Pritzker, Democrats dominate statewide elections

By JERRY NOWICKI
& PETER HANCOCK

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – By the time speakers came out to pray, say the Pledge of Allegiance and play the national anthem at Republican challenger Darren Bailey's election night watch party in Springfield on Tuesday, the Associated Press had called the Illinois governor's race for incumbent Democrat JB Pritzker.

While results are not official until certified by the Illinois State Board of Elections on Dec. 5, the Associated Press called the race for Pritzker instantly upon closure of the polls at 7 p.m. Unofficial results showed Pritzker with a lead of 54.2-43 percent with 95 percent of precincts in, according to the Chicago Tribune.

That capped a strong general election for Democrats, who appear to have maintained control of every statewide office and supermajorities in the General Assembly.

About 8 p.m., Pritzker addressed the crowd at the Marriott Marquis in Chicago.

"Just a few minutes ago, the news networks called the race in our favor," Pritzker told a cheering crowd at a Near South Side hotel ballroom. "I'm grateful tonight that Illinois continues a long tradition of peaceful and fair elections. And I am so thrilled to spend four more years serving as your governor."

Bailey took the stage just before 10 p.m., giving a heartfelt speech to supporters.

"I may not be going to Springfield as your next governor, but I will never stop fighting for you," the state senator said, to cheers.

Pritzker

He also noted he called Pritzker to congratulate the incumbent on his victory, evoking a murmur from some in the crowd. But he also had a message for the governor.

"You need to be better," Bailey said. "You need to be better for our children. And you need to be better for our grandchildren."

Earlier, his team and the crowd of a few hundred people at the Crowne Plaza hotel in Springfield seemed stunned by the immediate call.

But Pritzker declared victory within an hour with a fiery speech to supporters.

"And finally, here in the Land of Lincoln, the home state of Barack Obama, the first state to ratify the 13th and 19th amendments ending slavery and guaranteeing a woman's right to vote, we will never surrender in

More volunteers needed for live nativity event

For The Prairie News

WYOMING – As people gather for the Moonlight Madness parade on Nov. 18, they can enjoy a Live Nativity presentation in Wyoming. The parade is set to kick-off at 8 p.m. and the nativity will begin about 15 minutes prior.

Local volunteers have been working with area churches to share a creative presentation of the story of Jesus' birth.

"We have a wonderful group of people who have volunteered for some of the most important roles, but we need a few more people to help complete the visual story," said Anita Wilkinson, The Gathering Church member and Live Nativity volunteer. "I would love to recruit at least 6 more people to be wise men and shepherds. And if more people are interested the scene would look amazing with other characters such as inn keeper, Roman soldiers, and townspeople."

Sloan wins as Stark sheriff

By JOHN A. BALLENTINE

For The Prairie News

TOULON – Incumbent Steven V. Sloan has been reelected as Stark County Sheriff by the slim margin of 154 votes over challenger Charles Demetreon.

With all nine Stark County precincts reporting and a total of 2,345 of 3,732 registered voters casting a ballot (62.8 percent), Tuesday's general election enjoyed higher turnout than usual.

Total votes cast for the sheriff's race was 2,250, with 1,202 for Sloan and 1,048 for Demetreon. That represents an 87.2 percent vote for sheriff. Worth noting is that results are unofficial until all mail-in votes are tallied and added to the nine precincts totals. Of the 2,345 people voting, 95 did not vote for one of the sheriff candidates this election.

"I'm happy with the results," said Sloan, who ran as a Republican against Demetreon, who filed after the primary

ELECTION: 'Workers' Rights' close

But Pritzker, who self-funded his campaign, touted accomplishments during his first term such as balancing the state budget and passing a $45 billion capital infrastructure bill while casting Bailey as a conservative extremist.

Pritzker was elected in 2018 after never having held elected office, defeating then-incumbent Republican Gov. Bruce Rauner, 55-39 percent.

