Supreme Court stays cash bail provisions statewide

By JERRY NOWICKI

Capitol News Illinois

SPRINGFIELD – A Kankakee County judge ruled Wednesday, Dec. 28, that lawmakers overreached their constitutional authority in passing a measure to abolish cash bail in Illinois, while other provisions in the wide-ranging SAFE-T Act criminal justice reform were not affected by the ruling.

The ruling by Judge Thomas W. Cunnington initially left the impending cash bail reform in limbo in at least 64 of Illinois' 102 counties that had joined the consolidated lawsuit ahead of the reform's scheduled Jan. 1 implementation.

A Dec. 31 order from the Illinois Supreme Court, however, stayed the cash bail provisions' implementation for all 102 counties until the court could rule on an appeal to the case on an expedited but indefinite timeline. The ruling prevented an uneven application of pretrial practices, as many counties had planned to forge ahead with cash bail changes until the order was issued.

Local counties involved with the lawsuit include Knox and Fulton. Peoria and Marshall counties had also indicated they would implement the new bail reform measures.

"(On Dec. 28) the Pretrial Fairness Act was declared unconstitutional. Although Peoria County did not participate in this ruling, we are required to follow it," Peoria County State's Attorney

Jodi Hoos said in a press release. "When a statute is unconstitutional, the statute becomes invalid and has no force or effect on anyone. As a result, and until the Illinois Supreme Court provides further clarification, we will abide by this ruling and not implement the new bail reform."

Neither Cunnington's ruling nor the Supreme Court order invalidated other provisions of the SAFE-T Act that had already taken effect, such as reforms to police officer training and certification standards and police body camera requirements.

Cunnington wrote in a 36-page decision that the cash bail provisions effectively and improperly amended a section of the state's constitution that states "all persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties," except in a few specific circumstances.

He also wrote that ending cash bail is an improper overreach by lawmakers, who have no constitutional authority to govern the

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS FAMILY

Elmwood steps up for fire victims

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – New Year's Eve celebrations quickly turned to anguish for John Mumma and his family last weekend. While ringing in the New Year with family in West Peoria, Mumma got a call that his house in Elmwood was on fire.

But while the fire has displaced the family of five from their residence at 307 N. Lilac St., Mumma said community response to their plight has been "amazing."

"The people that have come out of the woodwork is unreal," Mumma said. "They've offered everything from toothbrushes to furniture and appliances and games for the kids."

The outpouring of support continued Monday when the Mummas reopened their Elmwood eatery, Toot's Treats.

"I have never seen that place so packed in my life," Mumma said. "They literally ran us out of everything. They completely emptied us. We sold more (Monday) than we usually do in two weeks."

Community response has helped ease what has been a very difficult few days for the Mummas.

The Elmwood Fire Department was called to the Mumma residence at about 7:04 p.m. on Dec. 31 because of an out-of-control commercial wood burner used to heat a house. Duct work from the burner carried fire and smoke into the house, according to Elmwood Fire Department Chief Bob Tannock.

Mumma said a blower motor on the Interest rates not hurting land prices

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

As the cold, post-holiday reality of winter arrives, land auction season is ready to get hot. And while interest rates doubled in 2022, land prices have still increased.

In fact, on Dec. 20, Murray Wise Associates auctioned a farm that is believed to have generated the highest sales price ever in Henry County. A 38-acre parcel of high-quality soils located just southwest of Kewanee sold for $21,100 per acre and a 9-acre tract sold for $18,100 per acre.

While that pales in comparison to the $30,000-per-acre price tag from a Nov. 11 auction in Iowa for 73.19 acres, it does underline a market trend that has seen land prices increase by an estimated 42 percent since 2020. During the first half of 2022, farmland prices rose by 18 percent across Illinois and many expected that to stagnate. If the Henry County sale is any indication, that does not appear to be happening.

LAND: Outside investors attracted to Illinois

“We had a good mix of farmers and investors. Farmers were a major factor in this auction because it makes sense to purchase this and integrate it into their existing operations,” said Liz Strom, a Toulon native who is a vice president at Murray Wise.

On the same day it conducted the $21,100 sale, Murray Wise auctioned a 78-acre Grundy County farm for $16,200 per acre. That land had average soils for the area, but also had an existing lease for a wind turbine.

“That we were able to have two sales of such success in different locations and dissimilar farms just goes to show how strong the market is holding up in the face of higher interest rates,” said Eric Sarff, President of Murray Wise. “We had 25 and 32 bidders registered for each auction respectively and of those we had 12 bidders place bids during the auctions with farmers and investors alike participating.”

