CLINIC: Kress had well drilled on clinic site

is expected to be completed in 2026. He said OSF expects to use local contractors for as much of the work as possible.

“It doesn’t mean a hospital being built on this corner; we have access to what we need for that probably 22 minutes from here,” Cruz said. “Know full well, this is the beginning and there’s possibility and potential (for more than a primary-care practice) based on the demand.”

Cruz said the clinic will have the latest in technology and noted that installing new equipment is easier at a new facility than at OSF’s current clinic at 111 E. Knoxville St. He said the possibility of providing diagnostic testing and therapy at the clinic also exists, depending on demand.

Referred to several times as a “seasoned care provider,” Bevill said he has no plans to retire immediately, but doesn’t expect to be working in 10 years.

“It’s like being part of family here and I look forward to several more years of being able to continue that relationship,” said Bevill, who has worked for OSF HealthCare for the past seven years.

For Kress, the announcement caps five years of trying to develop the corner lot, which formerly housed the Farmer’s Table restaurant but sat vacant for years. Kress said she bought the parcel five years ago.

“It was always with the intention of doing something philanthropic. Something that would give back to the community, something for everyone,” she said. “And I wanted something that could grow with the community.”

One delay leading up to Thursday’s announcement was inability to work out a deal with the Village of Brimfield for water service. For 15 years, Kress has been asking the village to extend water lines east to serve subdivisions in that area, some of which she helped develop.

The village has been unwilling to expand its water service.

Finally, Kress said, the good of a clinic outweighed her quest for village water. Kress said she had a well drilled on the corner site and has had water tested at OSF’s request.

She stressed that the size of the parcel and the location will allow OSF to expand and will provide easy access.

“Kress family, thank you for leaving a legacy,” Bevill said. “OSF has been great at being able to provide care for all levels of our society, especially in rural America. And we are like that here in Brimfield. It’s so important that the access to care is going to continue for decades with this state-of-the-art building here for primary care.”

Rambling through central Illinois, pondering how much better snow is than damaging wind.

Sitting in the basement after the sirens wail is so much more serious since 2010. That June day we watched a tornado come hard from the northwest - and only at the last minute hustled down to join the kids and my parents in the cellar. Just in time. Never again. When they say take shelter, I listen. Last year we had 118 tornadoes in Illinois - the most of any state. And while Monday night didn't seem bad at first, the damage showed up soon after we emerged. Limbs down. A camper crushed. Fremont Street closed. Power out to the east side of town. Shingles off in Havana, where one boy lives. Kids toys scattered here and there. A measured gust of 105 mph at Tanners Orchard. Grill covers off. Power poles snapped. The randomness of it all is crazy.

Tony Bitten is a busy man. Brave, too. Having successfully brought his Underground Backyard BBQ to a restaurant in Williamsfield from a tent in Elmwood, Bitten is moving forward with plans to open a second restaurant. In addition to keeping the Williamsfield business active at 102 E. Gale St., he's returning to Elmwood to the Parkside Building at 118 E. Main St. Bitten hopes to do what recent restaurateurs have been able to pull off in that spot - make an extended run. We'll have more details on his operation as opening day nears. On Monday, Bitten was still busy pursuing his liquor license, as he plans to have a full-service bar in the Elmwood location. Having sampled the Bitten's food during his pop-up days in Elmwood's Central Park, I'm eager to eat more in a sit-down setting.

The U.S. Postal Service is killing us. Not the local folks, who are very helpful in making sure our paper gets delivered every week. The problem is in the cost of delivering our paper, which keeps increasing. As you may well know, the USPS recently ushered in 8% rate increases for first-class mail and marketing mail and an almost 10% increase for periodicals. That's the sixth increase in three years. No wonder, then, that postage is the second-most expensive part of our production costs. Only payroll is more costly on a per-issue basis and I'd much rather pay employees than the USPS. To avoid raising ad rates, we plan to start emailing more bills and trying to find ways to avoid postal charges wherever possible.

