JUNK FOOD CAFE

TIF aids new Elmwood restaurant

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

ELMWOOD – A new restaurant in Elmwood is receiving some city financial assistance for its signage.

During its meeting June 3, the Elmwood City Council approved a $1,027.57 tax-increment-financing grant to Otera Brinson, proprietor of Elmwood Junk Food Café, 102 W. Main St. That’s half the cost of the sign and installation, according to Amy Davis, the city economic-development director.

Elmwood Junk Food Café opened June 4. Chicago-style hot dogs, baked potatoes with toppings and meatball submarine sandwiches are among the menu items. The café occupies space a Subway restaurant once filled.

She ran a similar cafe in Paris, Texas, close to that city’s 60-foot replica of the Eiffel Tower, that is topped off with a red cowboy hat.

Her new sign will say “Cafe” and is an homage to a 1915 sign on the same corner that had “Smoke” displayed vertically.

Williamsfield upping gaming licenses

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

WILLIAMSFIELD – A shuttered-restaurant site in Williamsfield will have an added attraction to help lure a new tenant.

The Williamsfield Village Board decided June 2 to expand by one the number of video-gambling licenses in town, to four. That would allow the building at 102 E. Gale St., which has housed several restaurants in recent years, to house alcohol and gaming.

Building owner Lee Strom requested the gaming expansion, according to Village President Robert Johnson.

“He has several people interested in setting up a restaurant in there, but they want to have gaming machines and they want to have a liquor license,” Johnson said. “Those two things help prop up the restaurant business.”

State regulations require video-gambling facilities to have a liquor license.

The village has one liquor license available, according to Johnson, but video-gambling licenses were at the maximum. The three Billtown businesses that offer video gambling are Double Take Bar & Grill, Ladd’s Food Mart and JR Lounge.

According to Johnson, board members Nancy Everett, Lucas Leckrone and Julie Van Dran voted to authorize the additional gaming license. Trustee Dylan Tucker

Funding upgrades

Princeville likely to assist new business

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

PRINCEVILLE – The new owners of the old Alcoa Building Products plant in Princeville probably will receive long-term village financial assistance for property improvements.

When it meets June 17, the Princeville Village Board is likely to consider an official agreement with West Jersey Express, according to Village President Jeff Troutman. The board’s Tax Increment Financing Committee discussed an agreement when it met June 2, immediately before the full board convened.

According to Troutman, West Jersey Express probably will be eligible to receive 70% of the increase in property-tax revenue generated in TIF 4, the district in which the plant is located. The funds would reimburse some West Jersey Express expenses.

“There are certain things they do that are not TIF eligible,” Troutman said following the meeting. “It’s so much per year, based off their receipts.”

The reimbursements would be spread over the life of the TIF district, at least the next 20 years. A firm dollar amount depends on how much property tax is generated, according to Troutman.

In TIF districts, property taxes that are to go to various public bodies are frozen. Subsequent tax increases are diverted into a fund used for infrastructure improvements that can lead to area redevelopment.

West Jersey Express, a Stark County-based transportation and logistics company, took

GUEST VOICES

Of bittersweet blessings & sweet larvae

For a long time, Father’s Day was an issue for me. My Dad was 12 hours away and getting him a card and gift required foresight – not my strength when it comes to most things outside of work. Too many times FedEx rushed him cards or Amazon over-nighted gifts.

Then there was the envy. Seeing other sons and dads fishing, golfing and grilling made me jealous. No card or gift can replace the simple satisfaction of time together.

Worse yet was the guilt of having left the family, heightened on holidays and as my parents aged.

That’s why last Father’s Day was among my best.

As his health declined, we suggested Dad should move closer to me. My brother had cared for him for years. It was my turn. Thankfully, Dad agreed. Actually, the older he got, the easier he got. He shed many petty angers, or forgot them. He seemed at ease, even though his world was shrinking in around him.