Van Adkisson of Roseville has also seen prices remain strong at the auctions he has conducted, including a $20,200 price tag for a 47-acre tract sold Nov. 18 in Warren County, northwest of Roseville.

“I don’t think we’ve seen the interest rates impact the Class A land, but I think it has started to affect the lower-class lands,” said Adkisson, who classifies Class A land as having a productivity index over 138.

Adkisson said commodity prices have remained high enough to stabilize land values and to attract investors from other parts of the country.

Adkisson, who has been selling farms for 49 years, said his best recent sale was $20,750 per acre for a 77.9-acre parcel located between Galesburg and Monmouth that sold on Sept. 2. The ground had a PI of 146.3.

“That got the attention of some outside investors and we sold it to a guy with farming interests in California, Arkansas and Illinois,” Adkisson said. “We’re seeing the strongest per-acre prices we’ve ever seen and we’re seeing more outside interest. I think that’s due a lot to the technology we use to market these properties online and that sort of thing.”

Adkisson said the interest being shown by outside investors could help minimize any expected price correction for Class A farmland.

“The commodity prices are a big part of it and there is not a lot of money being borrowed,” Adkisson said. “I think if we do have a correction, we’re not going to see a real radical one.”

NON CONSIDERED A "THREAT TO DEMOCRACY"

It's never too late to show some kindness

The future is easily predictable, especially if you have access to a photocopier and a fax machine.

At least that was the successful business plan of a central Illinois neighbor who, for decades, maintained she had received the "gift" of clairvoyance after surviving a lightning strike. Once word of her talent spread, our one-stoplight, no-railroad town became a hub for people "who needed to know."

Two consequences of this human tide quickly became apparent. First, there was no end to it; wave after wave of answer-seekers came day after day and year after year until the neighbor died. Second, people often mistook our house for hers – identical house numbers, one street apart – and, for years, pushed our doorbell 24/7 instead of hers.

The crush was, in fact, so large – and here's where the photocopier and fax come in – that clients who called for appointments were instructed to photocopy their palms and fax them to her office. Later, she telephoned the senders to "read" these prints for, reportedly, $20, cash or credit.

Were her predictions accurate? My guess is that accuracy wasn't why people consulted her. Most, I came to surmise as I watched the parade of clients come and go, just wanted answers – any answer really – to their problems and, for $20, cash or credit, she gave 'em one.

I know what you're thinking: Scam, right?

I thought the same for years, especially after answering another 2 a.m. doorbell ring. But I was wrong. What the neighbor actually sold to all those people over all those years was comfort. She wasn't a trained counselor or licensed social worker, but she understood what people were really seeking in seeking her out.

The key to that comfort-giving was something that cost nothing: kindness. Either in person or by telephone, my neighborhood clairvoyant listened to peoples' woes and worries before kindly offering her views and, I guess, visions. Moreover, I never heard any complaints about her abilities, advice, or fees.

In fact, another neighbor, the town's longtime police chief, believed "there's something to her" after she correctly advised him on a missing-persons case he had not asked her about.

"Hey," he told me in a solemn tone, "I don't understand it but I do understand why people go to her."

In all our years as neighbors, however, I only had two, very brief dealings with her. Once, when raking leaves near the street we shared, her long, blue Cadillac DeVille glided to a stop and the front passenger window (she never drove) lowered in a steady electric whir.

"This house speaks to me," she announced and, after barely pausing, the window whirred to a close and off she was driven.

I would like to have known what my house had to say but, alas, she either didn't have time or I hadn't forked over a Jackson quickly enough so off she glided.

The second time – and while I didn't know it, perhaps she did – the last time we spoke, I was again raking leaves when I looked up to see her walking toward me. In the nearly 20 years we had been neighbors, I had never seen her walk, so I was momentarily struck silent.

Even more odd was that her trademark, beehived hair was wrapped in what appeared to be an acre of gauze. Everything about her said "swami."

"I wanted to thank your lovely wife for the jam she dropped by," said the swami in a steady voice. "It was absolutely delicious."

I'll tell her, I stammered while staring at the gauze. Are you well? I asked.

"Oh," she said, "no worries. I had a bit of brain surgery this week."

She then pivoted and slowly returned the way she had come.

Did she say brain surgery?

Later, when I tracked down my lovely spouse to report the rare, strange conversation, Catherine's only response was "That's odd, I took her the jelly last Christmas," 10 months earlier.

The tardiness of the "thank you" is odd?

But, in fact, it's never too late for kindness – even at this very late date.