Rita Kress doesn't sleep much, I'm guessing. Moments after an announcement that OSF HealthCare will build a new clinic near Brimfield, on land Kress donated for that cause, she was making new plans. "I want to bring a senior-living facility to town," she said. "It's something we need here in Brimfield." That makes total sense. Having a place for elderly citizens to call home near their families is important. So don't be surprised to see Kress get that done, possibly even somewhere out east near that new medical facility. ... Not lost in the discussion of Brimfield and doctors is the huge role the Brimfield Area Men's Club played in recruiting a doctor back in the early 1980s and providing a clinic in town. ... The next time somebody tells me, "Well that person can afford to donate, they're rich," I want to see a bank statement showing the speaker donates the same percentage of their income to charity. ... Parting shot: Monsoon season is so crazy around here that farmers were recently overheard complaining about too much rain. In July.

GUEST VOICES

Is more oversight by Congress, courts good?

The U.S. Supreme Court’s June 28 ruling to overturn the Chevron deference was a business-favoring decision to upend 40 years of legal precedent and redirect federal power from agencies like the Department of Agriculture to the courts and Congress.

Big Ag loved the news. The National Cattlemen’s Beef Association “celebrated the ruling,” and Big Meat’s lobbyist saw it as the bullet to defeat the Biden Administration’s “mis-guided and damaging proposed rules” to reform the Packers and Stockyards Act.

Alan GUEBERT

House Ag Chairman Glenn Thompson (R-Pa.) thanked the court for “reaffirming a core principle of our Constitution: the power to legislate rests with Congress.”

True, but also true is that the power to legislate always rested with Congress. It doesn’t need Chevron gutted to do its job better. It just needs to do its job better, period.

Moreover, it’s pretty rich for any current ag committee member to comment on their inherent power to legislate given the fact that this Congress is nearly two years late on legislating anything that passably resembles a Farm Bill.

The irony of the court’s Chevron decision is that it gives both Congress and the federal court system a larger role – in short, more work and a new bureaucracy – to write and interpret legislation when neither institution has shown an interest or ability to do either.

Ian Millhiser, a Vox senior correspondent and the long-time U.S. Supreme Court watcher, explains this legislative trap in a lengthy, July 8 post titled “The Supreme Incompetents.” In it he takes a measure of the court’s recent decisions and finds most either incomplete, unworkable, unsuitable or all three.

“All of the United States’ most important governing institutions are failing at once,” he begins. “Congress, of course, has barely been able to function ... The Republican Party has atrophied into a cult of personality” and the “Democratic Party ... may be unable to dislodge a senescent leader.”

“And then there’s the Supreme Court,” Millhiser, a Duke University Law School graduate continues, that if “the justices did not wield such awesome power ... most ... would be laughingstocks. Few people this famous are so ostentatiously bad at their jobs.”

But they better get better and in a hurry, he explains, because six of them just made “the Supreme Court the final word on hundreds, and even thousands, of policy questions that Congress delegated to federal agencies like the EPA or Department of Labor.”

And, of course, USDA. That means there’s a good chance that this Court’s judges – eight of whom graduated from either Harvard or Yale law schools – might very well determine whether your crop insurance claim is valid or if your neighbor can legally spread manure on his hilly pasture next to your family’s well.

That’s if they ever get around to it, suggests Millhiser, because the Supreme Court has become decidedly unproductive.

In fact, “As a young Reagan White House lawyer in the 1980s,” he explains, Chief Justice John Roberts joked that the court “can hear only roughly 150 cases each term,” suggesting that this limit kept “the Constitution ... safe for the summer.”

The joke, as it turns out, is on us: The Roberts-led court decided only 59 cases this term. This limited, hand-picked docket means the “Court ... no longer really functions as a court” because it spends “more and more time resolving political questions that often should be decided by people who hold elective office.”

Going forward that likely means “(f)ederal judges will now have the first and final word about what statutes mean,” Craig Green, a Temple University law professor, told the Associated Press.

Not economists, doctors, chemists, agronomists, veterinarians or any expert. Instead, a federal judge – whose docket already is backlogged by years – will be the “first and final word.”

That simply won’t work, and that’s this court’s plan.

Elmwood city employees get pay raises

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – At least eight full-time Elmwood city employees are to receive 7% pay raises, but a few will get a little extra.

Police Chief Aaron Bean is to receive about an additional $4 an hour and Officer Mike Darrah is to receive about an additional $2 under terms the City Council approved July 9. The pay bumps supplement their standard raises.

