NEW SHERIFF IN TOWN

Princeville patrol

Yarger third Princeville deputy in a year; hopes to stick around

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Shawn Yarger's initial goal as the new law-enforcement representative in Princeville isn't lofty. He wants to be in that job longer than his two immediate predecessors.

That probably won't take much.

Yarger began his new Peoria County Sheriff's Office duties June 3. The 18-year veteran of the force is to spend 40 hours a week in Princeville. That's in keeping with the contract the sheriff's office has with the village.

"I know a lot of people from Princeville, and I'm at the age now where I'm ready to start doing my own thing," the 47-year-old Yarger said during his initial night on duty. "It was time for a change, so I came up here."

Yarger replaced Adam Bickett, who had been on Princeville patrol only about a month before he was fired from the department in March. An internal investigation revealed Bickett violated sheriff's-office policy, as alleged by his peers. In late February, Bickett was placed on paid administrative leave.

Peoria County Sheriff's Deputy Shawn Yarger is the new officer assigned to Princeville.

Bickett's predecessor was Vince Cogdal, who served Princeville for about a year before he resigned from the force.

A variety of deputies patrolled Princeville temporarily between Bickett's departure and WILLIAMSFIELD – Days after its former superintendent accepted a new job, the Williamsfield School District hired his interim replacement.

At a special meeting held Tuesday evening, the Williamsfield School Board was expected to employ Rolf Sivertsen as interim superintendent of schools. Sivertsen retired after five years as superintendent of Canton schools in June 2021 and was also superintendent at Midland CUSD 7 for 23 years.

a big help facilitating the transition to a full-time superintendent," said Chad Goff, Williamsfield School Board president. "He even said, 'One of the most important things we need to do is to get you a good full-time superintendent.'"

Sivertsen replaces Tim Farquer, who last Friday accepted a position as superintendent of Aledo-based Mercer County CUSD 404.

"I'm now working for seven people that agreed they want me there. That's a big difference," Farquer said.

"It's really more of a stereo-

Deadly Peoria crash leads to lawsuit

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

PEORIA – Law-enforcement authorities in Peoria have been silent, for the most part, regarding a traffic accident in May that killed a Princeville-area woman.

A lawsuit filed Monday in Peoria County Circuit Court might lead to more information becoming public.

The lawsuit alleges a Stark County man was negligent when his vehicle collided head-on with Nevaeh Mitchell's vehicle about 11:30 p.m. May 4 in the 8400 block of Orange Prairie Rd.

Levi B. Dietz, 25, of Wyoming was driving a 2012 Ford Fusion south in the left northbound lane. That was the same lane in which 18-year-old Mitchell was driving north in a 2012 Nissan Versa, according to authorities.

Mitchell, who was on her way home from her job at a Peoria movie theater, was pronounced dead at the scene. An ambulance transported Dietz to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center, where he underwent surgery to repair severe injuries.

In each direction in the accident area, Orange Prairie Road is two lanes. A concrete-and-grass median separates each pair.

BILLTOWN: Fall interview session planned typical district-superintendent job where I manage business operations out of the business office and then work with the principals and various directors to try to realize the vision and strategic plan the board puts in place.

“I probably won’t be mowing the infield grass.”

That’s one job Farquer, 51, did willingly at Williamsfield but will not have time for at a district that is roughly three times larger than Billtown and has five buildings, including a district office.
Farquer said payment in the new job is probably a wash due to a different structure of his contract, which features a higher base salary but added costs for health insurance. Farquer also said that being in charge of a district in which he did not grow up will be a different experience.

“I’ll be personally invested in everything I do, but I don’t have 50 years of history in the district,” he said. “Which sometimes is an asset and sometimes is not.”

Farquersen and has already started planning for the hiring process of a full-time superintendent.
Williamsfield will again receive assistance in the process from the Illinois Association of School Boards, which is expected to post the position on July 1. That is Sivertsen’s first day on the job in Billtown and Farquer’s first day at Mercer County.

“I believe we are planning on a fall interview session,” Goff said. “But if somebody throws their hat in over the summer or something along those lines, that’s obviously something we would look at.”

Williamsfield’s initial IASB search yielded three finalists earlier this spring, but negotiations fell through with the board’s top choice.

Farquers said he plans to rent a dwelling initially. “Our youngest is off to college soon, so we’ve got a lot of things to get squared away,” Farquer said.
Sivertsen is a Peoria native who graduated from Illinois State University and earned graduate degrees at Illinois State and Western Illinois.
Goff said he is excited about working with Siv-

SCATTERSHOTS

Of bowling alleys, Bachtolds, bison & bluebirds

Rambling through central Illinois, depressed about a fire that devastated The Pink Flamingo.