Here's a look at other statewide races with 90-95 percent of votes tallied.

Senate

Shortly after polls closed, the AP said Democrat Tammy Duckworth would win reelection to the U.S. Senate against Kathy Salvi. Duckworth led 56.2-42.1 percent.

Comptroller

Democrat incumbent Susana Mendoza led Republican Shannon Teresi, 56.8-41.3 percent.

Treasurer

Democrat incumbent Michael Frerichs led Republican state Rep. Tom Demmer 54-43.8 percent.

Secretary of State

Rebounding from a failed Senate campaign in 2010, Democrat Alexi Giannoulias won the race to replace Jesse White, who had been in office since 1998. Giannoulias led Dan Brady 54-43.8 percent.

Attorney General

Democrat incumbent Kwame Raoul led Republican challenger Thomas DeVore 54.1-43.7.

17th Congressional District

At press time, the race between Republican Es-ther Joy King and Democrat Eric Sorensen was still close, though Sorensen led 51.7-48.3 percent with 86 percent of the vote tallied.

Workers' Rights Amendment

Results for a constitutional amendment for union rights were too early to call due to the two paths of passage for a constitutional amendment. "Yes" votes were at 58.7 percent with 85 percent reporting.

SHERIFF: Demetreon unsure of future

Continued from Page 1 and ran as an Independent. Yard signs sprung up overnight several months ago for both candidates. Election results are online at www.starkco.illinois.gov.

Demetreon said he expects the unofficial result to be the same as the official result. "It may change some but not enough to change the result," he said.

Demetreon said he is unsure if he will run again or whether he will continue working as chief deputy in Stark County.

"It's up in the air right now. Like I said we are weighing our options," Demetreon said. "People are used to running down the ballot and voting Republican and my running as an Independent and not a Republican was a factor.

"I think that the Osceola area and up that way really got me. I want to thank everyone who supported and voted for me."

Sloan also thanked his supporters in a paid advertisement in this edition of The Prairie News.

E. John

As an attending emergency room physician for OSF HealthCare, I've seen the aftermath of accidental shootings involving children – the physical injuries, emotional impact on all involved and the loss of life.

I can't forget two instances when boys ages 9 and 7 were brought into the emergency room just six days apart. Both boys were at the homes of a relative or friend and were asked by another young boy, "Do you want to see my daddy's shotgun?" The gun accidentally went off in both incidents, inflicting gunshot wounds to the abdomen. Very graphic, very severe traumas. One boy recovered and went home. The other boy was in surgery for hours, receiving 30-40 pints of blood. He died despite efforts to save his life. Both accidental shootings could have been prevented.

A Journal of the American Medical Association survey estimates 4.6 million kids in the U.S. live with unlocked, loaded guns in the home. We take steps to protect our children from all kinds of harm, making sure they wear seatbelts or are placed in car seats, wear life jackets or floatables while in the water ... so, why are we not making sure guns in the home are locked up? When we drop our children off at a play date or a friend's birthday party, why aren't we asking about potential dangers in the home they are visiting – including whether there are unsecured, unlocked firearms in the house?

I'm a certified firearms instructor who's taught firearms safety for decades. I'm also a father. After the incidents with the two young boys, I made it my mission to educate the world on how to better store and child-proof firearms. It's my passion to teach parents why doing this is so important to keep their kids safe. My own experience and that of others shows it's necessary to not only teach our children about gun safety in the home, but to understand the importance of safe storage of guns.

Many Americans own firearms for sporting purposes and also for their family's protection. There are important, safe ways to store firearms securely, yet still keep them accessible for self-defense and family safety. Locking up guns and ammo properly can reduce the risk of self-inflicted or unintentional injury to kids by 85 percent. Having conversations parent to parent about whether guns in the home are locked is a crucial step.

To encourage parents to take action by asking about guns in the home, OSF HealthCare has joined more than 170 other health-care organizations in a nationwide public awareness and education campaign, called "Doesn't Kill to Ask."