Alderman Andrew Almasi, who helps oversee public safety, said the extra money is based on duties performed and on pay in comparable communities. The raises are in line with what the city budgeted.

“He could probably make a lot more anywhere else,” Almasi said regarding Bean. “These guys do a good job and deserve to be paid fairly.”

Regarding Darrah, Almasi said his workload is more substantial than that of the other full-time officer, Stu Ingersoll. Darrah oversees the department K-9 officer, among other things. A new K-9 officer to replace the retired Rebel is expected to begin full-time duty by the end of August, according to Bean. Ingersoll is the school resource officer. The Elmwood School District is responsible for most of his compensation. When school is not in session, Ingersoll works sporadically for the police department and the city handles his pay and benefits.

“Stu’s job, while serious, is not as labor intensive as Mike’s,” Almasi said.

Hourly pay for all three officers is in the $20-30 range. So is the new pay rate for City Clerk Bethany Livengood, who is to receive roughly a $2 hourly bump above the 7% standard.

Livengood also is the city collector for water bills and other payments. Alderman Nathan Brunnelson, who helps oversee public works, suggested her duties warrant additional compensation.

A trio of public-works employees and Economic Development Director Amy Davis also are to receive 7% pay hikes. Council members also approved a raise for part-time workers to correspond with the state-mandated minimum wage, which on Jan. 1 is to increase by $1 an hour, to $15. In other business, the council decided to limit who can park commercial semi-trailer trucks overnight at Sweetwater Park. Only city residents will be allowed to do so, and they must notify city officials.

“If you’re going to park there, you certainly should have to stop at City Hall to let them know who you are and how you can be contacted,” Almasi said.

Parking of semis on city streets is prohibited.

The council also accepted a $20,000 bid from Ace In The Hole construction of Hanna City to purchase a 2013 Total Patcher Vortex Injection Spray Patcher. The city is to split the proceeds with Elmwood Township.

Discussed but not acted upon was a possible city financial contribution for a new entrance sign at The Meadows subdivision, on the north edge of town. An estimate Alderman Adam Duvall provided was for almost $25,000, including landscaping.

“We’re constantly trying to beautify Elmwood, and I think this is kind of an important step to continuing that,” said Duvall, who resides in The Meadows.

The new sign would be erected in a median on Southgate Drive at Illinois Route 78. It would replace one removed when new sidewalks were being constructed in that area.

Mayor JD Hulslander balked at funding the entire cost of the new sign as estimated but appeared willing to negotiate a smaller contribution. No date regarding a final decision was mentioned.

PUBLIC RECORD

NOTE: Charges are merely an accusation. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Police reports

• DAHINDA – A pool party in Dahinda resulted in a fistfight, followed by a local man’s arrest.

According to a Knox County Sheriff’s Office report, 47-year-old Jason M. Scott encouraged women to take off the tops of their swimsuits during the party, which took place June 30 at a residence in the 1400 block of Wenona St.

For unknown reasons, Scott became upset later and held a woman’s head under water until the two hosts, a man and a woman, intervened. After that, the 48-year-old male host and Scott began to fight. During the fight, the 42-year-old female host was punched in the face, per the report.

Deputies arrived about 8 p.m., then located Scott at a residence in the 400 block of Crabtree Lane. He was accused of battery and aggravated domestic battery and was transported to the Knox County Jail in Galesburg.

• KICKAPOO – A pair of Princeville residents declined medical attention following a two-vehicle collision south of Kickapoo.

At 3:45 p.m. June 26, Rachel D. Palcovic was driving a 2016 Honda Odyssey on the exit ramp from west-bound Interstate 74 to Kickapoo-Edwards Road when the vehicle rear-ended a 2021 Ford F-150 pickup truck, according to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report. Adam W. Geiger was the other driver.

Both drivers intended to turn north onto Kickapoo-Edwards Road. Palcovic said she believed Geiger’s vehicle already had turned, and she was looking left to ensure the intersection was clear. Both vehicles sustained minor damage.

• ELMORE – A garbage truck topped a utility pole at a residence east of Elmore.

The accident happened shortly before 1 p.m. June 25 in the 21800 block of W. Lorance Rd. A power line was draped over the back of the garbage truck when a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office deputy arrived. He told the driver, Robert B. Howell of Canton, to remain in the vehicle until the power could be shut off.