Uncertain energy market lingers for 2023

By DANIEL GRANT
FarmWeek

Nationwide, diesel and gasoline prices have dropped from November into December, offering consumers some relief. But prices are still up $1.29 per gallon for diesel and 5 cents for gasoline compared to the first week of December compared to last year. So what can consumers expect through the month and into next year?

"We expect the combination of a slight contraction in the U.S. economy and refinery maximization of distillate fuel production will reduce distillate prices," EIA noted in a short-term energy outlook. "However, the EU's ban on seaborne imports of petroleum products from Russia creates supply and price uncertainty to distillate markets in early 2023."

The markets also must contend with a decision by OPEC to maintain crude-oil output cuts of 2 million barrels per day, or about 2 percent of world demand.

The purpose of the move is to boost the global price of oil, which has fallen recently on fears of demand weakness, particularly in China, according to AAA—the Auto Club Group.

"Gas prices are dropping sharply and are only a nickel more per gallon than a year ago," said Molly Hart, AAA spokesperson.

"But, with oil being the main ingredient of gasoline, OPEC's move could slow this decline. However, the gas price will likely soon be lower than it was a year ago."

EIA projects global oil inventories could decline by 200,000 barrels per day the first half of 2023 before rising nearly 700,000 barrels per day the second half of the year. That would leave global oil inventories higher at the end of 2023 than previously projected.

Winter expenses rise

The projection of higher winter heating demand mixed with tight supplies of some fuels could boost the cost for U.S. citizens to heat their homes and businesses this winter, along with other electrical needs.

"Winter energy expenditures for most households likely will be higher than last winter. Expenditures could be much higher if the weather is very cold," EIA noted in its winter fuels outlook.

EIA estimates winter expenditures could rise by an average of 28 percent for natural gas, 27 percent for heating oil, 10 percent for electricity and 5 percent for propane this season compared to last year. Total winter expenditures account for all costs, not just home heating, from October through March.

"We expect natural gas prices to increase from November levels as a result of both higher winter natural gas demand and rising exports," EIA reported in its short-term outlook. "We expect natural gas prices will begin declining after January as U.S. storage levels move closer to the previous five-year average."

The highest projected electricity prices for this winter are in New England, because of capacity constraints on pipelines delivering natural gas into that region.

Nationwide, almost 90 percent of homes are primarily heated with natural gas. The use of heating oil and propane is regionally concentrated.

Minor chlorine leak at Princeville water plant

• PRINCEVILLE – The Princeville village water-treatment plant was the site of a minor chlorine-gas leak last week, according to authorities.

The leak was reported shortly before 11:30 a.m. Dec. 29 in a structure between the main plant and the Village Hall, according to Jeff Troutman, first assistant chief of the Akron-Princeville Fire Protection District. Troutman also is the Princeville village president.

An employee at the water-treatment plant walked past the structure and heard hissing, Troutman said. The noise was from a leaking chlorine-gas cylinder. The employee was unable to stop the leak. The Peoria Fire Department hazardous-materials team was summoned to cap it.

Local firefighters closed a nearby intersection and set up an emergency decontamination area in case it was needed, according to Troutman. He estimated the capacity of the cylinder at less than 40 gallons.

“A lot more time went into getting ready to go in and shut it off than the actual shutoff,” Troutman said. “If it would have ruptured and released the entire contents, by the time we got up there it all would have been over with. It wasn’t a 500-gallon tank sitting there.

“If you were standing within 50 yards of it, you never would have known it was leaking.”

The village employee who discovered the leak inhaled some of the gas, according to Troutman. The employee was treated at a hospital and released. Troutman attributed the leak to a malfunctioning heater that caused washers around the tank fitting to melt.

Police reports

• KICKAPOO – A traffic stop near Kickapoo resulted in the arrest of a Wyoming, Ill., man accused of multiple illicit-drugs offenses.

Carl P. Porter, 45, was transported to the Peoria County Jail following the stop, which took place about 1:30 a.m. Dec. 22 in the 7000 block of N. Kickapoo-Edwards Rd.

According to the Peoria County Sheriff’s Office, Porter did not use a turn signal when the 2002 Pontiac Grand Prix he was driving left the Freedom Oil station at Interstate 74 and Kickapoo-Edwards Road. A license-plate light also was not functioning.

Inside the vehicle, deputies found two bags of methamphetamine, two suspected ecstasy pills, two glass smoking pipes, two scales and a packet of cannabis, the report stated.

Porter was charged with meth possession, possession of a controlled substance and possession of drug paraphernalia. He was issued citations for operating an uninsured motor vehicle and a malfunctioning registration light. He also was wanted in Fulton, Logan and Tazewell counties.

