Two wind farms planned for Peoria County

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

Winds of change appear ready to blow through western Peoria County.

There are two wind farms – or "wind-energy facilities," as professionals prefer to call them – being proposed in adjacent areas of the county. Whichever one comes to fruition first would be the initial Peoria County wind-energy development.

Four Creeks Wind is proposed to encompass about 22,000 acres in Brimfield, Jubilee, Millbrook and Princeville townships. Construction on the 400-megawatt project, which could feature as many as 115 wind turbines, might begin in the spring of 2026 and end toward the end of 2027.

"I think that you can say they're kind of in Step One," said Andrew Braun, the Peoria County assistant director of planning and zoning. "They're still doing some of their homework. They're still collecting data to ensure this is a viable location."

At least another 20,000 acres is expected to be the footprint of Goldrush Apple Energy, a 200-megawatt project to be centered in the Dunlap-Edelstein-Princeville area. It might be completed in 2027 or 2028. Apex Clean Energy, a renewable-power company based in Charlottesville, Va., is the overseer.

Neither entity, nor any others, has applied for permission to build a wind farm, according to Braun. But he said the companies have been in touch with landowners regarding property leases.

The companies also have built or intend to build meteorological towers at various locations. The towers are about 200 feet tall, Braun said, and assess wind speed, direction, ground-level air pressure and air temperature. That data can help determine how and where wind turbines

Two new wind farms may be coming to Peoria County in the next few years.

Looking back on a century

Mickie Gilles has good memories of 100 years

By MOLLY RICHESON
For The Weekly Post

After living for 100 years, Mildred "Mickie" Gilles has experienced plenty. Give her some time and she'll tell you about it, too, in her own straightforward way.

Born May 1, 1924, to August and Anna Oppe from Kickapoo, Gilles recently celebrated her 100th birthday and has another family gathering planned for Saturday. Now a resident of Elmwood's Country Comfort Retirement Home, she is the oldest living of 10 Oppe siblings, although brothers Walter, who turns 99 on May 13, and Warren, 97, are not far behind.

Mickie's earliest memory is of her eighth birthday when she and her family lived in Bartonville, where her father farmed for the Peoria State Hospital. On the day of her birthday, a tornado blew down the Oppe house, requiring them to rebuild. Eventually, they moved to an 80-acre farm outside of Kickapoo.

"The people around Kickapoo, they're a close bunch. They stick up for each other. It seemed like Elmwood looked down upon the Edwards boys," she said. "I've never lived in Elmwood before now, but my son (Paul Gilles Jr.), who's a professor in North Carolina, he adores Elmwood."

Mickie graduated from Brimfield High School in 1942, and her descendants can still be found at the school. One of her favorite things to do in high school was to attend dances.

"They had a big dance hall there in Kickapoo. Everybody went to

Billtown OKs budget

Approval for more expenses than receipts

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

WILLIAMSFIELD – With a day to spare, the Williamsfield Village Board approved a 2024-25 municipal budget Monday night.

General-fund projections are for the village to have $344,945 in receipts and $395,350 in expenses. That would leave the cash balance at $3,093.34 next April 30, the end of the new fiscal year.

Village President Robert Johnson didn't appear to believe the balance will be that low.

"We don't have to spend the money," he said. "This budget will spend more money than we actually take in, but there's reserves in our different accounts that make up for that if we decide to spend it."

"This budget gives us the authority to spend it. We just don't have to."

Wednesday represented the beginning of the 2024-25 fiscal year. The six-member board met in special session for less than five minutes to authorize the budget, following an even-briefer public hearing in which no comments were recorded. Trustees Nancy Everett and Stu Hickerson were absent.

The board's regular meeting for May is scheduled for Monday, May 6.

Operation-and-maintenance expenses for 2024-25 are budgeted to be $25,000 more than revenues, for an

BUDGET: Grocery tax out, street-lighting added

ending fund balance of $1,298.09. Park-fund expenses are to be $9,700 more than revenues, for a balance of $35,816.91. The balance in the motor-fuel-tax fund is budgeted at $947.54. But water-works revenues are expected to be $385,119, while expenses are projected to be $368,450. The difference would increase the fund balance to $39,219.78. Late last year, the board approved substantial increases in water rates. They had not been keeping pace with inflation and infrastructure costs, according to Johnson. The increase in rates was designed to help erase an annual deficit of more than $67,000 in village water operations.

Among new line items in the general-fund budget is $3,760 in street-lighting taxes. That pays for about a month of the electricity bill, Johnson said.

The new budget also removes about $10,000 in grocery-tax money the village had been receiving from the state. Illinois Gov. JB Pritzker is seeking to permanently eliminate the statewide 1% grocery tax, something still being deliberated in Springfield. The budget reduction anticipates that elimination, according to Johnson.

Will ethanol make the cut as a jet biofuel?

The easiest way to win any game is to rig the rules.

