Low-key election for Princeville village presidency

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – Compared to most recent election campaigns for more prominent public offices, the one for Princeville village president is the lowest of keys.

Incumbent Jeff Troutman and challenger Rick Pope, a village trustee, haven't been conducting candidate forums. Yard signs for either campaign appear to be nonexistent.

Pope and Troutman have served together for years in village government and in other areas, including the Akron-Princeville fire department and ambulance service. Familiarity doesn't appear to have bred contempt. The candidates' messaging, such as it is, pits continuity against substitution.

"The village is doing a great job right now. We've got excellent employees, an excellent board," said Troutman, who is seeking a third four-year term. "We've got projects going on that I'm very familiar with and worked with for many years. And I like helping the community."

Said Pope: "Jeff's done a good job. Sometimes change is good.

The community needs a choice. Either they're happy with Jeff or they want a change. ... We're a small community. Everybody knows Jeff Troutman. Everybody knows Ricky Pope. We'll leave it up to the people."

The village president race is not the only competitive one in Princeville. There are four candidates running for three Village Board seats, including the seat Pope is vacating after about six years of service.

Incumbent trustees Teresa Gilroy and Steve Potter are on the ballot, as are challengers Branden Curtis and Spencer Wilson.

The 56-year-old Troutman is a trainer and rural carrier for the U.S. Postal Service. He was a village trustee from 2001 until 2017, when he first was elected president. Pope, 68, is retired after he spent a quarter-century as transportation director for the Metamora Grade School District.

According to Troutman, among the biggest challenges the village

Third party reviewing Farmington schools

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – The Farmington School District has engaged a third party to review the school's response to two incidents in the past year and the safety procedures in place.

At Monday's monthly school board meeting, Board President Alex Slack said a report from the unnamed third party is forthcoming.

One incident involved the discharge of an airsoft gun in the school parking lot that injured a student. The other involved a student who is no longer attending Farmington schools who, in between classes, choked another student and caused him to pass out.

"It is important to recognize that it's incorrect to generalize these specific, unacceptable behaviors as a reflection of overall safety within our schools," Slack said. "Both incidents are deeply troubling and we understand the emotional response that

Two teachers laid off

Williamsfield cuts staff; more changes ahead

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

WILLIAMSFIELD – The Williamsfield School Board voted Monday night to lay off two teachers. More layoffs are expected next month, part of the cash-strapped district's efforts to reduce expenses.

Positions held by French teacher Terri Fisher-Stigall and information-technology instructor Ryan Wessling were eliminated for the 2025-26 academic year. They are among 31 teachers the district employs currently.

Interim Superintendent Rolf Sivertsen recommended the reductions in force, designed to affect the smallest number of students. They are expected to save the district about $161,000. A retirement and a resignation the board authorized in February saved about $125,000.

"When I speak tonight, it might seem callous to some people, but it's not," Sivertsen said. "All our employees are good people, hard-working employees. But in my position, I have to view this as a business sense."

"I have a responsibility to the community and the taxpayers to make business decisions. Regardless of what happens, this will not go away."

That appeared to be a reference to about $680,000 the district needs to account for in cuts and potential property-tax increases. About $500,000 of that total is to come from reductions in staff or programs.

Additional proposals Sivertsen plans to offer for a board vote in April are elimination of two food-service positions, layoffs for all 10 teachers' aides and tuition modifications for Billtown students who take classes at Carl Sandburg College in Galesburg.

The district has 10 aides. Sivertsen said he expects three or four to be recalled for 2025-26. Sandburg tuition coverage would be reserved for juniors and seniors, and only during the academic year. The district no longer would pay summer-school tuition.

Sivertsen also suggested the board consider raising the levy to provide an additional $200,000 in revenue. That decision might be made later this year.

Board members had little to say regarding the impending departures of Fisher-Stigall and Wessling. The board spent more time discussing a one-year renewal of a groundskeeping contract with Spoon River Landscape. Owner Andrew Fritz said he's been mowing district property for about 20 years.