Years ago, former Elmwood-area carpenter Ken Wills built me a cool desk with a top that was once part of a lane at the Elmwood Bowl, which closed in the late 1990s, according to the 2004 Elmwood history book. For the past 15 years, that desk sat in an office above my garage, collecting dust and getting in the way of my kid's parties. The desk is so heavy that vows were sworn it would never move once placed above the garage. Ahh, but what is the purpose of Father's Day weekend if not to stress the backs of young sons, who managed to haul it across town. At some point the desk will be rebuilt in our office (once the kids dare to return home). In the meantime, if anyone has pictures or memories of the old Elmwood Bowl, I'd like to see/hear them. ... At present, the desktop is propped up in our work garage on a broke-down Bach-told weed mower (the most dangerous-looking yard implement ever made), in view of another rolling desk with a top that's made out of a bowling alley from Toulon's long-closed lanes. And my wife says we need to downsize and get rid of some things. No way. "Keep buying garages" is my motto.

Ken Burns could make almost any topic watchable. Not baseball. Not even he could pull that off. But his film "The American Buffalo" kept me awake late this week because I couldn't turn it off and was left wanting more. How had this October 2023 release escaped my buffalo-loving, westward gaze? Thanks goes to my father for bringing the documentary to my attention (a much kinder act of fatherhood than moving a 2-ton table). After soaking in Burns' latest film, it was interesting to read one viewer lambaste the show as "a woke condemnation of white Americans." Condemnation? Yes. Woke? Hmm. If the slaughter of 50 million bison - many killed merely for their tongues - does not deserve condemnation, what does?

In the interest of accuracy, we must report that a bluebird expert doubts last week's contention in this space that Mama Bluebird raised two broods before buffalo gnats (the only bad buffaloes) killed her third batch. He suggests that perhaps a snake ate one brood. Who am I to argue? The bluebird guru also advises using an oil mixture on openings of a nest box to conceal the odor of the nestlings. He said the oil mixture lasts about a week before it has to be reapplied. I've also read about spraying bluebird boxes with vanilla to keep the gnats away. Add that to the ever-growing list of ways to protect wildlife from wildlife. ... Head of Transportation Danny Blakey has a picture of what he calls an albino earwig. According to The Bug Doctor, and several other online bug experts, what Danny actually encountered was an earwig that had molted its outer shell. Apparently earwigs are vulnerable in this stage and often hide, which explains why Danny found his new buddy in the bottom of a flower pot. ... Parting shot: There are good people who file bankruptcy. There are also people who file bankruptcy and drive a Porsche afterwards. No law should let Porsche drivers off the hook for their debts.

New faces, roles on Yates City Village Board

By MOLLY RICHESON

For The Weekly Post

YATES CITY – The Yates City Village Board has some new faces and new roles.

At its June 12 meeting, Mark Hostetler was sworn in as the new village president to replace Ken Vallas and Voinda Brinker was sworn in as a new trustee to fill Hostetler's vacated position. Also, Joy Mahr was sworn in again as village treasurer.

Brinker was made committee head for technology and public grounds, Ron Smith was put in charge of streets and alleys and Matt Ehens was made committee head for police.

Susan Hostetler is currently filling in as village clerk for Debbie Canier, who is taking time off for bereavement. The board voted to reimburse Susan Hostetler for her services at Canier's usual rate. The board also voted to split this month's pay in half for outgoing president Vallas and Mark Hostetler.

In other business, the board is seeking an estimate from Nathan Blankenship for repair of the sewer-plant roof. The expectation is that patching and shingle replacement is needed, with a possible need for plywood replacement. Gutters and rainspouts will also be installed. If the entire roof needs to be replaced, a second opinion will be sought.

The board also renewed its contract with Central Illinois Pest Control to treat for termites in the white shed for $612 per year, approved refilling of the butane tank at the sewer plant for a cost of $430-480 and confirmed that Kevin Cooper will put down new oil chip in two weeks.

LAWSUIT: No citations for Dietz after accident

Continued from Page 1 Mitchell's parents, Matthew Mitchell and Danielle Courteau, are plaintiffs accuses Dietz of guilt for driving in the wrong direction, failure to look out for other vehicles and failure to stop to avoid a collision.

"He should have seen that it was impending and (he) had ample time and opportunity to avoid it," the lawsuit stated.