Of three passengers in the vehicle, two were questioned and released. Charges against the third passenger, a 26-year-old woman, were pending based on Illinois State Police testing of the suspected ecstasy pills.

• FARMINGTON – A rural-Farmington residence sustained about $5,000 in damage after a Lacon man drove into it, according to authorities.

The incident happened about 2:45 a.m. Dec. 22 in the 22200 block of W. Smithville Rd. According to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report, the driver, 20-year-old Peyton G. Cordes, was found walking in the 400 block of S. Cramer Rd., almost 3 miles north of the accident site.

Cordes said he had been to a Peoria bar, then drove to a friend’s house and was driving home when the accident happened. Cordes called his mother, then his cellphone died and he began to walk because he was scared, the report stated.

The vehicle, a 2013 Chevrolet Impala, traveled through the intersection at Cramer and Smithville roads, through a yard, broke a plastic snow fence and struck the northwest exterior wall of a house. The house was unoccupied. The vehicle sustained damage to its hood, grille and front bumper.

Cordes was cited for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident, leaving the scene of an accident and operating an uninsured motor vehicle.

• CHILLICOTHE – An Edelstein woman was uninjured following a single-vehicle accident southwest of Chillicothe.

Kelsey A. Wakeland was driving a 2015 Mitsubishi Outlander around 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 26 in the 15100 block of N. Old Galena Rd. when the northbound vehicle hit black ice and went off the roadway, a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report stated.

The vehicle struck a mailbox and continued into a ditch about 50 feet north. The driver’s-side front bumper was damaged and undercarriage pieces were broken.

• EDWARDS – A Peoria female was transported to a hospital following a single-vehicle accident east of Edwards.

About 6 p.m. Dec. 25, Savannah E. Bushman was driving a 2002 Honda CRV west in the 10900 block of Illinois Route 8 when the vehicle hit black ice, fishtailed, struck a power pole, rolled multiple times and came to rest on its side about 50 yards off the pavement, a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report stated.

Bushman was taken to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria, where she was treated for minor injuries. The vehicle was towed.

BAIL: State will appeal to Supreme Court

 administrative functions of Illinois courts because of the separation of powers. Bail, Cunnington wrote, has been held by the Supreme Court to be “administrative” in nature.

The constitution also specifically mentions bail in a section on victims’ rights, when it states victims have a right “to have the safety of the victim and the victim’s family considered in denying or fixing the amount of bail.” Cunnington found that eliminating bail prevents courts from “effectuating the constitutionally mandated safety of the victims and their families.”

Illinois Attorney General Kwame Raoul said in a news release the state will appeal the decision directly to the state Supreme Court. That appeal was filed Dec. 30.

“Most of the SAFE-T Act’s provisions have been in effect for more than a year, and regardless of today’s circuit court decision, all parts of the SAFE-T Act, including the pretrial release portions addressed in the court’s decision, will go into effect Jan 1,” Raoul said. “For instance, the right of individuals awaiting criminal trials – people who have not been convicted of a crime and are presumed innocent – to seek release from jail without having to pay cash bail will go into effect in a few short days, despite the court’s ruling against those provisions.”

Cunnington rejected other arguments by the dozens of state’s attorneys that centered on the legislative process, namely that the bill was not given a proper hearing and violated the “single subject” rule. Court precedent holds that as long as the House speaker and Senate president certify that a bill is properly passed, courts have no standing to intervene, he wrote.

The Supreme Court’s Dec. 31 order also noted the clerk of the Supreme Court is “directed to contact the parties and coordinate an expedited process for this appeal.”

FIRE: Firefighters rescued two dogs from home

 wood-burning stove malfunctioned, causing the unit to send flames blowing out of ductwork and “up the walls and everything.”

Elmwood Fire Captain

Matt Goedecke assumed command at the scene and instructed crews to put out the wood burner, located at the back of the house, where thick smoke and fire were first spotted.

and Brimfield fire protection districts then arrived and assisted Elmwood in making forceable entry into the home, according to Tannock. Crews also rescued the Mummas’ two dogs, Gunner and Bullet.

“We got a phone call asking if there was anybody or any pets in the house,” Mumma said. “I said the dogs were in there and then I heard a big bang and they kicked the front door in and they had the dogs out before they started on the fire.”

The fire appeared limited to the basement, but floor-to-ceiling smoke elsewhere was heavy. Smoke damage was significant but structural damage was minimal, according to Tannock. Mumma said the fire “took all the plumbing and wiring.”

Initial damage estimates were placed at $20,000 to $30,000 according to authorities.

Firefighters were at the scene for about two hours. The Mummas declined American Red Cross assistance.

