CONSTRUCTION SEASON

Route 180 road work begins soon

2026 completion likely

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

WILLIAMSFIELD – A long-planned reconstruction of Illinois Route 180 in and around Williamsfield is to begin next week.

The project that starts Monday might take two years to complete, although the Illinois Department of Transportation anticipates being finished by the end of 2026, according to Williamsfield Village President Robert Johnson.

"There has been much lobbying to have this on IDOT's priority list," he stated. "It will be a pain for everyone while it is being done, however it will be well worth it once it is finished."

A long-planned reconstruction of Illinois Route 180 in and around Williamsfield is scheduled to start next week. Photo by Nick Vlahos.

Road closures and detours are likely at the Williamsfield railroad viaduct and at the Route 180 intersection with Illinois Route 167 north of Billtown. That junction is the northern end of the project. The southern end is the Route 180 intersection with U.S. Route 150 south of Williamsfield.

Detours are to last no longer than 10 days, according to IDOT. The IDOT project leader agreed to notify local authorities a week before the closures so police, fire and ambulance services can prepare alternate routes, according to Johnson.

City manager let go?

Bohanan says Farmington job eliminated

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – City Administrator Bettina Bohanan did not attend Monday's meeting of the Farmington City Council and was not in her office on Tuesday.

That's no accident, according to Bohanan.

"To my knowledge, my position was eliminated," Bohanan said Tuesday. "That's all the further comment I have at this moment."

Farmington Mayor Kenn Stufflebeam had no comment.

Bohanan was hired Jan. 3, 2023, after longtime City Administrator Rollen Wright retired. A Canton resident, Bohanan was selected from a field of three candidates.

There was no discussion of Bohanan's position in open session at Monday's meeting.

The council went into closed session for about 13 minutes, but upon returning said only that it had approved compensation increases for some city employees. Stufflebeam said increases varied by employee and details will be released after the staff is informed.

"It's only fair we tell employees before they read in the paper," he said.

Oglesby jury selection may start this week

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

GALESBURG – The prosecution and the defense raised possibilities of another delay in the court case of a woman accused of murdering the former Maquon police chief.

Still, the trial of Marcy Oglesby appears closer to commencing than it has in a while. Maybe.

Oglesby first was arrested 2½ years ago regarding Richard Young's death. Jury selection in Oglesby's trial was expected to begin Wednesday, April 23. But following a motion hearing April 17 in Knox County Circuit Court, public defender David Hansen indicated the schedule might be adjusted.

Adding credence to that was a motion the defense made Tuesday to continue the case. The defense has received additional evidence it hasn't had a chance to review, according to a representative of the public-defender's office.

It wasn't clear when or if Judge Andrew Doyle might hold a continuance hearing. Another felony case, that of Galesburg resident Jason Fielder, also was to begin jury selection Wednesday. Doyle suggested progress in the Oglesby case might depend on how quickly the Fielder case progresses.

Fielder is accused of attempted murder and aggravated arson in connection with a house fire last August in Galesburg.

"The defendant could come in and plead guilty. We could start your trial almost immediately," Doyle told Oglesby, who appeared at the hearing last week.

FARMINGTON: City absorbs sewer cost increase

Stufflebeam said the city is hiring Logan Van Middlesworth as a new member of the public-works department.

The council also voted to maintain the same sewer rates for 2025-28, even though the Farmington Sanitary District is raising the rates it charges the city.

“We realize that people are struggling to pay their sewer bills already and we feel we can absorb the increase,” Stufflebeam said. Much of that increase will apparently be funded through fees charged to residents who are late paying their sewer bill.

Rates for 2025-28 will remain a $26.89 monthly user fee and $8 per 1,000 gallons of water consumed. The minimum charge for sewer service for users who have no meter or a dead meter will remain $54.17.

Farmington will have new street signs soon, after the council agreed to pay $3,344.05 for a total of 35 30-inch signs and 60 24-inch signs from JTC Traffic Safety.

Moving forward, Stufflebeam said the plan is to keep a stock of signs on hand as future replacements.

Also approved were ordinances for TIF payments to The Smalltown Circus, LLC, of $2,175 for renovation of its business located at 35 N. Main St. and to Anderson-Sedgwick Funeral Home, Inc., for $3,915 to repair and sealcoat the business parking lot at 341 E. Fort St.

The council also OK'd

$100 donations to the Farmington High School trap-shooting team, the Farmington Elementary School Golf Scramble fundraiser and to the Spoon River Valley FOP Lodge 427 golf outing.

