BACK TO SCHOOL

Additional students bring new hope for future at St. Mary's

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post Back to school week has arrived too early for most students and teachers and just in time for most parents. The return to the classroom has brought new teachers, administrators and students to local schools. And in Kickapoo, this week ushered in new hope at St. Mary's School.

On Wednesday, St. Mary's welcomed another class of students – something that one year ago was very much in doubt. That the doors opened for another year came thanks to aggressive marketing, successful fundraising and committed staff and alumni.

"I truly have been amazed by the outpouring of support that parents, parishioners and even those who don't have kids in the school have extended to St. Mary's," Father James Pankiewicz said. "There is a very real love for St. Mary's Catholic School." Last fall, Pankiewicz wrote a letter to parents Continued on Page 7

STEM learning is part of a new CONNECTed curriculum being featured this year at St. Mary's School of Kickapoo, which has boosted enrollment after an aggressive marketing campaign in the past year.

Farmington to remodel city building

By JEFF LAMPE For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – The yearslong saga of finding a home for Farmington's municipal offices appears to be over.

The Farmington City Council on Aug. 7 approved spending up to $400,000 on the first part of a multi-phased remodel for the exisiting city building, located at Stufflebeam said Monday.

"We've collectively decided the route we'd like to go is to resurrect this building and then start doing the things necessary to (improve the building) over a period of time we can determine," Council Member David Rose said. "The bones of this building are really still in fantastic shape. We kind of think this is That's the biggest thing."

Approved as a first step was installation of 16 heat and air conditioning "mini-split' units for each room in the city building, necessitated by failure of two boilers in the facility. McVey Mechanical of Farmington had low bid of $150,000 for the HVAC work. Rose said the new units will require only a 2-inch

City of Elmwood hires school officer

By NICK VLAHOS For The Weekly Post ELMWOOD – The city has hired a school resource officer, although he isn't new to the school.

During its meeting Aug. 8, the City Council authorized Stu Ingersoll as a member of the Elmwood Police Department. Ingersoll's main duty will be to provide security for the Elmwood School District, which began 2023-24 classes Tuesday.

For the past five years or so, Ingersoll was an unofficial school resource officer, as well as a school custodian. He spent 30 previous years as a Peoria Police Department officer, primarily in patrol, before he retired from that job.

asked Ingersoll if he was prepared for his new work. During the meeting and after his police-force induction, Ingersoll affirmed it.

"I think I'm able to do it," he said. "It's basically to protect the school." Ingersoll suggested his

ELMWOOD: Officer to work for city in summer

Elmwood School Superintendent Chad Wagner wanted a full-time resource officer and approached the council earlier this year about hiring one.

"They want a (police) vehicle parked on campus," Councilman Andrew Almasi said. "Part of it is just the deterrent effect. Stu was their choice, and we agreed that he is a good choice."

During the academic year, the school district is to reimburse the city for Ingersoll's salary and benefits. Ingersoll is to be paid $24 an hour, Almasi said. Finer points of the city-district contract are to be codified. The contract is to be year-to-year.

Ingersoll is to help provide the city police force when school is not in session during the summer.

Regarding another example of city-school cooperation, the two entities plan to split the cost of resurfacing, repainting and reconfiguring a softball diamond at Sweetwater Park. The city's share is $3,827.50. The council also approved two tax-incrementfinancing grants - one for up to $13,736.66 to H&H Industries Inc., and another for $325 to New2U Community Thrift Store.

H&H, 110 W. Main St., requested a grant to help pay for a collapsed floor, according to Amy Davis, the economic-development director. Total repair cost was $27,473.32. H&H might also receive an insurance reimbursement.

"They're a third-generation business in the community and own a good chunk of that downtown block," Davis said in presenting the H&H case. New2U, 110 E. Main St., spent $625 for a new sign that in July was placed in its front window. The store is a volunteer effort among four Elmwood churches. According to New2U officials, the sign is to help out-of-town visitors find the 6-year-old store.

"Those customers visit businesses and restaurants here. We think we provide a public service," a New2U letter to the council stated. "We'll put that (grant) money right back into the community."

The council also reviewed the 2023-24 city budget. Estimated generalfund revenues and beginning cash are $1,477,795 and total expenses are $1,037,200, according to Treasurer Bonnie Beal.

A public budget hearing is scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Sept. 19, before the council meeting that night.

War expensive on and off the battlefield

When asked to describe war, Union General William T. Sherman noted tha, "War is cruelty, and you cannot refine it." Later, in a speech, Sherman did refine his easily forgettable dictum to the much shorter, impossible-to-forget: "War is hell."

Others thought war to be "...politics by other means," (General Carl von Clausewitz) or "...a wanton waste of projectiles," (author Mark Twain.)