One we settled into living two minutes apart, a wonderful thing happened. We bridged gaps that for decades had kept us distant. As a son who left home at 21 and only returned for too-brief visits, the past year confirmed something I had long tried to ignore: Living near family is a blessing.

So was last Father’s Day. All of us, my sons, my wife, Dad and I held what we jokingly referred to as our Last Supper at Red Lobster, a family favorite we knew was headed for closure. There were no great revelations. Just decent seafood, some laughs and time together. Cards and gifts, we handed to Dad. No FedEx needed.

While that was a memorable evening, not every day went so smoothly. With Dad always eager for company, his new proximity sometimes felt smothering. And unlike him, I didn’t always view the litany of doctor visits as welcome outings.

But the blessing of the past 17 months was made painfully clear last week when Dad died suddenly. Instead of feeling guilt about not having seen him enough, I miss him more than ever. That’s a huge difference but a bittersweet blessing.

Ratcoons are hard at it as we enter the peak of wasp-nesting season. Wasp larvae must be candy to a coon, which will go to great lengths to extract the little ones from nests made in plastic tubes I use to protect my young trees. Seeing saplings broken in half, as happens often when a fat coon bends a tube to the ground, is maddening. Patience is a virtue, though. Broken trees often develop new leaders that grow stronger than the original. ... Word out of Wyoming is the Drivers and Motor Vehicles facility will not reopen. No shock, as that was the least-used facility in the state. Even so, it was a joy to walk into a DMV office with short lines. As some have surmised, I favor less government, but that’s not true at any cost. DMVs and other government offices that can serve customers quickly are good. Too many layers of bureaucrats slowing things down is not.

voted against it. Trustee Trudy Self abstained, and colleague Kyle Gibbs was absent.

“He was saying that if it’s a restaurant, it probably should be more family friendly. We don’t necessarily know if gaming and liquor are family friendly,” Johnson said about Tucker’s rationale.

Strom didn’t reveal details about what type of restaurant might occupy a space most recently occupied by Underground Backyard BBQ and by The Truro before that. Strom did say margaritas might be served by one of as many as three potential new proprietors. That suggests Mexican cuisine.

“Here’s the way I look at it: The more businesses that we have in this community, the better off we are as far as tax base,” Johnson said. “When you have empty buildings ... it doesn’t look good. There’s no other place around here to get any food.”

There was no public timetable regarding when a new business might open in the Gale Street structure.

In April, Underground Backyard BBQ owner Tony Bitten announced his restaurant’s closure, about 14 months after it opened. At the same time his Billtown restaurant was open, Bitten also operated an Underground Backyard BBQ outlet briefly in Elmwood.

Board members also heard from Lee Wight of Wight Chevrolet, who is helping to organize a street dance July 19 in downtown Williamsfield. Streets are to be blocked and a flat-bed trailer – to accommodate live entertainment, presumably – is to be placed between Double Take and JR Lounge, which are across Oak Street from each other.

The last time such an event took place in Williamsfield was before the COVID-19 pandemic, according to Johnson.

Lawsuit settled in death of Princeville woman

By NICK VLAHOS
For The Weekly Post

PEORIA – An out-of-court settlement was reached in a civil lawsuit on behalf of a Princeville-area woman killed in a two-vehicle crash last year.

The settlement of $300,000 was to be paid to the estate of Nevaeh Mitchell, according to documents filed April 30 in Peoria County Circuit Court. The lawsuit her estate filed against the other driver, Levi Dietz, was dismissed with prejudice. That means the case is closed permanently and cannot be refiled.

Mitchell, 18, died May 4, 2024, when her vehicle collided head-on with Dietz’s vehicle on Orange Prairie Road north of War Memorial Drive in Peoria.

According to court documents, Mitchell’s estate was to receive $199,130.59 from the wrongful-death settlement. The remainder was to cover attorneys’ fees and expenses.

Mitchell’s attorney, Peoria-based Shaun Cusack, did not respond to a message from The Weekly Post. Neither did another Peoria-based attorney, Kevin Sullivan, who represented Dietz last November in a criminal case related to the fatal collision.