Streaming of Monday's meeting was not successful on YouTube. Stufflebeam said the city is creating a new YouTube channel for meetings. It will be called "Farmington Illinois Council Meetings." This was not the first time the city has had problems with its Owl Labs meeting camera.

Finally, the council will hold a special meeting on April 30 at 7 p.m. to discuss and pass a new budget for Fiscal Year 2025.

Williamsfield firefighters were among those who helped control and extinguish a blaze April 11 that destroyed a house west of Douglas, according to the Maquon Fire Protection District. They were omitted by mistake from a story that appeared April 17. The newspaper erred.

SCATTERSHOTS

Of morels, Illinois taxes and 7 Sundays of rain

Rambling through central Illinois, eagerly awaiting May, the finest month until November.

After a dry spell, we’ve had some real nice rain. And now, with warmer weather forecast for this week, bring on the morels. Not little ones, either. The big yellows should be up soon. Mushroom pictures are already popping up all over the Internet. Much better is to get into the timber and to find them there. The ones you find in person taste a lot better than those on Facebook that leave a bitter taste in the mouth. ... Speaking of wet stuff, we are keeping track of the prediction uttered by a few since Easter Sunday about the seven more Sundays of rain we should expect. ... Many central Illinois turkey hunters have said there are more of the big birds in the woods this year. A common thought on why? Fewer ratcoons to raid turkey nests.

Next week we will print a letter from a reader praising Gov. JB Pritzker, in the process proving yet again that we do not limit letters to those we agree with. As background for that submission, though, please take time to ponder that Illinois will this year impose the nation’s highest state and local taxes, costing each household $13,099. According to WalletHub, those taxes are $4,472 higher than the national average and more than 50% of Illinois voters polled said they would leave the state if they could, with high taxes the main reason. And while pondering those high taxes, drive on our roads, like the covered-wagon trail that is much of Illinois Route 78. ... Parting shot: Well, I can finally sleep again. The handsome bald cypress tree we planted last year, my new favorite tree, showed no signs of leafing out until Easter Sunday. While I’m proud of the little cypress for waiting (since we are still at risk of a frost until Mother’s Day), having faith is a hard thing. Then again, that’s kind of the point of the whole Easter story, right?

Where were you for the alumni banquet?

To the Editor:

Where were you Saturday evening April 12?

On that evening, I had the privilege of attending the Elmwood Community High School Alumni Banquet with seven of my classmates. Those alumni present had a wholesome dinner and met some of the young, talented graduating seniors. Imagine that you came a long distance to see old school friends and no one came – what a disappointment.

You say the dinner price is too high. That price helps to recognize and give those talented graduates a free dinner.

Your education was a priceless gift earned from dedicated teachers in a small-town environment. Lifelong friends were made in those 12 years of education. Not many can say they spent 12 years with the same group of people during their school years. Friends and family are our most precious gifts.

Traditions get lost in this chaotic world. For decades, Elmwood has had a thriving school system for a small town. Remember the years when the gym was full of graduates attending the banquet? All alumni need to support this unique banquet or one day it, too, will be a tradition lost. As the school song says, “We’ll be loyalists and friends – To the school that we love the best.”

GUEST VOICES

Tariff costs will be more than taxpayer money

The Trump Administration may grant U.S. agriculture special exemptions from parts of its ever-changing tariff regime, but it can't exempt the ag world from everyday economic reality.

That mainstay of farming – with or without ever-changing White House trade policies – will keep the 2025 American ag economy on its heels, say the farm-income specialists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Tariffs will only make USDA's bleak income forecast worse.

According to USDA, 2025's net farm income will be a slim $137.7 billion, slightly skinnier than last year's $139.1 billion. Both, however, are miles from the 2022 record of $182 billion.

Recall, however, that Congress poured billions into the ag economy last December. Those supplemental and ad hoc disaster assistance payments, USDA notes, "are forecast at $35.7 billion ... (for) losses due to natural disasters in 2023 and 2024."

When other, already-on-the-books USDA payments – like EQIP and CRP – are added, farmers and ranchers can expect 2025 federal government direct farm program payments to be a whopping $42.4 billion.

Only one year tops that amount, 2020's record-setting $45.6 billion, which included the first Trump Administration's $27 billion market facilitation program introduced to soften the effects of its 2018 tariffs that clipped ag exports to China.

This year's federal assistance, explains USDA, will go straight to farmers' 2025 bottom line and raise the market-generated total from $137.7 billion to a near-record $180.1 billion.

