Musselman pleads guilty to three child porn charges

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Prairie News

PEORIA – In a dark, cold corridor in the U.S. Courthouse on Nov. 17, Jason Musselman exchanged hugs and tears with his parents.

Less than one hour later, Musselman was handcuffed and led out of Courtroom A by two U.S. Marshals after pleading guilty to three felony child pornography charges.

Musselman, 35, pleaded guilty to production, distribution and possession of child pornography and now faces 15-30 years in a federal prison, according to his attorney Kevin Sullivan of Peoria. Four other original charges were dismissed as the result of a written plea agreement.

Judge James E. Shadid scheduled Musselman’s sentencing for March 23, 2023, at 10 a.m. Shadid also cautioned Musselman that, “the sentence imposed could be different than any estimate Mr. Sullivan has given you.”

Musselman

Shadid said the maximum sentence for Musselman would be not more than 60 years and not more than $750,000 in fines.

Sullivan said by pleading guilty, Musselman effectively cut the maximum sentence in half to 30 years. Sullivan said he did not believe Musselman would face the $750,000 in fines.

Last week’s plea marked an about-face for Musselman, who on March 15 had pleaded not guilty to the same charges that stemmed from a March 11 arrest by the Illinois State Police.

After that plea, Musselman was released without bond into the supervision of his father and was required to be on home detention with electronic monitoring. Musselman was allowed to help his family with farm operations.

That is no longer the case, as Musselman is now being held in the Woodford County Jail, possibly until his sentencing date. Sullivan said the U.S. Marshals contract with several Illinois correctional facilities and added there is a chance Musselman could be moved before his sentencing.

During the Nov. 17 court appearance, Assistant U.S. Attorney Sarah H. Schryer laid out the charges to which Musselman pleaded guilty.

In regards to possession of child pornography, Schryer said investigators found more than 250 child pornography images on Musselman’s Apple iPhone and more than 400 images of child pornography on an SD card in his Toulon home.

“Those included multiple images of pre-pubescent children under the age of 12,” Schryer said.

Galva fire displaces 2 families

By CAROL TOWNSEND
For The Prairie News

GALVA – Two families are homeless due to an apartment fire late Monday night in Galva.

Galva and Bishop Hill Fire Departments were called back to the Dixline Corp. at 11:43 p.m. due to smoke in the area. Dixline had recently suffered a fire in its plant.

But Galva Fire Chief Nate Byers said fire crews searched the area and found the smoke was not coming from Dixline, but from an attic fire in a four-unit apartment building located at 310 NW 1st St.

Only two of the four units are presently occupied and the tenants inside said they were not aware of the fire.

Byers said that Toulon Fire De-

WYOMING – The Stark County School Board approved a preliminary tax levy at its regular monthly meeting on Nov. 21.

Superintendent Brett Elliott told the board that the Equalized Assessed Value will increase anywhere between an estimated 4.5-4.8 percent. Because the levy is under the 5 percent requirement, no Truth in Taxation hearing is required, but the district will still schedule a hearing for Dec. 19.

Stark County’s three schools – elementary, junior high and high school – all received a “Commendable” status rating via the 2022 State School report card. Elliott added during this discussion that the district has an 89 percent graduation rate and a 16

Stark County Salvation Army Kettle

We are thankful for the blessings that we have received in the county this year. And the good folks of Stark County do a great job of sharing those blessings. Last year we were able to help many people get gasoline to make it to work or the doctor. We also helped many who found themselves running out of food at the end of the month. We bought medicine for some. Paid on rent, electric and water for others. I know that you will want to do those same things again this year. So when you see a Kettle in Stark County, put in your donation. Or you can make your checks to Stark County Salvation Army Kettle and send to Stark County Salvation Army, PO Box 636, Toulon, IL., 61483. If you know someone who needs help have them call Al Harmon at 309-286-4611.

Memories of camping along the Mississippi River

As widespread rains begin to slowly refill lakes, reservoirs, and rivers, Thanksgiving thoughts turn back to the southern Illinois dairy farm of my youth where the Mississippi River, just a mile from our dairy barn, was a constant, often dominating presence.

Except, that is, in the late summer months when everything around the farm – cows, hired men, and even the river – moved in a slow granny gear.

That was especially so on Saturday evenings where nearly 100 panting Holsteins and an airless milking parlor promised a sweaty session of steamy drudgery.

Those languid Saturdays were, however, the perfect time for two young adventurers, my older brother David and me, to ask our overheated mother if we could “go camp on the river.”

It was a rhetorical question: Two fewer sulking teenagers for supper and another long night in an un-air conditioned farm house? The answer came quickly, “Go!”

Like most Tom Sawyers, we traveled light. Two cotton sleeping bags, some frozen hot dogs, potato chips, butter, a handful of sliced bread, a black skillet and a half-dozen eggs were breakfast, supper, and sleep. A rinsed chlorine jug from the dairy barn held a gallon of water and, of course, we each carried a pocket knife and matches.

We never took a tent because we didn’t have a tent.

Alan GUEBERT

Ten minutes later we were crossing the heifer pasture to climb the levee that shouldered the western bank of the Kaskaskia River. Our “trail” was the levee and its biggest danger was a sleepy dry cow or two blocking the way.

When the Kaskaskia levee married the Mississippi River levee, David and I left it for a short hike through a forest of silver maples, rattling cottonwoods and swaying willows.

Adventurous as it sounds – and it was for us – the simple geographic fact remained that had we backtracked to the levee, we could have easily seen the dairy barn, dry cows and Mom’s clothesline in the distance.