At that time, Cusack and Sullivan suggested legal action against Peoria municipal government was possible, because lighting along Orange Prairie Road was inadequate and defective and might have contributed to the accident.

Sullivan also said the civil lawsuit against Dietz might be headed for an out-of-court settlement with his insurance representative. That was immediately after Dietz pleaded guilty to driving the wrong way on a divided highway, a petty offense.

A former resident of Wyoming, Dietz was sentenced to pay about $1,200 in fines and fees and to complete 100 public-service hours by early May of this year.

Sullivan said Dietz was unfamiliar with Orange Prairie Road, which in the accident area is a four-lane divided highway. As Dietz was leaving an apartment complex the night of the crash, he turned south onto the road.

But Dietz headed south in the northbound lanes, not the southbound ones on the other side of the median. Mitchell, a Dunlap High School student, was driving north on her way home from work at a Peoria movie theater. Alcohol and medications were not deemed to be factors.

Athletics a theme at Farmington meeting

By JEFF LAMPE
For The Weekly Post

FARMINGTON – Athletics was, fittingly, a prominent theme at Monday’s meeting of the Farmington School Board.

With Toby Vallas, football coach and director of student services, running the meeting, the board recognized several athletes, discussed a likely wrestling coop and made sports-related personnel decisions.

Superintendent Zac Chatterton was on vacation for the meeting, which started with a hearing on the amended district budget. There were no comments.

Adoption of the amended Fiscal Year 2025 budget is scheduled for a June 16 meeting at 6:30 p.m.

In personnel, the board approved hiring Tyeisha Mosley as a Spanish teacher and Allison Hartstirn as a Bright Futures facilitator. Also approved were Judd Anderson (8th grade basketball coach), Ashley Monroe (head volleyball coach) and sports volunteers Tyler Kolzow, Taylor Hornung, Beau Foiles and Aaron Kennelly.

Resignations were accepted from PE teacher Cassie Gauß, bus driver Amber Suit and Anderson as JV basketball coach.

Athletic Director Jeff Otto said plans are getting serious for a wrestling coop with Illini Bluffs.

The board also recognized track athletes and bass anglers and approved paying bills, board-policy updates, a foreign-exchange-student agreement and a mutual-aid agreement for Peoria, Tazewell and Woodford counties.

Board Member Allison Smith reported negotiations with the teachers’ union are going well.

PUBLIC RECORD

NOTE: Charges are merely an accusation. All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Police reports

- FARMINGTON – A Farmington man’s blood-alcohol level was more than four times the legal limit after he was arrested in connection with a domestic-battery incident.
Christopher R. Roper, 29, was accused of beating and attempting to strangle a 27-year-old woman about noon May 24 at a residence in the 100 block of S. Main St., according to a Farmington police report. The woman sustained bruises and bleeding on her face.
Roper refused to talk with police, who transported him to Graham Hospital in Canton. A test there revealed Roper’s BAC was .336. The legal limit is .08. Subsequently, Roper was taken to the Fulton County Jail in Lewistown.
A Taurus 9-millimeter handgun was removed from the residence for safe-keeping. Roper was accused of aggravated battery and aggravated domestic battery. The Fulton County Sheriff’s Office also responded.
- ELMWOOD – No injuries were reported following a two-vehicle crash southeast of Elmwood.
According to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report, Scott Doubet of Elmwood was driving a southbound 2018 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck at 3:45 p.m. May 21 on McClellan Road south of Tiber Creek Road when he stopped suddenly and backed up. His vehicle then struck a southbound 2015 Hyundai Tucson.
Isabelle R. Davis of Elmwood was the other driver. She said she attempted to stop.
Doubet’s vehicle sustained minor damage. Davis’ vehicle sustained functional damage to the front driver’s-side wheel well and quarter-panel.
- DUNLAP – A Princeville girl avoided injury from a two-vehicle accident near a Dunlap school, but two people required a hospital trip.
The girl was driving a southbound 2014 Jeep Grand Cherokee around 3:35 p.m. May 19 in the 13100 block of Illinois Route 91 when the vehicle rear-ended a 2021 Honda Accord, according to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report. Blake L. Cornwell of Dunlap was the other driver.
A deputy was directing traffic following dismissal at Dunlap Valley Middle School when he heard the collision. The girl said she didn’t press on the vehicle brake sufficiently. Cornwell and his female passenger complained of whiplash and were transported to OSF Saint Francis Medical Center in Peoria.