Instead of continuing full service with the local firm, at a cost of $13,320, the board authorized a $7,280 option that omits the school's baseball and softball fields. District employees are to mow those.

"I've known Andy my whole life. He does a great job. He's a pillar of the community," Board President Chad Goff said. "He doesn't gouge the district by any means. But I would rather have a partnership with him to see ... if we (are) going to be able to do it ourselves."

The new option requires the district to purchase a lawnmower. It is expected to cost about $20,000, payable over four years, according to Sivertsen.

Board Member Brittany Byrd expressed reservations about the new groundskeeping deal, based on Fritz's work to date. Reluctantly, Byrd voted to approve. Also in the majority were Goff and board members April Bouchez, Brian Howard and Jennifer Smith. Lisa Hanson and Wes Wrage voted against it.

"I don't like cutting ties with someone who has been with the school for a long time," Wrage said. "I like the idea of sticking with what we've got."

The board was unanimous in approving a $10,000 one-year renewal of a contract with Standard Heating & Cooling of Peoria for maintenance of the district's heating, ventilation and air-conditioning systems.

showing if warranted by the crowd that shows up.

Peoria native David Ferino directed the movie and will be on hand to answer questions along with producer Roger Mayer, a colorful Hollywood lifer.

Wardcliffe is rated R for brief nudity and language and is said to be a tragic father-son story set in 2020 during the COVID pandemic.

Filming in Elmwood took place over two weeks in 2023 at Elmwood Township Cemetery, Bean's Family Market, Elmwood United Methodist Church, a site near Elmwood High School, various city streets and a house at 203 E. Evergreen St. once owned by late Elmwood Tap owner Don Fero.

That brick house and its 1960s-era wood decor played a pivotal role in bringing the movie to Elmwood, according to Ferino.

Elmwood Police Chief Aaron Bean also has a cameo in the movie. Ferino said 65 local residents served as extras for the film's closing scene.

SCATTERSHOTS

"So ANY IDEAS ON WHERE WE COULD CUT GOVERNMENT SPENDING?"

Of shed-hunting females & lactating squirrels

Rambling through central Illinois, old enough to appreciate an outdoors uppercut from a skilled sparring partner.

Loud female noises emanated from east of me on a glorious Sunday afternoon hike.

Snake, already?

Skunk?

Or had our little white coon-lab roused another sleepy raccoon from its den?

Even better.

"Is this what we are looking for," my wife said, smiling, coyly, while holding up a matched set of shed antlers - each one complete with a crab claw at the end.

Jeff LAMPE

What a classic moment. Despite me telling her we were going shed hunting, she claims to have had no actual concept what that meant. Or did she?

She and her sister, who was visiting from Wisconsin, spent most of their time in the woods chatting and catching up on important things.

Meanwhile, we males were scouring the ground, looking for elusive, late-winter whitetail gifts. Deer grow new antlers each year after shedding their old ones. When they shed is a matter of much conjecture and intrigue. Suffice to say, bucks start showing up with antlers missing in January and are usually totally antler-bald by the end of March.

Finding the antlers they shed is a last chance for deer hunters to prove their prowess - not to mention a great excuse to get out and tromp through the late-winter woods.

Myself, I've never been very good at finding antlers. On most shed hunts, I spend 10 minutes scouring the ground like a hawk. Then, my mind and eyes wander up to the trees ... and the shed hunt is over.

Somehow though, last Sunday I was dialed in. Maybe that's because of the success from a few days earlier when the oldest boy joined me.

"Are they hard to find?" he asked.

"For me, yes," I said.

Then, two feet into our first trail, there sat a shiny antler the mice and squirrels had already been nibbling. We laughed at the ease of it while lamenting the eaten antler points.