Authorities have not charged Dietz with any crimes. Toxicology results are pending.

No dollar amount regarding damages was requested in the lawsuit, filed by the Peoria law firm of Cusack & Gilfillan. The lawsuit lists Courteau and Matthew Mitchell as administrators of Nevaeh Mitchell's estate.

The plaintiffs requested a jury trial. A management conference was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Nov. 22.

Details about the accident are likely to be discussed in court, as attorneys gather evidence and present it. Those details have not yet been forthcoming from the Peoria Police Department.

In response to an Illinois Freedom of Information Act request from The Weekly Post and The Prairie News, the police department released a basic report about the accident. But other reports, which might shed more light on the investigation, were redacted almost entirely.

PUBLIC RECORD

NOTE: Charges are merely an accusation. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Police reports

• FARMINGTON – A Hanna City driver accused of almost striking three pedestrians in Farmington had open alcohol and cannabis in his vehicle. His passenger, a Farmington man, also faced criminal charges.

About 8 p.m. June 10 at Pearl and West streets, local police stopped a 2010 Ford that Cash D. Vandyke, 19, was driving. A 29-year-old Farmington woman said the vehicle almost hit her 8-year-old daughter and a 32-year-old Farmington man. A 25-year-old Canton man said the vehicle almost hit him, too.

The officer observed Vandyke squealing the vehicle's tires before he was stopped. The officer also smelled cannabis emanating from the vehicle. A search of it revealed two open containers of tea-flavored alcoholic beverages and at least one container of pot.

Vandyke was cited for illegal transportation of alcohol, possession of adult-use cannabis in a vehicle outside an approved container, illegal squealing of tires and reckless driving. His passenger, 19-year-old Rowdy G. Eldridge, was cited for illegal possession of booze and pot.

Both men received notices to appear July 12 in Fulton County Circuit Court in Lewistown.

• FARMINGTON – A Canton man was accused of kicking in the door of a Farmington residence.

The incident happened shortly after 5 a.m. June 6 in the 100 block of N. Oak St. A resident there told Farmington police Bryan G. Remels, 47, had just left after he damaged the door.

Shortly thereafter, police located Remels in Canton. Remels said he had been checking on a 47-year-old woman at the Farmington residence, because he had not heard from her in a few days. The two had been in a relationship, a police report stated. Remels said he didn't recall kicking in the door.

Remels was charged with criminal damage to property and was given a notice to appear June 26 in Fulton County Circuit Court in Lewistown. Damage to the door and adjacent drywall was estimated at $400.

• FARMINGTON – A Farmington man was banned from a local convenience store after he was accused of stealing alcohol from it.

Christopher T. Harn, 21, visited Circle K, 1006 E. Fort St., about noon and again about 2 p.m. June 2. Security video revealed Harn left each time with an unpaid-for 100-milliliter bottle of Fireball whiskey, according to a Farmington police report.

Harn was cited for retail theft and received a notice to appear in Fulton County Circuit Court in Lewistown.

• PRINCEVILLE – Someone from outside opened and reached through a window at a Princeville residence, turned on a light and fled, according to authorities.

The incident happened about 11 p.m. June 2 in the 400 block of E Main St. A Peoria County Sheriff's Office report redacted most of the information, although it did state the victim was home at the time.

No suspect information was available. The possible charge would be criminal trespass to a residence.

• BRIMFIELD – No injuries were reported following a two-vehicle collision in the parking lot of a Brimfield convenience store.

Kimberly A. Coyle of Brimfield was exiting the lot about 7 a.m. May 29 at Casey's, 215 E. Knoxville St., in a 2021 Hyundai Elantra when a 2021 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck backed into it, according to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report. Stephen Collier of Pekin was the other driver.

Collier said a truck that parked between his vehicle and Coyle's blocked his view. Collier was backing out of a parking space when the accident happened. The Silverado sustained minor driver's-side rear-bumper damage. The Elantra sustained driver's-side front-fender damage and was towed.

• OAK RUN – A Cambridge woman was accused of drunken driving near Oak Run after she dragged a man about 100 yards with a pickup truck, according to authorities.

A Knox County Sheriff's Office deputy was dispatched shortly before 8 p.m. May 18 to the 1400 block of Manson Heights Rd. There the deputy found a 52-year-old Cambridge man lying on the pavement, with severe lacerations to his head, according to a sheriff's-office report.

Witnesses said the man fell after he was hanging from a 2004 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by a woman later identified as 52-year-old Angela F. Polowy. Both appeared to be intoxicated, the report stated. Polowy was located shortly thereafter at an Oak Run gasoline station.