However you describe it, war is expensive. World War II, in 2020 dollars, cost $4 trillion and devoured 40 percent of the U.S. gross domestic product in 1945. To date, estimates of the total U.S. military, financial, and humanitarian aid to Ukraine since its February 2022 invasion by Russia range from $75-110 billion. War is extremely profitable, too. In 2023, Brown University estimated that the almost generationlong war in Afghanistan cost U.S. taxpayers $14 trillion, "with onethird to one-half of that total going to military contractors."

Shooting wars aren't the only type of warfare that's costly, deadly, and often without a winner. In January 2022, the International Monetary Fund estimated the total cost of the Covid-19 pandemic would be at least $12.5 trillion.

The human side of that coin is just as large. On Aug. 2, the United Nations World Health Organization estimated total Covid-19 deaths worldwide now stand at 7 million.

Covid has other, less visible victims. In 2021 alone, the U.N. calculated the pandemic more than doubled the number of "people experiencing acute food insecurity" around the world from 135 million to 345 million.

Then, with global food aid programs already reeling under Covid, the Russian invasion of Ukraine struck another blow. U.S.wheat futures prices rocketed nearly 50 percent higher, from $7.50 per bu. to $11 per bu., as shipping and boycott threats ricocheted through global markets.

But even after the invasion-shaken markets settled into a less volatile, more predictable pattern, the number of food-threatened nations remained high and access to supplies continued to be threatened.

However, throughout the pandemic and Russian-Ukrainian war, one area of the global food system remained and remains - well-fed and fat. According to a Greenpeace International Feb. 2023 report, "The world's biggest agribusiness corporations made more in billion-dollar profits since 2020 than the amount that the U.N. estimates could cover the basic needs of the world's most vulnerable..."

That math, Greenpeace explains, shows that "The 20 corporations the biggest in the sectors of grain, fertilizer, meat and dairy - delivered $53.5 billion to shareholders in the financial years 2020 and 2021, while the U.N. estimates a smaller figure, $51.5 billion, would be enough to provide food, shelter and lifesaving support for the world's 230 million most vulnerable people."

Recent financial reports from three of the biggest of the bigs - Cargill, Bunge and Archer-Daniels-Midland - show the trend not only continues, but it's getting even more profitable. For example, on Aug. 3, Reuters reported, "Global commodities trader Cargill Inc. reported... its fiscal year 2023 revenue increased 7% from a year earlier to $177 billion, the highest ever for the 158-year-old company."

Since Cargill is a privately-held company, it doesn't share all its financial data such as quarterly or annual profit.

Competitors like ADM and Bunge, however, are publicly held so they must post their financial results. "Both," says Reuters, have "reported solid earnings..." and have "raised their profit outlooks for 2023."

The key reason for the increased profits is as old as war itself: "Global supply disruptions, such as the ongoing war in Ukraine ... have generated increased profit margins for grain merchants" and, no surprise, "concurrently opened up opportunities for firms like Cargill to step in..." explained BNN, an online global news service, Aug. 3.

Equally unsurprising, prices for ag imports and services have also soared during Covid/Ukrainian war years. According to a November 2022 report by the Institute of Agriculture & Trade Policy, the world's 20 most industrialized nations "paid almost twice as much for key fertilizer imports in 2021 compared to 2020 and (were) on course to spend three times as much in 2022."

So, yes, war is a cruel, unrefined hell where everyone, even the winners, are losers.

GUEST VOICES Helpful friends quenched cows during drought

The 3 inches of rain we got overnight were a blessing to our pastures and crops, less so for the many outdoor concerts and other events scheduled around the area. Tis an ill wind that blows no good, however, so we will be both thankful for what we received and mindful of the disappointment felt by others.

We went from May 9 until the damaging storm at the end of June with no more than a few drops of rain, never even enough to wet the sidewalk beneath the trees. AJ has lived all his 80 years here and, in true old-timer fashion, said repeatedly as the drought progressed, "I've never seen it this dry, ever. And it's only June.'

Jeanne HARLAND

When the storm came through just before the Independence Day weekend, it also brought damaging winds that took down many power lines and poles. We were only out for a few hours here at home, but our Other Place, just a mile and a half away, had no power for several days.

For those who live in towns with water towers, it bears mentioning that out here on the farm, water comes from wells by means of electric pumps. No power = no water. When I came here in 1971, the old windmill still served to pump water for the hogs, but it is long gone now, another victim of strong winds that sometimes sweep across this former prairie.

Ordinarily, the cattle at the Other Place could easily find water in the slough. But with no rain for many weeks, only the spring in the hillside fed the small stream at the base of the hills. Adding to our concern was the extremely hot, humid weather. These cows were thirsty.