Unfortunately, rodents also search for antlers in the spring, since sheds provides nutrients and minerals that those critters crave. Scientists have actually studied this and determined that calcium and phosphorous are beneficial for lactating female squirrels as they raise their young.

I'm glad my wife didn't know that last part, or she probably would have hid the antlers she found. Besides, even after Sunday's success, she still doesn't understand the tremendous value of her find.

"What do you do with these?" her sister asked.

"Oh, we put them on dressers and bookcases and shelves so they can collect dust," my wife replied.

Tell that to a female squirrel.

As it was, my beloved clued into the whole shed thing after the youngest boy found a nice five-pointer. That antler was right where it should have been - along a south-facing rub line that the buck had probably walked for years.

Moments after the boy found his shed and was congratulated and feted as a fine fellow, the missus found hers, while walking back over a well-tended trail she had already covered.

"This is not hard now that I know what we are looking for," she said. "We had to have walked right past these."

That's how Sunday went. Three sheds in two minutes and a wife who now has yet another entry on her resume: expert shed hunter.

Actually, that's great. I'll gladly bring her next time. Hey, she made sandwiches, found antlers and smiled prettier than any shed-hunting companion I've ever been around.

PUBLIC RECORD

NOTE: Charges are merely an accusation. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Police reports

• KICKAPOO – An Edwards woman was accused of multiple crimes, including drunken driving, following a two-vehicle head-on wreck south of Kickapoo.

Jessica M. Reynolds, 30, was driving a 2007 Lincoln Town Car shortly before 8:45 p.m. Feb. 23 in the 7400 block of N. Kickapoo-Edwards Rd. when her vehicle collided with a 2017 Ford Explorer, according to Peoria County Sheriff's Office reports.

The other driver, Elaine Long of Galesburg, said she was driving south on Kickapoo-Edwards Road when Reynolds' vehicle exited a gasoline station and headed north in the southbound lane. Long, 73, swerved to the left to avoid a collision, but Reynolds' vehicle struck the Explorer's passenger-side front bumper.

Reynolds said she didn't remember what happened, according to a report. She admitted to drinking alcohol.

Ambulances transported Reynolds, Long and her passenger, a male, to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria. Long complained of pain in her chest and back, and her passenger sustained an abrasion. Reynolds' injury was unspecified.

Reynolds was cited for illegal transportation of alcohol, improper lane use and two counts of driving under the influence of alcohol. Both vehicles were towed. Brimfield firefighters also responded.

• PEORIA – A Hanna City man was arrested after he was involved in a disturbance at a Peoria hospital.

There were six security guards atop Johnie K. Burton, 24, when a Peoria police officer arrived about 11 a.m. Feb. 23 at the emergency room of Carle Health Methodist Hospital. What prompted that reaction was redacted from a police report.

Later, Burton admitted he used heroin, then attempted to leave without the officer's permission. That resulted in another physical confrontation. Burton was accused of aggravated battery against a security guard and was transported to the Peoria County Jail.

• KICKAPOO – A Peoria woman was accused of driving over a picket fence in front of a Kickapoo residence.

Security-camera footage revealed Chelsea A. Weldon, 29, was driving a northbound 2014 Nissan Maxima shortly before 5 a.m. Feb. 22 on Kickapoo-Edwards Road when the vehicle rolled past the stop sign at U.S. Route 150, according to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report. The vehicle continued north on Vine Street, left the pavement to the west, struck the fence and almost struck a utility pole. Weldon said she didn't remember what happened, the report stated. She was uninjured.

Weldon was cited for failure to give information and for improper lane use. The vehicle sustained moderate damage but was drivable.

• EDWARDS – An Edwards man reported minor injuries following a single-vehicle accident.

Carl D. Wyrick, 50, was driving a westbound 2013 Cadillac sport-utility vehicle shortly before 11:30 p.m. Feb. 22 on Southport Road near Powder Mill Road when he swerved to avoid a deer and crashed into a culvert, according to a Peoria County Sheriff's Office report.