“The firefighters and EMTs do not get enough credit for what they do,” Mumma said.

Mumma, his wife, Kindra, and their three children have been staying with a family member since the fire but have also been offered use of a neighbor’s apartment.

“People have just stepped up and the community is so loving,” Mumma said.

A friend, Carly Turner, has also established a GoFundMe page that through Tuesday had generated 43 donations worth $3,865.

Illinois National Guard turning 300

SPRINGFIELD – On May 9, 1723, in the small village of Kaskaskia, Diron d’ Artaguette, the inspector of troops for the French Commandant, drilled the first militia in the Illinois Country.

What is today known as the Illinois National Guard arose from this humble beginning. Then, as now, the Illinois National Guard was part of the community and drew its strength from the community. The National Guard is the oldest component of the U.S. military and the only military component with both state and federal missions.

The Illinois National Guard will celebrate its 300th year by commemorating significant dates in its history with communities across the state.

“We are uniquely tied to the Land of Lincoln,” said Maj. Gen. Rich Neely, the adjutant general of Illinois and commander of the Illinois National Guard.

Even before Illinois became a state, these communities gathered for the common defense forming what would become today’s Illinois National Guard.

“Abraham Lincoln himself served in our ranks during the Black Hawk War years before he would serve as our commander in chief during the Civil War,” Neely said.

According to Lincoln, being elected captain in the Illinois Militia was “a success which gave me more pleasure than any I have had since.”

“We are still developing leaders among the sons and daughters of Illinois. Our soldiers and airmen learn to be part of something larger than themselves. They learn to be part of a team. They learn about selfless service, commitment, discipline, and integrity,” Neely said.

In Illinois, Governor JB Pritzker is the commander in chief of the Illinois National Guard, but when placed on federal orders, President Joe Biden becomes the commander in chief as he is for the U.S. Army, Air Force, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard and Space Force.

No matter who is the commander in chief, the history of the Illinois National Guard is part of the histories of the cities, towns and villages of Illinois.

For example, the history of the south side of Chicago is intertwined with the history of the “Fighting” 8th Infantry Regiment, which fought overseas in three wars. The small central Illinois town of Cerro Gordo got its name from Illinois National Guard Soldiers returning from the battle of Cerro Gordo in the Mexican-American War.

Lt. Marcellus Jones from the St. Charles-based 8th Cavalry Regiment fired the first shot at Gettysburg in the Civil War. The 106th Cavalry, based in Kewanee, rescued King Leopold of Belgium and his family in World War II. Units from across Illinois responded to communities all along the Mississippi during the Great Flood of 1993. Those are some of many examples of service by the National Guard.

“The motto of the National Guard is ‘Always Ready, Always There,’ but to remain always ready as we have for the last 300 years, we need to interest people in National Guard service,” said Command Sgt. Maj. Dena Ballowe. “Of course, there is the 100 percent tuition waiver at any state college or university. This is a benefit that is unique to Illinois – one that many other states do not offer.”

Farmington falls to eventual champ Eureka at Macomb tourney

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

The Farmington boys basketball team finished 2-2 and in sixth place at the Macomb-Western Holiday Tournament.

No. 1 seed Rockridge defeated Farmington 47-37 in the fifth-place game Dec. 30 at Western Hall, on the Western Illinois University campus.

The teams were tied at 18 at intermission. Farmington scored the first eight of the second half, but top-seeded Rockridge recovered and took a lasting lead on Kameron Bohnsack's 3-pointer with 6 seconds left in the third quarter.

Keauntrey Barnes had 21 points to lead Farmington (10-4), which was outrebounded 29-16.

Earlier that day, Farmington defeated Macomb 51-41 behind 20 points from Logan Morse.

In the tournament quarterfinals Dec. 28, Farmington lost 57-44 to eventual champion Eureka. Morse had 22 points and Barnes scored 13.

Eureka shot 80 percent from the field in the first quarter and led 15-3 at one point. A 3-pointer from Morse in the final minute of the third quarter cut the Farmers' deficit to 39-35, but they came no closer.

"Give them credit - they hit the shots when they needed them," Farmington Coach Marty Lozier stated about Eureka.

On Dec. 27, Farmington won its tourney opener, 53-37 over Brown County. Farmington outscored Brown County 11-1 to take a 21-11 second-quarter lead. Barnes and Morse finished with 17 points each. Morse was selected to the all-tournament team.

ICAC Conference Boys Tournament - at Peoria Christian

Eureka defeated Illini Bluffs 48-44 in the championship game. It was the second consecutive Macomb-Western title for Eureka, which was seeded third. For the second year in a row, Eureka forward Tyler Heffren was selected tournament MVP.