Still, we were in the middle of our own personal kingdom, a massive sandbar at the meeting point of the brown, lazy Kaskaskia River and the wide, roiling Mississippi. Here was enough driftwood for an all-night fire and acres of sugary sand on which to make our starlit beds.

In no time at all we were Marquette and Joliet, or Lewis and Clark, risking our sacred lives, used baling twine and fast-melting butter by walking through a forest of ancient trees, uncharted creeks and hordes of hot dog-hungry opossums and raccoons.

And we were free; the kind of free that farm boys only felt when there were no cows or alfalfa fields within sight. We were buccaneers on a free-flowing river with the freedom to go anywhere.

Except into the water. Our mother’s only condition to get us out of her frazzled hair was no swimming in either the Kaskaskia, a lazy, oversized creek most summers, or the broad, secretive Mississippi.

And we never did. Honest.

But we explored the nearby woods, ran barefoot through the sand and sat for long silent minutes watching the Mississippi flow around the next bend.

Supper was hot dogs roasted on the end of sharpened willow branches. Breakfast was eggs cracked, scrambled, and eaten from the skillet, and toast made over the still-hot fire. Butter-soaked, both.

Nights were the best, though. We always made a roaring campfire to ward off all things real and imagined.

Often we were awakened by tow-boats’ drumming diesel engines as they clawed their way up the Big River’s strong current. Other times their powerful searchlights, looking for channel markers, lit our camp like the noon sun.

The next morning, after more dangerous deep-woods explorations and less dangerous sandbar sitting, we’d slowly make our way home. Somehow we always arrived a few minutes after the rest of the family had departed for church, another sweat-dripping event we never regretted missing.

Now, though, that would be a small price to pay for two old men to meet back on Old Man River for one more starlit, lazy night amid the sand, willows and memories.

Happy Thanksgiving.

Counting blessings for Thanksgiving

November 2022 Prairie News

I’m always glad to see my neighbor Suni’s name pop up on my phone. As her name suggests, she is cheerful and upbeat. “Hi! It’s Suni!” she chirped. “There’re a couple or your cows out in the road here,” she said pleasantly. My thoughts were not so pleasant. “If you come out of the lane and go left...”

I assured her we would be right there and began hollering for AJ. I dashed out the door while he was assembling himself. I took the RTV and headed north out of our lane but saw nothing amiss. Figuring he had had time to get his boots on, I went back to get him. We came to the (incorrect, as it would turn out) conclusion that the cows were at the Other Place, as we know Suni often drives that road.

As we putted up the big hill, we still saw no sign of cows in the road or elsewhere, nor any tell-tale hoof prints or manure in the road. Puzzled, I called Suni back to get a clearer idea of where these naughty girls were. “Well,” she chuckled, “They were in the road just up from your house, but now they are in the corn field.”

It was at this point that I realized that Suni not only was reporting an outage to us, she was also shepherding our cows to be sure nothing happened to them. She lives the next place east of us, so we had driven by her house on our way to our Other Place. I had noticed her car was not there, but I didn’t realize at the time that it was because she was tending our herd.

We went tooling back at top speed of twenty miles per hour to where we should have been all along. Sure enough, as we topped the little rise in the road, there sat Suni, parked in the gateway of the cornfield. She had patiently waited there while we were Keystone Copping around looking in the wrong place for the two naughty heifers she now had safely corralled in our stalk field.

“Oh, Suni!” I began. “I’m sorry it took us so long to get here.” She just laughed and assured us she hadn’t minded. Then she explained that while she was originally just keeping an eye on the cows while they ate grass along the gravel road, the situation changed when the mailman came along. Now if it had been our regular mailman, that would have been no problem, because after many years on the route, he knows there is always the chance that he will encounter one or more head of cattle in the road near our farm. This, however, was a substitute driver. He has a big pickup truck armed with a light bar of brightly flashing warning lights in an astounding array of colors mounted on top of the cab. That, plus the speed at which that truck travels, had startled the two heifers, and probably Suni, as well.

They had run into the stalk field adjacent to their pasture. We had enlarged the gateway to admit Joyce’s eight-row corn head, but had not yet set up gates to close the gap. So Suni had parked there and waited for us, because that’s what neighbors do.

On our way to the scene of the crime, AJ had declared with certainty that one of the two out cows would be 2118, since she is the ringleader in whatever shenanigans occur in the keepers herd. It was she and today’s black heifer that were the first of the two consecutive pairs of red and black heifers that had come down the road and up the lane earlier this fall. He was right.

I called Matt to apprise him of the situation. While AJ was unwiring the gate that led from the stalk field into the pasture, I visited for a minute with Suni and then she went on her way home. I superfluously stood guard in the gateway. The heifers, as always, were in AJ’s hip pocket, waiting for him to feed them or let them into a fresh pasture.

As I always do as Thanksgiving approaches, I counted my blessings. In just this one incident we had so much for which to be thankful. At the top of the list is a neighbor who acted quickly to prevent our valuable livestock from running amok or away. Because she was parked in the road, the mailman was able to see her and slow down. He may not otherwise have seen the heifers until too late. I am thankful that the heifers chose to run into the stalk field, where they were fenced in except for the gate-way. And I am thankful Joyce had already combined that field, thankful that AJ has such a good rapport with his cows that they will follow him to and through an unfamiliar gate back to their pasture, and thankful for Matt, who always comes to help find and repair the spot where the girls escaped.

Compared to many issues we all face, this was a tiny inconvenience. But the principle of gratitude is the same. I am thankful it wasn't worse, and I am thankful for all the blessings we have been given.

MAPLE-GLAZED RIB ROAST WITH ROASTED ACORN SQUASH

The flavors of fall are captured with this delicious dish. Maple and thyme are the perfect pairing for both the beef and nutty acorn squash.