The campaign is not intended to shame or embarrass gun owners, or remove weapons from people's homes. Its goal is to reduce risk, by putting the danger of unlocked guns front and center while stressing the importance of educating our communities about proper gun safety and talking with friends, family and neighbors about gun access.

Get educated, learn the facts and keep our children safe from firearms. Holding each other accountable and asking simple questions regarding guns in the home and whether they're locked up can save a life. It most definitely "Doesn't Kill to Ask." I urge you to visit hospitals-united.com for tips on getting the conversation started.

John Wipfler III, MD, is an attending emergency department physician at OSF HealthCare, served in the U.S. Armed Forces, is a certified firearms safety instructor and co-author of the book, "Keeping Your Family Safe - The Responsibilities of Firearm Ownership." He and his wife, Diane, a certified NRA firearms instructor, have taught multiple firearms safety classes together.

BRIEFS

McCullough honored as Gold Star Mother

BRADFORD – Mary McCullough of Bradford recently was recognized as a Gold Star Mother. McCullough is a member of the Bradford Legion Auxiliary Unit #445. Her son, Lt. David K. McCullough, graduated from U.S. Naval Academy class of 1979 and was stationed aboard U.S.S. America. He passed away in 1983 on active duty and is buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

During the early days of World War I, a Blue Star was used to represent each person, man or woman in the Military Service of the United States. As the war progressed and men were killed in combat, others wounded and died of their wounds or disease, there came about the accepted usage of the Gold Star. All mothers of fallen service members are considered Gold Star Mothers, but not all receive this recognition.

Check with your local Legion or Auxiliary to see if you or someone you may know qualifies for this special recognition.

This Gold Star was substituted and superimposed upon the blue Star in such a manner as to entirely cover it. The idea of the Gold Star is to show the honor and glory accorded to the person for their supreme sacrifice to country.

Sloan resigns from Galva park board

GALVA – The Galva Park District board received a letter of resignation from board member Patrick Sloan for his board position. The board will assign a new person to fill the position at a later meeting.

The board will rent its farm ground for $400 per acre with a three-year contract. The board will need to put in a new tile on the farm.

Names of memorials will be added to the stone by the playground for new memorials going forward. Currently the board felt there was enough memorial trees and benches at this time.

If anyone is interested in the position of pool manager, or lifeguards for the 2023 season, contact one of the board members.

The pool was winterized and the gates were closed for the season on Oct. 31.

– Carol Townsend

Et cetera

• TOULON – The Stark County Speech Team competed at the Olympia Classic this past weekend at Olympia High School. Rachel Bishop went on to the final round where she received fifth in the varsity finals. Katelynn Allen also qualified for the final round where she received fourth in junior varsity finals.

The Wyoming Nazarene church graciously donated costumes for the event. Youth and adults are invited to volunteer. The nativity will be narrated so there are no lines to memorize.

Live Nativity rehearsal is set for Sunday, Nov. 13, 4 p.m. at The Gathering Church, downtown Wyoming. The time commitment during Moonlight Madness will be from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

“Anyone interested in being a part of the Live Nativity can simply come to the rehearsal on the 13th and we will get the whole crew all set up for the actual event on the 18th,” Wilkinson said. “It is going to be a really special night.”

If anyone has questions, contact Wilkinson at wilkinsonanita@gmail.com or call (309) 702-2003.

The Wyoming Chamber of Commerce is the Moonlight Madness event coordinator. The live nativity is just one of many activities in the works. Candyland Christmas is the theme for 2022 Wyoming Moonlight Madness.

Visitors will enjoy decorated themed windows, a Christmas tree and wreath display on the library lawn, Christmas music as they stroll through the downtown area, and photos with Santa at T Photography. Businesses, organizations, and churches will be open throughout the evening with food, drinks, and special events for the visitors to enjoy.