The Farmers were host Tuesday night to Havana and are to travel Saturday to Chillicothe to play Illinois Valley Central.

ROWVA-Williamsfield

Graham Wight and Lewis Sams each had 15 points Dec. 21 as R-W (10-4) withstood a fourth-quarter surge from host Princeville to win 51-48. The game was moved from Dec. 22 because of bad weather.

Wight exceeded 1,000 points for his career in the Cougars' 72-41 victory Dec. 20 over North Fulton. The senior scored 11 to bring his overall total to 1,008. Riley Danner had 14 points to lead R-W, Adam Kohl scored 13 and Sams 10.

Following a game Tuesday night at Oneida against Ridge-wood, R-W is to play Friday night at Williamsfield against Elmwood.

The Cougars face Brimfield in an Inter-County Conference Tournament opener at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 9 at Peoria Christian. Semi-finals are Jan. 12. Consolation, third-place and title games are Jan. 14. The top four seeds in order are Illini Bluffs, Peoria Christian, Elmwood and R-W.

Brimfield

Brimfield's finish at the Heyworth Holiday Tournament is to be determined. Or maybe it's already been determined.

The final day of that event, Dec. 23, was postponed because of bad weather. Brimfield was to play for fifth place against Moweaqua Central A&M. That game is to be rescheduled and played at Central A&M, but Brimfield Coach Scott Carlson doubted that will happen.

Brimfield still needs to eliminate one game from its schedule to comply with Illinois High School Association limitations, according to Carlson. The Indians' last-minute addition to the Princeville Holiday Tournament required them to drop three games.

In pool play Dec. 21 at Heyworth, Brimfield lost 61-52 to Peoria Quest. The game was delayed 25 minutes because Quest was late, according to Carlson. Heinz had 24 points for Brimfield, which trailed 29-25 at intermission.

Brimfield lost its tourney opener Dec. 20 to Heyworth, 57-47 in what Carlson said was a physical game. Blodgett (nine points) and Heinz (seven) fouled out.

The Indians are to play Friday night at North Fulton and Saturday at home against Orion.

They're seeded fifth in the ICAC Tournament and play No. 4 ROWVA-Williamsfield at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Peoria Christian in the opening round.

Elmwood

Elmwood broke away in the second quarter Dec. 20 to beat Stark County, 43-31. Bo Windish had a game-high 18 points, including 10 in the fourth quarter. Brayden Lehman scored 12 overall.

The Trojans are to play Friday night against ROWVA-Williamsfield at Billtown, then against sixth-seeded Delavan at 7:30 p.m. Jan 10 at Peoria Christian in an ICAC Tournament opener. Elmwood is seeded third.

Princeville

In a 51-48 home loss Dec. 21 to ROWVA-Williamsfield, Jordan Johnson scored 11 to lead Princeville. The game was rescheduled from Dec. 22 because of bad weather. The Princes played Tuesday night at Stark County and aren't scheduled again until Jan. 10 at Ridgewood.

GIRLS: Brimfield finishes 2-2 at State Farm Classic tournament

after getting 24 points from Destinee Harwood and 18 from Brianna Brodie. Princeville grabbed a 27-17 halftime lead and held on thereafter.

In the Westerman tournament, Princeville's lone blemish on a 4-1 record was vs. Elmwood.

"We're starting to shoot better as a team," Princeville Coach John Gross said. "I wasn't real happy with how we played against Elmwood. I've got a couple kids that don't like teams that get in your face on defense, and that's what Elmwood does. But we're still improving, so that's a good thing."

Princeville opened tournament play on Dec. 26 with a 53-42 win over a tough Tremont team. After trailing 14-13 following the first quarter, the Lady Princes held Tremont to 12 points in the middle two quarters to gain control. Princeville had balanced scoring in the win, as Brodie led with 16 points, Harwood added 15 and Paisley Schock tallied 14.

In a 50-23 win over Midland on Dec. 26, Harwood was hot in the first half, scoring 19 of her game-high 24 points and five of her six treys as Princeville jumped to a 28-4 halftime lead. In the second half, Brodie stepped up with 11 of her 18 points.

Scoring was tougher on Dec. 27 in the 45-24 loss to Elmwood, as Harwood had 12, Brodie scored 7 and Kinley McGinn tallied 5.

Princeville bounced back on Dec. 27 with a 46-37 victory over Galva. Harwood led with 15 points, Schock added 10, Brodie had 8 and Leah Wieland added 6.

Princeville closed with a 53-14 defeat of Bushnell-Prairie City on Dec. 28. Harwood had 19, Brodie 17 and Schock 8.