That's what Big Ag and its loyal boosters at the U.S. Department of Agriculture appear to be doing to make sure their new project, Sustainable Aviation Fuel, or SAF, a hoped-for 3-billion-gallons-a-year jet biofuel market by 2030 and 35 billion gallons annually by 2050, flies despite market gravity and basic science.

To clear the way for corn-based ethanol to become the dominant SAF feedstock, "qualifying producers can earn a minimum $1.25 tax credit per gallon" that can "increase to as much as $1.75 gallon," explains Andrew Swanson, a University of California Davis resource economist, in a recent farmdocDAILY post.

Those market-making tax credits, included in 2022's Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), "are in addition to any fuel credits earned under the RFS," today's ethanol-enabling federal Renewable Fuel Standard, and state sweeteners like California's carbon credits.

The "stacked" credits are not just "lucrative" to potential SAF producers interested in the "jet fuel conversion processes;" they're the whole ballgame. Without them, SAF has little chance of ever taking off.

"However," explains Swanson in his lengthy, balanced report, "there is a catch." For any future SAF producer to "receive these tax credits, a fuel must have 50% less emissions than petroleum jet fuel."

That's Everest-tall for ethanol and more than double RFS's comparatively meager "20% less emissions than petroleum gas" standard for automotive fuel.

There's more. According to Swanson, SAF emissions must comply with "standards set by the International Civil Aviation Organization" that show "SAF from corn-starch ethanol has higher emissions than petroleum jet fuel." That means "ethanol producers do not currently qualify for the IRA tax credits."

But wait, this is ethanol, the federally mandated biofuel that over the last 40 years has had more lives than the hardiest barn cat. It's survived decades of sketchy economics, questionable carbon emissions data and, most recently, the fast rise of electric vehicles.

To win the SAF fight, Swanson notes, the Biden Administration – under intense pressure from Big Ag's ethanol lobby and USDA's advocacy – needed to rejigger SAF emissions rules just to give ethanol a chance.

So, "The Biden Administration formally stated in December that the Treasury Department will adopt a different model to calculate ethanol's emissions for SAF. This model is called GREET," or, in bureaucrat-speak, Greenhouse Gases, Regulated Emissions and Energy use in Technologies.

Better yet, this new, customized model yielded a new, customized emission number. "According to GREET, corn ethanol represents a 43% reduction in emissions from petroleum gasoline."

I know, a miracle, right?

While that number still doesn't clear SAF's steeper hurdle to unlock IRA's tax-credit gold mine, says Swanson, "using GREET will certainly reduce the emission gap between ethanol SAF and the 50% threshold – if not eliminate it completely."

"Moreover," adds Swanson, "exploring how GREET determines the emissions of ethanol will reveal how ethanol producers could surpass the 50% threshold." The most obvious places to start are "the three largest sources of emissions for corn ethanol ... corn production, biorefining, and land use change."

Of the three, biorefining offers an extraordinary example of how this novel, Department of Treasury math magically makes ethanol "green" enough to enter SAF's tax-credit heaven.

For example, under GREET, just switching from natural gas to renewable natural gas during ethanol's refining process, then employing "carbon capture and sequestration ... would reduce the carbon intensity of ethanol SAF" to meet the necessary IRA threshold.

In other words, potential SAF refiners can grab the biofuel's tax-credit billions by first grabbing carbon credits generated by other heavily subsidized, deeply controversial federal "green" programs like methane-making manure digesters and carbon-capture pipelines.

Why all the bald-faced rule rigging – and a spectacular tax-credit triple jump – to make SAF fly? More on that next week.

WIND: Meteorological towers on board agenda

might be placed. Approval for five Goldrush meteorological towers is to be on the County Board agenda May 9. On April 11, the board approved a Four Creeks tower to be built along Lorraine Road in Millbrook Township. Four Creeks has three other towers in the county.

Various public presentations, hearings and approvals must take place before more-significant construction can commence.

Four Creeks might be a year away from filing for a full-blown wind-facility hearing in front of the county Zoning Board of Appeals, according to Braun. The ZBA then would make a recommendation for the County Board land-use committee to review, followed by full-board consideration.

“At this point, I think it’s because there’s not a proposal per se on the table, those conversations really haven’t ramped up too much,” he said. “I think once there start being town halls and things get more formal, there will be increased communication between various agencies and taxing bodies.”

Some public officials in the wind-farm targeted areas appear to be preparing for that.

Matt Perham, the Millbrook Township road commissioner, was among others who combined to place a public notice recently in The Weekly Post that described the nuts and bolts of the Four Creeks plan. According to Perham, the notice was an effort to address community rumors.

“It got to where I could hardly go into Brimfield without getting cornered,” he said.

The northwest corner of Peoria County is where Four Creeks wants to set up. ConnectGen, a renewable-energy firm from Houston, proposed the project in 2021. Since then, ConnectGen was acquired by Repsol, a Spain-based energy company.

