice in the past month and expects to get bid documents out one week earlier than previously expected. That means bids could be in for the December board meeting, which would allow procurement of materials to start at the first of the year.

The board also briefly discussed the levy for the 2022 tax year (Fiscal Year 2024), which should feature a reduction in the tax rate of 1.7 to 2 cents. That is due in part to a projected 3 percent increase in the equalized assessed value of properties within the district.

Wagner said this would be the eighth time the tax rate has been cut in the past nine years.

The finance committee discussed the levy last week and a vote to approve the levy is expected at the November meeting.

In other business, the board approved: Chris Conlee as fifth- and sixth-grade basketball coach at a salary not to exceed $1,000; Miranda Coulter as junior high boys assistant basketball coach at a salary set by the collective bargaining agreement extra-duty schedule; and Dustin Funk as a volunteer Lego League coach.

Elmwood council to be paid one month earlier

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – Some city officials like a good Thanksgiving-time sale, too, evidently.

Annual salaries for City Council members, the mayor, the clerk and the treasurer are to be issued at the first meeting each November, one month earlier than usual. By a 3-2 vote Oct. 18, the council approved the change.

Hulslander said the switch from the first meeting in December might allow recipients to take advantage of Black Friday and Cyber Monday deals.

According to the mayor, city ordinances do not dictate when one-time payments must be made.

Councilman Andrew Almasi suggested the payment timing was a custom and not binding legally.

“I’m fine with doing it early. I don’t want to stand in the way of commerce,” he said with a chuckle.

Almasi voted for the change, as did colleagues Walt Avery and Adam Duvall. Voting against it were Nathan Brunnelson and Bob Paige. Councilwoman Dara Wagner was absent.

“I think we should just wait until the established time,” Paige said after the meeting. “It’s been that way for (at least) 20 years.”

For the current fiscal year, each councilor is to receive an annual salary of $3,000, as is Clerk Bethany Lovingood. Treasurer Bonnie Beal is to receive $6,000, and Hulslander is to receive $5,000. The council’s next meeting is Nov. 8.

In other business, the council approved the property-tax levy for the fiscal year that began July 1 and ends June 30. The levy is to raise $305,925.

City Attorney Bob Potts said the projected levy increase is 1.29 percent. The city’s total equalized assessed valuation is expected to increase about 1 percent compared to last year, according to information Potts received from the Peoria County Assessor’s Office. Potts attempted to put the levy hike in perspective.

“You have to consider the fact that we’ve had 8 percent inflation,” he said. The council also directed Avery to contact local post office officials about re-establishing a community bulletin board there. A bulletin board is posted at City Hall.

“We don’t get the foot traffic the post office does,” said Amy Davis, the city economic-development director. “It’s a testament to how important the post office is to our community.”

Duvall told the council new flooring in Davis’ office is to be installed after it was damaged by a leaking water heater, which also is to be replaced.

The city is to pay Merrick Floor Covering of Elmwood $1,874.61 for materials and installation. McVey Mechanical Service of Farmington is to install a new water heater. Duvall said he hadn’t yet received an estimate, but it probably will cost about $200.

voice in terms of how money is spent.

"This isn't about me. It's about the people," Thomas told the Peoria Journal Star. "It's asking people to relinquish their rights to have an independent auditor in the future."

Here are some other local elections.

Knox County

In addition to sheriff, several other Knox County positions are contested.

Republican incumbent Scott G. Erickson faces a challenge as county clerk and recorder from Tracy Thierry-Robertson of Gallesburg, a Democrat. Erickson has been county clerk since January 2004.

Incumbent Knox County Treasurer Robin Davis, a Democrat, faces a challenge from Republican Janet Windish of Yates City. Davis is seeking a fifth term and has been treasurer since December of 2002.

Knox County voters also have a choice for judge of the Circuit Court of the Ninth Judicial Circuit. Democrat David Hansen and Republican Ken Hogan are running to fill the vacancy left by Scott Shiplett.

Finally, four candidates are running for three spots in the Knox County Board's District 5: Republicans Ricardo "Rick" Sandoval, Brian Friedrich, Patty J. Boone and Democrat Jake Secrist. Sandoval and Friedrich are currently on the board.