Junior post player Tessa Gazza has her foot in a boot and is expected to be out another two to three weeks, Gross said.

Princeville was at Galva Wednesday and is home against Peoria Heights today.

Brimfield

Brimfield (10-5) got back into action at the State Farm Classic in Bloomington-Normal, going 2-2 in the small-school bracket.

The Lady Indians beat El Paso-Gridley on Dec. 27 (36-19), topped Rock Falls in double overtime on Dec. 28 (45-43) and then lost to eventual tourney champ Camp Point Central-Southeastern on Dec. 29 (34-20) and lost on Dec. 30 to Sherrard (51-44) in the third-place game.

"We've had eight games vs. 1A schools and seven games vs. 2A and 3A (schools) so hopefully the experience helps us the last two months," Brimfield Coach Josh McKown said.

In the third-place game, Ava Heinz led Brimfield with 12 points, Olivia Kappes scored 10, Elly Doe had 9 and Kylee Vaughn put up 8.

Heinz also led with 8 against Camp Point and had three of five Brimfield field goals in the loss.

Points came easier in the first two tournament games. Doe had 13 against Rock Falls, Vaughn had 12 and Heinz added 11. Scoring was balanced vs. EPG, as five players had five or more points led by Kappes (9) and Kierra Johnson (6).

Brimfield is at ROWVA-Williamsfield today (Jan. 5) and then visits Stark County on Saturday.

Farmington

The Lady Farmers (3-13) took the holidays off after topping Abingdon-Avon on Dec. 20, 58-56. That made Farmington 3-3 in its last six games after a slow start to the season.

Against A-Town, Kyleigh Miller scored 24, Emily Vallianatos tallied 13 and Anna Weibel added 12.

"We're definitely figuring things out and playing much better," Coach Brad Whitcomb said.

The schedule doesn't do Farmington any favors in its next three games, though. Farmington was at Elmwood on Wednesday, plays Tremont at home Saturday and then travels to Brimfield on Monday, Jan. 9.

ROWVA-Williamsfield

The Lady Cougars (8-6) lost to Annawan on Monday, 58-40, after being off since Dec. 17 because of two game cancellations.

"The final score was not indicative of the effort," Coach Michael Weitekamp said. "We were tied at halftime and down 40-35 after the third, just ran out of gas the last four minutes."

Carolyn German led R-W with 10 points and Ava Landon and Emma Seiboldt had eight apiece.

R-W was at Kewanee Wethersfield on Wednesday, is home against Brimfield tonight (Jan. 5) and then is home against Stark County on Jan. 9.

of a deficit, and the kids were playing their third game in a row."

Zach Howerton finished with a team-high nine points for Elmwood. Brendan Williams had seven and Windish scored six.

Fugitt said Midland probably was the best team Elmwood had played since a season-opening loss to Putnam County. More teams of similar caliber – including Farmington, Illini Bluffs and Peoria Christian – are on the January schedule.

"All of the mistakes they make or anything they don't understand right now, that's my job over the next month and a half (to fix)," Fugitt said.

Third place

Immediately before the Princeville championship game, Brimfield lost 47-44 to Peoria Heights for third place. Brimfield (6-10) led 23-17 at halftime and 31-29 after three quarters, but Heights (4-10) went 10-for-14 on fourth-quarter free throws.

their record," Brimfield Coach Scott Carlson stated. "So far, we're not good at closing out games. We continue to be so close, but ..."

Oliver Heinz had 21 points to lead Brimfield. Drew Kieser had 13 and Brady Johnson scored 10.

Semifinals

According to Fugitt, a 47-42 victory on Dec. 27 over Brimfield was befitting of this rivalry.

Elmwood led by 18 points in the first quarter, then Brimfield led by seven midway through the fourth. Brimfield held Elmwood to one made field goal over the middle 16 minutes. Kieser made three 3-pointers and scored 16 in that span.

"It was quiet and tight, and you could see the lack of confidence when we were shooting the ball in the second and third quarter," Fugitt said.

But at long last, a made field goal helped Elmwood get back in a groove. Howerton had all 11 of his points in the fourth period. He was 6-for-6 on free throws as Elmwood was 8-for-8 overall. Layne Durst also made a key 3-pointer.

"As soon as we hit our first shot, our bench really got into it and brought some energy," Fugitt said.

Windish had a team-high 16 points. Kieser led Brimfield with 19.

The win enabled Elmwood to meet Midland, which beat Peoria Heights 58-41 in the other semi.