Four Creeks has the potential to power more than 130,000 homes annually, according to Luis Hernando Vaquero, a Repsol spokesman.

“Our objective is to continue taking steps to advance this important wind-power project,” Hernando stated in an email.

Such projects have been non-existent in Peoria County. That absence appears to be based more on geography than on government philosophy. Lack of sufficient wind speed and the location of the Peoria international airport have been among reasons cited for the dearth of local wind-energy proposals, Braun said.

“As these farms are developing in other places, we’re seeing an increase in the number of renewable-energy companies,” said Braun, who also cited technology upgrades. “That’s led to ‘Where are the gaps? Where are the opportunities?’ These companies are now feeling like Peoria County might be one of them.

“Renewable energy is definitely not something this county is against. I (just) think we haven’t been approached.”

Patrick Meyer, a Brimfield-based engineer for townships in the Four Creeks area, said construction jobs and wind companies’ payments to local landowners are project advantages. Disadvantages include changes to the landscape, something Meyer cited regarding wind-energy plants in the Bloomington area.

“It takes away from the ambience of a rural setting,” he said. “That’s near and dear to some people’s hearts.”

Financial considerations related to wind-farm implementation appear near and dear to Perham. He said his priority is to make sure the townships and their residents are remunerated regarding construction-related inconveniences, including road modifications.

“If you’re going to take something without compensation, (it’s) theft,” Perham said. “For sure, there’s going to be a concrete plant built. For sure, a new substation will be built. If you happen to live by one of those things, your quality of life is going to suffer for a few years.

“That’s the biggest thing that keeps me up at night is I want compensation for these people.”

Perham appears to believe it’s only a matter of time before the concrete plants, substations and other facilities related to wind-energy development pop up in the western part of the county. He suggested he’s attempting to make the best of it and not pick fights that can’t be won.

“It’s not going to be the way it’s been,” he said. “I don’t know if you’ll ever stop green energy in this state.”

Peoria-area home sales down 6.4% in 1st quarter

Peoria-area home sales are down 6.4% for the first three months of 2024, according to the Peoria Area Association of Realtors.

For the first quarter of 2024, 997 homes were sold in the Peoria area compared to 1,065 sold during the first quarter of 2023. The average sale price of homes was $144,600 compared to $152,029 in 2023.

"It's really a case of more of the same when it comes to housing. The market's been slow due to low inventory," said Bill McCarthy, PAAR president. "The spring market tends to be erratic, but we're likely to see more activity in the months ahead."

One thing hasn't changed when it comes to buying a home in the Peoria area, McCarthy said.

"You must be ready to move. When there's a shorter supply of homes on the market, homes tend to sell faster if they're priced right and in good shape," McCarthy said, noting that the average number of days a house was on the market in the first quarter was 35. Last year, that average was 49 days.

It's been four years since the pandemic, but its impact is still being felt, McCarthy said.

"There were a lot of sales initially, but things have since slowed down. We just need to get more houses of all price points on the market," McCarthy said.

PAAR presently projects a little over a month's supply of homes is available in the Peoria area.

McCarthy would like to see more new construction. "We need more spec homes, but I know that building costs have gone up dramatically in recent years," he said.

With the arrival of spring, more people will likely be looking to buy, McCarthy said.

Williamsfield man dies after crash

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

WILLIAMSFIELD – A two-vehicle accident along the Knox-Peoria county boundary killed a Williamsfield-area man.

Curtis J. Campbell, 29, was pronounced dead at 3:23 p.m. April 25, two days after the accident at U.S. Route 150 and East Knox Road southeast of Williamsfield.

According to the Illinois State Police, Campbell was driving a 2023 Polaris Ranger utility-task vehicle shortly before 4 p.m. April 23 on Knox Road, also known as Cedar Bluff Road, a north-south thoroughfare along the county line. A state police report did not specify in which direction the UTV was headed.

The UTV did not stop at a posted sign at Route 150 and collided with an eastbound 2016 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck, according to the state police. James Ross, 61, of Williamsfield was the other driver.

This two-vehicle accident led to the death of Williamsfield-area man Curtis J. Campbell.

A helicopter transported Campbell, who was in critical condition, to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria. Aggressive treatment failed to save Campbell's life, according to Peoria County Coroner Jamie Harwood.

Toxicology tests were negative. Ross was uninjured.

The state police were continuing to investigate.

Police reports

• BRIMFIELD – A Brimfield teenager was accused of tossing a cat from a speeding vehicle. The cat was killed. The 16-year-old boy also was accused of creating a social-media video of the incident, on April 22 in the 19300 block of U.S. Route 150 west of Brimfield, according to the Peoria County Sheriff's Office.