Fulton County

There is also a contested race for District Three of the Fulton County Board, where seven candidates are running for five positions: Republicans James Allen Barclay, Brian D. Platt and Ryan T. Sloan and Democrats Lisa Thompson, Daniel E. Kumer, Glen A. Hamm and Alex Gilles. The three Fulton County

Board districts have been reduced from seven members apiece to five members each.

Auditor's Referendum Quick Facts

For the 2nd Mid-term election in a row, the Peoria County Board has chosen to place a referendum to eliminate the Peoria County Auditor on the ballot. The first referendum was rejected by voters in 2018.

Referendum Language:
Shall Peoria County eliminate the internal Office of County Auditor when Peoria County already has an external Auditor as required by state law? This would be a cost savings of approximately $150,000 annually.

External v Internal Auditors

An External Auditor does not provide the same oversight or functions as an Internal Auditor. The Internal Audit is a daily review and will catch instances of Waste, Fraud & Abuse. And External Audit is a single annual review of the financial Statement only.

Remember Dixon, IL had 2 External Audit Firms, but no Internal Audit function and their Treasurer Rita Crundwell embezzled $54 million dollars.

Cost Savings

The 2022 Auditors budget is only $112,750. The claim of a $150k savings is completely false. Taxpayers and Voters will never see a savings.

Ask your County Board member how should you expect to receive this "Savings" if the referendum shall pass? Will this savings be issued via refund check?? If so how much would you receive?

Duplicative Duties

The County Board has been illegally duplicating the duties of the Auditors office since 2007. This duplication is costing Taxpayer over $400k annually.

The County Board has been breaking Illinois State Law by removing and/or duplicating the duties of the Elected Auditor. Your NO Vote will send the clear message to the powers that be that they are not ABOVE the LAW.

He was an avid farmer of 40-plus years, alongside his family and Sipp Farms. He enjoyed his time in 4H and FFA, showing hogs and cattle at local fairs. He joined the Logan-Trivoli Fire Protection District in 1989 and received his EMT license in 1990. He retired from the department as assistant chief in 2007, after 20 years of service. Princeville board has open trustee position

PRINCEVILLE – The Princeville Village Board has a vacancy. Trustee Lisa Hughes resigned for personal reasons, Village President Jeff Troutman said after the board meeting Oct. 18. Troutman didn't know specifics regarding Hughes' resignation. Hughes' four-year term was to expire April 30. No timeline exists for Troutman to select a replacement, he said. It's possible the six-member board might operate one short until after the April election, but Troutman suggested that isn't his preference. It's also possible Hughes might run again next year, should her personal issues be resolved, Troutman said. A vacancy isn't expected to impede the board's ability to vote on some tax-increment-financing issues, Troutman said. A shortage of eligible members Oct. 3 forced the board to table two TIF-related items. To avoid a potential conflict of interest, trustees Donald Peterson Jr., Rick Pope and Nathan Wineinger are removing properties they own from village TIF districts, Troutman said. An agreement to reimburse German-Bliss Equipment Co. for a portion of its $1.5 million expansion project in Princeville was tabled. So was a Residential Rehabilitation Program reimbursement application. Both items are expected to be on the board-meeting agenda Nov. 7. The board also approved renewing the village employee health-insurance deal negotiated with The Wyman Group of Peoria. The cost is to increase by 7.4 percent. The plan pays full premiums for five employees. Also, the village issued four building permits – for a fence at 612 Aten Ave., to demolish and construct a shed at 406 N. Walnut Ave., for retaining-wall improvements at 302 N. Creek Court and to raise a 48-by-96-foot pole barn at 1311 N. Town Ave. – Nick Vlahos through the air and 155 yards, most on 7-for-9 passing by quarterback Gage Renken. The Farmers also got back-to-back interception returns for touchdown by Tanner Kenney.

FOOTBALL: EP-G has Illini kicking recruit

"The week before we couldn't throw it because it was so wet and muddy," Vallas said. "It was a nice night this week and we threw it to get the receivers involved. They still knew what they were doing."

That's good news for the Farmers (7-2, 7-1 Prairieland) heading into a playoff rematch with El Paso-Gridley (7-2) on Saturday at 3 p.m. Farmington won last year's matchup 42-6, as the Farmers ran for 285 yards and passed for 212 more.