Wyrick said he sustained a scratch on his nose and an abrasion on his left foot. The vehicle sustained disabling damage and was towed. Also damaged were two road signs. Wyrick was cited for leaving the scene.

• KICKAPOO – A vehicle fire east of Kickapoo caused at least $10,000 in damage, authorities stated. A Peoria County Sheriff's Office deputy was dispatched about 10:15 a.m. Feb. 18 to U.S. Route 150 and Gilles Road. There he found a 2011 Hyundai Sonata that was engulfed in flames before Brimfield firefighters doused them, according to a redacted report.

The vehicle, which was towed, had at least two occupants. The owner was from Brimfield. The fire also damaged pavement on Gilles Road.

FARMINGTON: New calendar; bullying claims

often accompanies events like these. It is natural to seek answers and assign blame. But it's equally important to recognize that the leadership of Farmington 265 is dedicated to reflective practices that help ensure more proactive approaches to moving forward."

Slack said there have been no additional safety breaches outside those two incidents.

The board also revisited the 2025-26 school calendar, which was changed to allow as much time as possible for upcoming construction in and around the Farmington schools.

Most notably, next school year will start one week earlier than usual and there will be no week-long spring break. The school board on Monday passed a 2025-26 calendar that features an Aug. 11 start for staff and an Aug. 13 first day for students. The last day of school will be May 14, one week earlier than usual, barring days lost to severe weather.

Actually, the board had to pass a revised calendar following a closed session that lasted nearly three hours. The revised version includes standardized dates for all parent-teacher conferences on Feb. 11-12. Conferences for high school, junior high and elementary school had previously had been held on different dates.

Other notable dates include winter break from Dec. 22 through Jan. 2 and a 2026 spring break of April 1-6.

"I'm just blind-guessing (construction) won't get done in time," Superintendent Zac Chatterton said, explaining the schedule changes.

To facilitate construction, the board passed a resolution providing for the sale of up to $8 million in bonds. Chatterton said he expects architectural drawings for some projects in the near future.

The board also approved 2025-26 membership in the Illinois High School Association and the 2025-26 student handbook.

Chatterton came under fire during the public-comment portion of the meeting when two parents said their children had been bullied in the Farmington schools.

Cassy Coulter said her daughter has "lost confidence due to continued bullying" since they moved into the Farmington district three years ago. She claimed Chatterton was rude to her when she discussed the matter.

"I don't have any confidence in him whatsoever," Coulter said. "Any time I've tried to deal with the higher-ups on the administration level, I feel like I'm knocked back down."

Josie Grady said she has two daughters in the district who have also suffered from bullying.

Farmington Police Officer Andy Steck, who serves as the school resource officer, said students can seek him out if they encounter problems with bullying.

Prior to its business meeting, the board honored numerous students for success over the winter, including members of the high school and junior high wrestling teams junior high cheerleaders and Key Club.

Also honored were students of the month, including 6th graders Kodilyn Bearce and Damon White, 7th graders Kennleigh Miller and Sam Nannen, 8th graders Addy Overcash and Joel Layer, freshman Chloe Briggs, sophomore Skylar Lundberg, junior Jackson Gilmore and senior Benjamin Marvil.

Orange Frog recipients were math teacher Brian Littrel and office staffer Brandi Foster.

After executive session, the board approved FMLA leaves for Jaci Swearingen and Ciara Ulm; hired Tylen Anderson as an elementary teacher; and accepted the resignation of art teacher Abigail Simaytis, driver Royiesha Spiller, cafe worker Dione Anderson, transportation supervisor Maria Banks and unified physical education teacher Dylan Hayden.

Traffic controls likely for Elmwood's Ash St.

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – Traffic controls probably are coming to Ash Street in Elmwood, in human and/or inanimate form.

Speeders on Ash Street imperil children on their way to and from school, according to Elmwood teacher Sarah Christy. She addressed the Elmwood City Council on March 4.