Ameren kept us updated on expected restoration times, but they were given in days, not hours. We had to do something. We weighed our options. We could bring them home, but our wells cannot support that many cows. Plus, that would be a lot of trips for Matt to make with the trailer.

We could try to find someone to haul water to them, but from where?

None of my rain dances had brought results. As a last resort we considered letting them drink from Walnut Creek, but we would have to build a lot of fence just to get them there, not to mention somehow limiting the space they could occupy in the creek. There had to be another way to get them water.

Cows are quite resourceful, in their own way. Ours gathered along the slough in three places where the water gathered in hoof prints or low spots. They are not good at taking turns, however, so none of them ever really quenched their thirst. They had to stand and wait for the depressions to fill ever so slowly with water. The spring in the hillside is really just a seep, so oozing out enough water for 42 cows and their calves, plus the bull, was a slow process.

On the second day of the outage, with projections still three days out, we did what we always do in a crisis: We called a neighbor. We had decided if we could somehow dig out a small pond for water to gather, the cows could survive for a few days. Rick Rumbold is as good with a backhoe (or any piece of equipment, for that matter) as anyone around. He would come see what he could do.

What he did was to meticulously scoop out a spot maybe 20-feet by 20-feet in the slough just north of the culvert. He carefully placed each mucky bucketful downstream to create a partial dam. We didn't want to completely block the flow, since one cohort of cows had claimed water rights farther downstream in the frog pond, a safe place to drink without getting mired in mud.

Then he moved across to the bank near the springy hillside where he dug just a couple scoops out to provide a spot for calves to drink.

Our cows watched curiously as they gathered at the non-functioning waterers, mooing frantically for water. It took a while for the little pond to begin to fill, and the water was thick with mud, but by the time Rick was headed up the hill with his backhoe, one of the cows ventured cautiously down the steep bank to the drinking area.

When the power was finally restored, we thought our troubles were over. And for a few hours the pump worked and the cows had access to fresh water once again. But then the pump quit.

Jim McNaught came at once, familiar with our farm and knowing our cows needed water. He determined the problem was not the pump itself, but the power supply. The next call was to our electrician, who is also familiar with our cow situation. He, in turn, called someone to trace a break in the underground power line.

This would have all been extremely stressful, but our cows were now able to get a drink, albeit a rather muddy one, whenever they needed. They would not die of thirst. Soon enough, the power line was repaired, the pump took right off and fresh, cool water flowed into the waterers for our grateful cows.

The 1½ inches of rain had miraculously greened the pastures enough that our cows could graze a bit instead of eating the rye bales intended for winter feed. For the first time in well over a month they were able to lie down in soft grass with full bellies, content once again. Sometimes it really does take a village ... or at least a neighborhood.

ST. MARY'S: Enrollment up by 22 students

Continued from Page 1 and parishioners detailing various benchmarks the school would have to reach in order to reopen its doors for 2023-24.

Among those were less financial reliance on the St. Mary's parish, increased enrollment and more uniformity in how parents are billed for tuition.

"Last year we knew if we didn't have a positive answer by March 1 we would be seriously in danger of closing. By that I mean both the financial support and the enrollment," said Bill Lamb, principal at St. Mary's. "That was a very hard deadline. The consequences of failing were sobering.

"And we met both of those deadlines and far surpassed our expectations. That's why we feel positive this year we will continue to make strides."

In addition to raising about $350,000 for the school, enrollment has increased from 60 students last fall to 82 heading into Wednesday's first day. That includes 17 new students in grades K-8, according to Lamb.

"Our kindergarten group grew to a class of 12, which I am hearing is close to some of the public schools near us," Lamb said. "Hopefully those will be students who will follow through with Catholic education."

Lamb credits increased marketing of the school for part of the turnaround.

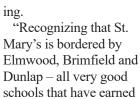

"We did a survey and part of that survey showed a significant percentage of the Kickapoo-Brimfield area wasn't aware of who we were or where we were," Lamb said. "We weren't doing significant, focused marketing and we found out we needed to."

St. Mary's staff of seven full-time teachers have also developed a new CON-NECTed curriculum that features classes in agriculture/cooking, STEM learning, physical education and typing, computers and coding. The school also offers music, theater art and Spanish for all grades.

Lamb said there is still work to be done moving forward, though. Last year, St. Mary's benefited from various grants and payroll tax credits to fund its $800,000 annual operating costs. With that free money no longer available, the school will again need to rely on support from St. Mary's Church. But Lamb said that level of support has been cut from almost 96 percent in previous years to under 50 percent heading into this fall.