According to a sheriff’s-office report, the truck was attempting to collect garbage from a dumpster at the north end of a driveway when the vehicle struck the power line and the pole fell. The line above the driveway connected to the residence from the pole.

Representatives of Ameren Illinois shut off power and removed the downed wire from the vehicle.

• BRIMFIELD – A Peoria man’s vehicle was damaged after it ran over a kayak on a road southeast of Brimfield.

About 3:45 p.m. June 23, Chad L. McKenzie was driving a 2021 Chevrolet Silverado west on U.S. Route 150 near the Jubilee College State Park entrance when he attempted to swerve to avoid the teal-colored kayak. That effort was futile, according to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report.

The unidentified kayak owner was driving east on Route 150 and had multiple such vessels attached to his trailer.

The kayaks shifted and one fell off the trailer. The owner said he made a U-turn and arrived just in time to see McKenzie’s vehicle overrun the kayak.

McKenzie’s vehicle sustained functional damage to the driver’s-door bottom and steps, the report stated. The kayak sustained minor damage.

• GILSON – A Yates City-area man was cited for using a motorcycle while his driver’s license was suspended.

About 8 p.m. June 21, a Knox County Sheriff’s Office deputy found a motorcycle registered to Loren G. McKim, 20, parked at the Wolf Covered Bridge, in the 1800 block of Knox Highway 17. Nearby, the deputy located McKim and 19-year-old Chelsea L. Taylor of St. David.

The deputy confirmed McKim’s license was suspended. McKim said he drove the motorcycle only a short distance and didn’t think he would be caught, the report stated.

McKim was released and his motorcycle was impounded. A check revealed Taylor was wanted in Fulton County for failure to appear in court regarding a battery accusation. She was arrested and transported to the Knox County Jail in Galesburg.

• OAK HILL – An Elmwood female required hospital treatment following a single-vehicle accident west of Oak Hill.

Jessica L. Cunningham was driving a 2011 Hyundai Tucson east on Tiber Creek Road shortly before 7:30 a.m. June 21 when she lost control of the vehicle on a curve at Pulsifer Road, a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report stated.

The vehicle rolled into a cornfield on the east side of the pavement and landed on its top. Cunningham said she lost consciousness. An ambulance transported her to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria. The vehicle sustained extensive damage.

• FARMINGTON – A traffic stop in Farmington resulted in a Peoria woman’s arrest for failure to appear in court.

Shortly before 9:30 p.m. June 19 at Fulton and Main streets, a Farmington police officer stopped a 2003 GMC vehicle Margaret L. Craig, 34, was driving. The vehicle’s rear registration light was not functioning, according to a report.

WIND: Zoning laws favorable to developers

their Four Creeks Wind Project to be built in northern Peoria County. I attended the first meeting and hustled to get there because I was sure it would be standing room only. Much to my surprise there was no crowd, maybe a dozen or so while I was there. The atmosphere was friendly and cordial, although some folks there were less than enthusiastic about the project coming to their neighborhood.

As the open-house announcement in the June 13 issue of The Weekly Post said, there was no formal presentation. Instead, company representatives were on hand to discuss the project and answer questions. Large maps showing the land area for the project were on display. Copies of the maps, along with handouts explaining the project's long-term economic benefits to area citizens and taxing districts, were there for the taking.

A sheet explaining the terms of their land-lease agreements was available, too. "Expression of Interest" forms were available for businesses interested in working on the project with Repsol, such as concrete and gravel suppliers, heavy equipment operators, truckers, rebar suppliers and fuel suppliers, to name a few.

Repsol expects to construct more than 100 turbines in the fields north of Brimfield, east of Williamsfield and west of Princeville. The area encompasses more than 25,000 participating acres in Brimfield, Millbrook and Princeville-Jubilee townships.

According to the project's website, each turbine will occupy "less than one acre of land, so most of the anticipated leased acreage is needed to meet setback requirements, to maintain spacing between the turbines and for underground collection to electrically connect the wind project together." You can visit the website, FourCreeks-Wind.com to learn more.

A second project, Four Creeks South, is in the development stages for the area south and west of Brimfield, bounded by Interstate 74 on the north and Illinois Route 8 on the south, just north of Elmwood.