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine maple syrup, thyme and garlic in medium bowl. Reserve 1/4 cup for squash. Brush half of remaining syrup mixture onto all surfaces of beef Rib Roast Bone-In. Reserve remaining for basting.
2. Place roast, fat-side up, in shallow roasting pan. Insert ovenproof meat thermometer so tip is centered in thickest part of beef, not resting in fat or touching bone. Do not add water or cover. Roast in 350°F oven 2-1/4 to 2-1/2 hours for medium rare; 2-1/2 to 3 hours for medium doneness, basting with syrup mixture halfway through roasting time.
3. Meanwhile, place squash, cut

- sides up, in 13x9-inch glass baking dish. Brush cut sides of squash with some reserved syrup mixture; evenly pour remaining mixture into each well. Roast, uncovered, 45 minutes, brushing cut sides with syrup mixture, halfway through baking time.
4. Remove roast when meat thermometer registers 135°F for medium rare; 145°F for medium doneness. Transfer roast to carving board; tent loosely with aluminum foil. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes. (Temperature will continue to rise about 10°-15°F to reach 145°F for medium rare; 160°F for medium.) Meanwhile, increase oven temperature to 425°F and continue to roast squash 15 to 20 minutes or until tender and edges begin to brown.

5. Carve roast into slices. Cut each squash half into 2 wedges, carefully spooning syrup mixture onto each wedge. Season beef and squash with salt and pepper, as desired.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 beef Rib Roast Bone-In (2 to 4 ribs, 6 to 8 pounds)

Basting Sauce

- 1/2 cup pure maple syrup
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh thyme or 1 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic

Garnish

- 2 medium acorn squash, cut lengthwise in half, seeded

COOKING

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine maple syrup, thyme and garlic in medium bowl. Reserve 1/4 cup for squash. Brush half of remaining syrup mixture onto all surfaces of beef Rib Roast Bone-In. Reserve re-

- maining for basting.
2. Place roast, fat-side up, in shallow roasting pan. Insert ovenproof meat thermometer so tip is centered in thickest part of beef, not resting in fat or touching bone. Do not add water or cover. Roast in 350°F oven 2-1/4 to 2-1/2 hours for medium rare; 2-1/2 to 3 hours for medium doneness, basting with syrup mixture halfway through roasting time.
 3. Meanwhile, place squash, cut sides up, in 13x9-inch glass baking dish. Brush cut sides of squash with some reserved syrup mixture; evenly pour remaining mixture into each well. Roast, uncovered, 45 minutes, brushing cut sides with syrup mixture from wells, halfway through baking time.
 4. Remove roast when meat thermometer registers 135°F for medium rare; 145°F for medium doneness. Transfer roast to carving board; tent loosely with aluminum foil. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes. (Temperature will continue to rise about 10°-15°F to reach 145°F for medium rare; 160°F for medium.) Meanwhile, increase oven temperature to 425°F and continue to roast squash 15 to 20 minutes or until tender and edges begin to brown.
 5. Carve roast into slices. Cut each squash half into 2 wedges.

SAUCE

Carefully spoon syrup mixture onto each wedge. Season beef and squash with salt and pepper, as desired.

Diesel supply tight, but it shouldn't run out

By DANIEL GRANT
FarmWeek

The supply of diesel fuel has become uncomfortably tight this fall, drumming up concerns about future availability.

The U.S. started the month with about a 25-day supply of diesel in storage.

But that doesn't mean the tanks will run dry in that amount of time, according to Tim Abel, GROW-MARK refined fuels, supply and trading manager.

"We do have tight supplies," Abel told the RFD Radio Network. "This time of year, maybe 32 days supply or 34 days supply would be more applicable."

"But I think it (the 25-day supply) has been overplayed in the media," he said. "We're not going to run out (of diesel) in 25 days. It just means we're extremely low – it's just another metric for measuring what we have."

The amount of diesel measured as "days of supply" factors the current demand divided into the availability of inventory, according to Abel.

The situation certainly continues to pressure prices, though.

Average diesel prices started the month at $5.31 per gallon nationwide, up $1.59 compared to last year, and $5.32 in the Midwest, $1.68 higher than last year.

"From a U.S. and world perspective, heating oil, diesel fuel and jet fuel supplies have been extremely tight," Abel said. "A lot of dynamics have gotten us to where we are today."

The refined fuels expert traces the start of the rise in diesel prices back to 2019 when the International Maritime Organization implemented lower sulfur content standards for its fuel. That was followed by demand destruction from the COVID pandemic in 2020-21 followed by the industry trying to adjust to a rebound in fuel demand this year amid the ongoing war in Ukraine.

"The EU is trying to wean itself off Russian fuel," Abel said. "When you look at the different supply disruptions, that's why we're at where we are today."

During recent years, some refining capacity was taken offline amid the chaos and market uncertainty. And some companies are now unsure how much to invest in production with mixed signals about the future use of carbon-based fuels.

Union Pacific remains strong amid challenges

By DANIEL GRANT
FarmWeek

Union Pacific Railroad has a long history of shipping goods all over the country since its first tracks connected the eastern half of the U.S. to the West Coast.

It started when Abraham Lincoln signed the Pacific Railway Act of 1862. Shortly thereafter, Central Pacific started laying track from the West Coast moving east while Union Pacific broke ground in Omaha in December 1863.

The transcontinental railroad was completed with the implementation of the "golden spike" in Utah in 1869, connecting San Francisco to New York and forever transforming the use of rail as a key form of transportation.