"We're on a positive growth ride right now and we're hoping to continue. That's the goal," Lamb said. "We need to make sure we don't backslide."

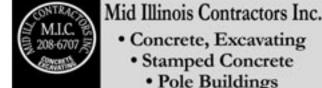

With that in mind, the school will soon launch another fundraiser and plans to continue market-

great reputations - means we have to work even harder," Lamb said.

proven guilty. Chemical spill halts traffic near Kickapoo

KICKAPOO – A semi-trailer tanker that was carrying a chemical overturned as it exited Interstate 74 south of Kickapoo on Aug. 8. There was no significant risk to the public, according to authorities.

The driver sustained minor injuries in the accident, which happened on the westbound I-74 exit ramp at Kickapoo-Edwards Road.

According to the Peoria Fire Department, responders from the Brimfield Community Fire Protection district found the truck and tanker upside down in the off-ramp median. They tended to the driver and determined the tanker was leaking.

Brimfield officials summoned the Peoria Fire Department Hazardous Material Incident Team. A concrete additive was determined to be leaking from the tanker. The leak was confined to the median.

The tanker driver was transported to an area hospital. The exit ramp was closed for several hours while the tanker was placed upright and an environmental-cleanup service worked, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office. Personnel from the Dunlap Fire Protection District also responded.

Police Reports

• FARMINGTON – A Farmington man was accused of beating his girlfriend so severely she required hospital treatment.

Danny D. Devine, 26, was arrested following the incident. It took place between midnight and 7 a.m. Aug. 7 at a residence in the 400 block of E. Pearl St., according to a Farmington Police Department report.

The 17-year-old victim told police the incident began at the residence and continued in a vehicle. She said Devine struck her in the face at least five times and choked her more than once. The victim had two black eyes, a swollen nose and bruises on her right arm and around her throat, the report stated.

An ambulance transported the victim to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria.

Later, on Aug. 7, she was released and was expected to obtain an order of protection against Devine, who was charged with aggravated domestic battery and transported to the Fulton County Jail in Lewistown. • PEORIA – A Peoria doctor placed a video camera in a female employee bathroom at OSF Saint Francis Medical Center, according to authorities.

Brandon L. Hrdlicka, 30, was implicated in the theft, which was reported about 2 p.m. July 26 at Circle K, 1006 E. Fort St. Security video revealed a man entered the store that morning and absconded with a 375milliliter bottle of Herradura tequila valued at $22.

Hrdlicka said the Avon Police Department dropped him off at Circle K the previous night. He slept behind the business' dumpster, according to a Farmington police report. After Hrdlicka awakened in the morning, he entered the store, put the tequila bottle in his pocket, then stashed it next to the dumpster.

It wasn't clear why Hrdlicka was in police custody in Avon. He was given a notice to appear Aug. 29 in Fulton County Circuit Court in Lewistown.

The wreck happened about 3:30 p.m. Aug. 1 at Jefferson and Illinois streets. According to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report, Brandy R. Higgins of Kewanee was driving a 2004 Harley-Davidson motorcycle on Illinois Street when the vehicle struck the right rear fender of a 1994 Jeep Liberty.

Emma R. Smith of Galesburg was driving the Jeep, which was attempting a left turn on Jefferson Street. Higgins said he was behind the Jeep and drove to the right of it to attempt a right turn, but the Harley struck the fender. About 1:30 a.m. Aug. 4, a Farmington police officer was summoned to Circle K, 1006 E. Fort St. There he found Joey L. Ames, 39, and Janet M. Sandoval, 42. Both had been barred from the McDonald's restaurant that is in the same building as Circle K.

FARMINGTON: Goal is heat on by Oct. 1

Rose said he is "pretty confident" the project will come in under $400,000, but said electrical contractor RKE of Farmington has not had time to offer a firm estimate on work needed.

Rose said city staff has been seeking bids for about three months but added RKE was the lone electrical contractor willing to tackle the project.

"We're under a bit of a deadline here, because we don't have heat," Rose said.

His goal is to have HVAC systems operational by Oct. 1.

In time, the council plans to tackle additional phases of work that will include asbestos removal, new windows for the city building, a possible paint job for the facility and demolition of the old junior high connecting those two structures. After demolition, walls on the police department and YMCA building will need to be closed in.

Stufflebeam said City Administrator Bettina Bohanna has grant-writing experience and is hoping to find state or federal dollars to help fund the remodel.

"Based on where we are in the city, we owe it to the city to make this building look like something," Stufflebeam said.

The board also approved the police department using an impounded Mercedes for the school resource officer. The car will be fitted with a purple and gold vinyl graphic wrap designed by C.J. Signs of Peoria that features the Farmington Farmers logo. Total cost of the wrap and some other repairs will be about $5,000 according to Stufflebeam.