Both vehicles were drivable. No citations were issued.

- EAST GALESBURG – An Oak Run man found asleep in a running vehicle parked on an East Galesburg thoroughfare was arrested on alcohol and gun charges.
Shortly after 2:30 a.m. May 18, Rayvone D. Taylor, 35, was sleeping behind the wheel of a 2017 Cadillac Escalade stopped in the southbound lane in the 300 block of S. State St., according to a Knox County Sheriff’s Office report. After multiple attempts, a deputy awakened Taylor.
Per the report, Taylor said he believed he was in Knoxville. His blood-alcohol level was .17; the legal limit is .08. A loaded Glock G17 Gen5 9-millimeter pistol and 79 additional rounds of ammunition were found inside the vehicle.
Taylor was transported first to OSF St. Mary Medical Center in Galesburg, then to the Knox County Jail. He was accused of driving under the influence of alcohol and unlawful use of a weapon.

Ali Al-Hamidi of Peoria was driving an eastbound 2008 Toyota sport-utility vehicle at 7:30 p.m. May 16 in the 12800 block of W. Cottonwood Rd. when the vehicle rear-ended a 2017 Toyota, according to a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report.

- PRINCEVILLE – A pair of vehicles was towed following a collision at a Princeville intersection, but nobody was injured.
About 10:15 a.m. May 16, Heather J. Lawrence of Princeville was driving a 2015 Nissan Versa north on Cottage Grove Avenue when the vehicle struck a 2025 Ford Maverick pickup truck that was eastbound on Spring Street, a Peoria County Sheriff’s Office report stated.
The other driver was Fred D. Jackson of Princeville. Each driver said they didn’t see the other vehicle approaching, although Lawrence said she abided by a stop sign at the intersection. The Maverick struck the driver’s-side door of the Versa. Both vehicles sustained disabling damage.

- TOULON – A traffic stop in Stark County resulted in a Brimfield man’s arrest for illicit-drugs crimes. Corey L. Jones, 31, was cited May 15 for possession of adult-use cannabis by a driver, possession of less than five grams of methamphetamine and possession of a controlled substance, according to the Stark County Sheriff’s Office. Jones also was cited for driving 75 mph in a 55-mph zone. His vehicle was impounded.

The attempted burglary in the 1400 block of Knox Road 1650 North was reported about 1:30 p.m. May 13, a Knox County Sheriff’s Office report stated. The unit renter, a 52-year-old Galesburg man, said he noticed the lock was missing and the door sustained minor damage.
Security video revealed a man driving a gray Honda sport-utility vehicle cut off the lock, then attempted to enter the unit but was unsuccessful. The unit owner forced open the unit door and found nothing missing.
- DAHINDA – At 7 a.m. May 10, Wayne Williamson, 48, of Kermit, W.Va., was driving a 2021 Chevrolet Blazer east on Interstate 74 near mile marker 58 south of Dahinda when the vehicle struck a deer that emerged from the north. OBITUARIES