Polowy admitted to drinking 10 beers, according to the report. She and the victim were transported to OSF Saint Mary Medical Center in Galesburg. There was no word about the victim's condition.

Later, Polowy was transported to the Knox County Jail. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident and failure to remain at the scene of a personal-injury or fatal motor-vehicle accident.

• TRIVOLI – Shortly after 7:30 a.m. June 6, James W. Tuhey of Toulon was driving an eastbound 2006 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck in the 17300 block of Illinois Route 116 east of Trivoli when the vehicle struck a deer that emerged from the north. Tuhey was uninjured, according to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report. The impact pushed the front fender of the vehicle into a wheel and rendered it undrivable. It was towed.

• BRIMFIELD – Shortly before 5:30 a.m. June 5, Erik D. Vallianatos of Dunlap was driving a 2020 Chevrolet Equinox sport-utility vehicle west in the 14800 block of Brimfield-Jubilee Rd. east of Brimfield when the vehicle struck a deer that emerged from the south. No injuries to Vallianatos were noted in a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report. The vehicle sustained damage to its driver's-side front quarter-panel and bumper and was towed.

• GALESBURG – These were among calls to which the Knox County Sheriff's Office responded between June 2-8: two domestic disturbances, Williamsfield; disturbance, Williamsfield; noise complaint, Oak Run; order-of-protection violation, Williamsfield; domestic disturbance, Dahinda.

YARGER: Last assignment as process server

Yarger's arrival.

Yarger was one of two applicants for the most-recent Princeville permanent position, according to Sheriff Chris Watkins.

"He will exemplify community policing in that community," Chief Deputy James Middlemas said. "He's very down to earth. Those are his people. He has a lot of life experience."

A Chillicothe native, Yarger was a police officer in Henry before he joined the sheriff's department. He also has worked in non-police private business.

Yarger's most recent pre-Princeville assignment, for about 2½ years, was as a process server. That job included evictions, orders of protection and court summonses.

"We would knock on the door and if nobody answered, we'd break in," Yarger said. "It was scary. Sometimes they're hiding in the closet, hiding in the attic, hiding in the crawl-space. It was a horrible experience for a lot of people."

Among other sheriff's-office duties, Yarger was a deputy at the Peoria County Courthouse and worked in traffic-accident reconstruction and field-officer training. He also was the regular deputy in Medina Township, an assignment similar to his current one.

"It was good," he said about those days. "I'm good at getting to know people. I'm good at talking to people and getting information. It was a good experience. I liked it, and I think I can apply it here, some of the stuff I've learned."

"I want to be approachable. I want people to be able to be comfortable coming to see me and talk to me, and I want the community to know that it's going to be the same person every time you see the police, five days a week."

The new-job flexibility also will benefit Yarger's family, as he sees it. His four children range in age from 20 to 1. Before work on his first day in Princeville, he was able to watch one of his sons play baseball. But Yarger suggested family obligations won't conflict with his new assignment.

"I'll be seen," he said. "The sheriff wants somebody up here who's consistent. The sheriff wants somebody up here who's good to the people, who's fair. And that's me."

Stiers elected reporter at FFA state convention

SPRINGFIELD – Sidney Stiers of Williamsfield High School highlighted a list of local FFA members to receive recognition at the 96th annual Illinois State FFA Convention, held June 11-13 at the Bank of Springfield Center.

Stiers was elected reporter on the five-member 2024-25 state officer team. Stiers, who was also in the top 10 for Illinois Farm Bureau chapter president awards, was honored with a parade into Williamsfield last weekend.

Stiers

She is the first state officer from Williamsfield since Bob Potts was elected vice president for 1963-64. Potts was on hand to honor Stiers over the weekend, as was Harold Walker, who was vice president in 1952-53.

Farmington and Princeville also have had three FFA state officers over the years. Kate Colgan of Princeville was treasurer in 2022-23, joining fellow Princeville alums Jay Kelley (2002-03 president) and Brian Elsasser (1976-77 president) as an officer.

Farmington's past officers include Jerald Leeper (1942-43 reporter), Jake Ekstrand (2010-11 vice president) and Corinne Harding (2016-17 secretary).

In other news from this year's convention, Elmwood FFA was recognized for coordinating a local campaign for the Illinois Foundation FFA that raised $4,115.

Gayla Potts was presented the 2024 Distinguished Service Award by the Illinois Foundation FFA. The recognition celebrates generosity of time, talent and financial resources.