"It's a good-looking car to begin with and I think the kids will get a kick out of the wrap," Stufflebeam said.

The board approved buying six bulletproof vests for the police department at a cost of $930 per vest. A federal grant will bankroll half of the purchase.

Also approved were two ordinances: one that would create a loading zone in front of Reincarnations Auto Works at 135 E. Fort St.; and one that would limit parking in front of the firehouse for firemen only.

Tom Oldfield was granted permission to use bleachers from Jacobs Park for the Farmington JFL league. Oldfield said the JFl enrollment is up to 131 tackle football players from a usual turnout of 100-105.

Tabled for further discussion was possible purchase of a tube slide for Dimmitt Park for $5,482. The current slide in the park has been damaged and is not usable.

Princeville closer to annexing 15.5 acres

By NICK VLAHOS For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Village annexation of about  $15\frac{1}{2}$  acres at the north edge of Princeville appears closer to reality.

Sale of the property to local manufacturing company Greenfield Contractors was to become final last week, according to Village Trustee Ron Delbridge. Municipal officials suggested the land probably would not be annexed until after the sale.

Village Board approval might be a formality, although as of last week no timetable had been set.

"We're good with it whenever it comes up," Delbridge said.

Delbridge presided over the Village Board meeting Aug. 7. Village President Jeff Troutman was out of town.

Greenfield intends to construct an office and a 20,000-square-foot fabrication and storage facility on the property. According to Delbridge, Village Public Works Superintendent Chad Gardner told the board about plans to connect the property to municipal water and sewer lines.

Currently, Greenfield occupies a 1,600-square-foot building at 1012 N. Santa Fe Ave., across the road and south of the proposed site at the north edge of Princeville. The unincorporated 15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-acre plot is located just north of the Dollar General store at 1107 N. Santa Fe Ave.

Greenfield officials said it might be two more years before construction starts. They also said annexation and resulting village services might lure other businesses to that plot, because Greenfield isn't likely to use all of it.

The report from Gardner came toward the end of a meeting that lasted about 20 minutes, Delbridge said. Village trustees approved a reimbursement of $2,500 for new vinyl siding, soffit and gutters for a building at 232 W. Douglas St. The tax-increment-financing funds came from the village Residential Redevelopment Program.

Trustees also authorized Cindy Miller and Linda Robinson to be hired as on-call office staff. They are to fill in when Village Treasurer Julie Delbridge is on vacation or otherwise unavailable. Robinson has filled the message-taking and telephone-answering role in the past, Ron Delbridge said.

Building permits were issued for demolition of accessory buildings at 216 E. High St.; for construction of a 15-by-15-foot addition to a shed at 1218 N. Town Ave.; and for a fence in a back yard at 212 N. Ostrom Ave.

Princeville schools hope to buy new van

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post PRINCEVILLE – Amid discussion about how to better secure its transportation fleet, the Princeville School Board has authorized adding to it.

The district might pur chase a van for student transportation, according to Superintendent Tony Shinall. Mileages on the current vans are high.

On Aug. 8, the board approved spending up to $40,000 on a van if one can be found before the September meeting.

No decision was made regarding ongoing consideration to install fencing and security cameras at the district bus-storage facility. Catalytic-converter thefts earlier this year prompted the effort. Shinall is gathering additional information to present to the board.

Half-pint bids from Prairie Farms Dairy Inc. were 35 cents for 1% milk, 37 cents for 1% chocolate and strawberry milk and 74 cents for lactose-free milk. The regular-milk price rose by 1 cent, Shinall stated.

Gas prices went down for this year, according to bids from Ag-Land FS Inc. The offer for regular gas was $2.65 a gallon, and various grades of diesel ranged from $2.99 to $3.09. Regular gas decreased 36 cents per gallon, per Shinall. Diesel decreased 87 cents per gallon.

The board also approved a district-insurance contract with The Unland Companies of Peoria. Overall increase was 3%. The Lexia Core5 Reading Unlimited and Reading Unlimited and GoMath curriculums were authorized.

Regarding personnel, the board OK'd hiring Andrew Arnett as assistant baseball coach and Matthew Butterfield, Greg Down and Daniel Murk as volunteer baseball coaches; Jessica Bliss as eighth-grade volleyball coach; and Eric Friedman as eighth-grade boys basketball coach.

Friedman resigned as seventh-grade boys basketball coach and Bliss resigned as seventh-grade volleyball coach, according to Shinall.

Also resigning were Karen Barker and Kamryn Rahn as day-care personnel and Krista Kieser and Perry Kieser as transportation personnel. Bruce Welker is to retire from his custodian job.