Peoria County Animal Protective Services alerted the sheriff's office April 23 regarding a dead cat in the roadway. Simultaneously, the sheriff's office was made aware of a Snapchat video that showed the boy throwing the cat through a vehicle's open window.

Witnesses shared the video with deputies. The witnesses said the cat belonged to someone who moved out of the country. The suspect received the cat from a mutual friend and was asked to get rid of it, according to the sheriff's office, which decided not to release the video to the public.

During an interview April 24 with detectives, the boy admitted to throwing the cat from the vehicle while driving and recording. He was charged with cruelty to animals and depiction of animal cruelty. As of last week, he was being held at the Peoria County Juvenile Detention Center.

• FARMINGTON – A traffic stop in Farmington resulted in a Stark County woman's arrest for multiple illicit-drug crimes.

Lezlie A. Dowds, 35, of Wyoming was a passenger in a 2021 Nissan Rogue a Farmington police officer stopped about 11:45 p.m. April 19 at Fort and Poplar streets. The vehicle's taillights weren't functioning, according to a police report.

The officer discovered Dowds was wanted on two Tazewell County warrants. A small amount of cannabis and a hitter pipe were found in Dowds' purse. So was a clear jar that contained 7 grams of a white, crystal substance that tested positive for methamphetamine.

Also found in the purse was a glass pipe with burned residue, as well as a syringe that contained a dark liquid that tested positive for meth. A white, crystal substance was found in and/or on a broken glass pipe, a metal container and a plastic container – all in the purse, the report stated.

Dowds was charged with two counts of possession of meth and three counts of possession of drug paraphernalia. The driver, 46-year-old Charles R. Gathard of Peoria, was cited for driving without taillights and driving with a revoked license.

Gathard is to appear May 17 in Fulton County Circuit Court. The vehicle was impounded. Dowds was transported to the Fulton County Jail.

• OAK RUN – No injuries were reported in a single-vehicle accident near Oak Run. Marissa L. The vehicle left the east side of the pavement and landed in a field.

An ambulance crew evaluated Bloomgren, who said she wasn't injured, according to a Knox County Sheriff's Office report. She said she didn't know what happened. Her vehicle sustained moderate front-end damage and was towed.

• WILLIAMSFIELD – A Williamsfield man involved in a single-vehicle accident south of his hometown reported minor injuries.

Shortly before 6 p.m. April 16, Waylon D. Courson, 19, was driving an eastbound 2012 Chevrolet Malibu on Knox Road 1100 North east of Knox Highway 18 when he swerved to miss an animal in the road. The vehicle left the north side of the pavement, according to a Knox County Sheriff's Office report. The vehicle struck a power pole, sustained disabling damage and was towed.

• FARMINGTON – A 14-year-old boy was accused of stealing alcohol from a Farmington convenience store. The boy took two four-packs of 1-ounce shots of Platinum 7X Vodka about 6 p.m. April 16 from Circle K, 1006 E. Fort St., according to a Farmington police report. When an officer attempted to stop the boy, he ran away but was detained eventually.

According to the report, the boy said he dropped the bottles in a nearby cornfield but later admitted to drinking one of them. His blood-alcohol content was measured at .036. The legal limit is .08.

The boy was charged with retail theft, illegal possession of alcohol by a minor and illegal consumption of alcohol. He also was banned from the store for seven years.

• KICKAPOO – Shortly after 5:30 a.m. April 10, Deken A. # GILLES: Mickie says '100 years is exhausting'

 the dance there on Saturday nights. If you wanted to meet somebody, that's where you went," Mickie explains. "A kid from high school I knew, he sat behind me in class one time, and he said, 'I know somebody that wants to go with you.' And that's just the way he said it. I said 'OK' and so we met at the Halloween party."

That blind date introduced Mickie to her husband, Paul, who she later married at St. Mary's Catholic Church on April 2, 1945. Mickie and Paul had five children, Patsy Cahill of Brimfield, Mary Kay DeVries of Hanna City, Ed Gilles of Indiana, Steve Gilles of Michigan and Paul Jr. of North Carolina. Mickie also has numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren, including a brand-new set of twins. "They're not a year old yet," Mickie says, smiling. "They're gonna be a lot of fun."

Asked who influenced her the most, Mickie didn't miss a beat.

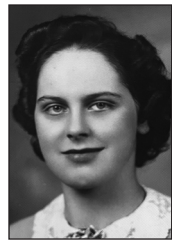

"My husband," she said. "He just let me do what I wanted to do. He did his job, and I did mine. He liked to hunt and fish and go mushrooming. I didn't care, that's what he liked. We got along good. I did things with the kids, went to ballgames, things like that, like you should."

"Paul never went to high school because his dad died when he was 14, and so his mother had the farm and he had to stay home and farm. He didn't miss it. He did plenty."

Paul worked at Caterpillar Inc. in the shipping department and spent plenty of Saturdays in the office to earn double pay. While he liked his job, he said, "I won't work a day over 62." And he didn't.