A third project, the Goldrush Apple Wind project by developer Apex Clean Energy, is in the planning stages for southern Stark County and northern Peoria County. The area is south of Wyoming and north of Princeville.

Apex development manager Shelley Schwab told WCBU-FM radio's Tim Shelley that transmission upgrades in the Princeville area have made room for larger projects. She added that landowners' positive reception and Illinois' favorable zoning ordinances make the area attractive to wind developers. More than 50,000 acres have already been signed up by Apex, according to Schwab.

Now let's check your answers to the quiz. If you guessed the shortest structure to be Peoria's St. Mary's Cathedral, give yourself a cigar. Its spires reach a mere 230 feet toward the heavens. Next are downtown Peoria's Twin Towers condominiums on Fulton Street standing tall at 308 feet.

Runner-up for the title of the tallest structure, believe it or not, is the Gateway Arch in St. Louis, the tallest monument in the United States. The arch rises 630 feet from base to peak. On a clear day the Arch is visible from locations 30 miles away.

The tallest of the four contestants is the proposed Four Creeks Wind turbines. Measured to the tip of the blades at their highest point, the giant turbines will stand 640 feet tall, the equivalent of more than 60 stories.

Senneff pledges $500,000 to center

ELMWOOD – Bob Senneff, president and CEO of Graham Health System in Canton, has pledged $500,000 toward the proposed $12.4 million Community Wellness Center and YMCA project.

What started as a simple conversation between Senneff and Farmers State Bank CEO Fred Paige 15 years ago about Graham Medical Group opening a clinic in Elmwood turned into a series of serious meetings with Senneff, Dick Taylor and the Elmwood Community Foundation. Those discussions in 2017-18 centered on partnering to bring both healthcare and wellness to the region.

In five years since opening a clinic in the city, Graham has built a thriving practice, with patients from 235 distinct Zip codes coming to Elmwood for primary, specialty and walk-in care.

Senneff said he is passionate about the wellness center and invites others to embrace this vision.

“This is really a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for this region, for us to significantly impact the quality of life for the 18,000 residents living in the service area of the new Community Wellness Center and YMCA,” Senneff said. “The facility will have a tremendous positive impact on us all, from the youngest learning to swim, youth team sports, adult pickleball and fitness and seniors accessing cardiac rehab services, no one will go unserved.

“And, with the generous matching gift from the Doug and Diane Oberhelman Family Foundation and The Gilmore Foundation, people can maximize the impact of their gifts”

Continued Senneff: “I was blessed to be raised in a small Illinois community by two great parents, who instilled a solid work ethic in me and my five siblings and instilled an understanding that we have a responsibility and obligation to give back when we have the ability to do so. I am proud to join others in this capital campaign who have made the choice to invest in the quality of life for all the residents of this region.”

OBITUARIES

Johnathon L. Tomlinson

ELMWOOD – Johnathon Lee Tomlinson, 39, of Elmwood, passed away Wednesday, July 3, 2024, at Gundersen Lutheran Medical Center, in La Crosse, Wis.
He was born March 1, 1985, in Galesburg, Ill., to Kevin L. (Beth) Tomlinson and Annette M. (Schneider) Tomlinson.
John is survived by the love of his life, Stephanie D. Bowhay; two sons, Brayden L. Stevens and Kar-syn L. Tomlinson; grandfather Glenn L. Tomlinson of Kewanee; one sister-in-law, Lindsey (Ron) Gill of Franklin, Ill.; three sisters, Victoria Gibbons of Abingdon, Ill., Jennifer (Mark) Everhardt of Seymour, Tenn., and Samantha (Chris) Klavinger of Conyers, Ga.; one brother, Gary Klavinger of Perrysburg, Ohio; two aunts, Sharon (Andy) Mapes and Terri (Jeff) Stuart; one nephew, Ivar West; and two nieces, Faith and Emma Greathouse, along with several others.
John was preceded in death by one daughter, Kinsley M. Tomlin-son; grandparents Barbara E. Tomlinson and Carole M. (Roderick) E. Johnson; and uncles Kevin P. Cas-teel and Frank C. Schneider.