The board meeting for next month was moved from Sept. 12 to Sept. 20. A budget hearing is scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Sept. 20, followed by the regular meeting at 7 p.m.

Brimfield schools boost pay for substitutes

By NICK VLAHOS For The Weekly Post BRIMFIELD - Substitute teachers in the Brimfield School District are getting a raise.

Daily substitute-teaching pay for the 2023-24 academic year is $150, a $25 increase. The Brimfield School Board approved the hike Aug. 9. The change is designed to attract more potential substitutes, according to Brimfield Superintendent Chad Jones.

"Just getting feedback, the substitute-teaching shortage is just as real as the certified-teaching shortage," he said. "There just isn't enough of them, and we need them."

Early returns suggest the increase might be working as intended. A few days after the board's decision, Jones said he had multiple inquiries from job seekers. The district had about 20 substitute teachers during the 2022-23 school year. At least one substitute was necessary almost every day school was in session. Usually, two or more substitutes were required.

In June, Brimfield Grade School Assistant Principal Nicole Loser presented her case for a substitute-pay raise. Loser also argued for the district to hire a permanent substitute.

Last month, the board authorized hiring a fulltime paraprofessional who also is licensed to substitute teach. On days that employee serves as a substitute, they receive $150 instead of the $14 hourly paraprofessional rate.

During the meeting last week, the board officially accepted the resignation of high school and gradeschool baseball Coach Brandon Porter. He offered his resignation in May after school officials accused him of mishandling program-related funds. The board action is a formality, according to Jones.

"We wanted to have full closure there," he said. "Everybody knows he's not going to be the coach. At the beginning, I think people were still trying to politic to get Brandon back in there. That won't happen."

Last month, the board approved Josh Johnson as the new grade-school baseball coach. Last week, the board approved hiring Tyler Baysingar and Austin Sims as high school assistant coaches.

As of late last week, nobody had formally applied to succeed Porter as high school coach, according to Jones. The job is posted on the district website.

"The baseball season doesn't start until the spring, so it's not a major priority as of today," he said. "But certainly, it's something in the back of our minds. We're looking for a quality person."

Also posted on the district website is an opening for a treasurer. Following closed-to-the-public executive session last week, the board gave Jones permission to hire someone to fill the new position.

Jones envisions the job to be part time - perhaps once a month, with a stipend. He said Brimfield has not had a treasurer, someone who with the bookkeeper can provide a check-and-balance system regarding district finances. "We want to try to make sure we're covering everything as far as having another outside person look at everything," Jones said.

Board Vice President Jason Snyder was approved as a high school and grade-school volunteer golf coach and Carrie Peek was approved as a gradeschool cafeteria worker.

The board also accepted a bid of $5,860 from Hoerr Masonry and Concrete to replace deteriorating sidewalk sections in front of the high school. That work is done, Jones said.

A hearing on the 2023-24 budget will be Sept. 20, during the board's regular meeting.

The Brimfield Area Men's Club would like to thank all the volunteers, businesses and organizations for a successful Old Settlers Days.

ELMWOOD - The latest winner of a quilt from the Prairie Quilters of Central Illinois has quite a story to tell.

The Prairie Quilters meet monthly at Elmwood Presbyterian Church to create beautiful works of art from fabric and thread. Members live in Knox, Peoria, Fulton, Henry and Tazewell counties.

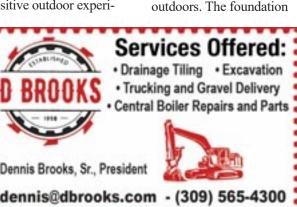

One of the club's missions is to award Quilts of Valor to individuals who are either active military or veterans who previously served in the military. Quilts of Valor have been awarded during the Elmwood Strawberry Festival, at Seven Circles Heritage Center during the Veteran's PowWow and at American Legion Posts in Lewistown and Astoria, in addition to several awards presented privately by members. To help finance the mission, a quilt was recently raffled at the Fulton County Fair. John Burke of Bartelso was the winner and visited the Prairie Quilters' booth to discuss the foundation he founded in 2014. The Jared Burke Foundation was formed to provide positive outdoor experi-

WILLIAMSFIELD - The Williamsfield School Board passed a taxy levy and tabled final details on a school resource officer at its Aug. 7 regular meeting.

A special meeting was called for Tuesday, Aug. 15, at 6 p.m. to discuss a memorandum of understanding with the Knox County Sheriff's Department regarding the hiring of a school resource officer. That meeting is after The Weekly Post news deadline.

The tentative budget and levy of $4.37 approved by the board is expected to be the lowest tax rate in the area, but will not drop under the hoped-for $4 mark, according to Superintendent Tim Farquer.