Fast forward to 2022, and Union Pacific connects 23 states, major ports and serves all six gateways to Mexico and is also connected to Canada, providing agriculture and other industries with access to markets around the world.

"We're a critical link to the supply chain," Laura Heisterkamp, assistant vice president, bulk marketing and sales for Union Pacific, said at the Agricultural Bankers Conference in Omaha, Nebraska.

The supply chain, of course, was severely tested in recent years due in part to constraints related to the pandemic, subsequent labor issues and high fuel costs. But Union Pacific maintains a solid track record despite all that and the recent threat of a worker strike.

Bulk shipments on the line increased so far this year. Coal represents 41 percent of those shipments, followed by grain (40 percent), fertilizer (10 percent) and food and beverages (9 percent) among other products.

"Bulk (shipments) are up 4% led by coal and renewable diesel," Heisterkamp said. "Drought conditions in the Midwest are going to make it tough to be comparable (to 2021) for grain. Exports were really good last year."

Some of the grain shipments on rail shifted this year from export destinations to regional movements, she noted. Demand for rail cars for grain also increased recently due to low water levels on key rivers, particularly the Mississippi, thus hampering barge logistics of late.

"We're seeing a favorable demand environment as we finish the year," said Heisterkamp, who noted UP moved 2 million rail cars for bulk shipments in 2021.

Union Pacific typically transports about 1.3 billion bushels of grain annually.

Exports typically account for 30-40 percent of those shipments.

Ethanol shipments are also a key part of its business with its tracks connected to 51 plants that produce the renewable fuel.

Looking ahead, Heisterkamp sees increased opportunities to ship renewable diesel by rail. U.S. production of that fuel is projected to reach 6.5 billion gallons by 2025.

Union Pacific, one of the largest users of diesel fuel in the country, also plans to boost the use of renewable diesel for its locomotives from 4 percent to 20 percent by 2030.

"We're upgrading 600 existing locomotives to increase reliability, improve fuel efficiency and reduce our carbon footprint," Heisterkamp said. "This is truly a gamechanger for Union Pacific."

The rail company has also seen a rise in demand to ship components for wind turbines, which Heisterkamp believes is a safer and more efficient way to transport turbine blades compared to moving them by truck.

Lung cancer awareness in November

The Henry and Stark County Health Department announces that November is Lung Cancer Awareness Month.. Lung cancer is the most common cause of cancer death in the United States and worldwide. In fact, lung cancer is responsible for more deaths in this country than the next three most common causes of cancer death combined – colorectal cancer, breast cancer, and pancreatic cancer.

Smoking is the most common cause of lung cancer. Other risk factors for lung cancer include secondhand smoke exposure, family history, and being treated with radiation therapy to the breast or chest, exposure to asbestos, chromium, nickel, arsenic, soot, or tar in the workplace, and exposure to radon. When smoking is combined with other risk factors, the risk of lung cancer is increased.

Therefore, it's always important to remind area residents about the Health Departments' Illinois Tobacco-Free Communities Grant activities.

In both Henry and Stark County our staff works continually to enforce, educate and encourage compliance with the Illinois Smoke-Free Act. The Smoke-free Illinois Act prohibits smoking in virtually all public places and workplaces.

Leet services moved to Boyd's Grove until April

BRADFORD – Leet Memorial Methodist Church services will be held at Boyd's Grove Methodist Church starting Sunday, Nov. 27. This arrangement will continue until the first Sunday of April.

Due to the high cost of heating fuel, the decision was made to combine services over the winter months.

Reverend Dan Wright of Hoop-pole is the new pastor of both congregations. To contact the pastor, call and leave a message at the Leet Church office.

The Bradford Food Pantry, that had been located at Leet Methodist on East Main St., will now be located at the First Baptist Church on Bonita Avenue. The same hours apply and the new location provides easier access.

– Angie Stange

Stoller's office serves as toy drop-off

PEORIA – In an effort to help ensure that all kids have a joyous holiday, State Sen. Win Stoller (R-Germantown Hills) is partnering with the U.S. Marine Toys for Tots Foundation to host a drop-off location at his Peoria district office.

The drop-off boxes will be in place until Dec. 9 at the Stoller's office located at 5415 N. University, Suite 105, Peoria, IL 61614. Operating hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The U.S. Marine Toys for Tots Foundations are seeking donations of new and unwrapped toys that are preferably around or above $10 as well as new books. Homemade toys will also be accepted.

Callais to retire from Birkey's after 11 years

HENRY – Birkey's Farm Store in Henry congratulates Les Callais, of Edelstein on his retirement and 11 years of service to Birkey's Farm Store. Les will retire on Dec. 30.

"I want to thank each of my customers for their support, business, and especially their friendship over the years," Callais said.

Birkey's in Henry will be hosting a retirement party for Les on Dec. 20 from 1-4 p.m.

Following Les' retirement Chris Rewerts of Wyoming, a long-time road technician, will be transitioning into the sales position starting Jan. 1.

"Les has been a great example of hard work and how to take care of our customers," Rewerts said. "I'm going to strive to maintain what Les has already built with our customers and will continue building genuine relationships with new customers."

Women Changing Ag event on Dec. 15

For The Prairie News

GALESBURG – The 2023 Women Changing the Face of Agriculture career exploration event will be held at Carl Sandburg College located in Galesburg, on March 3, 2023. Registration begins Dec. 15, 2022.

Each school or organization is limited to 8 student registrants and 1 chaperone. Registration will close on Feb. 17, 2023, or earlier if capacity is met. To register for the event, please visit Registration – WCFA (womenchangingthefaceofagriculture.com) for more information. The event is still open to professionals of agricultural related careers to be part of the event as career panelists or as sponsors.