Award winners from Princeville were Tessa Gazza (Plant Systems Division 5) and Olivia Bird and Sadie Bays (Plant Systems Division 6).

College graduates

• Lauren Eckert of Princeville graduated from Marquette University this spring. Eckert earned a master of science degree in clinical mental health counseling.

• Noah Cokel of Princeville graduated from Mount Mercy University in May, summa cum laude, with a bachelor of science degree.

College honors

• Abby Driesner of Edwards was named to the Abilene Christian University spring Dean's honor roll (3.6 gpa or better). Driesner is a senior majoring in engineering.

Storm damages Princeville's Troutman Park

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Technically, a tornado didn't hit Troutman Park last week. Although it might have seemed like one did, based on the evidence.

Various items in the park were damaged by a storm that passed through Princeville about 8:15 p.m. June 13, a Thursday night.

According to Village President Jeff Troutman, the main concession pavilion sustained damage to its soffit, gutters and insulation. There were two picnic tables destroyed. Another was damaged. A trampoline from a nearby yard landed in the park.

The rooftop of one dugout at one of the park's ball diamonds was ripped from its moorings and deposited behind home plate.

Another dugout roof was ripped in two. Part of it landed in right field. Pieces were found from 50 to 200 yards away, according to Troutman. Bleachers also were damaged.

It could have been worse. The park could have been much more crowded.

"Thursday night and Sundays are the only two days they don't have games out there, luckily," Troutman said.

Judging from photographs by Princeville residents, Troutman suspected a tornado touched down briefly. But the National Weather Service office in Lincoln reported no tornadoes in that area.

Weather Service Meteorologist Rebekka Copple said straight-line winds from a downburst probably caused the Troutman Park damage. The Weather Service reported the winds at 50 to 60 mph.

"It's a strong push of wind out of the storm straight to the ground," Copple said. "Whenever it pushes out, the wind accelerates. Usually whenever there is a strong downburst, it's localized."

The only tornadoes the Weather Service reported from that storm were in McLean County, Copple said.

As of late last week, Troutman wasn't sure when the park damage would be repaired – probably within the next month. The ball diamonds are usable.

"It's minor compared to a whole block of houses being ripped down, but it still takes some time to get done," Troutman said. "I think everybody's just got to be patient and work with us, and we'll put things back together as quick as we can."

Farmington improving cemetery, gym and city

By MOLLY RICHESON

For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – The city is making improvements and plans for more.

The City Council heard Monday that Oak Ridge Cemetery has received touch ups, including concrete for a sidewalk and new entrance and landscaping by J.D. Landscaping.

Looking forward, the cemetery board plans to erect a wall down Vernon Street later this month that will be 3 feet off of the roadway and 4 feet wide. The board is also looking for bids to update the roof on the mausoleum; to re-hang newly powder-coated gates in July; to update a tool shed with new trim, window glass, fascia, soffit and gutters; to contract for repairs of 100 grave markers; and to place a flagpole in front of Vernon Street that will be illuminated.

The city intends to trade a truck for one that does not require a CDL license so that it can be used by employees. City staff have power-washed graffiti up and down Fort and Dement streets, on the tables and benches at both parks and on the mausoleum and ADA stairs.

Sidewalk repairs are coming soon and storm-basin repairs have already been started. Power has been installed at the Jacobs Park garage and spray patching will begin this week or early next week.

Bids are currently being collected for an air-conditioning unit in the community center gym to address floor humidity hazards, the card-entry system is in place and repairs for a hydraulic door on the east side of the building are in motion. Solar and roof work will begin the week of July 8.

USA Basketball Camp has completed its second of eight sessions with about 150 kids participating. Another session of the camp starts July 18.

There have been about 70 kids a day attending summer recreation camp at Jacobs Park, with a total of 116 children registered.

In other business, the city approved a $250 donation to FFA as well as a $250 donation to the July 4 parade.

City Administrator Bettina Bohanan said she will take over organizing farmer's markets on Fridays. Bohanan and Mayor Kenn Stufflebeam have begun attending quarterly meetings with all towns in Fulton County to exchange thoughts and ideas.

The Council also approved a storm-sewer easement agreement with John and Monica Yard and TIF redevelopment agreements with the Farmington Masonic Lodge, Reflective Properties, LLC, Creative Designs by Casandra, Inc., and David Nichols.

The council also approved spending an additional $6,500 for road maintenance under the Illinois Highway Code, as the TIF-fund amount previously approved did not cover the entire project.