Ash Street is the primary east-west route that leads to the school. There is a sidewalk only on one side of the street, according to City Clerk Bethany Lovino.

The council discussed several possible potential remedies. Mayor JD Hulslander said it's probable a portable speed-detection sign will be placed along Ash Street soon. Elmwood police officers also are likely to increase speed-limit enforcement.

Additional stop signs on Ash Street might be considered, but Hulslander doesn't think that would be a sufficient deterrent.

"Honestly, I'd rather have tickets written than put stop signs up, and have people drive the speed limit," Hulslander told The Weekly Post a few days after the meeting.

Speed limits in Elmwood are 30 mph unless otherwise posted.

Hulslander said the village has budgeted for a permanent flashing speed-detection sign on Ash Street. Engineering consultant Patrick Meyer is expected to attend a council meeting in the next few months to discuss options.

The Ash Street speeding issue was not the only school-related one aldermen discussed. They decided to waive late water-bill fees the Elmwood School District is charged. The timing of School Board meetings, during which water bills are approved, leads to the late fees, according to Hulslander. The board usually meets on the fourth Monday each month.

"In reality, they could get a late fee almost every month," he said.

In other business, the council formalized a 10-year agreement with Elmwood Trap Club for it to continue to use part of Sweetwater Park. The club had been using two trap stations at the park for years, but there never was a formal agreement, according to Hulslander.

The new agreement requires the club to pay the city $10. The club is to be responsible for maintenance and improvements, including construction of storage and meeting facilities and installation of trap-shooting equipment.

Council members also renewed a one-year deal with TimbukTech Inc. of Canton to manage and maintain the city's computer network. The fee is $770 per month.

PRINCEVILLE: Finances key issue faces is financial.

"It's just fighting to stay above ground," he said. "We get less and less revenue but more and more expenses. It takes a lot to keep that up to date and keep the village going. We don't have a lot of deficit spending. We do everything within our means."

Pope concurred. He mentioned an upcoming sewer project that probably will increase customer rates, based on what the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency dictates the village must charge.

"The cost of employees goes up. The cost of insurance. The cost of repairs," Pope said. "We're doing salary increases, and our employees work hard and they deserve the raise. And to keep employees, you've got to pay them."

Pope also wants to evaluate contracts the village has with the Peoria County Sheriff's Office for police protection. The village shares with the Princeville School District the cost of a school resource officer. Attracting more businesses, specifically a restaurant, to town also is a priority.

Troutman shared Pope's desire to attract more businesses to the village. He cited a Stark County trucking firm's recent purchase of the old Alcoa Building Products property as one example. Troutman also is advocating for an assisted-living facility in Princeville, something the village does not have.

"I've been in the Princeville community 56 years," Troutman said. "I know a lot of the citizens. I've got leadership capabilities and abilities. I've done a decent job running things and just look forward to hopefully getting another four years to finish it out."

Pope appears to be OK win or lose.

"There's not going to be hard feelings either way," he said. "We've served in fire battles, ambulance battles and been very good friends. However it turns out, we're still going to be friends."

The trustees' race features one candidate, Curtis, who has no public-office experience. An electrician, Curtis spent his childhood in Princeville and returned to the village in 2023.

"I want to make it as great of a place as possible for anyone to raise a family," Curtis stated. "Ultimately I want to help ensure it is a safe and strong community for everyone residing in it."

Gilroy has been a trustee since 2011, following a year on the zoning board of appeals. She is a retired former office manager.

"I enjoyed being able to use my management skills from my former workplace," Gilroy stated. "I also feel I bring value to the table for Princeville with my experience, and I will continue to do so as long as I can."

Potter was appointed to the board in 2023. He is a manager for Fuchs Farms of Speer and also owns and operates Smith & Potter Equipment, a small-engine repair and sales shop in Princeville.

"My approach has been one of collaboration, transparency and putting the needs of our village first," Potter stated. "I will make decisions that reflect the values of our residents."