This year's event will include a keynote speaker, rotation through five career panels, an etiquette session, and opportunities to network with professionals. A new addition to the career panel rotation this year are incorporated hands-on sessions which feature engineering, soil health, tractor and equipment design and service, and drone technology. In addition, we will recognize scholarship recipients as well as other award winners.

Our 2023 event keynote speaker is Miriam Hoffman of Earlville, Ill. Miriam Hoffman is a 22-year-old driven by curiosity and a love for people. Currently a senior at Southern Illinois University Carbondale, she will graduate in May of 2023 with a degree in agribusiness.

Illinois firearm hunters shoot over 52,000 deer

SPRINGFIELD – Despite high winds and cold in many parts of the state, hunters in Illinois harvested a preliminary total of 52,354 deer during the first weekend of the Illinois firearm deer season Nov. 18-20.

Comparatively, hunters took 48,964 deer during the first firearm weekend in 2021.

Illinois’ seven-day firearm deer season will conclude Dec. 1-4. Other deer hunting opportunities in the weeks ahead include:

- Muzzleloader-only deer season Dec. 9-11
- Late-winter antlerless-only and Chronic Wasting Disease deer seasons (in select counties only) Dec. 29-Jan. 1 and Jan.13-15
- Archery deer season continues through Jan. 15. (Note: archery deer hunting is closed Dec. 1-4 in counties open for firearm deer season.)

Hunters in Stark County shot 118 deer during the first season, compared to 113 last year and 126 in 2020.

Kill totals for Knox County showed 737 this year compared to 720 last year and 686 in 2020.

Henry County was up to 275 this year from 268 last fall, but was down from 291 in 2020.

- Turkey totals – Hunters in Illinois harvested a statewide total of 267 wild turkeys during the 2022 fall gun turkey season, Oct. 22-30, up slightly from 255 in 2021. The record harvest was set in 2005 when 1,218 birds were harvested.

Fall gun hunting was open in 56 of Illinois’ 102 counties.

The top counties were Jo Daviess (19), Williamson (15), Winnebago (13), Marion (12) and Jackson (12). Preliminary data show 52 percent of the harvest were female birds.

- Turkey totals – Youth interested in participating in the Illinois Department of Natural Resources’ annual Central Illinois Youth Goose Hunt on Jan. 16 can register now. The hunt will be held at private waterfowl hunting clubs in Fulton County.

Registration begins Dec. 1 and will close Dec. 31. To register visit the following link:

Flagpole removed from Old Capitol

By PETER HANCOCK
For Capitol News Illinois
SPRINGFIELD –

People walking through downtown Springfield on Monday morning looked up to an unusual sight – a helicopter hovering over the Old State Capitol, dropping a rope and lifting away the flagpole that sat atop the bronze-colored dome.

“We took off the flagpole of at the Old State Capitol today in preparation for a new automated one that will be going up probably in a few months,” said Troy Gilmore, assistant site superintendent for the Springfield State Historic Sites with the Illinois Department of Natural Resources.

The operation took fewer than 15 minutes and was part of an ongoing renovation project that has kept the historic building shrouded behind scaffolding for about two years. The project involves repairing roof leaks, repairing and replacing windows, and replacing portions of the columns known as “capitals” – the decorative portions at the top of Corinthian columns.

Gilmore said replacing the manually controlled flagpole with an automated one will improve safety for workers who raise and lower the flag to half-staff or full staff when occasions call for it.

The Old State Capitol, located a few blocks northeast of the current Statehouse, was used by lawmakers from 1840 to 1876. It was the Capitol when Abraham Lincoln served in the Illinois House and it is where he delivered his famous “House Divided” speech in 1858 after accepting the Republican Party nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Gilmore said that when the legislature left the building in 1876, it was purchased by Sangamon

County, which operated it for the next 90 years, during which time it made several substantial changes.

“The most drastic change that the county made was in 1900, when they raised the building up 11 feet taller than it even stands today,” he said. “And that was to add another level of offices on the ground floor. So, after 1902 you walked straight into the building off of the street level, you didn’t even walk up the steps as you would have today.”

The state of Illinois purchased the building in 1966 and launched a three-year restoration project to return the building to its original state, a project that involved taking the building apart and rebuilding it piece-by-piece.

Gilmore said the current renovation project will soon move into its second phase, which will involve removing asbestos from the boiler rooms and installing new restrooms for the first time since the 1960s.

He did not offer an estimate of when the entire project will be complete.

OBITUARIES

Marcia L. Anderson

GALVA – Marcia L. Anderson, 85, of Galva, died at 8:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 17, 2022, at Betty’s Garden Memory Care in Kewanee.

Funeral services were Nov. 22 at Rux Funeral Home in Galva. Visitation was from 5-7 p.m. Nov. 21 at the funeral home. Burial was to be in Galva Cemetery. Memorials may be directed to Messiah Lutheran Church or the Galva Public Library.

Marcia was born March 16, 1937, in Kewanee, the daughter of Leonard and Arlene (Davis) Peterson. She married R. Douglas Anderson on Aug. 26, 1956, at Messiah Lutheran Church, but they were together since May of 1950, enjoying 72 years together.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Doug Anderson of Galva and Chris (Lucy) Anderson of Riantan; and four grandchildren, Clayton, Lily, Christina and Amber.

Marcia was preceded in death by her parents.

She had graduated from Galva High School in 1955 and from the Chicago Art Institute. She had worked in the office and lab at the Galva Creamery. She had operated two antique shops with Becky Harber, the Bonnet Hill Antiques and the Grey Goose in Bishop Hill. Marcia also did doll making for 10 years for Tasha Tudor and had worked at Good’s Furniture in Kewanee for the last 10 years.