Farquer said the tax rate is expected to be a be a penny less than last year, remain flat the following year and then drop 5 cents in each of the two years after that.

YATES CITY - Alan Clark Blankenship was a caring husband, father, grandfather, brother and friend. He left this world peacefully on Monday, Aug. 7, 2023, at Jack Byrne Hospice Center in Lebanon, N.H.

Alan was born May 6, 1960, in Peoria, Ill., to Jack and Lola (Mathis) Blankenship. He lived most of childhood in Chillicothe and, after graduating from high school, he worked for the family upholstery business. After moving to Yates City, he was a cabinet maker at Admiral-Maytag until he started his own general construction business, Blankenship Custom Remodeling. After his son, Nathan, graduated college they became partners in this construction business.

He married Becky Dodd on June 19, 1982. Together they had two children, Nathan and Kimberly. Ever since Alan moved to Yates City in 1982, he has volunteered, donated to city projects and helped out individuals in need in the community. He was a volunteer fireman for 20 years. He served on the park board for two years, one year as president. For many years he helped with the Harvest Home Festival, everything from building stages with lights to cooking pork chops, from renting grills to running for supplies.

Alan's skilled workmanship is visible all-around town. And even though he was paid, he is responsible for such projects as the construction of all the "Welcome to Yates City" signs and many improvements at Harvest Home Park.

Alan lived out his faith through his generosity and kindness to others. For many years, he was a member of Bethel Bible Church where he volunteered for various building projects. He later joined Imago Dei where he was involved in different aspects of the church, from serving meals to the homeless to working security.

Alan was a generous, kind, hardworking individual who had few hobbies; he enjoyed working, spending time with his family and loved fishing. He loved his wife, kids, grandkids and family more than anything.

Alan is preceded in death by his parents and one sister, Marla. Surviving family members include his wife, Becky; son, Nathan (Kristi) Blankenship of Yates City, and their two children, Bennett and Albie; daughter, Kimberly (Joshua) Williams of Fort Belvoir, Va., and their

Susan N. DeVries

BRIMFIELD - Susan Marie De Vries, 72, of Brimfield, passed away peacefully at 9:03 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 6, 2023, at her home with her family by her side.

She was born June 18, 1951, in Peoria to Clement J. and Muriel J. (Williams) Hoelscher and was raised and educated in Peoria. Susan graduated from Bergan High School in 1969 and married

Edward L. De Vries of Brimfield. They cherished each other for 47 years until his passing on May 24, 2020. Susan is survived by her two children, Aimee

Frank of Brimfield and Adam De Vries of Peoria; three grandchildren, Jeneva Thomas, Hunter McClure and Hadlee Frank; one sister, Judith Savage of Dunlap; and many nieces and nephews.

DeVries

Susan was preceded in death by her parents; husband Edward; one sister, Cynthia Binder; and three babies at birth.

Sue was a loving mother, grandmother, sister, aunt and friend who was deeply loved and will be greatly missed.

Without question, the death of a loved one forces each of us to reflect on life, the journey itself and all its available pathways. Each path designed to bring us to the often dreamt of life well-lived where every action and step we take, hopefully, reflects the values we hold most dear. If you were lucky enough to have Susan step into your world, you remembered her and your chosen path instantly became sunnier and safer, while whatever burden you might be carrying became just a little bit lighter.

Sue Hoelscher was a very special gift that Eddy De Vries gave to Brimfield, the community his family has called home for five generations. She possessed a soft and charming beauty shared daily through her kindness and good taste. Susan's strength of character served as a North Star for all.

Susan M. De Vries was driven by both faith and principle and would go to the ends of the earth for either. She fought for the underdog, gave voice to those that had none and fought off any attack on her family with a fervent passion. She was a champion that knew when to step up, speak out, or stand firm.

Cremation rites have been accorded. A memorial visitation will take place at St. Mary Catholic Church in Kickapoo on Saturday, Aug. 19, 2023, from 10 a.m. until time of Memorial Mass of Christian Burial at 11 a.m. Fr. James Pankiewicz will officiate with Deacon Tom Mueller assisting.

Memorials in Susan's memory may be made to Multiple System Atrophy Coalition or the trust for her grandchildren at F&M Bank in Brimfield. Condolences can be left online at www.wrightandsalmon.com.

Also, Colleen James of Physical Therapy Services, Inc., which has an office in Farmington, has offered a trainer to see students during the day.

Otto said, pending board approval, Farmington will continue its wrestling coop agreement with Cuba High School.

The board also approved a health-life safety survey, an emergency operations plan, several policy updates, goals for the district and for Superintendent Zac Chatterton and passed the consent agenda.