John graduated from Williams-field High School. He then served honorably in the active Army with the HHC 14th Engineer Battalion from August 2003 to February 2007 at Fort Lewis, Wash.
During his active time he de-ployed to Iraq twice. He served as a light-wheel vehicle mechanic. After he was released from active duty, he joined the Army Reserves and was stationed with the 733rd Mainte-nance Company out of Canton, Ill. He ETS'd in November 2016 after 13 years of service in our nation's defense.
He spent time working in mainte-nance at Gates Rubber Company and with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He most recently worked as a highway maintainer for the Peoria County Highway Depart-ment. He did his due diligence in maintaining the county roads and keeping them safe to travel for the last year and a half.
John was a member of the Com-bat Veterans Motorcycle Associa-tion, Chapter 24-1, since 2021 and was most recently the newest com-mittee member for the Red Ride of Central Illinois.

John was a simple man. We all knew him for his tall masculine stature that was intimidating to those who didn't know him. For those who were in his circle, his dedication to them was like no other. He took pride in working hard and providing for his family. His true love was Stephanie, his boys, his Harley-Davidson motor-cycle and the Dallas Cowboys foot-ball team.
Cremation rites have been ac-corded. A celebration of life with military rites was held from 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, July 13, 2024, at the Elmwood Tap Banquet Hall, 100 S. Magnolia St., Elm-wood, IL 61529.
In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to his family for future ex-penses, in care of Stephanie Bo-whay.

OBITUARIES

(Hyde) Wood. They preceded her in death, as well as one brother, James Wood, and her sister, Sharon (Ken) Stanley.

She is survived by her husband of 60 years, Wayne Oldfield. They were married on Nov. 30, 1963.

Also surviving are three sons, Rob (Susie) Oldfield, Gary (Lisa) Oldfield and Kenny (Michelle) Oldfield; one brother, Albert (Pat) Wood; two grandsons, Brett (Chelesa) Oldfield and Tyler Oldfield; and one great-grandson, Luke Oldfield.

Barb always took care of her boys, and she and Wayne spent countless years farming around their home. She enjoyed traveling with Wayne after his retirement, going to country music shows and attend the New Salem Opry as often as she could.

She was a previous member of the Rebekahs association, River Valley Antique Collectors and the Peoria County Home Extension for Homemakers. Most of all, Barb loved taking care of her family.

Cremation rites will be accorded and a burial of her ashes will be on Saturday, July 20, 2024, at 1 p.m. in Brunswick Cemetery in Trivoli. A celebration of life will follow at the Farmington Moose Lodge from 2-5 p.m.

Memorials may be made to Farmington Rescue Squad.

PRINCEVILLE – Robyn (Tankersley) Carlson, 78, of Princeville, Illinois, passed away on Thursday, July 11, 2024, at Carle Health Methodist Hospital in Peoria after a brief illness, with her family at her side.

She was born on July 10, 1946, in Peoria to Allen and Dorothy (Mahallak) Tankersley. Robyn married Ross Carlson on Jan. 17, 1981.

Robyn is survived by her husband, Ross, of Princeville; brother, Patrick A. (Beata) Tankersley of Peoria Heights; sister, Ellen (Mike) Russell of Peoria Heights; sister, Dory (James) Krusa of Brimfield; children, Chris (Tammy) Finch of Peoria, Amy (Jim) Van Dettum of Princeville and Dalton Carlson of Peoria Heights; son-in-law, Ronald Weber of Princeville; seven grandchildren, Patrick, Lindsey, Josie, Nellie, Matthew, Brittany and Katie; and several great-grandchildren.

Robyn was preceded in death by her parents; her daughter, Jennifer Weber; and granddaughter, Elizabeth Van Dettum.

Robyn previously loved to travel on long car trips with her husband. She was an avid reader, sometimes reading a book a day.

When Robyn was in a room full of people, she was always the center of everyone’s attention with her great sense of humor and larger-than-life personality.

Memorial donations may be made to The Colorectal Cancer Alliance in honor of her daughter, Jennifer, who passed away in March, or to the Akron-Princeville Fire Department and Akron-Princeville Ambulance.

The family would like to extend their deep appreciation to the Akron-Princeville Ambulance and Akron-Princeville Fire Department for their kindness and dignity in caring for Robyn over the past few years.

There will be a private celebration of life at a later date. Cremation arrangements have been entrusted to Weber-Hurd Funeral Home in Chillicothe.