She was a member of Messiah Lutheran Church. She enjoyed traveling and had taken 11 trips with Doug to Europe over the years and also spent time on the East Coast and had a home on Cape Cod with Doug. She enjoyed collecting early American antiques and spending time with her family.

This obituary may be viewed and private condolences left at www.ruxfuneralhome.com.

Joann Eaton

WYOMING – Joann Eaton, 74, of Wyoming, passed away at 4:05 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, 2022, at her residence. Joann was born on April 8, 1948, in Kewanee, the daughter of Jacob D. and Loretta C. (Tracy) McBride.

Surviving are her son, Gilbert Eaton of Bradford; daughters, Paula (Russell) Potter of Kewanee and Tammy Eaton of Toulon; 10 grandchildren, Payton Eaton, Alisha Hyde, Sarah Hyde, John Hyde III, Grace Potter, Ashton Potter, Justin Potter, Colton Potter, Dalton Potter and Taylor Libby; 11 great-grandchildren; two sisters, Donetta (Daniel) Berchtold of Wyoming and Peggy (Vern Crain) Young of Kewanee; and several nieces and nephews.

Joann was preceded in death by her parents; three siblings, Sandy Hawksworth, Richard McBride and Jacob McBride Jr.; and one great-granddaughter, Jazmine Dearing.

Joann worked at the former Pines Trailers and later at Nelson Sprinkler Inc. for many years. She enjoyed cooking, crocheting, shopping, and watching TV. She loved her dog KiKi dearly. Joann was very giving, caring, and truly had a heart of gold. She was loved and will be missed by many.

A celebration of Joann’s life will be at a later date. Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services in Wyoming is assisting the family with arrangements.

Condolences may be left for Joann’s family on her tribute wall at www.haskellfuneral.com.

Leo L. King

LaFAYETTE – Leo L. King, 92, of LaFayette, loving husband, father and friend passed away Monday, Nov. 21, 2022, at 9:45 a.m. at OSF St. Luke’s Hospital in Kewanee.

He was born Oct. 22, 1930, in Victoria, Ill., to parents Avery and Lillie (Swanson) King. They both precede him in death. He married Judith “Judy” Bandy on July 6, 1964, in Aurora; she survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Kip (Alpana) King of Castro Valley, Calif., and Toby (Carol) King of Springfield, Ill.; five grandchildren, Rowan, Gabrielle, Sofia, Katerina and Eden King; many nieces, nephews, and cousins; three brother-in-laws, Mike, Tim and Ned; and one sister-in-law, Jill. He is also preceded in death by one sister, Betty; two brothers, Dean and Richard; his in-laws, Betty and Homer; and his grandparents, Ambrose Loren King and Sarah E. (Collinson) King.

Leo graduated as valedictorian of the class of 1947 from the former LaFayette High School. He served in the United States Marine Corps; was a former coal miner at Allendale; and later drove the bus for the Stark County School District. He was a founding member of the Allendale Conservation Club; was a member of the LaFayette and Toulon American Legion; and was active in the coffee club in LaFayette.

He enjoyed woodworking and spending time with his family.

A visitation will be Tuesday, Nov. 29, 2022, from 5-6 p.m. at Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services, Wyoming. His burial will be at a later date in LaFayette Cemetery.

Wesley L. Wilkinson

NEPONSET – Wesley L. Wilkinson, 74, of Neponset, passed away at 10:01 a.m. on Sunday, Nov. 20, 2022, at OSF St. Luke’s Hospital in Kewanee.

Wesley was born on Nov. 24, 1947, in Kewanee, the son of Wesley N. and Charlotte (Welch) Wilkinson. He married his wife of over 50 years, Denise Egnew on Jan. 29, 1972, in Toulon.

Surviving are his wife; son, Corey (Rachel) Wilkinson; daughter, Jennifer (Bob) Davis; grandchildren, Ian (Paige), Harrison, Caleb (Breanna), Kylee and Lexi; great-grandchildren, Joey, Berkleigh, Demi, Elaine, Levi and another on the way; brothers, Robert (Janet) and Philip (Patricia) Wilkinson; and sister, Carolyn Conklin.

He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, Paul Wilkinson.

Wes served in the United States Army from 1969-71. He was an engineer and was awarded a bronze star.

Wes was a member of the First Congregational Church of Toulon. He owned and operated Wilkinson Farm Drainage from 1981 to 2019. He was a proud cancer survivor and an extremely hard-working man. He was always available to help family, friends, and community.

Wes loved old cars, tractors, and working on things. Wes took pride in his 1931 Chevy Coupe that his brother Paul and dear friend Butch put together and restored. He especially enjoyed watching his grandchildren play sports and loved his family with all of his heart.

His funeral service was Wednesday, Nov. 23, 2022, at Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services in Wyoming. Visitation was Nov. 22, 2022, from 5-7 p.m. also at the funeral home. Burial was in the Elmira Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Illinois CancerCare Foundation. Please make a note on your donation that this is in memory of Wesley Wilkinson and you would like the donation to go to the Trust in Hope program.

Condolences may be left for Wes’s family on his tribute wall at www.haskellfuneral.com.

Frank E. Kingen

PRINCEVILLE – Frank E. Kingen, 84, of Princeville, Ill., formerly Sparland, died on Nov. 20, 2022 at UnityPoint Health-Proctor in Peoria.

Born on Sept. 7, 1938 to the late James “Ab” and Margaret “Jigs” (Smith) Kingen, he married Ethel “Effie” Davis on July 4, 1959, in Sparland. Effie died on Aug. 7, 1993.