David E. Lampe
ELMWOOD, Ill. – David Elwood Lampe, 84, an educator and poet with roots in the cornfields of Iowa and the concrete of Buffalo, N.Y., died June 5, 2025, in Elmwood, while taking a walk on an otherwise gorgeous day.
Dave was born on Jan. 18, 1941, in Storm Lake, Iowa, the first of two sons of Elwood Carl and Verna Marcella (Peterson) Lampe. He married Ruth Eickstaedt on Feb. 1, 1963, in Storm Lake near Buena Vista College, where they fell in love during a production of “The Lark.” Dave lost Ruth far too early, in 2015. His family takes solace in knowing they are together again.
He is survived by two sons, Jeff (Monica) Lampe of Elmwood and Paul (Kathy) Lampe of Rochester N.Y.; seven grandchildren, Henry, Victor, Meghan, Lauren, Walter, John and Caitlin; brother Rick (Maxine) Lampe of Storm Lake; brother-in-law Larry Eickstaedt of Olympia, Wash.; sister-in-law Cherie Eickstaedt of Denver; several nieces and nephews; and some favorite cousins.
While Dave grew up on a grain and livestock farm near the small Iowa town of Albert City, he preferred books over tractors. When not doing farm chores or tending to his prize calf, Shorty, he preferred to read in his treehouse. So, it was fitting that, after leaving Albert City and graduating from Buena Vista College, he earned a master’s degree and doctorate in English at the University of Nebraska.
Dave taught briefly at Bemidji (Minn.) State College, Buena Vista College and the University of Nebraska before moving to Buffalo in 1969. There he spent 37 years teaching English literature at SUNY Buffalo State College. Not content with the same courses year after year, he relished the reading and learning required to teach a new subject. He began as a 15th century English scholar and evolved regularly, becoming expert at Irish poetry and, eventually, Canadian literature. And he never really retired, not from reading, writing or learning.
He published three books of poetry, “Close to the Bone,” “Anonymous of Elmwood” and “The Trees Walked” and edited eight books and anthologies. He also published at least 25 scholarly works. Another passion was bringing hundreds of poets and writers to Buffalo, among them three Pulitzer Prize winners and a cast of characters that included John Montague, Thomas Kinsella, Seamus Heaney, Wendell Berry, Henry Taylor, Gwendolyn Brooks, Barry Callaghan and William Kennedy. Late nights and loud toasts were a common occurrence in the Buffalo home he inhabited for 53 years until moving back to the Midwest. And his public-access television appearances, dubbed “Poet’s Corner” by a fellow scholar, were something to see.
Aside from Ruth, Dave had a few other loves: travel, books, jazz, singing, golf, mussels, whiskey and wine. He also loved his children and grandchildren, most of whom he took on European vacations. A favorite pastime was reading to anyone who would listen, even if he had to walk after them when they left the room.
He was a founder of Western New York Medievalists, a director of the Faculty-Student Association at Buffalo State and worked with Ruth for the betterment of their beloved Parkside neighborhood in Buffalo. Born and raised a Lutheran, he joined the Roman Catholic Church in 2024 and, in recent months, had been researching popes and the papacy.
The family thanks the staff at Country Comfort and the parishioners of St. Patrick Catholic Church for making Dave feel so at home in Elmwood.
A visitation will be from 10-11 a.m. on Thursday, June 12, 2025, at St. Patrick’s in Elmwood. A funeral mass will be at 11 a.m. at the church, followed by a luncheon. The Rev. James Pankiewicz will preside.
Burial will be later this summer in St. John’s Lutheran Cemetery in rural Albert City. A poetry reading in Dave’s honor will be held this fall in Buffalo.
Memorials may be made to BYE Ambulance or to the Elmwood Fire Department.

PRINCEVILLE: Renovation should take 1 year

over the 15-acre Alcoa property last September. Alcoa closed the plant, at 917 N. Santa Fe Ave., in 2001.

During a TIF Committee meeting in March, West Jersey Express officials submitted an application saying they plan to spend up to $5.2 million to renovate their new property.

Troutman said the company plans to have the work completed in about a year. Some work that is obvious from outside the facility, including demolition of silos, already has taken place.

During a regular meeting last week, board members approved two Residential Rehabilitation Program reimbursements – $2,500 for a roof at 1118 E. Woertz Rd. and $1,697.27 for nine new windows at 108 W. Shawn St.

Also approved was local implementation of a 1% grocery sales tax after that identical state levy expires Jan. 1. Princeville receives limited funds from the current state tax, according to Troutman, because it doesn't have a super-market.