None of that, however, includes one penny of the money both the White House and Secretary of Agriculture Brooke Rollins promised farmers and ranchers recently when explaining the administration's ever-evolving tariff policies.

Billions in potential ag exports and billions in future farm program payments are at stake. America's top five ag buyers – Mexico, Canada, China, the European Union and Japan, accounted for 61% of the $191 billion in U.S. ag exports in 2024.

Any threat to one of them is a threat to every American farmer and rancher.

China, again the target of White House wrath, imported $24.7 billion of U.S. ag goods in 2024. This vital U.S. ag market now faces a 104% tariff.

That means everyone from Beijing to Brooklyn will lose: China will lose its best source of high-quality grain, meat and farm technology, American farmers and ranchers will lose a hard-won, valued customer and U.S. taxpayers can expect to foot the bill for both.

Ironically, the biggest winners will still be American – South American, mostly Brazil and Argentina.

There will be two other losers.

First, giving away any ag export market in a tariff war means the American ag trade deficit will grow.

After almost 60 years of ag trade surpluses, the U.S. turned an ag trade deficit in 2019, the year after the first Trump Administration imposed tariffs on China. Since then, the annual deficit has grown; it hit $37 billion in 2024 and is forecast at $49 billion in 2025.

But that was before White House tariff bulls started pawing for a fight. Today's tariff war will increase – not cut, as the Trump White House claims – the ag trade deficit.

American taxpayers are losers, too, because, if the administration keeps its word and protects American farmers from tariff losses, ad hoc disaster assistance payments could easily double from the forecasted $42.4 billion.

Think not? If anticipated trade-war payments simply matched the market facilitation payments the first Trump USDA paid farmers in 2018 and 2019, they'd receive another $27 billion.

Today's far-bigger tariff war suggests far bigger payments – $40 billion? $60 billion? More? – to stem the bleeding caused by this self-inflicted trade war.

Whatever the cost, it can't possibly cover what will be lost.

about 10½ miles of north-south Route 180 is to be the primary focus.

Other work on Route 180 is to include culvert repairs and replacements, guardrail replacement and drainage improvements, an IDOT prospectus stated.

Also to be built is a pedestrian crosswalk at Route 180 and Gale Street. The crosswalk is to include pavement striping and rapid-flashing beacons. The village is to maintain the crosswalk after construction is finished.

Sections of Chestnut Street, Gale Street, Legion Road, Lions Drive, Maner Avenue and Park Road are to be milled and resurfaced.

Route 180 is about 15½ miles long. The southern terminus is at Route 150, and the northern terminus is at Illinois Route 17 south of Galva.

IDOT isn’t yet certain if work will begin at the Williamsfield viaduct and continue south to Route 150 or begin at the junction with Knox Highway 24, also known as the West Jersey Blacktop, and proceed south, according to Johnson.

The local field office for the project is to open in the shuttered former BP gasoline station in Williamsfield.

Johnson said village businesses stand to benefit from construction-worker traffic. Construction-related water sales also are expected to bolster village coffers.