Frank is survived by his companion of the last 20 years, Earline Medearis of Princeville; daughter Julie (Jason) Scherer of Sparland; sons Brian (Amber) Kingen of Sparland and Tadd (Roberta) Kingen of Lacon; and six grandchildren. Other survivors include Earline’s family, Pam Snyder of Peoria Heights, Betty Jo Broadway of Lacon, Michelle (Brian) Woodie of Bloomington, Jennifer (Corey) Hart of Toulon, Amanda (Jerry) Poole of Mattoon, with 21 great-grandchildren between he and Earline.

Visitation for Frank will be held Sunday, Nov. 27, from 4-6 p.m. at Lenz Memorial Home in Lacon. Funeral services will be Monday, Nov. 28, at 10 a.m. at the funeral home. Burial will be in the Sparland Cemetery and memorials can be made to the Princeville Akron Fire and Ambulance Service or PAWS Animal Shelter.

Julmarknad next two weekends at Bishop Hill

BISHOP HILL – Visitors can prepare for the holidays by attending Julmarknad in Bishop Hill over the next two weekends.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 25, Nov. 26 and Dec. 3. On Nov. 27 and Dec. 4, the hours are from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Daily attractions include Swedish folk characters, traditional Swedish holiday decorations, holiday music, craft activities, and Christmas gifts for sale. All shops, museums, and restaurants will be open.

Visitors can see Tomten, Swedish elves in their red and grey outfits. A working model railroad will also be in the Steeple Building Museum, with a Christmas display. The Vasa National Archives will have take home Dala Horse kits available. Each $5 kit has a horse, three colors of paint and two brushes. Supplies are limited. Reserve them by calling (309) 927-3898 or emailing VasaArchivist@gmail.com.

In addition, visitors to the Vasa National Archives can participate at the make-and-take Dala Horse station by painting their horses in the basement to let dry while shopping. Dala Horses are $5 and painting is free.

The Peasant Works will have a traditional Scandinavian photo-op stand at the 1882 Poppy Barn and a free make-and-take for the kids. These activities will happen each day of Julmarknad.

On Nov. 25 only, a cookie walk will be held at the Colony School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Homemade baked goods will be sold. The Bishop Hill Methodist Church will host an Advent Workshop where families can make wreaths to take home. Finally, cookie baking will be done in the Bjorklund Hotel kitchen, 1-3 p.m.

On Nov. 26 only, the cookie walk will continue at the Colony School. Author Lilly Setterdahl, author of “Until the Lights Come Back On,” will have a book signing at the Colony Store from 10:30 am. to noon. Setterdahl will then be at the Vasa National Archive from 1-3 p.m. to discuss work done by her husband to preserve the Swedish-American experience and to answer questions related to genealogy.

Setterdahl’s visit coincides with the closing reception of the “Documenting Swedish-America: A Setterdahl Family Tradition” exhibit. Light refreshments will be available.

Authors Mary Davidsaver and Jan-nifer Powelson will sign books at the Prairie Arts Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cookie baking will continue at the Bjorklund Hotel kitchen.

On Sunday, Nov.27 only, cookie baking will continue at the Bjorklund Hotel kitchen from 1-3 p.m.

ALL SPORTS ROUNDUP

Kieser earns all-state; Stark Co. 7th grade moves on

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Prairie News

Stark County senior Daniel Kieser was selected to the Illinois High School Football Coaches Association all-state team for Class 1A.

Kieser was selected as a defensive back and kicker to the all-state squad.

Farmington senior quarterback Gage Renken and ROWVA-Williamsfield senior offensive lineman Graham Wight were also selected as all-staters. Renken made the Class 2A team and Wight the Class 1A first team.

Elmwood-Brimfield senior line-backer Slone Windish and senior lineman Caleb Hollis were honorable- mention picks in Class 3A and Princeville’s Kellen Francis was honorable mention in Class 1A.

Other players picked who are familiar to area teams include:

- Class 2A – Honorable mention for Knoxville TE/P Braden Downs.
- Class 4A – Macomb junior WR JT Jeter and honorable mention to senior QB Jack Duncan.
- Regional champs – The No. 1 seed Stark County girls 7th grade basketball team topped No. 2 seed Williamsfield on Tuesday, 18-16, to win the Brimfield Class 7-2A regional.

Stark County (17-3) moves on in the IESA postseason to play the winner between Illini Bluffs and Peoria Christian on Wednesday, Nov. 30, at 6:30 p.m. at Brimfield Grade School in the sectional final.

In the semifinals, Stark County beat Brimfield 11-9 and Williamsfield topped Elmwood, 28-13.

• Galva girls hoops – Point guard Lexi Stone made the all-tournament team for Galva (2-2) at the Ridge-wood/ ROWVA-Williamsfield tournament

Galva routed Bushnell-Prairie City in tourney play on Saturday, 45-12, as post player Kendall Rogers led the Wildcats with 13 points while Ava Strom added 12, Kali Yelm had 7 and Maddie Bates scored 5.

Last Friday at the tournament, Galva rolled Rockridge, 41-21. Stone led with 14 points, Strom scored 13 and Sarah Kaiser tallied 5.

“They are getting better at new things every day,” Coach Dan Russell said. “Our defensive intensity was great Friday night. Very pleased with how they shared the ball the last two games. Everyone contributed offensively. It was a nice way to finish up the tournament.

Galva had its Monday game cancelled and will return to action Monday, Nov. 28, at home against Henry.

• SC girls hoops – The Lady Rebels (1-1) wrapped up play at the Princeton Tournament last Friday with a 37-34 loss to Putnam County.