Vallas said EP-G looks "a lot better" this time around.

"I feel like we are the opposite of last year where we had the older kids and the senior-driven team. This year they have the experience," Vallas said. "They have a really explosive quarterback and running back and a couple really nice receivers. They play well defensively and fly to the ball and have a kicker and punter who can be a game changer."

That kicker is 6-foot-2 senior Declan Duley, who has committed to play at the University of Illinois after being ranked the top prep punter in the nation. Vallas said in two tapes of EP-G he watched, Duley nailed a 53-yard field goal and twice pinned foes inside the 5-yard line with punts.

"They played a little tougher schedule than we did and beating Tri-Valley last week definitely gives them some confidence," Vallas said. "But I think we've got better every week and can beat anybody if we continue to get better."

Knoxville 55, ROWVA-Williamsfield 20

KNOXVILLE — In a season to remember, the regular-season finale was a game to forget for R-W. Coach Grant Gullstrand emphasized that to his players once it was over.

"I went into the locker room and wrote '0-0' on the board," he said. "The previous nine weeks don't matter. The only thing that matters is Stark County Friday night."

That Class 1A playoff game, at 7 p.m. in Oneida, is a rematch of a Lincoln Trail game Sept. 30 in Wyoming. R-W won 34-13 as it dominated on offense and defense and took advantage of its hobbled host. Stark County quarterback Luke Rewerts was ill and sat out almost the entire second half.

Rewerts has returned, but neither team is headed into the postseason on a roll. R-W (5-4, 4-3) lost its final two regular-season games. Stark County (5-4, 3-4) beat Princeville in Week 9 but lost its previous three, including the R-W game.

"We're preparing for them the same way," Gullstrand said. "It's strange to play a team twice. We're not going to reinvent the wheel. Whoever makes the least amount of mistakes is going to come out on top."

This will be the first playoff game at Bill Adams Field since 2006 and the first playoff berth for the R-W co-op program.

Against Knoxville (7-2, 6-1), things for the Cougars were tough from the beginning. An opening fumble led to a Blue Bullets touchdown. On the next series, an interception led to a 14-0 deficit.

"We had the worst start we possibly could have had," Gullstrand said.

He'll trade that for a solid finish to what's been a solid season.

"Wipe away whatever experience we had last week. Wipe away the game that happened in Wyoming a month ago," Gullstrand said. "We've got a pretty big opponent in front of us. The community is pretty excited. The kids are pretty excited. They should be."

— Nick Vlahos

Stark County 49, Princeville 12

WYOMING — Princeville started fast but made too many mistakes and ran out of starting running backs in this playoff-deciding contest.

Boosted by long passes, the Princes (4-5, 2-5 LTC) led 6-0 and 12-7 in the first quarter before penalties, turnovers and injuries took a toll. Princeville committed 11 penalties, lost two fumbles and tossed three interceptions — one that Daniel Kieser returned 95 yards for a touchdown.

"We moved the ball well. They made a nice play on that pick-six and then we just got banged up," Princes Coach Jon Carruthers said. "But you've got to play clean football and we didn't do that."

In the second half, Princeville had to scramble when injuries sidelined all three starting running backs.

"It's the first year for awhile we're not in the playoffs. That stings for me and the coaching staff and I know it stings for a bunch of these kids," Carruthers said. "Hopefully that carries over into the offseason."

Stark County is back in the postseason for the first time since 2017 when its 22-year playoff streak ended.

Princeville seeks 20th win as VB regionals open; Farmington falls

By PHIL JOHNSON

For The Weekly Post

The Princeville volleyball team prevailed in its final two regular-season matches to prepare for regional play at Roanoke-Benson this week.

The top-seed Lady Princes (19-6) were to play No. 6 Lexington on Wednesday in semifinal action.

To wrap up the regular season, Princeville topped non-conference opponent Delavan with two big set wins 25-11, 25-10, surrounding a 23-25 setback on the road on Oct. 20.

Brianna Brodie scored on 13 kills and Brenna Schupbach set the school scoring record with 38 assists. Brooke Ladd scored four ace serves. Greta Dwyer hit the floor constantly, getting 21 digs.