Police reports

- YATES CITY – A Yates City man who called law-enforcement authorities to complain about a neighbor’s music level was wanted regarding an illegal-drugs crime. A Knox County Sheriff’s Office deputy was dispatched about 11:15 p.m. March 24 to a residence in the 100 block of E. Main St. Joshua L. Lopeman, 44, and another resident said the neighbor was playing loud music at all hours of the night, according to a sheriff’s-office report. While the deputy was speaking with the neighbor, it was discovered Lopeman was wanted in Fulton County for failure to appear in court and for possession of a controlled substance. Lopeman was arrested and transported to the Knox County Jail in Galesburg, where he was to post bond. As for the neighbor, he complained about Lopeman throwing trash in the alley, said there was no noise ordinance in Yates City and refused to turn down his music. The deputy suggested the 56-year-old man do so for neighborliness.
- WILLIAMSFIELD – A traffic stop on Interstate 74 south of Williamsfield resulted in a Galesburg man’s arrest for multiple vehicle-related offenses. Lyle D. Utsinger, 50, was behind the wheel of a 2010 Ford Focus when a Knox County Sheriff’s Office deputy pulled it over about 6:15 p.m. April 4 at mile marker 64. A pre-stop check of the license-plate number revealed Utsinger was wanted in Knox County for failure to appear in court. The warrant-related charge against Utsinger was for not having a valid driver’s license. He was cited again for that, as well as for operating an uninsured motor vehicle, and was transported to the Knox County Jail in Galesburg. The vehicle was impounded.
- KICKAPOO – A Peoria woman was accused of domestic battery regarding an incident at a Kickapoo-area gasoline station. Crystal L. Bustamante, 33, was arrested following the incident, which happened shortly before 8 p.m. April 3 at the Shell station at 7116 N. Kickapoo-Edwards Rd. A heavily redacted Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report indicated the victim was a 28-year-old woman from Peoria. A 27-year-old Elmwood woman was a witness.
- FARMINGTON – An argument devolved into an apparent physical confrontation that resulted in a Farmington man’s arrest. Farmington police responded about 5 p.m. March 30 to a residence in the 100 block of N. Oak St. The 35-year-old victim had injury marks on her arms, neck and shoulder, according to a report. The suspect, 32-year-old Skilar L. Harrell of Farmington, was not at the residence. An officer located Harrell at Township Park. For safekeeping, the officer took possession of a Springfield Armory XD 9-mm handgun and 29 rounds of ammunition found in Harrell’s truck. Harrell was accused of domestic battery and transported to the Fulton County Jail in Lewistown.
- DOUGLAS – A Douglas-area woman appeared to be a forgery victim, according to authorities. The 25-year-old said she received an email March 30 that stated a Capital One credit card was being sent to her, a Knox County Sheriff’s Office report stated. The woman indicated she had not applied for the card. Capital One informed the victim someone provided her Social Security number, among other personal information. A text message regarding the card also was sent to the victim. Capital One’s fraud department was notified.
- PEORIA – An Edwards man was accused of threatening a woman and sending obscene photographs to her by cellphone. James C. Ernst Jr., 56, was arrested at 3:30 p.m. March 30 in connection with the messages, which first were reported March 20 to the Peoria Police Department, according to a report. At the time, the woman was staying at Motel 6, 2726 W. Lake Ave. Ernst was charged with telephone harassment, transmitting an obscene message and unlawful possession of a stolen motor vehicle.
- EDELSTEIN – A Pekin man was arrested at an Edelstein residence for various crimes. A Peoria County Sheriff’s Office deputy was dispatched shortly before 4 p.m. March 29 to the 20700 block of N. Sixth St. regarding a stolen trailer. A heavily redacted sheriff’s-office report indicated Damian J. Prather, 36, was apprehended shortly thereafter at Fourth and Main streets. Prather was accused of obstructing justice and of unlawful possession of a controlled substance. He also was being held for other agencies regarding outstanding warrants from two unspecified cases.
- PEORIA – Shortly before 1:15 a.m. April 4, Matthew Hawkins of Princeville was driving a westbound 2014 Toyota Tundra on Grange Hall Road at Ford Road northwest of Peoria when the vehicle struck a deer. Hawkins declined medical attention, according to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report. The vehicle sustained front-end damage but was drivable.
- BRIMFIELD – At 8 p.m. March 26, Kelly A. Skees of Dunlap was driving an eastbound 2017 Jeep Cherokee in the 15000 block of W. Brimfield-Jubilee Rd. east of Brimfield when the vehicle struck a deer. Neither Skees nor her passenger was injured, a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report stated. She drove away the vehicle, which sustained damage to its grille, hood and front bumper and lights. The impact killed the deer.

Local man jailed after crime spree

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

GALESBURG – A Williamsfield-area man led Galesburg-based law-enforcement personnel on a one-day odyssey of crime earlier this month.

Dallas R. Hulse, 28, was released the afternoon of April 6 from the Knox County Jail. By day’s end, he was back in the jail. In between, Hulse stole someone’s prescription medication, burglarized two vehicles and caused disturbances at two Galesburg businesses and an apartment complex, according to authorities.

Initially, Hulse was released from jail about 3:15 p.m. Reports from the Galesburg Police Department and the Knox County Sheriff’s Office didn’t specify why Hulse was arrested in the first place.

But while he was being processed for release, Hulse apparently grabbed and placed in his backpack a bottle of prescription medicine that belonged to another inmate.

Hulse was in a booking area next to a holding cell that contained the 37-year-old male victim, according to a sheriff’s-office report. The victim’s medicine had been placed in a bin outside the holding cell. Security video revealed Hulse reached into the bin and absconded with the medicine.

About three hours later, Galesburg police were notified about a vehicle burglary that happened between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. in the 700 block of N. Henderson St. The victim said his wallet and a key-chain were missing.