"It's not as big as Peoria and all those places are going to be," Troutman said. "It's not a new tax. That's the biggest thing we have to stress to everybody. It's just continuing what was there. ... We discussed it over a year ago, and the idea was (approval) just so we don't lose out on any revenue."

Municipalities have until Oct. 1 to notify the state if they're retaining the tax.

The board authorized a $1,000 donation to the annual St. Jude Princeville to Peoria Run, a fundraiser scheduled for Aug. 2.

The village issued a building permit for construction of two 6-by-9-foot flat decks in a back yard at 437 N. Walnut Ave.

B-E's Drury voted an ICA 1st-team all-stater

Brimfield-Elmwood junior pitcher/infielder Sawyer Drury was a first-team selection to the Illinois Coaches Association Class 2A softball all-state team.

Also honored from B -E was sophomore infielder Kendyl Binder, a second-team pick. Farmington senior pitcher Lydia Overcash was a Class 2A third-team selection. Overcash finished the season with 208 strikeouts and 580 for her career.

Picked for the ICA's Class 1A all-state third team were sophomore pitcher Claire Sutherland of Princeville and the ROWVA-Williamsfield duo of junior catcher Ella Rigg and senior outfielder Emma West.

Several local players also earned all-conference honors.

In the Lincoln Trail, won by West Central, Sutherland was a second-team selection as a pitcher, as was R-W's Hannah Gehring. West and R-W teammate were second-team positional players. Princeville's Mekaya Cihla was an honorable mention all-LTC selection.

In the Prairieland, which the Lady Indians won with a 9-0 league record, Binder, Drury and sophomore Brooke Allen were all unanimous first-team picks for B-E, which also placed sophomore Adelyn Magee on the first team.

Other unanimous picks for the first team were Overcash and junior Joelle Herbst of Farmington. Senior Meaghan Carpenter of Farmington was also a first-teamer.

Named to the Prairieland second team were sophomore Addison Rockhold of Farmington and junior Josie Wiewel of B-E.

Special mention went to junior Schyer Meinders of B-E and Farmington juniors Sophia Anderson and Kiley Vallas.

Several players were also selected for the Greater Peoria Softball Coaches Association all-star game, to be played June 24 at Illinois Central College in East Peoria.

Named to the West roster were Farmington's Overcash, Rockhold, Anderson and Ella Johnson. Jeni Fauser of Farmington is one of the coaches of the West team, which is scheduled to play at 4 p.m.

Next week: Local baseball players earn postseason honors.

GREENWASHING

The act of making false or misleading statements about the environmental benefits of product or practice.

Company files bombshell lawsuit against oil provider over 'misleading' advertising tactics — here's what you need to know

More and more companies are being taken to task over deceptive advertising practices.

By Sam Westmoreland / December 6, 2024

Another Oil Company Advert Banned

Renewable hydrogen, ...a fuel type we don't yet produce

Greenwash

REPSOL

The ad also featured graphics including the text "H2", a solar panel with a sun, a car with a stylized letter "e" that had a plug at the end, a wind turbine, a sapling, and a petrol pump with a leaf on it. Adfree Cities complained that the ad was misleading because it omitted significant information about the overall environmental impact of Repsol's business activities.

Do You Really Think That They Care About Your Land or Our Community?

Freddie Daley from the Badvertising campaign said: "Adverts like this now banned Repsol ad are symptomatic of the broader tactics of the fossil fuel industry. These companies are intent on promoting technologies that allow them to continue expanding fossil fuel production, directly contradicting what experts are telling us is needed, while falsely touting their green credentials and claiming to be leaders in the energy transition. The litmus test for true climate leadership in the energy sector is pivoting away from fossil fuels. Despite their glossy adverts, Repsol is failing in this regard."

NO WINDMILLS

Veronica Wignall, Codirector at Adfree Cities said: "Repsol has reached a new neon shade of greenwashing promoting renewable hydrogen - a fuel type it doesn't yet produce."