Mickie described her marriage further, saying, "Paul worked and always gave me his check. He said, 'You were the bookkeeper before we were married, so go ahead and keep book.' He was a good husband. I picked the right one, you know."

Two changes stick out for Mickie over the last 100 years. The first is the experience of being a woman. "The women needed a change! They needed a big, big change! This idea of men beating their women ... they used to all the time. If they didn't get their way, they beat you," Mickie says. "That was a big one. No woman should ever let a man touch her. They beat you, you need to leave them. And now, you do and you should. Don't ever let a man hit you."

The other difference is not as life-altering but is a change nonetheless.

"Why can't 16-year-olds just use their parents' car?" she asked. "Times have changed. I don't think they need their own car. I think they could use their parents' car, but that's not the way it is."

Mickie is also a breast-cancer survivor, completing chemotherapy and radiation when she was 79.

"I had a wonderful doctor," she says. "I'm glad I did. He got me through all that. It made me kind of sick when he ran off with his nurse, but they're happy, so that's good."

Mickie doesn't have a favorite decade in the last 100 years and doesn't think she would have done anything differently if she could go back.

Her advice for younger generations is fairly simple.

"Owning your own home," she says. "That's important."

And in Mickie's typical straightforward fashion, "Don't be so selfish. They just think of themselves. Just like 'I'm 16, I'm gonna have a car.'"

As for life in a retirement home, Mickie says, "They try to get you activities. When you get to be 100, you sleep all the time. You can't stay awake. I feel terrible about it, but there's nothing you can do about it. One hundred years is exhausting."

She says that she has lived so long, "because God wanted me to. He don't know where to put me. That's about right, you know. He don't take you 'til you're ready."

And she worries for the next generations.

"Everything is so expensive, and nothing lasts over 10 years. These kids can't afford new things every 10 years. Groceries are terrible. I don't think (President) Biden understands because he's a millionaire, and the kids aren't millionaires."

To celebrate Mickie becoming a centenarian, son Steve has party plans for Saturday.

"A big party, and it's going to be at Gil's. They have good food there," she says, adding that she's also a big fan of Jubilee Café. "That's a nice place to eat. They give you lots of food. They never did stop him from being open (during COVID), you know. He does what he wants to do."

And in conclusion? "You just turn to be 100, and you don't even know it," Mickie says. "You don't pay any attention to it."

Edward E. Bowman
NEWTON, Iowa – Edward Eugene Bowman, 65, of Newton, Iowa, formerly of Williamsfield, died at 6:32 a.m. Tuesday, April 23, 2024, at his home.

Bowman

He was born April 16, 1959, in Galesburg, the son of Richard and Betty (Murphy) Bowman. He married Hiltraud "Hilly" Lilienthal on Oct. 26, 1984, in Germany. Burial was in Williamsfield Cemetery, where military rites were accorded by the Williamsfield American Legion. Memorials may be made in his name and will be accepted at the funeral home.

This obituary may be viewed and private condolences left at www.rux-funeralhome.com.

Chad O. Conger
BRIMFIELD – Chad O'Neil Conger, 41, of Brimfield, Ill., passed away on April 14, 2024. He was born on Aug. 13, 1982, to Shane and Patricia (Logston) Conger.

Surviving are his daughter, Kenzie Conger of Delavan; his parents; his brother, Kyle Conger; his niece, Kendra Conger; his significant other, Molly Gass; and many other family members and friends.

He was preceded in death by his paternal and maternal grandparents.

Many knew Chad from his days as an athlete. He grew up with a love for sports, which carried on past high school to Spoon River College, where he had the opportunity to pitch. After college, Chad found slow-pitch softball and had the joy of playing almost every night of the week.

Those who had the pleasure of knowing Chad knew they were going to have a great person to lean on through whatever life threw at them.

There are no funeral arrangements at this time, but a celebration of life is being planned for a later date, as is a slow-pitch softball tournament.

A GoFundMe account (<https://go-fund.me/173ca30a>) has been created for those who would like to make a donation.

OBITUARIES

had three daughters, whom they raised in the log cabin they built themselves on Golden Jubilee Farm. He was preceded in death by his parents, Ed in 1979 and Marilyn in 2021.

Surviving are his loving wife of 41 years, Lisa of Princeville; three daughters, Emily (Jonah Ulmer) of Washington, D.C., Laura of Princeville and Karlen Sandall of Lacon, Ill.; mother-in-law, Jeanette Parsons; uncles, Darrel and Ronald (Janice) Junker; cousins; and friends.

Kevin attended Richwoods High School in Peoria. After high school he went on to serve in the U.S. Army, stationed near Frankfurt, Germany.

Kevin was a hard worker, starting his career in maintenance at Franklin Grade School in Peoria District 150 and had several subsequent jobs. He was incredibly handy and had a vast knowledge of construction, machinery and tools.