Two hours after that, about 8:30 p.m., police were summoned to Smoke Land, 1516 N. Henderson St. There, Hulse was arguing with staff and customers, a report stated. An employee asked police to ban Hulse from the store, which an officer did, but not before Hulse tried to argue with him, too.

At about 9:30 p.m., the same officer responded to Galesburg Towers, 1384 N. Henderson St. Hulse was sitting in the community room, asking others for a ride to Williamsfield. Another argument ensued with the officer, who told Hulse to leave the building immediately.

One hour later, the officer was called to the Little Caesars pizza restaurant at 1526 N. Henderson St., where witnesses said Hulse was spitting on and banging on a window. At that point, the officer arrested Hulse.

The officer found in one of Hulse’s pockets a debit card that belonged to a man who earlier in the day reported someone broke into his vehicle, stole his wallet and used the card at Little Caesars, among other places.

In Hulse’s backpack were the keychain that was reported stolen and the missing prescription medicine, with the victim’s name on the bottle. Also found was another debit card that belonged to the second burglary victim, as well as his photo ID.

Hulse admitted to the vehicle burglaries but said his mother gave him the medication. Among the charges against him are theft, possession of stolen property, possession of a controlled substance and disorderly conduct. Hulse has a long criminal history in Knox County, including eight cases so far this year.

As of earlier this week, Hulse remained in the county jail. Preliminary and status hearings were scheduled for May 28.

OGLESBY: Jury selection could be difficult

Immediately after that 45-minute hearing ended, Hansen said jury selection might begin April 28 or 29. Doyle was expected to return to the bench Wednesday following a vacation. Doyle suggested the jury pool appeared to be more limited than usual, because of other trials and a reduced summons-return rate. Publicity the Oglesby case has received in the Galesburg area might also make jury selection more difficult.

In addition to first-degree murder, the 53-year-old Oglesby has been charged with concealment of a homicidal death. She and another Maquon woman, Karen Doubet, are accused of using eye drops to poison Young's food and drink. Doubet, Oglesby and Young resided together. Oglesby was arrested in October 2022 after the decomposing body of 71-year-old Young was found in a box inside a Maquon storage locker.

During the motion hearing last week, Doyle rejected a different Hansen request to delay the trial. Hansen based it on recent receipt of some of Oglesby's bank records. In an earlier motion hearing, State's Attorney Ashley Worby accused Oglesby of draining Young's bank accounts.

Doyle set a Feb. 28 deadline for discovery evidence, as Hansen noted. "This is not new evidence. This is evidence they could have obtained a year ago," he said. "We didn't introduce any new evidence. I don't understand why the state seems to think court orders apply to everybody except the prosecution."

Worby said the prosecution's case isn't changed because of the bank records, which her office received recently from an account that's been known to the defense for years. Doyle concurred.

"An essential part of the motive was the money that was in the victim's accounts, and this is a continuation of that line of evidence and theory," he said.

But Worby said an unexpected problem for the prosecution might result in her asking for a trial continuance.

The forensic toxicologist who prepared Young's report was not the same one who conducted tests of Young's skeletal and muscle-tissue remains. That might cause an issue regarding witness testimony, according to Worby, who discovered the problem two days before the hearing.

"When I hear a report from a scientist, that scientist was personally responsible for the testing," she said. "This was a surprise to me. I've never had this situation before."

The Illinois State Police Forensic Science Laboratory in Morton usually performs such testing in Knox County cases, according to Worby, but a private firm in Pennsylvania handled Young's case.

Doyle said he believed there was enough time before the trial to clarify that situation.

DNR says avoid handling animal babies

For The Weekly Post
SPRINGFIELD – As spring sets in and more people head outside, the Illinois Department of Natural Resources reminds everyone to leave baby birds and young animals alone when they encounter them in the wild.

Well-intentioned people may believe they’re helping nature by taking possession of young rabbits, fawn deer, baby birds and other animals that appear to be orphaned or abandoned. However, in nearly all cases, human intervention does more to hurt animals than to help. Young birds and animals are still being fed and cared for by their parents, who usually stay away from nests and dens if humans are nearby.

“The most helpful thing people can do for wildlife is to enjoy the animals through observation, not interference,” said IDNR Director Natalie Phelps Finnie. “If you really care about the animals, just leave them alone when you come across them in nature.”

The Illinois Wildlife Code provides legal protection for wildlife. Keeping wild animals as pets, or to raise wild animals believed to have been abandoned is prohibited. Additionally, agency responses to incidents involving illegal captive wildlife can be costly and divert time from other important work.