The board also heard a curriculum presentation from Natalie Almasi. who said that Farmington's curriculum council has made progress on several issues since prior to last year.

Finally, a Fiscal Year 2024 budget hearing has been scheduled for Sept. 11 at 6:20 p.m., prior to the regular meeting at 6:30.

Wake aims for state

Elmwood senior golfer among best in area By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post ELMWOOD – To say Tanner Wake has spent his summer preparing for this year's prep golf season is an understatement. When he hasn't been golfing over the past few months, Wake has still spent long hours on the course, mowing at Maple Lane Country Club.

Familiarity with his home course paid off for the Elmwood senior on Monday during a season-opening three-team match at Maple Lane. Wake was medalist after shooting a 1-over-par round of 36, with his lone bogey on No. 9.

That's not a surprise, though, since Wake is expected to be among the top prep golfers in the area. He tied for fifth in regionals last fall with an 81 and also shot 81 in the sectional to narrowly miss advancing to state.

This year, Wake hopes to make the next step to state. To do so, he'll have to shoot better at sectionals, where only 4 of the 14 golfers who finished ahead of him have graduated.

"Tanner has set some high expectations for himself and we are hoping they can be achieved Elmwood Coach Stephanie Colgan said. Colgan has 14 golfers out and lists

Elmwood senior golfer Tanner Wake sinks a short putt Monday at Maple Lane Country Club under the watchful eye of ROWVA-Williamsfield senior Cade Farquer. Wake and Farquer are expected to be among the top golfers in the area this season. Photo by Jeff Lampe.

Wake, Anthony Guppy (who shot 52 on Monday) and Kuper Bolton (49) as top returnees for the boys team, who placed third Monday in the season opener with 196 strokes.

On the girls side, Colgan lists Maddie Conklin (56 on Monday), Addi Powers (51) and Addi Thrasher (59) as top returnees. Corinne Colgan shot 62 on Monday as Elmwood tied with R-W at 228 and Illini Bluffs won the girls match at 196.

Here's a look at other area teams. ROWVA-Williamsfield

Depth has traditionally been a strength for the R-W boys team, and this year is no different. The Cougars have 13 boys on the roster and placed second to Illini Bluffs at Elmwood, 170-183.

Senior Cade Farquer, sophomore

Preston Lafary and junior Landon Hannam were starters last year and Farquer was a sectional qualifier. Coach Andy Fritz is also excited by the return of Mason Sornberger, back after taking a year off from golf to play football.

"This year with course rotations, we're back to (home course) Oak Run a majority of the time, so I expect better scoring and an even better win percentage," Fritz said.

Lafary was medalist and shot 40 on Aug. 10 at Oak Run Golf Course to lead R-W, which topped Brimfield, 176-185. Farquer shot 43, Hannam carded a 45 and Sornberger shot 48. Lafary again led the team Monday with a 40, while Sornberger shot 45, Farquer 46 and Hannam carded a 52

Lincoln Trail to add Bureau Valley in '24

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post The conference merrygo-round keeps spinning. The Lincoln Trail Conference has officially accepted Bureau Valley into the league starting with the 2024-25 school year. Adding Bureau Valley fills a hole left by the pending departure of Mercer County, which will join the Three Rivers Athletic Conference for 2024-25.

Bureau Valley will compete in the large division of the new Lincoln Trail-Prairieland football conference.

Princeville Athletic Director Jeff Kratzer said he views Bureau Valley as a good fit for the LTC.

"From our viewpoint, we are pretty much playing them in just about everything anyway, except football and basketball," Kratzer said.

Kratzer said replacing Mercer County with The Storm will also cut travel time by 30-45 minutes. Travel times will also improve for Stark County and Galva.

The change is a swap of schools, as Bureau Valley had been a TRAC member since 1999. But changes had left Bureau Valley, enrollment 319.5, as the third-smallest TRAC member, ahead of only Sterling Newman Central Catholic (enrollment 210) and Orion (307.5). In the past six years, Amboy, Fulton and Peru St. Bede have left the TRAC. Morrison will leave next year.

Now Bureau Valley will be one of the largest schools in the LTC, ranking behind only Knoxville's enrollment of 328.5. The LTC will have 12 members in 2024-25: Abingdon-Avon, Annawan, Bureau Valley, Galva, Knoxville, Princeville, Ridgewood, ROWVA-Williamsfield, Stark County, United, West Central and Kewanee Wethersfield.

The TRAC will also have 12 members next year: Erie-Prophetstown, Spring Valley Hall, Kewanee, Mendota, Mercer County, Monmouth-Roseville, Sterling Newman, Orion, Princeton, Sherrard, Riverdale and Rockridge.