There was no place he would rather be than outside, and he had many fond memories of being on his grandparents' farm. He deeply loved his wife, daughters and family dogs and cats, even though he often joked that he was the only man on a farm full of girls. He was a loyal and well-loved friend to many.

Music was very important to him, from playing classic rock constantly and attending concerts to singing in the choir at the Princeville United Methodist Church. Kevin was actively involved in the Princeville Lions Club and volunteered for many years at the WTVP Auction. He will be remembered for his sense of humor, endless concert T-shirts and stories, excellent planning of family vacations, delicious chili recipe and wonderful friendship.

His memorial was to be at 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, 2024, at Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services in Princeville. A visitation was to be held from 3:30-5 p.m. also on Wednesday at the funeral home. A private burial will be held in Jubilee Churchyard Cemetery in Brimfield, Ill., at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, tributes in Kevin's bright memory may be made to The Michael J. Fox Foundation, Jubilee Churchyard Cemetery or a meaningful charity of your choice.

The family wishes to thank all of the staff at Lacon Rehab and Nursing and Traditions Hospice for the excellent care they provided.

Haskell Funeral & Cremation Services is handling arrangements. Online condolences may be left for Kevin's family on his tribute wall at www.haskellfuneral.com.

Marilyn J. Wyss

CHILLICOTHE – Marilyn Joyce Wyss, 89, of Chillicothe, formerly of Princeville and Watseka, passed away April 22, 2024, at Carle Health Methodist Hospital in Peoria. Marilyn was born on Dec. 22, 1934, in Princeville, to Alva and Zelma (Sloan) Peterson and graduated from Princeville High School, Class of 1952.

She married Edward Wyss on Nov. 27, 1955, at the Presbyterian Church of Princeville. He survives.

Also surviving are two daughters, Kimberly (David) Deetjen of Naperville and Karen (Steve) Ippen of Madison, Wis.; four grandchildren, Marc Deetjen, Grace Walder, Kevin Ippen and Erin Ziebarth; and five great-grandchildren, Luke Deetjen, Micah Deetjen, Rebekah Walder, Benjamin Ippen and Owen Ippen. She was preceded in death by her parents; one brother, Melvin Peterson; and two sisters, Marjorie Galvin and Martha Mock.

Marilyn lived life as a witness to following Jesus Christ, reading her Bible daily, leading Bible studies and boldly sharing the Gospel to all. Well-known as a fun, playful grandmother, she also cherished getting photos and videos of her young great-grandchildren. Marilyn served her calling as a caregiver to those around her as a RN in hospital and home health settings.

She was a skilled seamstress, sewing, quilting and mending for her family and friends. She loved music, playing clarinet, piano and using her singing voice. Her energy was ceaseless, with a love for physical fitness, running and walking. Her love for dogs was almost as much as the people around her with whom she loved to socialize. Marilyn never met a stranger, was a dear friend to many and will truly be missed.

Marilyn's family appreciates the excellence and compassion of her caregivers: Shanda, Evergreen Senior Living staff, the office of Dr. Timothy Lawless and Carle Health Methodist Peoria staff.

Visitation will be from 5-7 p.m. on Friday, May 10, 2024, at Haskell Funeral and Cremation Services in Princeville. Memorial services and burial in Princeville Township Cemetery will be private.

In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to Samaritan's Purse.

More information and condolences may be left for Marilyn's family on her tribute wall at www.haskellfuneral.com.

Brimfield-Elmwood baseball tops R-W to improve to 16-1

By PHIL JOHNSON

For The Weekly Post

The Brimfield-Elmwood baseball team improved to 16-1 with a 12-2 ICAC win over ROWVA-Williamsfield at home on Monday.

The hosts were up 10-0 after two innings. Layne Johnson doubled twice to go with three RBI. Jude Strahm hit a home run and had two RBI. Landon Binder hit 3-for-3 with two RBI.

Sean Crowe started and pitched four innings, yielding five hits while striking out four. Brody Kenney threw one inning, fanning two.

B-E and Havana battled scoreless for six innings last Thursday at Havana, but the Indians tallied six in the seventh in a 6-0 Prairie-land win.

Brady Johnson was masterful in a complete-game pitching performance. He scattered five hits, struck out 12 and walked none. B-E had seven hits and Kyle Binder, Kaden Schatsiek and Drew Kieser each drove in a run.

The Indians walloped Prairie-land foe Knoxville 12-0 at home on April 24 by scoring in every inning. Kieser drove in two. Layne Johnson also had two RBI. Cleve Bizosky tossed a complete game, struck out seven and yielded one hit and no walks.

“We got great pitching from Cleve Bizosky and Brady Johnson in these two games. We were hitting the ball hard but right at defenders in the Havana game,” said B-E Coach Kevin Kreiter. “Havana also made several diving plays for outs.”