Most wild birds are protected by the Wildlife

Code. This includes protection of eggs, nests and feathers.

Some additional reminders about wildlife in Illinois:

- Birds often leave the nest before they can fly. Known as fledglings, these birds will live on the ground for a few days while they grow flight feathers, and you may hear them making noises calling for their parents. They do this so their parents will continue to feed them, and it doesn’t mean they are in trouble. Keep children and pets away.

- A deer fawn left on its own is not necessarily abandoned. Young fawns don’t possess the speed or stamina to flee until they are about 2 weeks old. As a result, their mothers will leave them to lie quietly and motionless in nearby tall grass or brushy cover while they forage. A fawn may truly be orphaned if you notice it in the same spot for two or three days and constantly calling for its mother. At that point, call a licensed wildlife rehabilitator.

- Rabbits often build their nests in shallow holes or depressions in the ground, and they’re frequently found in the middle of lawns and gardens. Mother rabbits commonly return to the nest only at dusk and dawn to feed their young, limiting daytime activity to prevent predators from noticing. Rabbits will begin to leave the nest around 3 or 4 weeks of age. Young rabbits outside the nest do not need help, but it’s important to keep children or pets away from the nest and venturing babies.

Wildlife generally have more offspring than habitats can support. This means it’s normal for many offspring to become part of the food chain. While it’s difficult to see this play out in person, it’s very common and most species continue to thrive.

Weaver launches community clean-up project

PEKIN – State Rep. Travis Weaver, R-Edwards, has launched his 2025 Community Clean-Up Project that started Tuesday and continues through May 16.

Hosted annually by Rep. Weaver, the Community Clean-Up Project is dedicated to promoting environmental awareness by encouraging individuals to collect and properly dispose of litter. Participants are invited to document their efforts by submitting photos of themselves with trash they collected.

Students must have parent or guardian permission to pick up trash in a location of their choosing. All students who fill a standard kitchen-size trash bag should submit a photo to communitycleanup2025@reptravisweaver.org. Everyone is invited to participate, and students who complete this project and submit a photo will receive a certificate of service from Rep. Weaver.

“The 2025 Community Clean-Up Project is a creative and fun initiative to preserve the beauty and well-being of our communities,” Weaver said. “By working together, we can protect our environment and ensure a cleaner, healthier future for all.”

Weaver serves Illinois House District 93. For more information, contact Weaver’s district office at (309) 204-6514.

Three groups recognize Spain for legislative work

SPRINGFIELD – State Rep. Ryan Spain, R-Peoria, has been honored by three statewide organizations for his advocacy on behalf of Illinois citizens.

ABATE of Illinois, the state’s leading motorcyclist advocacy organization, and the Illinois State Ambulance Association both named Spain a 2025 Legislator of the Year, while the Illinois Credit Union League named Spain an inaugural winner of its 2025 Legislative Champion award.

“I’m honored to be recognized by ABATE, the Ambulance Association and the Credit Union League,” Spain said. “Ensuring good public policy that protects our rights and freedoms is enacted in Illinois is not an individual sport; it is achieved when citizens, organizations, and elected officials work together to solve problems.”

Spain is co-chair of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, which approves or rejects administrative rules established by state agencies to carry out public policy after legislation has been signed into law.

those events.

Staying positive, limiting walks helping Farmers collect wins

By PHIL JOHNSON
For The Weekly Post

Farmington baseball won its eighth straight game Monday with a 10-0 victory at home vs. Peoria Heights.

The Farmers (15-3) ended the game after five innings and Brody Evans pitched all the way. He struck out nine, gave up just one hit and walked two.

Landon Crawford paced the offense with five RBI and a home run. Jacob Evans drove in two runs. Lane Wheelwright went 3-for-3 with a double and one RBI. Bronson Atchley doubled and drove in one.

“Two of the biggest changes for our success this year that have us clicking are the focusing on positivity within the team and during games,” Farmington Coach Justin Begner said. “Our pitchers have done well with decreasing the amount of walks we’re giving up to our opponents.”

Farmington battled to a 5-4 win at Havana on Saturday. The game was tied 3-3 after regulation, but the guests plated two in the ninth and then held Havana to one. Atchley’s RBI single drove in the winning run. For the game he hit 3-for-5 with two RBI.

Crawford pitched four innings, giving up two hits, one earned run, three walks and striking out eight. Atchley came in for five frames, fanning seven hitters while yielding one earned run and four hits.