Wilson is a U.S. Army veteran who has 22 years of managerial experience. He served on the Village Board from 2020 until 2021. He also was village clerk. Currently, he is Akron-Princeville fire-department treasurer.

"I will utilize my vast managerial skills to ensure accountability, appropriate budgeting and transparency of all tax dollars spent," Wilson stated. "I would prioritize working with law enforcement, fire districts and emergency services to keep the village safe."

Village Clerk Sarah Cordis is running unopposed for reelection.

Peoria Co. equalization factor set for 2024 taxes

SPRINGFIELD – Peoria County has been issued a final property assessment equalization factor of 1.0000, according to David Harris, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The property assessment equalization factor, often called the "multiplier," is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties, as required by law.

Under a law passed in 1975, property in Illinois should be assessed at one-third (of its market value. Farmland is assessed at one-third of its agriculture economic value and is not subject to the equalization factor.

Assessments in Peoria County are at 33.32% of market value, based on sales of properties in 2021, 2022 and 2023. The equalization factor currently being assigned is for 2024 taxes, payable in 2025.

Last year's equalization factor for the county was 1.0000.

Bowhunters post record turkey harvest

SPRINGFIELD – Hunters in Illinois harvested a preliminary record statewide total of 1,045 wild turkeys during the 2024-25 fall archery season.

The total compares last year's harvest of 803. The previous record for fall archery season was in 2015, when 851 turkeys were taken.

Harvest reports were 51% male and 49% female compared to 54% males and 46% hens last year. A total of 62% of hunters reported using crossbows versus 37% using compound bows and 1% using traditional bows.

PRINCES: PC hit FTs in fourth

possible on day one, but they worked so hard to overcome everything," he said.

"They put on a show to-night. It was a fun game. Somebody's got to lose, and tonight it was us."

What ultimately propelled Peoria Christian was a seven-point, 3½-minute fourth-quarter streak that began after Collin Lowery's layup at 6:26 gave Princeville its final lead, 46-44.

Princeville cut its deficit to 55-54 on Jake Williams' 3-pointer with 27.7 seconds left, then two missed free throws by Peoria Christian's Gavin Walder at :21.3 gave the Princes a chance. But Williams missed a running 6-footer with seven seconds left.

Following two Malachi Persinger free throws – he was 7-for-8 from the line in the fourth – Princeville senior Logan Olshawsky missed a desperation 3-pointer from the right corner just before the buzzer.

"Credit to them – they made their free throws down the stretch, and we had a couple of shots that just didn't fall in the fourth quarter," said Williams, a senior who finished with a team-high 18 points. "We never freak out. I shot a couple of shots with confidence at the end. They just didn't fall."

Plenty of shots were falling for Princeville in the second quarter. Against man-to-man pressure, Princeville had an eight-point run to open a double-digit lead. A 3-pointer by Brady Day with 3:37 remaining in the second quarter put Princeville ahead 26-13.

"It felt like (how) we've been playing the last couple of games," Williams said. "We felt in control, felt great. We just felt like we were getting inside, getting good looks in the flow of the game."

But the Chargers' full-court defense began to manifest itself before the half ended.

Princeville turnovers on two consecutive possessions led to Peoria Christian baskets, part of a six-point streak that ended the second quarter and narrowed the Princes' lead to 32-28. Walder's 3-pointer at 2:57 of the third gave Peoria Christian its first advantage, 39-38. He had 11 third-period points.

"They kind of sped us up," Sennett said. "We started turning it over and taking poor shots, and you can't do that in games like this."

Multiple defenders hounded Williams all night. Princeville senior and coach's son Tucker Sennett, one of his team's top scorers this season, was shut out after he had three first-half 3-pointers.

Princeville junior Collin Lowery scored nine points and made a layup for his team's final lead vs. Peoria Christian.