B-E is at Delavan today. Farmington – The Farmers (10-10) jumped ahead of Macomb by 10 after three innings in an 11-0 win on Monday on the road.

The top of the order of Ben Marvel (two RBI, two doubles) and Landon Crawford (three-run home run) ignited the offense.

Crawford started on the mound, picking up two strikeouts in 1.1 innings. Lane Wheelwright threw 3.2 frames, giving up four hits, three walks and striking out four.

FHS won at ROWVA-Williamsfield in a 9-7 shootout on April 24. The Farmers worked around a seven-run R-W fifth by scoring in each of the second through sixth innings.

Henry Easley drove in three runs. Bronson Atchley pitched the first two innings, yielding one hit and striking out two. Jacob Evans pitched the final five. He gave up six hits and five free passes, allowed two earned runs and struck out seven.

Farmington is at West Prairie today.

Princeville – The Princes (9-13) dropped two Lincon Trail games at home vs. R-W at home on April 25, 4-2 and 5-1. In the opener, PHS committed four errors.

Princeville managed only four hits. Parker Dickinson and Jake Williams each drove in one. Noah Gieger and Jett Benningfield each tripled.

In the nightcap, the hosts committed five errors. Logan Olshawsky had one RBI and Williams tripled.

The Princes trounced West Central 10-3 with 14 hits on the road on April 24. Jett Benningfield tripled with two RBI, Trent Buffum hit 3-for-4 with two RBI and two doubles and Olshawsky went 3-for-5 with two RBI.

Noah Geiger throw 6.2 frames, giving up five hits with one earned run and seven whiffs.

Princeville crushed Knoxville 11-1 on April 23 at home. Williams pitched a complete game with no walks, three hits and eight strikeouts.

Geiger went 3-for-4 with two RBI, Williams was 2-for-2 with three RBI and Olshawsky drove in two.

Princeville is home Friday vs. Farmington.

ROWVA-Williamsfield – Between tough outings vs. B-E and Farmington, the Cougars (11-12) enjoyed a doubleheader sweep at Princeville on April 25.

In the 4-2 opener, the Cougars scored two in their last at-bat, then held on. Lewis Sams had two hits, including a double, and an RBI and Drake DeJaynes tripled. Jaxson Strom threw a complete game, allowing four hits and three walks while striking out six.

In the 5-1 second game, R-W collected 11 hits and scored in every inning except the second. Sams had two RBI, DeJaynes was 3-for-3 with one RBI and Brody Lytle recorded an RBI and knocked a double.

DeJaynes pitched a strong complete game, striking out 10 while giving up two hits and two walks.

R-W is at ICAC rival Peoria Christian today.

TRACK: Hill breaks own E-B mark for 800

place 4x400 relay with a split of 50-51 seconds, according to Coach Gregg Meyers.

"That 800 he ran is elite stuff," Meyers said. "You run that hard, you put yourself into oxygen debt and your body starts to rebel a bit. I'm sure he had a massive headache."

Hill was at first uncertain he could run the mile after his fast 800, but he rebounded to post a winning time.

Hill was not part of E-B's 4x800 relay, which placed second to Eureka with a time of 8:31.39. Runners were Reed Florey, Aiden Faulkner, LJ Higgs and Kam Stevenson.

"We're just looking to see where we can go with different people," Meyers said of the 4x800, a traditional medal-winning event for E-B at state. "The 4x800 we run at sectionals might not be the same we run at state. We definitely have a shot (at qualifying for state) without Isaiah. If we can do it without him, that lets him focus on the 800 and 1,600."

The E-B boys placed fifth at Eureka and had second-place finishes from Mika Nelson in the 3,200 (PR, 10:04.59) and Dax Alger in the 300 hurdles (43.46).

The E-B girls team was third behind winner Eureka and Downs Tri-Valley. Mya Strahm won in the 300 hurdles (46.99) and pole vault (13-0), Emma May was second in long jump (16-3.25) and freshman Taylor Forney had a PR of 5:38.51 to place third in the 1,600.

At the Morton Distance Gala on Saturday, Hill broke his own meet record by winning the 3,200 in a PR of 9:29.28. E-B runners also had several other PRs, including a 2:04.16 in the 800 by Florey that put him 10th.

Elmwood is at Farmington on Friday for the Prairieland Conference meet and was scheduled to compete Wednesday at Abingdon.

Farmington – A reschedule of Eureka's Roger Washburn meet from Friday to Thursday meant several top Farmington athletes could not compete due to the senior awards banquet and National Honor Society induction that same night.

Ryan Helle was top individual finisher for the boys, placing fourth in pole vault by clearing 10-0.

Ethan Martin had a PR in the 200, placing fifth in 24.62 seconds.

"We were really looking forward to competing with our relays as we were ranked at tops in the 4x1 and 4x2," Coach Bradley Whitcomb said. "Currently we are running faster than we have in the past couple years in both relays and like our positioning moving towards sectionals."