OBITUARIES

Susan K. Galler

GALVA – Susan Kaye (Cromien) Galler, 60, loving wife, mother, sister, aunt and friend, passed away at home in the arms of her family, and into the arms of her Savior, on Oct. 30, 2022.

She was born to John and Arlene Cromien in Galva, Ill., on April 26, 1962. She first met her husband, Greg, while attending Western Illinois University on Aug. 25, 1982. After earning a B.S. degree, with high honors, in psychology in 1984, she and Greg moved to the Twin Cities. Sue and Greg were married on Aug. 16, 1986, at St. John's Catholic Church in Galva.

They began their family with a daughter, Katie, in 1989, who was later joined by her brother, Mike, in 1993.

Sue is survived by her devoted husband Greg; her daughter Katherine (and husband, D.J.) Yokom; son Michael Galler; her brothers, Gary Cromien, Galva, and Dennis Cromien, Aurora, Ill.; and numerous nieces, and nephews – all of whom she held dear.

She is preceded in death by her parents.

Sue was passionate about her faith in Jesus as her savior and in helping others wherever she could. She served as an advisor to international students at St. Croix Lutheran Academy.

She was loved for her devotion to the well-being of the hundreds of children from all over the world that she came to know and care for.

Sue was as beautiful inside as she was outside. She was a Galva High School Homecoming Queen, Henry County Illinois Fair Queen, and co-captain of the Western Illinois University Wrangler Pom-Pon Squad. Her smile and laugh were infectious. She had the most beautiful eyes anyone had ever seen.

She was a gracious and virtuous wife, mother, sister, aunt, and friend. With God-given wisdom she taught and guided us. With laughter, compassion and strength she made each day a celebration of living. Through good times and hardships she reminded us to look to God for strength.

She was love in motion — and with a sweet, gentle, dignified and humble spirit, she was our close and trusted friend. She was loved and cherished by all who knew her.

“Her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praises her.” – Proverbs 31:28

A celebration of life was held from 4-6 p.m. on Nov. 4 at Bradshaw Celebration of Life Center in Stillwater, Minn. A funeral was held at Salem Lutheran Church in Stillwater, Minn., on Nov. 5, 2022. Burial was at Salem Cemetery.

Memorials are preferred to the ministries that held a special place in her heart: Salem Lutheran School Scholarship Fund, Stillwater, Minn.; St. Croix Lutheran Academy Scholarship Fund, West St. Paul, Minn.; and Truth in Love Ministries.

SPORTS: Lena-Winslow's size was 'eye-opening'

14. Boys practice began Monday and first games can be played on Nov. 21.

• R-W loses – ROWVA-Williamsfield received an up-close-and-personal look at the strengths of the Lena-Winslow football program.

Undeclared, top-ranked Le-Win scored early and often in a 76-7 victory Nov. 5. The defeat ended a memorable season for R-W (6-5), which made the playoffs for the first time in its current co-op configuration.

A first-round home victory over LTC rival Stark County sent the Cougars 120 miles north to face the winners of three of the last four 1A state titles. Le-Win (11-0) scored within the first three minutes and led 38-0 midway through the second quarter. That's when R-W had its only touchdown, a 37-yard pass from Riley Danner to Luke Nelson.

According to R-W Coach Grant Gullstrand, winds in excess of 30 mph and rain didn't help.

"We really couldn't throw the ball at all," Gullstrand said. "It made us one-dimensional, so we had to run the ball straight at them. Their size was eye-opening."

The Le-Win point total broke the previous state record for the most points by one team in a postseason 1A game.

Despite the outcome, the Cougars accomplished some big things in 2022. The Stark County victory represented the first in the postseason since 2006 for a ROWVA-based football team. It's also only the second time in 10 years a ROWVA-based team posted a winning record.

"We haven't been very good in the past, and people probably questioned whether we'd ever be good," Gullstrand said. "Not a whole lot was expected from us. But these kids worked very hard and loved the game of football. Hopefully this gives us confidence going into next year."