Consolation games

Princeville won the consolation title Dec. 28 as it beat Ridgewood, 55-36. The Princes (8-6) led 17-5 after one period and 37-19 at intermission. Tucker Sennett had 18 first-half points on his way to a game-high 20.

The previous day in the consolation semifinals, Princeville separated itself from Galva after the first quarter on the way to a 71-39 victory. A total of nine Princeville players scored, led by Logan Olshawsky (14 points), Sennett (11) and Josh Hunt (10).

After losing 61-60 to Ridgewood in the consolation semis Dec. 27, Henry beat Galva 68-46 for consolation third place.

First-round games

In Elmwood's 54-33 victory Dec. 26 over Ridgewood, Jackson Magee had a game-high 17 points, including three treys in the first half. Howerton had 13 points. ... Brimfield overcame an early deficit to beat Henry 58-46 behind 22 points from Heinz, who scored eight in a decisive second quarter. Kieser scored 17 overall. ...

Princeville lost 46-43 to Peoria Heights despite 15 points from Sennett. Heights broke from a 24-24 halftime tie to lead by four to begin the fourth quarter. ... Midland beat Galva 65-34.

Elmwood girls first at Princeville

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Defense can win you basketball games. But it sure helps to combine stinginess at one end of the court with scoring on the other end. That was the recipe for success last week in Elmwood's second straight championship at the Lee Westerman Tournament.

The trophy-clinching victory on Dec. 28 was a good example. Trailing 7-2 late in the first quarter against Tremont, Elmwood (14-3) got a 3-point shot from Melody Glenn to close within 7-5. From there, the Lady Trojans outscored Tremont 17-8 in the second quarter to take control in a convincing 53-28 victory.

"After that shot, we seemed to get into a good rhythm offensively and kind of took over from there," Elmwood Coach Gregg Meyers said. "Overall it was a good tournament for us. We did a very good job with ball movement and finding the open person."

Liv Meyers led against Tremont with 19 points on 6-for-10 shooting, Ainsley Faulkner tallied 10 to go with 5 assists and 3 steals, Lauren Rushing had 8 and the Glenn sisters (Melody and Andrea) put up 6 apiece. And Elmwood made 13 of 14 free throws.

But defense against Tremont and Princeville was still most impressive according to Coach Meyers, who said "I think our defense was the best part of the tournament."

Elmwood held Princeville to five points in the first quarter of a 45-24 decision on Dec. 27. Liv Meyers had 13 on 5-for-7 shooting, Melody Glenn scored 12 and had 6 assists and Lauren Rushing added 10 on 4-for-6 shooting.

En route to the championship, Elmwood also beat Galva (53-33) as Melody Glenn scored 14 and was 4-for-6 on treys and Liv Meyers tallied 14 to go with 6 rebounds. The Lady Trojans also doubled up Midland (46-21) as Liv Meyers went for 23 on 11-for-14 shooting and Melody Glenn added 10.

Elmwood was home Wednesday vs. Farmington, travels to face Ridgewood today (Jan. 5) and has Peoria Christian at home on Friday.

Princeville

After placing second at the Lee Westerman tournament, the Lady Princes (10-8) turned their focus to Lincoln Trail Conference play on Monday with a 54-46 home win over Knoxville.

Too many treys for Trojans in title loss

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post
PRINCEVILLE – The good part about this year's Princeville Holiday Tournament? For Elmwood Boys Basketball Coach Josh Fugitt, it was seeing the bleachers full again after COVID-related emptiness.

The bad part? Too many shot attempts from too far away.

According to Fugitt, an overreliance on 3-point shooting was among the reasons second-seeded Elmwood lost in the championship game Dec. 28 to top-seeded Midland, 39-29.

Midland's halfcourt defense and Elmwood's lack of proficiency from beyond the arc combined to help give the Trojans only their second loss in 15 games this season.

Elmwood was 3-for-22 on 3s in the Princeville final, according to Fugitt. That came a few nights after Elmwood took 27 from long distance in a 54-33 first-round victory over Ridgewood.

"Too many outside shots compared to some of the easier looks we've been able to get in our victories," Fugitt said. "Probably not good enough balance. Not that they were all bad shots, but certainly a few that got blocked or contested enough."

"We have not shot the ball well at times this season. Back to the summer and some of our early games, we seem to be streaky at times, especially from the 3-point line."

That said, Elmwood trailed only 30-27 midway through the fourth quarter. The Trojans rebounded from a 10-point deficit earlier in the period. Pressure defense sparked the rally, including the ball-stealing efforts of sophomore Bo Windish.

"That's been the unbelievable thing about our team this year – our resiliency and our lack of quit," Fugitt said. "It was too big