Farmington holds the Prairieland meet Friday starting at 4 p.m.

ROWVA-Williamsfield – The Cougars girls were third at the Titan Invite behind winning 4x100 (52.9) and 4x200 (1:52.34) relays and four second-place finishes: Erin Welch in the 100 (13.19), Emily Hilman in the 3,200 (PR, 13:54.01), the 4x400 relay (4:23.01) and Addison Byrd in high jump (4-10).

COACHING: Brown takes over as volleyball coach

coached junior high boys and girls at Brimfield and was a junior high hoops coach in Peoria District 150.

"I've been coaching basketball for about 25 years at some level," Faulkner said. "After having been involved with the program the last five years, I felt like I'd at least stick with them for a few more years."

Faulkner said he expects to have a young team, with a few seniors and strong junior and sophomore classes.

"I think we've got a pretty athletic group that can try to push the ball to speed it up a little more," Faulkner said. "But we're going to use the tools we've had and setups offensively and defensively that won us 75 games in the last three years."

Faulkner said the Elmwood varsity will play Tuesdays at Galesburg and Wednesdays at Illinois Central College this summer and will attend the Illinois Wesleyan University camp May 28-31.

Elmwood has also made a change in its volleyball program, where Brown will replace Felicia Charlesworth. Charlesworth took over as head coach in the summer of 2020 and compiled a record of 49-50, according to MaxPreps. Elmwood was 10-22 last season.

"I have been playing volleyball since fifth grade,"

Brown said. "I just love the sport. When I saw the job become available, I thought it would be a good time in my life to do this."

Brown was a middle hitter at Limestone High School and played one year at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C.

Brown said she works remotely as a buyer for Amentum and has one year of coaching experience on the high school level as a freshman coach.

"We're still going to be a young group," Brown said of Elmwood. "We're going to be mostly freshmen and sophomores again this year. It's still a lot of development and I'm hoping as we bring up those freshmen and sophomores we'll have some great years."

Princes win Titan Invite

Bosch breaks 50-year-old school mark in 1,600

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

Joey Bosch broke a 50-year-old Princeville record on April 26 and helped lead the Princes boys team to first place at the AW Titan Invite.

Bosch won the 1,600-meter race in a career-best time of 4:35.6 to break the longstanding mark of 4:37.6 posted in 1974 by Mark Van Hoorbeke.

The Princes also won the 4x100 and 4x400 relays and had four second-place finishes en route to a 107-point night that edged Abingdon-Avon (103) and Annawan-Wethersfield (102).

"This was a good meet for us. We played around with the lineup to continue to see different runners in certain events," Coach Jon Carruthers said. "We had a lot of PRs, our 4x1 team ran its fastest time and Joey Bosch broke a school record."

The 4x100 won in 44.83 seconds behind Josh Hunt, Eli Christianson, Parker Melick and Tayshaun Kieser. The winning 4x400 of Collin Bowers, Jack Lied, Oliver Melick and Bosch clocked in at 3:44.46.

Placing second for Princeville was Kieser in the 200 (PR, 23.29), Oliver Melick in the 400 (54.93), Jackson Kraft in the 800 (2:19.82) and Hunt in shot put (44 feet, 2.75 inches).

Brianna Brodie led the Princeville girls team, winning discus with a throw of 124-4.25.

The Princes are at the LTC Conference meet on Friday at Monmouth United High School.

Elmwood-Brimfield – A school record also fell for the Trojans last week at the Roger Washburn Invite in Eureka, as senior Isaiah Hill broke his own mark set last year in the 800.

Senior Joey Bosch broke a 50-year-old Princeville record with his recent clocking of 4:35.6 in the 1,600.

Hill won in 1:52.76, besting his PR from last year of 1:54.26.

Hill also won the 1,600 in 4:31.16 and ran the anchor leg of E-B's third-

Coaching changes

Elmwood hires two new coaches

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

After posting 75 wins in the past three years and leading the Elmwood girls basketball program to its first two regional titles, Coach Gregg Meyers has stepped down. Again.

"Not enough time," said Meyers, who is also boys cross country and track coach. "I always felt like if somebody else would come along and dedicate more time and energy to it I'd need to give it up."

Meyers said he believes his replacement, longtime assistant Kevin Faulkner, can do that. Faulkner was hired at the last Elmwood School Board meeting along with new volleyball coach Chelsea Brown.

"The girls will be in good hands," said Meyers, who coached the girls team for six years, then took two years off before returning to coach the last five seasons.

"When I left (as boys coach) years ago, I always thought it was kind of a classless move to leave right after you had a great season and the cupboard was bare," Meyers said. "I don't feel the cupboard is bare."

Faulkner, who has accepted an IT job with Elmwood, has been a Trojans assistant for five years. He was also JV girls coach at Brimfield for three years, Continued on Page 19