"I think the big difference was we just had a better game plan ... to force tough shots," Peoria Christian Coach Jason Persinger said. "We didn't zone-press them. They destroyed that the last time we played them. We stayed away from that this time. Full-court man all night long."

Malachi Persinger finished with 21 points, Walder with 15.

For Princeville, Lowery had 10 points and Olshawsky nine. Coach Sennett paid tribute to them and his other players.

"They have changed the culture of Princeville basketball," he said. "There are hundreds and hundreds of people, maybe thousands, coming to their games now and having fun watching these kids work their tails off. And they didn't expect anything in return.

"Yes, I've got a boy that's playing on this team, but I'm going to remember every single one of them like they're my sons."

In the 56-41 semifinal victory March 4 against IB, Day had a night. The junior came off the bench midway through the first quarter for 11 first-half points on his way to a team-high 18.

"I wasn't missing," Day said. "We were moving the ball well and shots were open, and I was taking them and they were going in. It felt good."

Princeville had 12 points in a row to lead 19-12 with 5:03 left in the first half. The Princes scored the final nine of the third quarter to lead 42-29. Williams had seven points in that run, 15 in all.

"They go as he goes," said IB Interim Coach Trey David, whose team had 22 points from Toby Cooper. "Williams getting into the lane is what initiates their offense."

David coached in place of Clay Vass, who was placed on administrative leave in December pending a third-party investigation. No other information has been made public.

Tucker Sennett scored 13 against IB, which beat Princeville 57-35 on Dec. 13. For the season, he averaged 13.9 points per game, behind only Williams' 14.2. Lowery averaged 5.2 rebounds, Olshawsky 5.1. Williams averaged 4.5 assists. The younger Sennett had 1,291 career points, Williams 960.

Princes lose in classic

Peoria Christian avenges regular-season loss

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

BRIMFIELD – In two straight state-tournament games, Princeville avenged boys basketball defeats from earlier this season.

In the Class 1A Brimfield Sectional championship game, Peoria Christian did the same thing to the Princes.

Princeville led by 13 points midway through the second quarter March 7. But Peoria Christian pulled even, then streaked in the fourth quarter to a 57-54 win.

That sent Peoria Christian to the Jacksonville Supersectional, which the Chargers won Monday, 66-49 over Greenfield-Palmyra Northwestern. Peoria Christian (28-9) faces Lanark Eastland in a 1A state semifinal today, March 13, at 11:15 a.m. in Champaign.

The loss also ended the deepest state-tourney advancement for Princeville (27-9) since a Class A Elite Eight appearance 40 years ago this month. This year, the Princes won a regional final against Abingdon-Avon, which beat them twice, and a sectional semifinal against Illini Bluffs, which defeated them in December.

Princeville beat Peoria Christian 77-69 in double overtime Feb. 8. That came after a 14-game winning streak followed by four injury-fueled midseason losses in a row.

All told in a roller-coaster-like season, Princeville Coach Tait Sennett was grateful his team reached the 1A Sweet Sixteen.

“These kids accomplished something that I didn’t know was

Farmington wrestler wins third IESA title

GIBSON CITY – Farmington 8th grader Isaac Showalter won his third consecutive IESA Class A state wrestling championship last Saturday in dominant fashion.

Competing at 90 pounds, Showalter won his first two matches by fall (in 25 and 37 seconds) and his semifinal in an 18-3 technical fall. Showalter was flawless in his championship match over Jack Welch of Camp Point Central, winning in a 15-0 technical fall to cap a 97-0 record in junior high.

Showalter won an IESA state title at 80 pounds last year and at 70 pounds as a 6th grader.

Farmington 8th grader Isaac Showalter won three state titles in junior-high wrestling.

Showalter received a fire-truck escort from Hanna City to Farmington on Sunday, along with four Farmington placewinners in the Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation finals: Lyndzey Brewer (third), Caine Rodgers (fourth), Chloe Wright (fifth) and Scarlet Bailey (seventh).