Princeville topped Lincoln Trail foe Stark County 25-11, 25-9 at home on Oct. 19. Josie Benningfield recorded seven kills. Schupbach again led the game in assists, with 24, and added seven aces. Dwyer was the digs leader with six.

ROWVA-Williamsfield

R-W (26-9) topped Stark County in Tuesday's Wethersfield Regional quarterfinal, 25-7, 25-8.

R-W had wrapped up the regular season with a home win over Peoria Christian 25-21, 27-25 on Oct. 21 as Angelina Adame scored six kills, Madie Gonzalez had nine digs, Natalie Gonzalez had 15 assists and Chloe Secrist got five blocks.

The Lady Cougars fell to Annawan Oct. 19 on the road in LTC action.

"Annawan was good, and we knew we were going to have our hands full," R-W Assistant Coach Jaime Trotter said.

Sawyer Secrist killed seven. Natalie Gonzalez had eight assists. Lizzie Johnston got nine digs.

Elmwood

Elmwood (17-12) topped Illini Central on Tuesday in a quarterfinal match at the Illini Bluffs Regional, 25-12, 25-17.

The Lady Trojans had finished the regular season with a 25-12, 25-14 win over Prairieland rival Farmington at home on Oct. 18. Amelia Penny-Baldoni paced Elmwood with seven kills and three aces and had three digs. Mahala Mercer scored four kills, set five assists and had three digs. Etta Wagner recorded four kills and one block. Liv Meyers killed three and had one block.

Bella Cantorna served three aces and got 10 assists. Kate Yemm defended with seven digs in the win.

Farmington

Farmington (6-20) bowed out of the postseason Monday with a 25-19, 27-25 loss to Midwest Central in the Class 2A Monmouth-Roseville Regional.

Prior to the postseason, the Lady Farmers had last played Oct. 18, falling to Elmwood 25-12, 25-14. Alayna Keefer had one block and four assists. Izzy Beoletto scored two kills.

Brimfield

Brimfield (20-12-2) opened regional play Tuesday at Roanoke with a 25-16, 25-17 win over Normal Calvary Christian Academy.

The Lady Indians ended the regular season with a 25-11, 22-25, 25-20 win over Bushnell-Prairie City at home Oct. 20. Ella Florey scored on 10 kills. Ava Simpson defended with four blocks. Elly Doe assisted on 15 points scored.

XC: Stiffer challenge at sectional

Girls run at 10 a.m. in the sectional and boys start at 11. The top six teams advance to the Nov. 5 IHSA state meet at Detweiller Park in Peoria, as do the top 10 runners who are not members of those teams.

E-B faces stiffer challenges at the sectional, which on the boys side include top-ranked Normal U-High, No. 8 El Paso-Gridley and No. 10 Eureka — all rated ahead of the No. 12 Trojans.

"If we race really well we have a shot at second or third," Meyers said.

The No. 2 Eureka girls and No. 7 Springfield Sacred Heart-Griffin are rated ahead of No. 11 E-B, No. 12 EP-G, No. 13 Stanford Olympia, No. 14 Pleasant Plains and No. 16 Williamsville.

"If we are healthy and race well I think we have a good chance to advance to state," Anderson said.

The Princeville boys team will also be running at Elmwood on Saturday after placing sixth with 194 points at the loaded Eureka Regional, held at Lower Lake Park. Normal U-High won with 29 points, Eureka was second at 48 and El Paso-Gridley was third with 90.

Junior Joey Bosch led Princeville by placing 13th in 16:22.9. Other scoring runners for the Princes were sophomore Matthew Bowers (39th, 17:28.14), sophomore Jack Lied (46th, 17:40.65), junior Parker Melick (66th, 18:46.13) and senior Alex Delwiche (76th, 19:14.25).

Sophomore Alyvia Cowser was the lone Princeville girls runner to move on to the sectional after she placed 11th in 19:41.93. The Princeville girls placed eighth to just miss advancing.

Advancing to the Oregon Sectional for ROWVA-Williamsfield was Cadence Manning, 10th in 21:10.2 at the Seneca Regional.