Farmington went to Midwest Central on Friday and rapped 14 hits in a 16-0 win. Brody Evans hit 3-for-4 with five RBI and a home run. Atchley was 3-for-3 with three RBI.

scored in the first to break a 1-1 tie and give Farmington a lasting lead.

The previous day, Overcash had four RBI on three hits in an 11-10 victory over Kewanee. She had a two-run single and a solo home run in a seven-run fifth. Nevaeh Howard had three RBI for the Farmers.

The small-school state tournaments are to begin May 19, and Farmington has been assigned to the Class 2A Chillicothe Sectional. The Farmers are a regional host. Seeds are to be released May 6, with pairings to be issued the following day.

• Brimfield-Elmwood – Another shut-out streak began last week for the Lady Indians (16-2), with three in as many days.

Kendyl Binder had a three-run homer April 17 and four RBI overall in a 10-0 win over Deer Creek-Mackinaw. Like Binder, Schyer Meinders was 3-for-4. Sawyer Drury struck out 12 batters and held Dee-Mack to one hit. Drury also had a double.

The previous day, B-E beat North Fulton 15-0 behind a 13-run third that featured two RBI each from Brooke Allen, Layni Linthicum, Binder and Drury. Linthicum finished with four FHS walloped ROWVA-Williamsfield 17-0 on the road April 15 with 16 hits and one-hit, 10-strikeout pitching from Crawford.

Crawford also drove in six runs with four singles. Ben Marvel contributed two RBI and knocked two doubles and Tristan Hendy doubled and drove in two runs.

• Brimfield-Elmwood – The Indians (14-4-1) trounced South Fulton 17-0 Monday on the road.

Freshman Griffin Hougham pitched all the way, yielding three hits and two walks with six strikeouts.

Dane Fagerburg went 3-for-3 at the plate with three RBI and a homerun. Cleve Bizosky had two hits and three RBI.

B-E fell to Chillicothe IVC 13-10 on Saturday at home. Trailing 13-2, the Indians put on a huge push, scoring four times in the bottom of the fifth inning and four more in their last at-bat. But a total of 14 hits and eight walks allowed along with four errors put B-E in too deep a trench.

Layne Johnson and Kaeden Schatsiek were key hitters in the comeback effort. Johnson drove in two runs and hit a home run. Schatsiek also took one deep and drove in three.

The Indians got back into the win column later in the day, topping Illini West, 7-3, thanks to a six-run outburst in the fourth inning. Schatsiek again homered. Bizosky went deep and had two RBI. Fagerburg had two hits and one RBI.

Brady Johnson scattered seven hits from the hill with one earned run. He struck out four and walked one.

The Indians avenged a loss earlier this season to ICAC rival Illini Bluffs at home on April 17 in an 8-2 victory. Six different pitchers (Fagerburg, Layne Johnson, Sean Crowe, Evan Patterson, Noah Malone and Hougham) worked around five errors to combine for no earned runs, two walks, six hits and 10 strikeouts.

“We had two big games on Saturday plus five in the coming week, so we wanted to have all of our pitchers available and ready to go for those games ahead,” B-E Coach James Sams said.

Bizosky knocked in three runs along with a double. Brady Johnson doubled with two RBI. Fagerburg tripled with one RBI.

The Indians traveled to Macomb on April 15 to pick up an 8-3 victory. The guests jumped to an 8-0 advantage until the hosts scored two in the sixth and one in their last at-bat.

Schatsiek drove in two runs and doubled. Layne Johnson tripled and notched an RBI. Brady Johnson hit a home run. Bizosky drove in two runs.

Jackson Kappes threw one inning with one strikeout. Schatsiek struck out five in 2.2 frames. Bizosky finished for 3.1 innings with three strikeouts, no walks and no earned runs.

• Princeville – The Princes (6-7) lost 2-0 and 4-2 on Saturday at home to Ridgewood.

Logan Olshawsky had a strong complete game pitching performance for PHS in the opener, yielding just three hits and one earned run to go with three walks and two strikeouts. The offense could muster only four hits, though, including Noah Geiger’s double.

In the nightcap, all of Ridgewood’s runs came in its first at-bat. Parker Dickinson threw four frames for Princeville, giving up one earned run and two hits while fanning two. Bowers tossed three innings with a line of two hits, no earned runs and one walk. Carter Peterson hit 2-for-4 with one RBI. Coley Palmer was 3-for-3.