Putnam County shot 5-for-12 from the line in the fourth quarter and Ava Hatton scored 8 of her 26 points to hold on after the game had been tied 28-28 after three.

Payten Hillier led Stark County with 14 points, Paige Rewerts scored 9 and Lindley Johnston tallied 7 for the Lady Rebels.

Stark County is back in action Wednesday, Nov. 30, at Princeville.

• State champs – Former Lincoln Trail Conference member West Central (13-0) won the Illinois 8-Man Football Association state title last Friday, topping Amboy, 44-36, at Monmouth College.

Kaiden Droste ran for 177 yards and four touchdowns in the win while quarterback Mason Carnes also ran for two scores.

BOYS BKB: New coach leads 8-man Galva squad

Jett Olson, senior post player Jaxson Willer and junior guard Carter DeVenney.

Although his roster is small (eight players), McClintic suggested it has substance.

“We have a lot of basketball IQ on the roster,” he stated. “Every player is making smart decisions with the ball as well as moving without the ball.”

That helps give McClintic high hopes and expectations.

Monday night in the season-opening ROWVA-Williamsfield Invitational, Galva lost to the hosts, 82-34. John Gravitt had a team-high 11 points for Galva, and DeVenney scored eight.

On Tuesday night against West Central, the Wildcats lost 46-24. Galva is to conclude tournament play with three games this weekend: Friday against United and Saturday against Port Byron Riverdale and Henry.

Princeville

Second-year Princeville Coach Tait Sennett is looking to a core group of juniors and seniors to help improve upon an 11-15 record in his first season. That gang of four consists of seniors Marcus Daily and Jordan Johnson, and juniors Tayshaun Kieser and Zach Stalter.

Johnson is returning from injury, but Daily averaged two rebounds and almost five points per game in 2021-22. Kieser is the leading returning scorer and rebounder (6.3 points, 3.5 boards). Stalter averaged 5.7 points.

Kieser and Johnson are the Princes’ outside threats, according to Sennett, Daily and Stalter are to anchor the middle.

Princeville lost four regular starters from last season, but underclassmen worked into the lineup late in the year, according to Sennett.

After a season-opening 69-59 loss Monday night to Brimfield at the Turkey Tournament, the Princes played Wednesday against Midwest Central. Kieser had a team-high 12 points in the opener.

Princeville continues Brimfield-tourney play Friday against Knox-ville at 6:30 p.m. and Saturday against Tremont at 5.

ROWVA-Williamsfield

The ageless wonder, Bob Anderson, is back for his 44th season as head coach. Given the talent on this R-W squad, Anderson might stick around for a 45th.

R-W returns four of its core players from last season’s 16-16 team. Seniors Graham Wight and Adam Kohl are joined by two juniors, Riley Danner and Lewis Sams. Wight, a 6-4 senior, was the Cougars’ top scorer (18 ppg).

A couple of Galva transfers might help R-W, too. Junior Braxton Rylander is now at ROWVA and sophomore Talan Hull transferred to Williamsfield.

Overall, the R-W roster is deep (16 players) and athletic. Danner, Kohl, Sams and Wight were keys on a R-W football team that reached the second round of the Class 1A playoffs.

If that all comes to pass, R-W could challenge Illini Bluffs and Peoria Christian for Inter-County supremacy and Mercer County and Princeville in the Lincoln Trail.

The Cougars opened Monday with an 82-34 victory over Galva in the R-W Invitational. Danner had 19 points and Sams and Wight had 10.

Rebels ready to win

Four starters back for Stark County boys basketball

The 2021-22 boys basketball season was the first in 11 years in which Stark County finished with more victories than defeats.

Good news for Rebels Coach Dusty Browning: The core of that team is back this season, which began Monday night in Kewanee at the week-long Wally Keller Invitational.

Stark County beat tournament-host Weathersfield 45-39 behind 22 points from junior guard Luke Rewerts. He scored 20 in the second half.

Including Rewerts, Stark County has four returning starters – senior forwards Joey Harmon and Xander Swank and senior guard Daniel Kieser are the others. Kieser and Rewerts received all-Lincoln Trail Conference honors.

They all provide Browning a good cushion to absorb the loss of James Groter. As a senior last season, Groter was a first-team Lincoln Trail selection as Stark County finished 17-16 overall and 6-5 in the conference, good for fifth place.

“We hope that nucleus can improve upon the standard set last year,” Browning stated. “We bring both experience and scoring back from last year’s team, and hopefully that will translate to being more consistent and competitive throughout the entire season.”

Among newcomers likely to contribute this season are senior guards Jack Colgan and Jordan McCauley, junior guard Matthew Bowers and sophomore forward Ross Saner.

If offense is plentiful for Stark County, defense might be questionable. According to Browning, Stark County will need to be more disruptive against opposing ballhandlers and more aggressive in rebounding.

“At times, we struggled last year on both defensive and offensive boards,” Browning said.

Should those improvements come to pass, Stark County might be in contention for a Lincoln Trail championship and a Class 1A regional title, according to its coach.

“That is the top of the mountain for us, and we always look to finish the season playing our best basketball,” Browning stated.

Tuesday night at Kewanee, Stark County defeated Annawan 52-47 as Kieser scored 29, including 23 in the second half. The Rebels also played Wednesday night against Putnam County and are to play Friday against Bureau Valley and Saturday against Elmwood in their tourney finale.

Galva

A new coach hopes to bring a new approach at Galva, which lost 28 of its 29 games last season.

Jake McClintic, who played for Galva in the 2000s, takes over after the Wildcats finished 0-11 in the Lincoln Trail. He will try to rebuild behind four returning varsity players: senior guards Jaxson Meier and