Three to see Week 10

Farmers, E-B, R-W move on to football postseason

By JEFF LAMPE and
NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

There were few big surprises in playoff announcements for area teams, though Elmwood-Brimfield did factor in two smaller ones.

For starters, E-B was not mentioned on the televised pairings show, as El Paso-Gridley was instead listed in both Class 2A and 3A.

The other mild surprise for E-B was inclusion in 3A after the team had been projected as one of the largest Class 2A entrants. Instead, the Trojans are the second-smallest Class 3A squad, ahead of only Elmhurst IC Catholic, which with three state titles in the last five seasons and a 62-4 record over that time is 3A in number only.

Here is last week's recap and playoff previews for E-B, Farmington and ROWVA-Williamsfield.

Genoa-Kingston. There they are to play a first-round Class 3A playoff game at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The Cogs (7-2, 7-2) finished third in the always-rugged Big Northern Conference. In Week 9, they upset league champion Stillman Valley 32-28. The only losses for G-K are to Byron and Dixon (in overtime), both at home.

"Stillman Valley and Byron, you're playing good competition, so you know they're battle tested," E-B Coach Todd Hollis said about two teams that have combined to win seven football state titles.

G-K was deemed good enough to enter The Associated Press Class 4A rankings last week, at 10th. The Cogs fell to 3A once the postseason field was set. Hollis compared them to Prairieland foe Rushville-Industry, heavy on the Wing-T and Wishbone offenses.

"I joked with their coach that we might have the fastest game in the history of the playoffs, because they throw less than we do," Hollis said. "Both teams just line up and go for it, and I appreciate the heck out of that. Just ours against yours and throw out the window dressing. That's kind of cool."

Hollis said defensive-line strength will be key for the Trojans, who plan to leave about 8:30 a.m. Saturday for the 150-mile trip northeast to DeKalb County. It'll be the second consecutive E-B playoff appearance and the 17th in Hollis' 24-season tenure.

The Trojans' experience at Havana (4-5, 3-5) represented a season-high point total and victory margin. It also gave E-B a 6-2 league record, good for third place.

189 rushing yards. He benefited from Hollis' decision to have fellow backfielders Gavin Buhl and Bo Windish focus on defense against the Ducks. Windish stood out defensively, but he wasn't alone, according to Hollis.

"I feel like to play a complete game against a team that was fighting for the playoffs in Week 9 tells me maybe this is where we're supposed to be," he said.

Boys, girls teams claim regionals

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

MACOMB – Despite substitutions in the top seven and a tough week of training leading up to the regionals, the Elmwood-Brimfield boys and girls teams both won regional titles at Spring Lake last Saturday.

The boys were particularly dominant, placing all five scoring runners in the top eight. Leading the way was Isaiah Hill, who won in 16:23.9.

Other scoring runners were Mika Nelson (4th, 16:59.7), Aiden Faulkner (5th, 17:07.3), L.J. Higgs (6th, 17:10.5) and Reed Florey (8th, 17:24.6).

"We had hard practices Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, so they didn't get a lot of rest last week," E-B Coach Gregg Meyers said. "Our guys did what they needed to do to get through. And we were strong enough we could do that and still score 19 points, which is a credit to the stuff they've done to prepare."

The girls sat top-five runners Olivia Stage and Addy Turner to rest minor injuries but still won the regional with 39 points, six ahead of runnerup Quincy Notre Dame.

Addie Symonds was second in 19:26.4 and other scoring E-B girls were Natalie Babcock (7th, 21:02.8), Chloe Kelly (8th, 21:04.7), Ashley Wolcott (9th, 21:08.2) and Bre Turner (25th, 23:53.4).

"We went in knowing if we had a good race we could win without Liv and Addy," E-B Coach Kyle Anderson said. "Ashley Wolcott and Bre Turner really stepped up and had great races that helped us win."

Both E-B teams qualified for Saturday's sectional at Maple Lane Country Club. So did Farmington's Dax Ulm (7th, 17:19.3) and the seventh-place girls Farmington team, whose scoring runners were Violet Easley (32nd, 24:34.7), Braylee Hammond (34th, 24:42.5), Daisy Becker (42nd, 26:43.8), Alina Mowen (43rd, 27:10.3) and Maddie Lettow (58th, 41:07.7).