The Princes got key hitting, solid defense and a trio of outstanding pitching last Thursday in a 2-1 at-Peoria Christian. Peterson pitched 3.1 frames, fanning one and giving up one walk and three hits. Olshawsky worked 1.1 innings with no walks and two strikeouts. Cayden Allen tossed 2.1 frames, striking out two.

Trenton Buffum had one RBI and a double, Cooper Cox had an RBI and Olshawsky had two hits.

PHS dropped a 9-0 decision at Monmouth United on April 15. The visitors recorded five hits. Allen hit 2-for-3.

Edo Arnett pitched one inning for the Princes and struck out one. Geiger worked three frames from the bump, striking out five, walking two and yielding five hits. Allen pitched two frames, struck out three and gave up four hits.

• ROWVA-Williamsfield – The Cougars (12-6) easily topped Galva 10-0 on the road on Saturday but then had to go nine innings for a 7-6 win to get the sweep against the resilient hosts.

Jaxson Strom tossed a complete game in the opener. He struck out 10 and gave up one hit and one walk. Drake DeJaynes hit 3-for-3 with a home run and two RBI. Brody Lytle also hit a homer un and drove in three.

Along with his pitching performance Strom hit 2-for-3 with a double and three RBI. Talan Hull collected two RBI.

The second game was tight all the way. Preston Lafary scored in the top of the ninth and Preston Schroeder and the R-W defense held on for the win.

Zander Vest drove in two runs. Mason Sornberger had two hits with one RBI. Kole Miller hit a double and recorded an RBI.

Hull pitched four innings, gave up one hit and struck out nine. Strom threw two innings with two strikeouts. Lytle also tossed two frames with five strikeouts and no walks.

The Cougars fell 15-6 to Midland at home on Friday. R-W struggled in the field with five errors and five pitchers also had a rough day, giving up 14 hits and 10 walks.

DeJaynes (3-for-4, two RBI and a home run) and Hull (home run, double and three RBI) had good days at the plate.

The Cougars ran into another hot-hitting team April 15 in a 17-0 loss to Farmington at home.

PRs at Knoxville

Calm wind leads to strong showings

By JEFF LAMPE

For The Weekly Post

A busy week of blustery meets led up to Monday's relatively calm Bullet Invite in Knoxville, where strong showings by some area athletes brought attention to sectional standings.

Mercer County won the boys competition with 98.5 points, just ahead of Farmington (93) and Elmwood-Brimfield (91), which did not field its usually dominant 4x800-meter relay.

On the girls side, Stark County was first with 118 points ahead of Mercer County (99), E-B (92) and ROWVA-Williamsfield (85.5), which had been red hot last week.

Personal records abounded on the relatively wind-free day.

Two of the hottest athletes for E-B are juniors Darwin Herman and Garrett Webster.

After posting two PRs last week, Herman ran to two more Monday, winning the 1,600-meter race in 4:28.3 over teammate Aiden Faulkner (PR, 4:34.19) and placing second in the 400 (PR, 52.13). Herman now ranks in the top two for the Class 1A Kewanee Wethersfield Sectional in the 400, 800 and 1,600.

Webster won the 110 hurdles Monday in 17.82 seconds and was second in the 300 hurdles after a PR of 43.24. He is also ranked top two in the sectional in

Farmington softball wins 6th straight

By NICK VLAHOS

For The Weekly Post

Farmington softball refuses to lose.

Lydia Overcash struck out 12 batters and Farmington used a four-run sixth inning to break a tie in a 6-2 victory Monday over Midwest Central-Illini Central. It was the sixth consecutive victory for the Farmers (10-8).

Joelle Herbst's single and Ava Essex's double drove in runs in the pivotal inning. Each girl finished with two RBI. Meaghan Carpenter was 3-for-3 and scored twice.

Better defense is helping to propel the recent streak, according to Farmington Coach Jeni Fauser.

"Those early losses, we made a lot of routine mistakes," she said. "We've got to make the routine plays.

Two of our (recent) losses were one-run games, and we were right there but we gave them extra outs."

Farmington scored three times in the fourth, including twice on an error and wild pitch in the same at-bat, in a 5-2 victory April 19 over Orion. Earlier that day, Herbst had a two-run double and Overcash struck out 13 Macomb batters and allowed one hit in a 5-0 victory. She also was 2-for-4.

"I think Lydia's finally settling in and pitching better, too, in the warmer weather," Fauser said.

Carpenter was 3-for-4 with an RBI in a 7-3 victory April 16 over Illini West. She also
